JAPAN PREPARES ASSAULT UPON CITY OF JEHOL

asserts that the Japanese army talks of creating a Tayunkuo, or great Mongol empire, similar to that of the Golden Horde, which dominated most of Asia and Russia and much of Europe for several centuries prior to the discovery of America.

That would mean the dissolution of China as an independent nation.

Russia Maintains Peace.

Thus the renewed conquests are alarming to the governments of the world. Russia's calmness and levelheadedness have saved the situation so far.

Tang Yu-lin is governor of Jehol. He once was an official of Manchukuo. In brief, he is a war lord who has made the opium poppy bloom in Jehol, in the very summer gardens of the emperors, where tulips used to grow, and who thus has funds for a paid army. Whether his rule (purely local, but nevertheless termed Chinese) is better than Japanese is an open question.

One pities the poor farmers, whose land is the theatre of this new warfare, and who will lose whichever way the victory goes. They are kept in virtual peonage by taxes and fines.

Sven Hedin, Swedish explorer, who rediscovered the Golden Pavilion and directed its reproduction in Chicago, tells of the contrast between that period of two centuries ago and now, in "Jehol, City of Emperors."

"A Magic City."

"A magic city, conjured up out of the Mongolian wilerness at the behest of two autocrats; a city that, by its incredible riches, its display of imperial pomp and state, its exquisite art treasures and superb buildings, should strike awe into the hearts of the half-wild Mongolian tribes, their klans and their kings.

"In former times these proud, free-born princes, the descendants of Jenghis Khan, riding at the head of their countless horsemen, had conquered almost the whole of Asia and had been a constant menace to the Middle Kingdom.

"It was worth while building, within the very boundaries of Mongolia, a city that, by its religious character and the splendor of its temple buildings, should serve to bind, with the golden chains of faith, the followers of Lamaism to the Son of Heaven and the Dragon throne.

"So Jehol sprang up, flourished for a hundred years, declined, and was abandoned, died and was forgotten."

Thus, as one gazes upon the Golden Pavilion in the grounds of the Chicago world's fair, one cogitates upon the fall of nations. It was only as far back as 1736-1796 that Ch'ien-lung, the Son of Heaven, ruled in splendor, surrounded by magnificent courtiers, where now an expanding industrial empire grapples with an opium-baron war lord, and the people are ground to dust.

Hogs Are In Demand Superintendent Says

BONARLAW, Jan. 20. (Examiner Correspondence).—The Ontario Swine Demonstration Cars featuring brood sow and pure bred boar sales with lectures on hog markets hog grading, hog parasites, hog feeding and hog breeding under the superintendency of R. W. Wade, Ontario Live Stock Branch completed a very successful day at Bonarlaw Wednesday and went forward to Frankford. About fifty farmers took advantage of the demonstration and listened attentively to the lectures. Seven brood sows were sold. The outfit consisted of three cars. One long coach as a lecture room, a baggage car for the hogs and a tourist car as quarters for the staff in charge. Mr. Wade stated he was indeed pleased with the success of the demonstration thus far and sales have far exceeded their expectations. It was expected to get more hogs at Peterborough on Saturday but they find it necessary to have some shipped to Campbellford for Friday's demonstration there in order to give the farmers a sufficiently wide selection. The farmers here are well pleased. The cars contained 30 or 40 pigs, mostly grade sows, all high class and a very fine selection. The sows are sold at market price, running from about $8.50 to $10. The boars sell for $30 but carry a bonus of $15 if the boar is 6 months old.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF POLITICS NEW PLAN OF LIBERAL PARTY

school can be held for two weeks, and it is also the intention to provide open meetings which we believe will be largely attended by the public."

J. J. Duffus of Peterboro president of the Central Ontario Liberal Association, was chairman of the meeting, which was attended by about eighty men and women from Durham, Northumberland, Hastings and Prince Edward counties, Short speeches were made by the chairman, W. A. Fraser, M. P., and Wm. Newman, M.P.P. Reports of local were given by members of the executive, with special reference to the activities of women's branches of the Association.

Mr. Duffus referred to the organization that was effected here last January, and stated that candidates had been nominated in ten of the sixteen provincial ridings. Kingston, Frontenac, Prince Edward, Northumberland, Peterboro and North Ontario were the remaining ridings where candidates had not yet been placed in the field.

Mr. Massey's Tribute

In a preface to his address, Hon. Mr. Massey congratulated the Central Ontario Association upon their accomplishment, and also upon the example which this district had set for the rest of Canada.

"I don't think there is any section of the country in which the Liberal party is working on sounder political lines than here in Central Ontario," he said. "Your plans are based on the polling subdivision, the keystone of the arch, from which all political action should spring. Your ten candidates in the field tell the story or your efforts. Probably you know that your example is being followed in other districts, and within the next month a western Ontario association will be launched at a mass meeting to be held in London.

An Eastern Ontario association is already in being. This extent of organization has never been done before, and the result is that we are making ready for whatever comes along

Liberalism Today

In these difficult days when everything seems to be in a state of flux we should seriously ask ourselves what Liberalism means. We have talked of Liberal principles in the past, and we are proud of them, but do we know precisely what to do in the present situation?

We are proud of the names of such leaders as Laurier and Fielding, and Liberalism's achievements for democracy, but we all realize by this time that we are living in another period. In the past the achievements of Liberalism were made in the constitutional field. We attained self-government, and political and personal liberty. True, we must reassert the old Liberal principles today in the face of the arbitrary deportations from our shores, and we feel that Section 98 of the criminal code is a blot that must be removed.

Make Money Our Servant

But, today we have greater problems in the economic field, and there is a strong conviction that we have got to see that money is made our servant and not our master. Obviously this is a complicated matter that needs hard thinking. It is really too complicated for platform discussion."

Hon. Mr. Massey declared that the Liberal party "can and will introduce the necessary reforms."

Political groups that might be talked of in the unsettled conditions of today would have the "will" to reform, but they lacked the organization, whereas the political party that is now in power had not the will to reform, Mr. Massey stated.

"The Liberals of this country have the will and they can reform," he continued. "Reform is our alternative name. The Liberal who is not a reformer is a Conservative in disguise. I believe that to be true. If we don't stand for political reform we have lost our mission. But, fortunately today there is a passion for reform throughout the Liberal party. It is bubbling up everywhere, and it is our duty to make this zeal for reform effective.

Express Needs of People

Liberalism must express the needs of the average man and woman as they exist today. We must continue to look to the old spirit and principle of the liberty of the individual, but the vitality of Liberalism must be brought to bear on the new conditions which confront us today.

I am absolutely convinced that we are living in new conditions that have developed during the last four years, and that we are not going back to the lath and plaster prosperity of 1929. But, we believe that new changes which come about can be made within the frame of the existing order. Changes must come in the industrial and financial organism that will make it function. We need courage and thought to make our laboring and creaking machinery function better instead of ridding on the backs of the people as it is today."

The old issues are not going to be of much use today, Mr. Massey declared, and Liberalism must be positive in its outlook.

"Although we are in the opposition at Ottawa and Toronto it is our duty, if we are to be faithful to the spirit of Liberalism, to work out things for ourselves."

To Issue Pamph'et

At that stage Hon. Mr. Massey announced the preliminary plans for the proposed summer school, and he also told the assembly that within a few weeks a pamphlet setting forth the Liberal party's platform of today would be ready for distribution.

It dealt with the problems of the present, and should meet with widespread approval in the ranks of the Liberal party and among its friends whose political viewpoint was identical at so many points.

"In Ottawa we have a hit or miss government working by trial or error, and not by plan" Mr. Massey continued. "It is floundering in a morass of difficulties, and has no idea how to get out of the mess. I have a great deal of sympathy for the men who are at the head of governments today, but we have a perfect right to complain when we see them steering the ship of state upon the rocks instead of away from them."

The Liberal party had definite plans of action, Mr. Massey said. In regard to tariffs there was no field in which they had stronger views.

Would Reduce Tariffs

"If we were in power tomorrow the first thing we would do would be to drop the tariffs to their level in 1930 when the Dunning budget was introduced, and the British Preference would be increased to 50 percent of the reduced tariff".

Mr. Massey concluded with an appeal to the Central Ontario Association to give special consideration to the youth who are of voting age. He recalled that in 1911 he "did an impudent thing" by voting for reciprocity, thereby cancelling his father's vote.

"But, I felt that I was doing my bit. Perhaps someday my own children may in the same way cancel my vote. My appeal to you is to give our youth greater freedom and opportunity in our party. We are also democratizing the financing of our efforts, and will make a popular appeal for small contributions whether of ten cents or a dollar. For one dollar or more you will be enrolled as a sustaining member."

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Massey on a motion by James Bulger seconded by John Morrow.

William Newman

Mr. Newman's remarks were confined to the topic of enlisting the sympathy and support of the young Canadians. He illustrated his point by relating an experience with a young man who recently got on the train at Woodville to attend the Liberal convention at Lindsay, and stated that if this young man was willing to spend his money to go to that meeting it was an indication that there is a deep interest among the young people, who were realizing that the politics of the country vitally affected their welfare.

This young man gave Mr. Newman a list of twenty others of his age whom he knew would be interested, and several days later a letter reached him from the same youth with forty-five other names.

"A real gold mine of recruits", Mr. Newman said, "and it is my intention to invite them in and even if I can't afford a better meal than roast pork and beans I feel certain that I shall get valuable ideas from these young people, get their viewpoint and perhaps show them how they can be of real help to the country through the Liberal party.

Local Reports

Sam Hathaway of Port Hope reported activities in Durham, Dr. Gerald Allison of Picton gave a similar account of what Prince Edward Liberals were doing. Others who took part in the discussion were Mrs. Van Blaricom of Prince Edward, Miss Clara DeLany of Cobourg and Mrs. M. G. Hawkins of Port Hope. The meeting concluded with the national anthem.

THAT DEPRESSED FEELING IS LARGELY LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bile . . . Without Calomel, And Feel Like a Million Dollars.

Nothing can put your system out of kilter more quickly than your liver. All it has to do is stop pouring its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels—and life certainly gets grey.

That sluggish flow of bile slows up digestion and elimination and makes you "feel punk". Your stomach acts up—gas, bloating, sourness, pain. Your breath is bad and the taste in your mouth is nasty. Your head aches. Skin is blotchy. All, of course, because your system is full of poisons.

Mere bowel movers like salts, oil, mineral water, roughage, laxative candy or chewing gum are not good enough to correct this condition entirely. You're livery and you must wake up your liver bile to be happy again.

Avoid calomel (mercury). The thing for you is a box of Carter's Little Liver Pills. They never upset you because they're purely vegetable, gentle and safe, but how they do change your view on life!

Don't waste your money on substitutes. Insist. Ask for Carter's by name—and get it! Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label. 25c. at all druggists. 50

$20,000 Moderate Relief Fund Objective

In making $20,000 the objective of Peterborough's Relief Fund appeal the committee has taken a moderate estimate of this community's resources and its spirit of generosity.

Brantford's $120,000, Oshawa's $35,000, and Galt's $30,000 are examples of what other cities similar in size to Peterborough have accomplished within the last few months.

Since the decline in business and industry set in, Peterborough has been one of the few communities which have been regarded as being the least affected by the adverse conditions which have made necessary and advisable these appeals to public sentiment.

In setting out upon the present campaign the local committee has adopted a policy that is stripped of all the usual campaign hurrah and bustling activities. It has been felt that every citizen realizes the need of exceptional generosity in the face of the distress of so many families who are being assisted from the city's treasury and with the financial help of the Provincial and Federal Governments.

This appeal is being directed from the office of the City Clerk and hundreds of letters have been sent out to citizens who are believed to be in a position to make some contribution.

In referring to what other cities have done in the present emergency the factor of comparison might be extended to the industrial conditions in those places which were among the first to experience the severer effects of the depression, while Peterborough was considered at home and abroad as one of the busier centres of industry and trade.

Only yesterday a business man related that a survey of Ontario made by a large Montreal industry within the last month convinced them that there was comparatively more "prosperity" in Peterborough than any othr district centre in Ontario. For that reason they chose this city for a business campaign which has actually been initiated. This is an actual fact which may be taken as an indication of the ability of Peterborough to contribute to its Relief Fund at least $20,000.

With the assistance of the Governments this sum would provide $60,000 for relief distribution, of which not one dollar would have to be taken from the city treasury and the taxes.

Contributions should be sent to City Treasurer Frank Adams.

Alimony Wanted —by the Ounce

CHICAGO, January 20 (C.P.). —Alimony by the ounce!

Mrs. Mabel Hewlett, who weighs 325, appeared before Superior Judge Joseph Eabath, and made the request.

"I suppose," said the Court, "that this lady will want alimony proportionate to her weight."

"Surprisingly, that is what we do want," replied an attorney representing Mrs. Hewlett in a separate maintenance suit against David M. Hewlett.

"This lady," he explained, "is handicapped by her weight. She cannot ride on street cars. She was forced to employ a cab to bring her to this hearing. She is on a diet. Her food must be specially prepared. And, I might add, she must have more food than consumed by the ordinary person. Her clothing, her shoes everything she buys — must be especially made. I would like Your Honor to keep these facts in mind."

His Honor promised to do so.

HANDSOME CLOCK BEING DISPLAYED

Frank Biddle of 431 Rogers street, has just completed a very handsome clock of the grandfather type, for W. J. Hancock, George street.

As well as being a work of skill, it is a work of love. The pride of the craftsman in good work, hand-wrought, is evident in the consummation of many long hours of patient, interesting toil that has turned out a beautiful member of the clock family. Placed in the show window of The Examiner, the large pendulum swings back and forth in the dignified and leisurely manner of that well-known clock of the old story, that never wished for haste and always swung to the tune of "Take your time."

It is a tall clock. One looks up to it to gain an idea of the time or phases of the moon. It is equipped with Westminster and Whittington chimes, toned down with well-oiled felt hammers, to a quiet friendly murmer of distant bells. It has German works, but everything else about it is hand-wrought, except for the pillars. It is of the Colonial style and was made from blue prints furnished by Mr. Hancock, who knew just exactly what he wanted and is evidently well satisfied with the result.

It is interesting to note that the wood, solid walnut, comes from pieces sent to Mr. Hancock's auction rooms and broken down for this purpose. They were old organs and beds and chairs, so that many a memory of other homes and other people cluster about the fine tall clock, telling the time in composed and dignified voice.

All the mouldings were worked with hand planes and the whole was finished with hand-rubbing, with no varnish of any kind applied. In this mechanical age, it is a triumph of the ancient handwork that has never been replaced as a symbol of what is good and durable and real.

COBOURG ELECTION APPEAL ADJOURNED

W. J. Corbett's Protest to be Heard Saturday by Judge O'Connor.

Hearing of the appeal by W. J. Corbett of Cobourg against the election of W. E. Cooper as Reeve of the town, was adjourned yesterday by Judge O'Connor until Saturday.

The action by Mr. Corbett, who was Reeve last year, is based on the allegation that Mr. Cooper was delinquent in the payment of his taxes. On the other hand, Mr. Cooper has stated that the building in which he lives is owned by his wife, and that therefore he is not responsible for the taxes.

If the election of Mr. Cooper is upheld by Judge O'Connor on Saturday he will be entitled to sit in the Council of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, and in the election of the Warden for this year will have two votes. A contrary finding will require a new election which cannot be held in time for the opening session of the Counties Council next Tuesday night at which the principal event is the election of the new Warden. Cobourg, however, will not be unrepresented during the sessions, as Maurice Booth was elected Deputy-Reeve of the town, and is the other member of Cobourg Council who sits on the "little parliament" of the counties.

Woodstock Driver Buys 31st License

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Jan. 20 (C.P.)—E. S. Coppins has bought his 1933 motor license, and strangely enough, it is his 31st—in a row. He bought his first license away back in 1902 when there was only one other in Woodstock. The license plates that year were made of sheet rubber about ¼ inch thick, with figures of white rubber set in the black. He had No. 5.

AGNES MACPHAIL COMING TO CITY

Will Address a Pubic Meeting Next Week in Peterborough.

UNUSUAL INTEREST

The announcement that a committee of Peterborough citizens, working with the executive of the Peterborough U.F.O., are endeavoring to bring Miss Agness MacPhail, M.P., to Peterborough to address a public meeting next week, has aroused unusual interest.

It is realized that until the prices of farm products increase, business conditions are not likely to improve. The suggestion that inflation of the Canadian dollar to the level of the British pound, as advocated by Miss McPhail and others in the farmers' movement, would create the first decided step towards business improvement, as it has lately in South Africa, is attracting much more interest than otherwise would be the case.

The committee is also endeavoring to secure a second speaker who will be capable of dealing somewhat fully with this subject.

Investigations the committee have been making indicate that the attendance, both from the city and the country, at such a meeting would be remarkably large. Final announcements will be made in a few days.

Thirty Take Part Lakefield Banquet

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 20. (Examiner Correspondence). — About thirty ladies sat down to the second annual banquet of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Church which was held in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening. The tables were arranged in T form and decorated with pink and white with pink and white flowers in decorative vases. The menu was very attractive and the abundant and delicious viands were most tempting. After the meal had been concluded Mrs. Creighton, president of the W.A. gave a very graceful address of welcome to the members and guests of the W.A. Owing to recent family bereavement Mrs. Todd and the Misses Atwood were unable to be present and Mrs. N. Wannamaker was also prevented by family bereavement from being present.

Mrs. F. G. Kendal, honorary president said in her address that a getting together helped to cheer people and helped them to forget their home troubles. Mrs. W. M. Graham and Mrs. S. E. White also said a few words and Mrs. Goldsmith proposed a vote of thanks to all who served the delectable meal.

An hour or so of social intercourse followed and the second annual banquet passes into history as at least as great a success as the first.

Among those present were the following: Mrs. W. J. Creighton, Mrs. E. Armstrong, Mrs. Bryson, Mrs. Barks, Miss Creighton, Mrs. Chappell, Mrs. J. Dunford, Mrs. Earnshaw, Mrs. Goldsmith, Mrs. W. M. Graham, Miss Graham, Miss Graham, Miss Hetherington, Miss L. Hampton, Mrs. Junkin, Mrs. Kendall, Mrs. K. A. Mackenzie, Miss Ogilvie, Mrs. Parkinson, Miss W. Payne, Mrs. Robertshaw, Mrs. J. Sanderson, Mrs. Stenner, Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. Twist, Mrs. T. Watson, Mrs. W. Watson, Miss A. Watson, Mrs. T. Z. Webster, Mrs. S. White, Mrs. Woodhouse, Miss E. Woodhouse.

The Perfect Woman

It was McClelland Barclay, famous magazine artist, who said that Claudette Colbert (ABOVE), was nearer to being beautiful than anything in flesh and blood in the pulchritudinous colony of Hollywood. In Barclay's opinion, no woman is deserving of the description of "beautiful." His "all-type appealing" woman would walk like Kay Francis, have legs like Marlene Dietrich, knees like Wynne Gibson, chest and shoulders like Miriam Hopkins, hips of Carole Lombard, hands of Sylvia Sydney, teeth like Mae West, lips like Helen Twelvetrees, and the stately carriage of Elissa Landi. Boy, what a woman!

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

In a certain state a contest was held recently to determine the possessor of the most beautiful hands. And, strange as it may seem, the winner was a hard-working young housewife who had to do plenty of washing and like household tasks.

There's no doubt but that it is more difficult for a housewife to keep her hands smooth and lovely than an over-moneyed debutante who has nothing but time on her hands for beautifying her various features. But still, as this contest winner proves, it can be done. The most difficult par for the average housewife is keeping the hands soft and smooth, especially during the winter time. For the frequent dabbling of the hands in water tends to extract a good deal of the natural oil from the skin. And the cold, dry, wintry air, plus the warm, dry air of heated homes, tends to extract more of the oils that keep the skin supple.

Of course, the average housewife has to use water quite a bit in the course of a day's work. But she doesn't really need to allow her hands to come in contact with the water. And if she follows the plan I am outlining below, I can guarantee that her hands will remain smooth and white all year around.

Before making any use of water, the housewife should smooth some camphor ice on her hands, and massage it thoroughly into the skin. Then she should don a pair of rubber gloves over the camphor ice and proceed with her work. The rubber gloves won't interfere at all with her efficiency, either, if she procures the thin, well-fitting variety.

After completing her work the housewife should remove her gloves and cleanse her hands with a pure, bland soap and tepid water. And after the cleansing she should massage a good, bleaching hand lotion into the skin of her hands. In addition, she should lubricate her hands every night before retiring with a rich cream or hand lotion. This procedure will counteract any chapping or roughening, and will keep the hands soft and smooth despite the wear and tear of housework.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Legs

Megs: It is indeed possible to reduce and shape fat thighs, knees, calves and ankles. Full information on this is contained in my article on "Care of the Feet and Legs", but is too long to print here.

Eye Wash

Hilda: The eye wash generally used by most women consists of a teaspoon of boric acid dissolved in a glass of tepid, boiled water. An eye cup is best for administering an eye wash.

EIGHT NEW PICTURES UNDER PRODUCTION

JANUARY OF 1933 started off without hesitation as far as new pictures are concerned, one of the largest film companies, Paramount, launching eight. Alison Skipworth, Roland Young, Sari Maritza and Roscoe Karns went to work in "Good Company" while Marjorie Rambeau, Eddie Quillan and Dorothy Jordan faced the cameras in "Strictly Personal." The cameras also started turning on the new thriller "Murders in the Zoo" with Charles Ruggles heading the cast. Miriam Hopkins and George Raft are facing each other for the first time in a picture in "The Story of Temple Blake." Maurice Chevalier is preparing some inimitable romantic business for his new one called "A Bedtime Story."

BARCLAY MAKES UP "APPEALING" WOMAN FROM 9 STARS

MCCLELLAND BARCLAY, magazine artist, picked his "all-type appealing" woman today from a group of nine Hollywood film stars as he departed by train for New York after a brief period of work in the film studios. Such a woman, he said, would have the walk of Kay Francis, the legs of Marlene Dietrich, the knees of Wynne Gibson, the chest and shoulders of Miriam Hopkins, the hips of Carole Lombard, the hands of Sylvia Sidney, Mae West's teeth, the lips of Helen Twelvetress and the stately carriage of Elissa Landi.

Helen Twelvetrees

No woman is deserving of the description "beautiful," he contended. Nor has she sex appeal. Instead, it is "type appeal," or attraction to man as based on his profession. "Claudette Colbert comes nearer to being a really beautiful woman than any other film star in Hollywood," he said.

"I'LL MAKE OLD WOMEN YOUNG, AND ALL WOMEN BEAUTIFUL"

STRICTLY MODERN in theme and timely in type of story the World Wide picture, "False Faces" on the Regent screen next week portrays the fascinating experiments of an unscrupulous plastic surgeon. The film, an expose of the beauty racket, is from the original story by Kubec and Glamson, directed and starred in by Lowell Sherman, with a cast that includes Peggy Shannon, Lila Berton Churchill, David Landau, Geneva Mitchell and Nance O'Neill.

One of the serious faults of many films noticeable since the vogue of talking pictures is the lack of action. This is one criticism which will never be levelled at "Speed Demon," Columbia's melodrama dealing with the excitement and thrills of outboard motor boat racing, showing at the Regent theatre next week. William Collier, Jr. and Joan Marsh play in principal parts.

FINE HITCH HIKING PRACTISE

The other day at R-K-O John was doing a scene for "Topaze." The script called for him to use one of those large desk cigar lighters. Five times the actor crooked his thumb, but no spark was forthcoming.

Finaly, he threw the thing down.

"Here!" he exclaimed. "Give me a box of matches. They'll think I'm playing a hitch-hiker in this picture.

FAMOUS OLD JAPANESE LOVE CLASSIC MODERNIZED

MADAM BUTTERFLY" modernized screen version of the famous love classic opening at the Capitol Monday is a true picture of the Orient of today, for most of the scenes were shot in the most beautiful places of Japan at the height of the cherry blossom time. Sylvia Sydney is the petite geisha girl who loves the American naval officer not wisely but too well. Charles Ruggles adds the comedy.

As a whimsical knight of the road seeking the man who stole his wife and daughter, Will Rogers juggles mirth and pathos in "Too Busy to Work" at the Capitol next week. Marion Nixon leads opposite.

Lovers of Conan Doyle's famous detective stories will recall the character of the arch criminal Moriarty, pursuing whom Sherlock Holmes did some of his most dificult sleuthing. The two match wits again in "Sherlock Holmes" on the Capitol screen next Saturday. Clive Brook, Ernest Torrence and Miriam Jordan have leading parts.

GABLE AND BEERY FOR "SOVIET" PICTURE.

HERE IS SOME RED MEAT for your cinema diet.

As soon as he completes "The White Sister," Clark Gable is to co-star with Wallace Beery in the Soviet story that has been knocking around Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for some months now. Perhaps this explains why the studio turned down Clark's request for the lead in "Clear All Wires," which also had a Russian locale.

Clark Gable

"Soviet," the only name for the new film to date, has given M-G-M writers a good deal of trouble. The final and sucessful treatment must be partially credited to Frank Capra, Columbia's star director, who is being loaned for the one picture.

Capra is the man who turned out the best of the Jack Holt-Ralph Graves melodramas. He is one of the screen's outstanding directors of action stories.

NUDES AND THE LAW.

A RECENT CASE involves an independent producer who presented to the censor of New York, a seven-reel film entitled "This Naked Age," which shows the activities of nudist camps in the Catskills, France and Germany. The film was said to have been taken with delicacy. Many of the snaps are claimed to be things of beauty. There is a considerable display of buttock. To that the censor could not demur. But the women are shown with breasts. Down swung the heavy arm of the State of New York. "That picture may not be displayed." Thereupon, the National Board of Review, in its campaign against censorship, invited a hundred doctors, educators, ministers, and just plain citizens, all respectable, to a private showing. A vote was taken. It was said to be 100 per cent in favor of the picture. The censor is now in a tough spot. He has, in effect, called these hundred persons indecent, lewd, and lascivious. Moreover, if the case is pressed, he will have to allege that those in "Tabu" and "Moana" are not so corrupt and degrading as those of the Americans, French and Germans in "This Naked Age."

BHEIND THE SCENES.

WHILE R-K-O prepares her next pictures, Ann Harding has slipped away for her annual visit to Philadelphia. The star began her career in the Hedgerow players there and makes regular pilgrimages to study under her old director....If Paramount will let him off, Dick Arlen steps into the role of the reporter in "I Cover the Water Front."

Joan Crawford and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., are trying to trade their home for hill-top propery where they can build an English style house. Their present home is Italian, with early American furnishings.

Two weeks and the doctors promise Zasu Pitts she can go to work in "Niagara Falls," her next feature comedy with Slim Summerville. The wistful star had a severe illness.

To the rumor that she will marry David Burton, Billie Burke replies that she will never marry again. Her life, she says, will be devoted to her stage and screen career and to her daughter. And, incidentally, did you know that the real name of this actress is Ethel. Her father, a clown in Barnum and Bailey's circus, was named Billy Burke.

Little Cleaning Sponge Fills Long Felt Need

It is seldom that a utility item is really new and unique, but the little cleaning sponge turned out by the sponsors of the Old Dutch Girl is filling a long-felt need, as it is attractive, efficient and, above all, decorative in bathroom and kitchen, takes the place of the unsightly cleaning cloth and still is always handy.

RESIGNATION is a curious thing.

* * * * * * *

There is about it a slightly religious trend, as if somehow Providence or Fate had so ordered events that they must be endured, so the least said about the state of affairs the better, as it could not be changed.

* * * * * * *

Or if one must talk about them, that it should be with an air of determined acceptance without resentment. A fortitude is implied which one consciously or unconsciously feels to be laudable.

* * * * * * *

Sometimes it is assumed that there is nothing which can be done about whatever the thing is, over which one is resigned. Such an attitude may be mere laziness rather than a praiseworthy condition.

* * * * * * *

If there is any way to make matters improve, or to build something good on what appears to be a troublous foundation, then one should be stirred into activity.

* * * * * * *

Then there is a call to conquer or to progress, and what one blindly assumes to be a cause for resignation, may be a suggestion to act or a summons to go forward.

* * * * * * *

There is no household in which acceptance to some existing conditions cannot be changed into betterment. It may be that the home atmosphere can be made sweeter by some little acts of kindness, or a gentler method of accomplishing home management.

* * * * * * *

It may be that endurane of annoying material things can be relieved or stopped by actively doing something about them. It may be that community work can relieve one's own sad introspection or recollections, and at the same time aid others to improved living conditions and to happier existences.

* * * * * * *

The resignation which is laziness of mind or body can, by the right activity, be transformed into benefits.

Fair Wage Clause Is In Dam Contract

H. Lickley of Toronto recently advertised in The Examiner, asking for prices for supply of material on the proposed dam at Lock No. 22 on the Trent Canal, about four and a half miles north of this city, which would seem to indicate that an early start of the work is anticipated.

According to announcement in The Labour Gazette, contract for the construction of a concrete dam at Lock 22, was awarded to W. J. Kitts of Cochrane and Toronto on November 26 last. The amount of the contract was approximately $51,464.35. A fair wage clause was inserted in the contract, according to The Labour Gazette, as follows: Hourly rates of wages for not more than eight hours per day: carpenter, 65c; timberman, driller, compressor operator and cement mixer operator, 45c; blacksmith, 60c; blacksmith's helper, fireman, 40c; derrick runner, 65c; diver, $1.25; electrician, driver of team and wagon, 70c; laborer, teamster, 35c; driver of horse and cart, 55c.

Board Of 5 To Handle Windsor Direct Relief

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—(CP)— Appointment of a board of five to administer direct relief in the city of Windsor was announced today by J. A. Ellis, secretary of the Ontario unemployment relief committee, the board comprising Fr. John Andrewjewski, Clyde A. Curry, H. A. Grabell, Norman McClarty and Col. E. S. Wigle.

This board takes place of the former relief board which consisted of three members of the Windsor council and three others. They will elect their own chairman.

The government is now paying the entire cost of direct relief in Windsor, where the December bill was $132,000 and which is in view of its size is to be investigated by Mr. Ellis.

LINDSAY MAN IS BADLY INJURED

Ross Babcock Slips While Attempting to Board Train at Bancroft.

LINDSAY, Jan. 20. (Special to The Examiner)—Ross Babcock, traveller for the National Grocers, town, had a narrow escape from death at Bancroft. He was attempting to board a moving train when he slipped and fell between the coach and the station platform. He was dragged some distance and crushed between the wheel box and the platform. Besides sustaining body bruises, one of his legs was also badly injured. He was brought to Lindsay on the Haliburton train last night.

William Abbott, veteran C.N.R. engineer, town, and Danny Thompson, well known baggageman on the Port Hope-Toronto train, who have retired from the service, were tendered a banquet by railroad men in the Royal Hotel Wednesday night. The function was attended by nearly two hundred C.N.R. employees throughout the district.

CLOTHING DEPOT AWAITING CALL OF THE CITIZENS

Bureau for Clothing, New or Old, is in the Old Groceteria of Eaton's.

CLOTHING CALLED FOR.

Illness, as well as want and unemployment, makes many inroads on the scanty funds of those who are in need in this, one of the many cycles of depression that the old world has had to face. The wheel that comes down will inevitably go up. That is the law of nature. But the length of time in which the wheel turns makes it a heart-rending thing to watch for many an anxious man and woman faced by the problem of feeding little mouths. And, as is the case during every period of hard times, the birth rate does not go down. It goes up. Every day sees new citizens coming into homes where already too many hungry faces crowd about the board. Every day, those who work in relief agencies, see children with pale faces coming to ask for help and assistance.

Take one instance: He was a little chap of eight years of age. Big brown eyes and a round little face. Clean, from head to toe. Just how, you would wonder, because his mother, ill in bed with influenza, had three others to look after; one a child of four, another a baby of eighteen months, a fourth an infant of six months.

But he was clean and well-mannered and talkative. He was immensely interested in the typewriter and the way the keys pop up and down and turn out words. He had an armful of bundles; a big loaf of bread, a bag of apples, and in a smaller bag, a tin of condensed milk for the baby. Its little tummy refuses to accept new, fresh milk, and it has to be coddled as so many modern babies want to be.

He had come to ask for some things for the baby and he was the only one in a household of six people who could stand on his feet. The others were ill in bed with 'flu. True, they were getting attention from a physician, and the city was looking after their food and fuel. But there are lots of things besides those that are needed in a home.

Was he down-hearted? Not a bit. He was perky and bright and very much alive. If he has half a chance, he will be a nice man some day, but he needs food that is besprinkled with vitamins and he wants to be warm and clean.

If you would like to help children like this little chap and the dozens of paler-faced tiny boys and girls that you can see any day on the streets, if you look for them—for they hide in doorways and crouch sometimes on dark steps and up alleyways—well, then, hunt up the clothes from the cupboards and closets and give the relief rooms a call, or send in your donation to the fund.

The bureau for clothing, new or old, is in the groceteria of the Canadian Department Stores, on George street, in the old Cressman building, and a telephone call will bring a truck and a man to get anything you may have to give away.

The Bridge Player

Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!
See them glare, see them stare, see them fare,
'Mid the shuffling of the cards,
While the play briefly retards;
How the hectic moments pass
Till the play dies down—alas!
Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!

Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!
See the faces, hard and graceless, 'mid the paces
Of a tatoo on the floor.
Who will win? is at the core
Of each player's anxious gaze
As opponents' bids they raise.
Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!

Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!
All is well tho' the world go to hell,
True! the days are surely grey!
For our folly we must pay!
Let's forget—aye let us play!
Why be worried? Let's be gay!
Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!

Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!
Tho' 'tis plain, 'tis inane, 'tis insane!
'Tis an idol of the heart
'Tis our very life—Apart
From it surely we would die!
We must play! Let others sigh!
Bridge! Bridge! Bridge!

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause — and not one minute before. External treatments can't do this — an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of success in even the most stubborn cases that McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and all good druggists advise every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today. They must end your Pile agony or money back.

ANSWERING TWO BIDS

Partner must respond to an unopposed two bid, regardless of extreme weakness. He should respond to a two bid opposed by the intervening player, provided he holds assisting values of at least three trumps plus one quick trick, or in case he has a sound declaration of his own. He must pass an intervening bid in case he does not hold genuine assisting or shifting strength.

eep the bidding low. One quick trick (either an Ace or two Kings) and a biddable suit obligates a declaration of that suit, unless exceptional support is held for partner's suit, and no slam appears probable. One quick trick calls for a response of 3-No Trumps, provided no biddable suit is held, and further provided partner's suit cannot be supported with at least four small trumps or a doubly-guarded high honor.

Having bid 2-No Trumps over partner's opening bid of two of a suit, later you may shift partner back to his first suit upon four small trumps (if he bids 3-No Trumps or shows you another suit you are less able to support than his first suit. You may show a long suit, after your 2-No Trumps, if partner bids two suits wherein you are very short, or bids 3-No Trumps over your 2-No Trumps).

3-Hearts—
♠ K Q 7 ♣ 10 5 4
♥ 9 6 5 2 ♦ 8 5 3

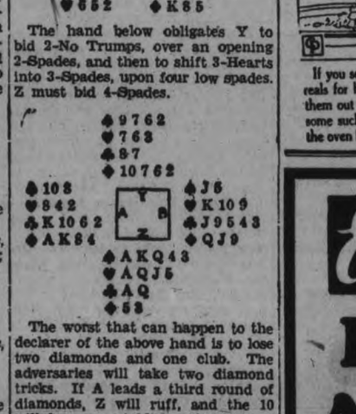
3-Hearts—
♠ 9 8 5 ♣ 10 5 4 3
♥ K 6 4 ♦ K 5 3

3-Clubs—
♠ 6 5 2 ♣ K 10 8 7-2
♥ 6 5 2 ♦ K 3

2-No Trumps
♠ 6 5 2 ♣ K 10 8
♥ 9 6 5 2 ♦ 8 5 3

3-No Trumps
♠ 9 8 7 ♣ K 10 8 7
♥ 6 5 2 ♦ K 8 5

The hand below obligates Y to bid 2-No Trumps, over an opening 2-Spades, and then to shift 3-Hearts into 3-Spades, upon four low spades. Z must bid 4-Spades.



The worst that can happen to the declarer of the above hand is to lose two diamonds and one club. The adversaries will take two diamond tricks. If A leads a third round of diamonds, Z will ruff, and the 10 will become established in dummy, giving the declarer a throw-off of his Q of clubs, and enabling him to win one trick over his contract.

The advantage of having four trumps in dummy is seen. Two rounds of trumps will drop all adverse spades, enabling the declarer to twice enter dummy, to take finesses of hearts through B's hand.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

About this time of year many people get excited and want to know something definite about the common cold. They are worried about treating it, and worried about doing something drastic at once.

This is all very well, and if there were some definite and scientifically approved method of handling the common cold, we might pay some attention to the worry. As it is, it is largely unwarranted and fruitless hysteria.

In the first place, colds are not nearly so bad as they are painted. As a matter of fact, a cold is kind of a good thing. If you just change your point of view around and regard it this way, you will find out you don't need to worry nearly as much as you have been doing. A cold keeps you at home for a few days. Yes—granted. But the rest does you good, and it's sort of fun to potter around the house. You are freed from any obligations. Nobody expects you to go to work or to make any important decisions. It's rather like being in heaven for a while. As far as the drain on the business is concerned, it probably does the business good to have you away from it for a few days.

In spite of all the long faces that are pulled by various people, I do not believe that a common cold ever results in any serious illness. I have read all the reports on the subject and they all read like poppycock to me. They give the impression that two young fellows had started out to do research and found they did not have anything to research on, so they pulled long faces and tried to make what they had been working on look as if it were important.

A cold is really a pretty good thing for you. It is more of a friend than an enemy. You get over the worst of it in about two days, and for the rest of the time you can enjoy yourself making everybody get up and give you the best seat; and blowing your nose loudly so as to annoy the remainder of the family; being finicky about your food, and shaking your head very solemnly and saying you are afraid that your cold is running into something, and seeing the expressions of alarm on their faces.

If medical science were to get rid of the common cold, a great deal of happiness probably would disappear with it.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

H. E. B.: "I am 18 years of age. For the past five or six years I have had a swelling in the legs and ankles in the evening. In the morning when I arise my legs are perfectly normal. I work in an office where I do very little standing. Will you be kind enough to explain this?"

Answer: The chances are that this is due to the wearing of tight garters. Possibly there may be internal varicosities of the legs, but probably at this age and under these conditions it is purely a matter of construction from clothing.

"Gossip and Such"

TO THE SCYTHE OF FATHER Time has been added the merciless paring knife of necessary economy and many a graying head, adorned with a big league ball player's cap has dropped from view.

* * *

THE OLD-TIMERS, PLAY-ers and coaches and, in one case, a manager—have suffered terrificially from the shearing of major league payrools since the conclusion of last season's campaigns.

THESE OLD FELLOWS would probably have gone west anyway in a year or two, but it's sad to see them go now when there is probably a year or two of value left in their frames. They'll never come back to their old jobs—at least, not the players. When bad times become good times again, advancing years and lack of activity will have doen for them.

WALTER JOHNSON IS BE-ing held up as the best example of what happens to a veteran when a ball club's bankroll gets the bends from dropping patronage. Walter was dropped from the Washington bench and replaced by a star player, Joe Cronin; the Senators thereby for one salary acquiring a manager and a regular player.

THE PASSING OF THE BIG Train from the big league battlefields brought a lot of nice paragraphs written by sports writers lamenting the loss of so colorful and genuine a figure as Johnson. But it brought no other big league job to the one-time invincible fire ball king.

OTHER NON - PLAYING oldsters lopped from big league payrolls include such famed names as Dave Bancroft, Charley O'Leary, Jimmy Austin, Mike Doolan, Eddie Ainsmith, Jimmy (Sunset) Burke, Howard Shanks and Pat Gharrity.

DEATH CLAIMED ANOTHER great figure in Kid Gleason. Thus was, perhaps, the one-time manager of the Chicago White Sox saved from the embarrassment of losing his job because of depression, though it isn't probably that Connie Mack would have fired the Kid.

* * *

PLAYERS WHO LOST OUT when clubs began cutting down on veterans included Pitchers Waite Hoyt and Clarence Mitchell of New York Giants; First Baseman George Kelly of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Outfielder Charlie Jamieson of Cleveland Indians; Catcher Harold (Muddy) Ruel of Detroit Tigers, Pitcher Jackie May of Chicago and Pitcher Eddie Rommell of the Philadelphia Athletics.

International Plans Weather Depression

DETROIT, Jan. 20.—Charles S. King, president of the International Hockey League last night expressed himself as distinctly optimistic for the future of the league following a meeting of the clubs late yesterday.

A plan for recasting the line-up of the Cleveland club as a result of the meeting was announced by Mr. King. This arrangement, he said, would enable Cleveland to strengthen its position in the league. Four or five players will be involved in the impending shake-up, Mr. King said, the men being drawn from within the league. Mr. King said it was not yet definitely decided who will be affected by the plan.

AND THAT ISN'T ALL. Several more veterans probably will be bounced before the season begins. They will be asked to take drastic reductions in their fees, refusal amounting virtually to resignation.

NEW YORK RANGERS TURN BACK CANADIENS 2-1 TO REGAIN TOP PLACE IN U. S. SECTION

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—(CP)—Quite a little rejuvenation appeared along the National League Hockey front today to promote hopes that the immediate tail-enders may have a thing or two up their sleeve. Take Chicago Black Hawks for instance.

After absorbing three crushing defeats within 10 days, the last a 5-0 shellacking from New York Rangers, the Hawks suddenly turned around last night and thumped New York Americans with a 6-0 dose that nobody in the world thought the sprightly Amerks would swallow.

The trailing outfit of the circuit's American division, under the guidance of Tom Gorman of Ottawa for less than a week, flashed amazing attacking power as they shattered a string of eight games in which Americans had been unbeaten and had climbed to a position five points back of Toronto Maple Leafs, division leaders.

Leafs took advantage of the situation by beating Boston Bruins 3-0 with a third-period drive at Toronto that netted them all three tallies. At New York the Rangers slipped up to first place in the American section with a 2-2 win over Montreal Canadiens. Detroit was idle.

Though beaten, Canadiens showed Gotham fandom a turn of the old speed and the fans back home—or rather the 4,500 who were interested—saw Maroons return to form with a 7-3 victory over Ottawa Senators. This was in order, however, as it brings the Senators and Maroons into a long-standing but recently broken deadlock once again.

Before a crowd of 10,000 who turned out to see how the Hawks behave under the Gorman regime, Chicago went after Americans in lively fashion. Johnny Gottselig and little Mush March, a couple of boys Al Ritchie polished up and sent forth a few years ago from his Regina Pat camp, scored in the first period.

Tommy Cook

Tommy Cook pushed a pair of shots past Roy Worters in the second period and Roger Jenkins got one, Paul Thompson getting a singleton in the third. The Hawks generally fattened scoring averages. Cook had two assists besides his goals, Thompson posted a total of three points and March and Gottselig two each.

Boston almost lulled Toronto's champions to sleep in two periods of such tight checking that the Leafs were slowed down to a walk. But Happy Day set the work going with a single-handed counter early in the third session and the boys jumped to the attack in earnest, Harvey Jackson and Harold Cotton bringing the goal total to three before the period ended.

Front Line Again Stars

Canadien penalties mid - way through the second period enabled New York's Cooks to ladle out defeat to the Lalonde hopefuls. While the Frenchmen struggled shorthanded, Bun Cook shovelled in the first goal on a double pass from Bill and Frank Boucher and a minute later Bill rapped in one himself on Boucher's assist. Later on Rangers were weakened by a penalty and Howie Morenz scored the single Canadien goal.

The worst part of the deluge at Montreal was in the first period when seven goals were scored, five by Maroons. Senators reduced the lead to 5-3 with the only goal of the second period but the Redmen got an additional two in the third.

ALEX HURD IS SUSPENDED FOR 10 DAYS BY O.S.S.A.

Alex. Hurd, who was suspended for taking part in the Mid-Atlantic speed skating meet, without obtaining permission from the Ontario association, stated his case to the provincial governors yesterday. Hurd reported that he left on the last minute, and did not have time to notify the Ontario authorities. The Ontario body set his suspension for ten days, which will keep him out of the proposed meet next Saturday, although he will be reinstated next week. The suspension does not deprive him of the championship he won at the Mid-Atlantic meet.

GEHRINGER SIGNS

DETROIT, Jan. 20 (C.P.)—Charlie Gehringer, star second baseman of Detroit's Tigers of the American League, yesterday returned his 1933 contract to the club—signed. The former Toronto Leaf, one of baseball's hardest hitters, is the first Tiger to come to terms for next season.

Frank J. Reiber, recruit catcher from Beaumont, and Eugene Desautels, catcher with the club last year, have also signed 1933 agreements, Navin divulged. The terms of the contracts have not been revealed. Most of the 1933 contracts are in the mail, Navin said.

PARENTS BEST BOOSTERS OF HUSKY DEFENCE STAR

By BEN GOLDBERG
(Special to The Examiner)

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—It has frequently been said that lack of parental encouragement is the cause of so comparatively few Jewish athletes in professional sport.

Alex. Levinsky

This, on the contrary is anything but, in the case of Alex. Levinsky, one of the Jewish boys in the history of the N.H.L., and one of Canada's outstanding versatile athletes.

For Alex's mother and dad are enthusiastic followers of sport and seldom miss a game in which Alex plays—whether it be hockey, baseball or basketball. They are his severest critics. If Alex makes a poor showing in a hockey game he soon learns more about it at home. His folks tell him exactly where he failed—and they know their sport.

Ever since Alex was big enough to run around with the kids on the street his parents encouraged athletics. Mrs. Levinsky has always kept a watchful eye in the direction of Alex's athletic activities. She's his secretary and trainer rolled into one. She keeps a close tab on his practices and often reminds him of them. When she doesn't accompany him to a game, she anxiously awaits his homecoming to learn whether he socked out a home run or scored a goal.

It was quite customary for Mrs. Levinsky to bring Alex a lunch to the school hockey cushion, where he would work out during his public school days. It pleased her to see him exercising with a satisfied appetite.

"Abe" is Manager

"Abe" Levinsky can appropriately be called Alex's business manager. He advises Alex athletically and financially. It is doubtful whether "Abe" and his cigar have ever missed a local hockey game since Alex joined the Maple Leafs. He sometimes even travels with them.

If clean living adds to the life of an athlete then Alex has a long career ahead of him. We personally know that Alex neither indulges in smoking or drinking. He just doesn't like it. He enjoys dancing and a game of golf.

For the past few years Alex, aged 22, has touched the scales around the two-hundred mark. This season he is lighter, however, and in better condition than he has been in some time. Has probably cut down on the pastries. But chocolate cake was always his weakness!

LIFE IS JUST ONE HEADACHE FOR N. Y. GARDEN MATCHMAKER

Immigration Authorities Have Contributed to Johnson's Woes By Deporting Kid Chocolate — Petrolle-Van Klaveren Bout Called Off.

NEW YORK, January 20 (C.P.).—Life is just one grand headache for Jimmy Johnston, boxing impresario at Madison Square Garden these days.

The brittleness of main bout performers, managers' demands, Jack Dempsey's plunge into the promotorial field, and the activity of immigration authorities, all have contributed to Johnston's woes. He builds up a card one day and something happens to make it explode right in his face the next.

His troubles began when Dempsey announced he had signed Max Schmeling and Max Baer for a heavyweight duel in June. That left the Garden with champion Jack Sharkey safely under contract, but with scarcely any first-rate opponent to meet.

An injury to Ernie Schaaf forced cancellation of one recent show and another went by the boards when Isidore Gastanaga, Spanish heavyweight, turned up with a mysterious malady he said prevented him from facing Tom Heeney.

To-night's Bout Off.

Johnston then thought he had a "natural" when he matched Billy Petrolle, Duluth welterweight, for a ten-round duel with Bep Van Klaveren to-night, but the Dutch windmill turned up with broken knuckle, and forced Johnston to scurry around and arrange a substitute feature match between Hans Birrie, German heavyweight, and Jimmy Braddock of Jersey City.

Now his feature battle for next week's show, a featherweight title match between Kid Chocolate and Seaman Watson, faces indefinite postponement because Chocolate is in difficulties with immigration officials. The Cuban was deported yesterday after a hearing at Key West, Fla., because he had no permit from the Secretary of Labor to enter the United States.

Another Garden feature, a heavyweight bout between Ernie Schaaf and Primo Carnera, threatens to fall through because Carnera's managers disapprove of a slash in the Garden's seat prices.

SPORTS SCRIBES ARE ASTONISHED

First Time Bambino Has Ever Taken Back-water So Early in Season.

MEET HALF-WAY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Babe Ruth is willing to take a cut of 10, or even 15 per cent, from his $75,000 salary of last year, he admitted today during a public work-out at Artie McGovern's gymnasium.

His statement stunned newspapermen. This was the first time in his long series of salary tilts with the New York Yankees that the big fellow had backed water early in the season.

The sluggers admission indicated something must have happened since Tuesday to make him change his mind. On that day he was furiously indignant when he admitted to the press that Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, had sent him a contract calling for a $25,000 slash, reducing the 1933 salary to $50,000. He told of how he had fired his contract right back at the Yankees, and declared he would fight to a finish.

Perhaps he has had a conference with Ruppert or Ed Barrow, Yankee business manager, since then. Ruth denied he had been in touch with either.

Meet Half-Way

A 10 per cent. reduction would chop his salary down to $67,600 and a 15 per cent. cut would reduce it to $63,750. This latter figure would be a virtual split between his $75,000 salary of 1932 and the proffered $50,000 for 1933.

"I'll take a 10 per cent. cut without a yelp," Ruth said. "And I might be willing to take as much as 15 per cent. But when they try to hand me a 33⅓ per cent. cut they're crazy."

He was a little sour about the contract business, and his face was beclouded as he discussed it. He's taking his salary troubles with more than usual solemnity.

The Bambino expected a reduction this season, but he figured it would be about $10,000, such as last year's initial offer called for. In 1932 the Yanks first offered him $70,000 to replace his salary of $80,000 for 1930 and 1931. He and Ruppert compromised on $75,000. Had Ruppert offered the Babe $65,000 for 1933 he might have astonished baseball fans by signing the contract immediately.

Ruth explained rather reluctantly he was willing to take a "fair cut, because I know how times are," but Tuesday he had stated hotly that "times are tough, but not for the Yankees." He explained then that the Yanks were making money, and that they would continue to do so if they paid him his price.

OLYMPICS BREAK SYRACUSE JINX; BATTLE STARS TO 2-ALL COUNT

Goalie Benny Grant Injured When He Tries to Stop Waite's Shot With His Schnozzle.

MILLER-BOLL SCORE.

TORONTO, Jan. 20. (CP)—Losing games to Syracuse Stars by one-goal margins was an annoying and somewhat disastrous habit which Detroit Olympics contracted this season. To-day it appears as if they have overcome it somewhat, judging by their 2-2 tie with the Stars at Detroit last night.

Previous to last night the two teams had met four times and the result on each occasion was a one-goal win for the Stars.

Even at that the tying goal of the game had a queer tinge to it. Goalie Benny Grant in the Syracuse nets tried to stop one of Deacon Waite's shots with his nose and the disc caromed off it into the nets. Benny had to retire for repairs after this.

Earning only one point from the tie, Syracuse were prevented from drawing up on even terms with London Tecumsehs at the top of the league. Thus to-night they will go into the Western Ontario Metropolis one point down in their battle for the leadership.

Each team scored a goal in the second and third period, Earl Miller and Buzz Boll counting for Syracuse while Leo Goldsworthy popped in the other Detroit counter.

Taylor, Olympic defenceman, drew four of his teams five penalties.

GOMEZ ASKS BIGGER RAISE FROM YANKEES

Fred Fitzsimmons Only Known Hold-out So Far in N.Y. Giants' Camp.

PROBLEMS FOR MAGNATES.

By HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer).

NEW YORK, Jan. 20. (AP) — Under the impetus of Babe Ruth's much publicied salary argument with the New York Yankees, baseball's annual hold-out parade went its merry way to-day. Protests from high-class performers against the size of the pay cuts they've been asked to take have been mounting rapidly and apparently major League magnates will have to use every argument in their repetoire to swing their recalcitrant stars into line before the spring training season.

Gehrig Joins Holdouts

Lou Gehrig, who was paid $27,500 for doing his chores at first base for the Yankees last year, also has balked at the size of the cut Ruppert has asked him to accept, but he expects to settle his differences with the club this week.

Vernon Gomez, one of the two members of the champions' lineup who were granted increases, also is prepared to argue that his work last season entitled him to a bigger boost.

The New York Giants have had little trouble signing their players so far but it was understood that Fred Fitzsimmons, star right hander, can be added to the list of holdouts. Freddie was asked to accept a sizeable cut and indicated yesterday that he expected to do considerable negotiating with the club before putting his name to a contract.

George Earnshaw, right handed ace of the Philadelphia Athletics, apparently was a bit hasty in announcing he was prepared to quit baseball rather than accept a cut of 75 per cent. Connie Mack said Earnshaw had not even been offered a contract yet and that therefore it was "ridiculous" for anyone to say Big George would be asked to take so large a slash.

(By C. J. P.)

Cobourg juniors and the young Petes meet tonight at the Brock at 8.30 in an O.H.A. fixture, and it promises to be as good as game as that of the Port Hope-Petes a couple of weeks back. On fast ice, the local outfit should show up even better than fans here have yet seen, but we fear the Cobourg clan favors speed also to rugged going. The Petes haven't been holding down cushions since their last victory by any means. They've been practising nightly and are in the well-known pink and ready to go out and cinch the league leadership this evening, or go down fighting if they don't.

* * * * * *

Y.W. girls' cage games tonight are: "Y" Intermediates vs St. Paul's at 7.00; Westclox vs. "Y" Seniors at 7.45; Wohelos vs. Senior School at 8.30; C.G.E. vs Blue Petes at 9.15; and at 8.30 Monday it's Westclox Juniors vs. St. Andrews. Three Church loop games are listed for the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow night—St. Andrew's Juveniles vs. George Street B at 6.00, Murray Street Juniors vs St. John's at 6.35, and Knox Juniors vs Mark Street at 7.15. Cage fans, grab yourselves a slice of 'em.

* * * * * *

These Church League games ought to be interesting for those who follow 'em. George Street B will have to cop that juvenile affair to stay in the running, but St. Andrew's boys are just uncharitable enough to toss them for a loss, if possible. The last time Knox Juniors and Mark Street tangled, the former took a 17-16 verdict and there's no comfort when they shave them that close. Knox has to take this tilt to stay in the second-half race. Yeah, looks like a couple or three good games for the boy basketeers.

* * * * * *

The City League hockey fixtures at the Brock last night had to be postponed, water and soft ice being the cause. Other games around the city couldn't be run off either for the same reason. It's getting so that quite a bunch of puck frays have been put back and it'll take some catching up. The O.H.A. clubs are the ones that need to do most of the worrying, as we ought to get enough ice in February and maybe March to finally catch up in other loops. So far, this winter hasn't been much, if any, improvement over last year.

* * * * * *

Only a couple teams entered the Girls' Hockey League the other night, Keene and Maple Leafs. They'll arrange some sort of home and home schedule, playing in Keene next Thursday evening and back here the following Monday. Probably about three games apiece on each other's ice The Keene squad will doubtless be made up of gals who played hockey the past two years, many of them also being softball players. We understand the Leafs are mostly Ashburnham damsels.

An O.B.A.A. bulletin has been issued, showing that baseball is not so awfully far away. If any player previously playing under the O.B.A.A. should change his place of residence after Aug. 1st, he must notify Secretary W. J. Snyder before January 10th of the following year and state his reason. Players, not previously affiliated with clubs in the Ontario body, must be reported to the O.B.A.A. Executive by the league or clubs they intend playing with before participating in any league or O.B.A.A. game.

Walter Gerow, Tommy Pointer and Arthur Meens, all of Belleville, have applied for changes this year, the first two to Napanee and Meens to Stratford. The annual meeting of the O.B.A.A. will be held at Hamilton on Saturday, April 1st at 9.30 a.m. Nominations for officers and executive for '33 must be in the hands of the secretary on or before March 18th, and all amendments or proposed changes must be in his hands in writing by the same date. His address follows: W. J. Snyder, Secretary of O.B.A.A., 162 Sanford Ave., Hamilton.

Affiliated associations or leagues are requested to hold re-organization meetings no later than March 15th to elect officers and appoint delegates to the annual Ontario baseball meeting. Playing certificates will be issued about March 15th and may be secured by the league secretaries upon forwarding affiliation fees for the present year Max Swanston will represent the C.O.B.L. at this meeting. Bill Kay is the local member of the O.B.A.A. Executive, and Bill Prindible is the Peterborough convenor.

Up and down Sports Rialto: Bill Rogell, Detroit star infielder, was exonerated yesterday of liquor smuggling charges in Boston .... In '21 Babe Ruth signed for five years at 52 grand per, then the scale jumped to 70 G's for three seasons, two more at $80,000 and last year at $75,000; it'll be about ten grand less this year .... That Rangers-Red Wings' game drew 14,402 paid customers, the gate being about twelve thousands bucks, with 5,000 fans turned away .... It's nice to speak so casually about big dough when we can't rustle up the price of a pair of rubbers for this sloppy weather we're getting.

COBOURG MAY BREAK PETES' VICTORY LIST

Fans Promised Plenty of Action When Teams Meet for First Time This Evening.

ARE WELL MATCHED.

To-night at 8.30 in the Brock, the junior O.H.A. teams, Cobourg and Peterborough swing into action. It will be the first meeting of these squads this season, and promises to be a battle. The Petes are riding the crest with three wins and no losses piled up so far. They can take an unbreakable grip on the top rung of their group by copping to-night's tilt. Cobourg, on the other hand, is fighting for a place in the play-offs and cannot possibly afford to drop this contest. As they only last by one goal to Port Hope, whom the Petes just managed to beat by one goal, the teams appear very well matched.

Sanderson will be in goal for the locals again, with Cadd, Fenton and Weir on defence. The forwards will be Calladine, Jay, McGregor, Burley, Hill and Williamson. This bunch of youthful and well-coached battlers should look better to home fans since their last appearance in Peterborough. They will be paying a hard-hitting and speedy bunch in the Cobourg pucksters, so fans are assured of a close, exciting contest played as only juniors can, on a fair sheet of ice this evening.

ELISSA LANDI IN "THE WOMAN IN ROOM 13."

This tall, rather exotice actress has a major role in "The Woman in Room 13," which gives her an opportunity to display her striking dramatic talent and ability to handle difficult situations with ease.

She has a virtuous role again in this talkie. Filmed during her first days as a woman of vampish tendencies, then they put her into a Madonna type, and now she has the part of a wronged woman who does the noble thing in face of great odds.

The out of the ordinary aspect of this picture is the fact that it pictures a trio of men as the gossiping, trouble-making people who start a lot of villainy. It is the old father who hires the private detective to watch the actions of his son's wife, and it is the former husband who does the dirty work. Most talkies picture women as trouble-makers, so this is a refreshing variation.

The picture has a lot of intriguing stuff; a beautiful woman who becomes the prey of two bad men, a handsome and good young man, another woman who proves the victim of the piece, and a trial scene which is just about the same as the usual run of court room episodes.

There is a splendid cast: Ralph Bellamy, Neil Hamilton, Myrna Loy and Charlie Grapewin having roles in the feature. —Jeanette.

DRAMATIC CLUB IS HONORED

Millbrook Presbyterian Church Honors Club Members and Newcomers.

PRESENTATION MADE

MILLBROOK, January 20 (Examiner Correspondence). — An unusual and most enjoyable event on Wednesday was the congregational tea served in the Sunday School Hall of Grace Presbyterian Church with the members of the dramatic club, who successfully presented a play in the Town Hall just previous to Christmas, and the newcomers to the community and vicinity who are evonnected with the church, as special guests of the occasion.

There was a large attendance, the two long tables benig most attractive with a color scheme of gold and lavender, carried out in the runners down the centre, the tall tapers burning in brass holders, and the flowers placed at intervals between the candlesticks.

Following the happy hour or more round the supper tables, the minister, Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A., took the chair, community singing opening the program, among those taking part in the various numbers being Miss Vanita Ingram, a pupil of Mrs. W. McKee Bingham, who was heard in recitation selections; Joe Thorndyke and Dick Williams, who contributed songs; Mary and Dorothy Armstrong, and Mary Eakins and Edna McKnight, who played piano duets; the quartette, Misses Ruth Thorndyke and Vanita Ingram and Joe Thorndyke and Dick Williams, who sang "Put on your old grey bonnet," the girls being in appropriate old-time costumes; Tom Samuelson, whose reading was warmly applauded, as were also the choruses by the young men of Mr. T. W. Belch's class.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a handsome walnut table, with book trough in the lower section, to Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Hunter, whose marriage took place early in December, Mr. C. Thorndyke reading the appreciative address, and Mrs. R. J. McKnight and Mrs. T. C. Ingram, representing the Women's League, offering the gift. Mr. Hunter, on behalf of his wife and himself, made suitable reply, and all joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows."

The appreciation of the fine work done by the dramatic club, and the warm welcome extended the new members and adherents of the church, was ably voiced by the chairman and others, the enjoyable occasion being brought to a fitting close with he National Anthem and the final blessing by the minister.

Young People's Meeting.

Twenty-five members were present at the regular meeting of the Young People's Society of Grace Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, the vice-president, Miss Vanita Ingram, taking the chair in the absence of the president, George McKnight. The pastor, Rev. H. R. Williams, led in the opening prayer, and Mary Armstrong read the Scripture lesson.

An interesting reading, "Myself," was given by A. T. Armstrong and the main feature of the evening a debate on the subject, "Resolved, That reading develops the mind more than observation," was proceeded with, the affirmative being ably upheld by Miss Jean Bothwell and Dick Williams, while Vanita Ingram and Tom Samuelson presented excellent arguments for the negative.

The judges, Miss Margaret Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deyell, had a somewhat difficult time in arriving at a decision, and while they were conning over the points, Miss Gladys Bothwell gave a reading, "The House by the Side of the Road." The final decision of the judges, as announced by Mr. Fred Deyell, gave the affirmative the victory by a comparatively small margin.

The project of collecting a library for the Sunday School is being proceeded with, the committee to draft rules and regulations being Margaret Armstrong, Jean Bothwell, and Norman Armstrong. The next regular meeting will be held on Monday, January 30, practice for the community glee club being each Monday at 7.30 p.m., alternately in St. Andrew's and Grace Churches under the direction of Martin B. Chenhall, Jr., of Peterborough.

HOME, BARN BURN.

BROCKVILLE. — Only blackened ruins to-day remained of the home and barn of Ivan Heaslip at Young Mills. Some insurance was carried.

"Body-Line Bowling" In Cricket Is Similar To "Bean Ball" Of Baseball

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Old time cricketers here are smiling at the news from Australia that English players are alleged to be practicing what is known in baseball as "dusting 'em off."

Englishmen who have looked over the great American outdoor pastime have shaken their heads at the "bean" ball, as known in baseball, and at the practice of some pitchers in putting 'em over close to the batter. It wasn't "clubby," they thought, and compared the gentlemanly game of cricket with the "tricks of the trade" in baseball.

The Australians, according to the reports here, are aiming the same criticism at what they call "body-line" bowling

J. Barton King, of this city, one of the greatest bowlers ever developed in the United States, said bowlers try to bowl the ball so the batsman has to hit it in a certain direction. "You can bowl from either side of the wicket in doing this and produce something like the famous cross-fire ball of the late Eddie Plank, of the Philadelphia Athletics," King said.

Racket Tournament Opens On Saturday

MONTREAL, Jan. 20 (C.P.). — Battle for the racket championships of Canada, singles and doubles, will be in full swing here to-day with outstanding United States players pitted against a Montreal contingent. The defending champion in the singles, Sir John Child, of Ottawa, playing as a member of the Montreal Racket Club, will not be in action to-day, however, as he has drawn a bye, through a default, going straight into to-morrow's semi-final.

Three games are scheduled in the singles and four in the doubles. In singles, Warren Ingersoll, Philadelphia, will play W. Palmer Dixon, New York, in the first match. Dixon is conceded to be the strongest player from below the border.

Arthur J. Hills, of Montreal, will clash with Dr. L. F. Bishop of New York, and Daniel A. Newall, Philadelphia, will meet Harry G. Clark, Boston.

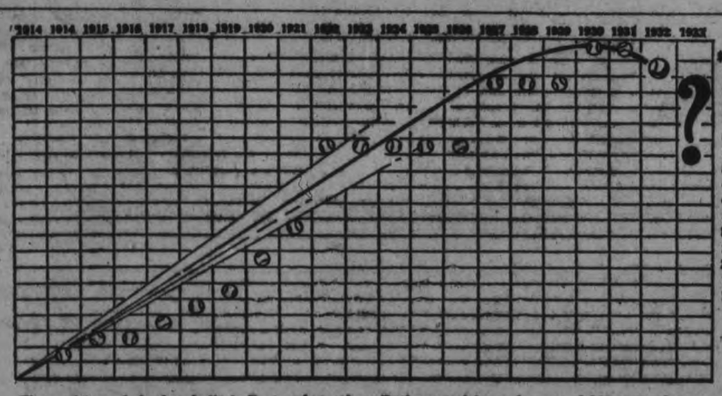
In the absence of the president, H. Dodds, who was unable to be present, J. W. Anderson, honorary president, addressed the team and wished them the success they have had in past years. G. W. Craw, vice-president, made the presentation to the captain of the team, "Toady" Patterson, who on behalf of the team thanked the Men's Association.



The position of the baseballs indicate what salary Ruth earned in each year of his major league career. Note: In the early part of 1914 he earned $600 as a member of the Baltimore Orioles before being sold to the Boston Red Sox, with which club he finished the season.

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor.

EXIT THE old slogan:

"As Ruth goes so go the Yankees."

Rewrite it:

"As Ruth goes so go all ball players.

And there you have the reason why the activities, this month, of Ruth, Preferred, on the baseball big board is being watched by every diamond athlete.

If Big Babe is forced to take a terrific slice, then many a ball player can expect to see his own salary undergo drastic shearing unless, of course, he chances to be a new man in the process of developing and actually a better ball player this year than he was last.

IT IS QUITE fitting that a Ruthian wage reduction should be used by the magnates as a pattern when they shear the salaries of those high priced athletes that merit reductions from boom time salaries.

While this department is prone to side, as a rule, with the journeymen of the game in any difference of opinion with the "bosses," it must be admitted that such a course by the magnates could be called justified because these very same athletes used Ruth's rising salary as a basis for demanding pay boosts—and in most cases got them—when times were not so tough.

As Babe's salary soared during the flush years of 1920-1930, the general level of major league salaries also rose. So why shouldn't the level drop as Ruth's drops—and it is almost certain to.

WHEN RUTH broke into baseball two decades ago a star newspaper man often made more money than a star ball player. Ruth's prodigious feats with his war club not only changed the style of baseball throughout the country but he also showed the way to more money than ball players had ever seen before.

Ruth was worth the $70,000 to $80,000 he was hauling down at the peak. He had revolutionized baseball attack, dramatized it into a great drawing card. But there were ball players who were overpaid because somehow magnates, dazzled by the blinding prosperity of the Yankees seemed unable to say "No."

Now that is all changed. Babe Ruth's salary is once more up for discussion. That he will have to take a cut, probably a stiff one, is the general opinion. And if he does watch for a sudden bear market in heretofore high priced ball players.

Want to get sick.
—Shadow Sayings.

"Let's go on an adventure," Knarf said to Mij, Flor, Hanid and Yam, the shadow children. It was late at night. All the children—the real children—were fast asleep. This was the time when the shadows went out on adventures. During the day they had to stay with their masters and mistresses.

"What kind of an adventure shall we go on?" the shadows asked Knarf.

"A long adventure," he answered. This didn't seem to explain much. It didn't do them any good to keep asking Knarf questions, because he never gave the right kind of answers.

"All right," they agreed. "We'll follow you wherever you go." At this Knarf got up and walked around the room four times. Then he crawled under the piano and came out on the other side. None of the shadows had much trouble doing this because all shadows are flat. If you were as flat as your shadow, you could do it, too.

The Great Adventure

When Knarf saw that they had all crawled under the piano, he cried: "Make yourselves small!" Instantly they all made themselves small. Shadows do this easily. They simply pull themselves together. Then Knarf drew in his arms and his legs and went rolling down and hall into the kitchen, with his four companions roiling after him.

"Come on in," said Knarf

Now in the kitchen, Inda the cook, had left some glasses of jelly to cool. Without a word, Knarf sprang right into the first glass of jelly, which happened to be grape. Knarf sank all the way down to the bottom of the glass. There he sat, motioning to the other shadows to follow him. They shook their heads. They didn't think they ought to do it. Jelly wasn't meant to be sprung into.

Knarf kept motioning them more and more. But the more he motioned, the harder it became to move his hand. He thought at first that he must be getting tired. Then, all at once, he discovered that the real reason was that the jelly was getting hard.

Can you imagine being caught in a glass of hardening jelly? "Come out, come out!" his companions sobuted. Poor Knarf. He tried to get out but he couldn't. He just stuck. He had certainly found himself an adventure. What was to be done? Soon it would be morning. Inda would put a top on the glass of jelly. Then she would put the whole glass, with Knarf in it, on a shelf in the cellar. How was Knarf going to get out?

A fairly auspicious planetary influence may be felt on this day, furthering the prospects of those in employment as well as those whose occupations depend on vigorous, practical, original and constructive thinking. The mind may be highly pitched toward independent research or experiments in new directions, although there may be a tendency to restlessness and change. Lands, real possessions and labor may thrive and elderly persons may be inclined to assist substantially.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of much constructive and original enterprise, with the mind keyed up to original work and investigations. Employment may bring advancement or preferment and elders may be friendly in offering solid assistance. Real possessions should be increased by diligence. A child born on this day should be orginal, inventive, industrious and responsible, gaining the faith and honors of employers.

Contests and other amusements, followed by the serving of dainty refreshments, made the evening most enjoyable.

The wagon, loaded with chop overturned in front of St. George's Church, the horses fell and became separated. One was caught at Mr. John Doherty's and the other near the bridge just out of the village. The horses were both badly frightened and one received a very severe wound.

A jolly skating party, followed by an enoyable house dance was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. O'Grady on Friday evening.

LOCAL COUNCIL OF WOMEN ELECT MRS. B. HARVEY 1933 PRESIDENT

Activities of Past Year Are Outlined at Annual Meeting.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Mrs. B. W. Harvey, of Sherbrooke street, will be president of the Local Council of Women for the coming year.

The Local Council has been limping along for the past year wthout a president, since the death of the late Mrs. C. H. Edwards, and vice-presidents have been acting as presiding officers for the monthly meetings of the organization.

Vice-presidents were elected yesterday on a ballot of eight names. The affiliated societies had nominated other ladies for the office of vice-president, but several withdrew, and the balloting brought in the following as successful: Mrs. V. R. Henry, Mrs. H. H. Graham, Mrs. N. Stranger, Mrs. E. Wand and Mrs. J. Mills. The first two are new members of the executive office holders of the society.

Mrs. H. Tremain will be treasurer for the new year, succeeding Mrs. E. Wand, whose tenure of office has been very satisfactory and whose work was highly praised by the members.

Mrs. J. H. Cridland, another new member of the executive of the organization, will be recording secretary, and Mrs. Bruce Law was re-elected to the office of corresponding secretary.

Convenors of the various committees of the Local Council will be: Mrs. W. Blackwell, arts and crafts; Mrs. E. Telford, cinema and printed matter; Mrs. R. Parnell, child welfare; Mrs. B. F. McNeely, citizenship; Mrs. F. H. Dearborn, economics; Mrs. W. R. Morris, education; Mrs. G. Helson, housing and town planning; Miss Mabel Moore, laws; Mrs. B. W. Harvey, League of Nations; Miss Helen Anderson, mental hygiene; Miss A. Lancaster, moral standards; Miss Leta Brownscombe, migration; Mrs. T. W. H. Young, public health; Mrs. J. Mills, trades and professions for women; Mrs. J. Mills, Well Babies' Clinic; Mrs. W. R. Morris, soldiers' and sailors' pensions.

Mrs. J. Mills and Mrs. G. Helson acted as scrutineers for the voting for vice-presidents, all other offices being filled without balloting.

Reports Presented.

The annual meetng of the Local Council, which took place yesterday afternoon in the green room of the Y.W.C.A., was presided over by Miss A. Lancaster, and was featured by reports from several of the convenors of committees and representatives of affiliated societies. There was quite a good attendance.

Mrs. Bruce Law gave the annual report, reviewing in concise fashion the activities of the year just ended, when seven regular and two executive meetings were held and the Council had thirty-eight affiliated societies as members.

A number of instructive addresses were presented during the past twelve-month. Sympathy was extended to all who had lost dear ones during that time, and an expression of gratitude was voiced to The Examiner for reports of meetings and assistance given through publicity in its columns. Reference was made to the loss by death of two valued members, Miss Annie Walson and Miss E. McCamus.

Mrs. E. Wand also made a thoughtful reference to the fact that Miss Walton had played the National Anthem at the close of the last regular meeting, in November, of the Local Council. The period to that meeting in the playing of the song-prayer for the King was also the period of Miss Walton's membership in the Council, of which she was an old and valued member. Her quiet and friendly manner and the interest she took in all the proceedings made her a very popular member and she will be missed by all, especially the senior members.

Mrs. Wand gave the yearly financial statement, showing receipts from fees, a tea and donations, of $111.53 and expenses of $107.48, leaving a balance on hand of $4.05 and a balance owing on the rent of the green room to the Y.W.C.A. of $8.50.

A vote of thanks to the auditors, Messrs. Morris and Lawrie, was voiced by Miss Lancaster and approved by the meeting.

Varied Activities.

Many activities of different types were mentioned in the reports presented by the convenors of committees and representatives of affiliated societies. They range from the holding of art exhibits to the sending of missionary bales as far away as Lac la Ronge, Saskatchewan, and to the Maritime Province of New Brunswick.

Miss Tena Mathers presented the report for the arts and crafts committee, in the absence of the convenor, Mrs. W. Blackwell; Mrs. R. Parnell, convenor of child welfare, read a letter pertaining to the subject; and Mrs. W. R. Morris reported briefly for the education committee.

In the course of her remarks, Mrs. Morris said that very little of practical moment had taken place during the past year in this phase of the Council's activity.

"You will see in a local way that there will be an attempt made to curtail expenses. If services are curtailed, it may be at the expense of efficiency, but if we have reached a point in this city where we must injure the efficiency of the school by curtailment of services, then we may have to do it."

In speaking of trades and professions for women, Mrs. J. Mills, the convenor, said that the fine work done by the local sanitary inspector left little to be desired in looking after buildings where women are employed.

Mrs. G. Helson gave a review of the work of the Well Babies' Clinic, of which Mrs. J. Mills is president. During the past year, 45 clinics were held, averaging a total of 105 babies examined at each. In the twelve-month, a total of 1,235 babies were brought to the clinic. Free services are given by Drs. Eastwood, Clark, H. N. Young, E. S. Fitzpatrick. Miss Mamie Foote is the nurse.

Speaking of the committee on soldiers' and sailors' pensions, the convenor, Mrs. W. R Morris, referred to the failure of recently-formed Travelling Appeal Boards to perform the function for which they were intended; to speed up the machinery in connection with soldiers' pension appeals, and to the formation of the later Pension Commissions to enquire into the delays surrounding the granting of many appeals that were passed upon favorably by the Travelling boards

Tribute to J. Abraham.

Mrs. Morris also took occasion to draw attention to the very fine work done by James Abraham who spares neither time nor attention to follow up investigations in connection with returned men and their rights. She referred to the unemployment allowance which, in many cases, augments the small pensions received by ex-soldiers, sometimes adding to their pensions by sums totalling over $30 monthly. In this connection Mr. Abraham, she said, has been able to bring over $50,000 to the city in the past two years.

"Mr. Abraham is always absolutely determined that if anything is right it will eventually go through. Sometimes he has had to push matters for two years before they finally went through, but he has the personal integrity, the knowledge of the law and the facts that makes his statements heard. He is a most invaluable man in this regard."

Mrs. Morris also made an appeal for co-operation by the ladies in sending in clothing, new or used, to the bureau which is to be opened for distribution next week, in connection with the community campaign in aid of the needy of the city.

Reports of affiliated societies were made, many of those answering the roll call being unable to report on activities and promising reviews of their work for the next regular meeting.

Mrs. W. Lundy reported for All Saints' Auxiliary; Mrs. N. S. Stranger, for Central Home and School Association; Mrs. Karl Simpson, for Queen Alexandra H. and S. Association; Mrs. Andrew Jack, for the Prince of Wales Association; Mrs. T. W. H. Young, for the 57th Regiment Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Mrs. J. Londerville, for the Women's Association of Knox United Church; Mrs. E. Wand, for the Mark Street Church Women's Association; Mrs. Robert Cunningham, for the Young Women's Auxiliary of Trinity United Church, now known as the Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary; Mrs. B. F. McNeely, for the Women's Association of St. Andrew's United Church, also for the Women's Liberal Association; Mrs. John Butcher, for the Women's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church; Mrs. F. H. Dearborn, for St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. Charles M. Scott was introduced to the meeting as one interested in women's work.

The newly-appointed president, Mrs. B. W. Harvey, was not present at the meeting, and Miss Lancaster expressed the pleasure of the Council at the excellent reports presented. Miss Lancaster also suggested the holding of an evening meeting, to augment the organization's finances, with Miss Winnifred Kydd, the national president, as guest speaker.

A vote of thanks from the ladies was voiced in regard to the work done during the year as presiding officers by Miss Lancaster and Mrs. T. W. H. Young.

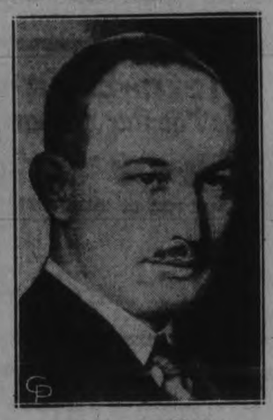
Montreal Man Sues Stillman

JAMES A. STILLMAN.



LUE ROCHEFORT.

James A Stillman (left), former president of the National City Bank, New York, and wealthy New Yorker, is being sued by Lue Rochefort, well-known Montreal business man, for alienation of affections. Rochefort charges Stillman with stealing the affections of his wife Marjorie, formerly Marjorie Nye of Boston, Mass. Stillman vigorously denies the charges. Rochefort also charges that Stillman took Mrs. Rochefort to Havana and other places though he allegedly knew she was a married woman. The suit promises to rival the historic divorce fight between Stillman and the former Miss Urquhart, now the wife of Fowler McCormick of Chicago, youthful heir to millions.

Dorchester Guarded By Squad Of Mounties

FREDERICTON, N.B., Jan. 20 (C.P.)—Reports that a squad of Royal Canadian Mounted Police from Halifax were stationed at the Maritime Penitentiary at Dorchester this week, to remain temporarily as a precautionary measure, had been confirmed to-day by Captain E. C. P. Salt, Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superintendent in New Brunswick.

The squad consists of one non-commissioned officer and five constables, said Captain Salt. They will assist the prison guards in "keeping an eye on the prisoners," he added.

The step was a result of the Dorchester Penitentiary riot on January 7.

Norman, Noted Banker Bachelor Will Wed

LONDON, Jan. 20. (AP)—Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, will marry Mrs. Priscilla Cecilia Maria Worsthrone, it was learned to-day.

Now 61 years old, Mr. Norman generally had been considered a confirmed bachelor. His bride-to-be is 33 years old.

Disclosure of the plans in a notice filed in the London registry office gave the city (financial district) a surprise.

Mrs. Worsthorne was formerly the wife of Alexander Louis Wynand-Koch Worsthorne.

Mr. Norman's commanding position in the financial world and his picturesque personality lent particular interest to the romance.

Mrs. Worsthorne is a long-time friend of Mr. Norman's family. She has been active in public affairs and is at present a member of the London county council.

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan 21 (C.P.) —George L. Van Horne, well-known merchant and for the past seven years a member of the executive of the Ontario Hockey Association, died to-day after a short illness. He had been in poor health for more than a year.

Van Horne was for years one of the outstanding defence players in the O.H.A. He was with the Frontenac Beechgrove Juniors and later with the 14th Regiment of Kingston when the latter team won the Senior O.H.A. championship in 1909. He was a rugged, hard-hitting defense player.

CREW RESCUED DRIFTING SHIP

Captain and 6 Men Had Been Making Gallant Fight With Rudderless Craft.

CARGO MOLASSES ABOARD.

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Jan. 21 (CP) —All the crew aboard the rudderless Saint John schooner Dawn Wilkie were taken off safely to-day by a boat from Boston, according to a wireless telephone call received from a ship on the Atlantic by Mrs. N. A. Wilkie.

Captain Wilkie, Master of the Dawn Wilkie, told his wife that he and his crew would be landed at Shelburn, N.S., between 9 and 10 o'clock to-night. The rescue was made at 6 a.m. but the name of the rescue ship could not be distinguished on the telephone.

Overdue at Saint John with a cargo of molasses from Barbados, the schooner was reported Thursday to be drifting rudderless 120 miles northeast of Boston. Whether or not it was a coastguard cutter that made the rescue could not be determined here immediately.

Word of the captain and crew's safety meant relief to seven families. When the Dawn Wilkie cleared from Saint John with lumber for the Barbados on October 25, she had on board Captain Newton, A. Wilkie, 52, Saint John, and six men.

The Dawn Wilkie, 387 tons register, was owned in Saint John by J. Splane and Company.

INCREASES LEAD.

LONDON, Jan. 21 (C.P. Cable).—Arsenal got back into their winning ways to-day when they defeated Manchester City in the First Division match of the English Soccer League. After losing the Cup game last Saturday to the lowly Walsall, they were taking no chances, and to-day's win further increases their lead on the First Division.

Sheffield Wednesday, who were riding close behind Arsenal for the League leadership, were held to a tie by Blackburn Rovers, and consequently lost their second position to the fast-travelling Aston Villa, who trimmed Liverpool 5-2. The Villans are now three points behind Arsenal, with Sheffield Wednesday trailing them by another point.

Everton advanced two points at the expense of Sunderland, whom they defeated 6-1, while the lowly Wolverhampton Wanderers trounced Portsmouth 5-2.

STURGEON FALLS RECORDS WRONG SAYS LANDLORD

Claims He Received $8.50 for One Tenant But Town Billed Gov't for Three.

COUNCIL GET TOGETHER.

Mayor States No More Vouchers Will Be Issued—No Money Available.

STURGEON FALLS, Ont., January 21 (C.P.). — The "rent book" used by the town of Sturgeon Falls as evidence before the Royal Commission investigating the relief disbursements "is all wrong," according to Joe Fournier, who appeared before the Commission to-day. Evidence yesterday indicated Fournier was the owner of a house valued at $650, in which 19 persons were living, and also he received $30.00 a month rent from the town.

Today, however, Fournier declared only one tenant was living in the house and he receives only $8.40 per month rent from the town, not the $30 shown in the rent book. The town had billed the Government for payment of the $30.00 a month rent.

It was discovered to-day that in a number of cases the municipality collected light and water accounts twice, once from the occupant of the premises and again from the Government.

Examination of rent records continues to-day.

Rent Varied

Investigating the tenants of J. A. Prieur, Judge J. M. Hall, commissioner, found on one house assessed at $180, rent paid was rarely the same for two consecutive months. It varied as much as from $4 to $16 per month.

One three-roomed house was shown in the rent book as being occupied by six adults. Investigating further, it was found some of these adults were also listed as tenants of other landlords.

"We'll have to get the landlords to explain that. We can't follow this stuff right through," Mr. Williams said.

The government's basis for determining the monthly rental is the taxes plus five percent, divided by

REID APPEAL POSTPONED UNTIL TUESDAY MORNING

Hearing of the appeal of Henry Walter Reid, which was deferred by by the Federal Government to the Ontario Court of Appeal, has been definitely set down as the first case on the list for Tuesday of next week, and not on Monday as had been originally announced by the Attorney General's Department. Word of the change in the date of the appeal was received here this morning by J. A.O'Brien.

President of the Bank of England, who was married to-day to Mrs. Priscilla Cecilia Worsthorne, divorced wife of Alexander Wynand-Kock Wornsthorne. Norman is 61 years of age; his bride is 33. BANK GOVERNOR NORMAN IS WED

Ceremony Follows Within Few Hours' Announcement of Engagement to Divorcee.

SECRET HONEYMOON.

LONDON, January 21 (C.P.). — Montagu Norman, Governor of the Bank of England, sprang a surprise this morning when his marriage to Miss Priscilla Worsthorne followed within a few hours the announcement of their engagement.

Just 17 minutes after the marriage could legally occur to-day he arrived in the Chelsea District Registry Office for the ceremony. While Mr. Norman rolled up quite openly in a salon car, his fiancee's arrival was more secret. So was the disappearance of the bride and bridegroom after they were married. They slipped quietly out of a back door and vanished.

The newspapers of London were still resounding with news of the engagement of the 61-year-old banker to his 33-year-old fiancee, and speculation as to the probable date of their marriage was still being indulged in at London breakfast

MAYOR DENNE HEADS BOARD FOR 15TH TERM

Peterborough Exhibition Board Holds Annual Election of Officers.

SURPLUS SHOWN.

Annual Banquet Will Be Dispensed With For This Year.

Despite his protest that he had served long enough, Mayor Roland Denne will again this year pilot the activities of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. Unanimously he was re-elected president of the Exhibition Board for his 15th consecutive term at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors held yesterday afternoon in the City Council Chamber.

Probably no greater tribute of confidence has ever been paid the president of any society than that tendered Mayor Denne yesterday by his fellow-workers on the Exhibition Board. When nominations were opened, he voiced his desire to retire from the position of chief executive, but the directors swept his protests aside, nominated him, and then closed the nominations and with a cheer put him back in office as head of the Exhibition Board.

In characteristic fashion he accepted the job. "Well, it's going to be a tough year, but I'll carry on. We'll need the help of everyone," he said.

Tom Brown was re-elected unanimously to the post of first vice-president, as was Vivian Millburn to the office of second vice-president.

The re-elected executive consists of:

President—Roland Denne.
First vice-president—Tom Brown.
Second vice-president — Vivian Millburn.
Treasurer—Fred. Holmes.
Secretary—F. J. A. Hall.
Supervisor—J. Gillespie.
General manager—Wm. Knox.

In its effort to make necessary economies the board decided to dispense with its annual banquet. The Exhibition Board's banquet has been an outstanding event in agricultural and industrial circles for many years, but, as Mayor Denne stated, "We cannot save $200 any easier than by cutting out the banquet." Several voiced the opinion that failure to hold the banquet was a step backward since the fellowship and ideas secured at such an event was very worth while, but the majority ruled that the affair must be dispensed with for this year at least.

Agree Conciliation No Longer Possible Report on Monday

Committee Will Proceed With Recommendations On Manchurian Case Regardless Of Japanese View—Loophole Left If Nipponese Attitude Changes.

PREMIER OF MANCHUKUO REPORTED SLAIN JAP ENVOY HURT IN CHANCHUNG BOMBING.

GENEVA, January 21 (C.P.). — The League of Nations Committee of 19 to-day rejected as unacceptable Japan's reply to its proposal for conciliation of the Sino-Japanese dispute, and agreed to proceed immediately with a report and recommendations regardless of Japan's views.

Conciliation, the committee agreed, no longer is possible.

The members authorized preparation of a report as provided in the League Covenant, and fixed a meeting for Monday morning for the first general discussion of the report.

Preparation of the report of the proceedings of the committee is authorized by Article 15 of the Nations Covenant, which provides that when members of the League become involved in any dispute likely to lead to a rupture, and when that dispute is not submitted to arbitration, each side shall submit to the League Council statements of its case. The Council then shall try to effect a settlement, but if the settlement is not obtained the Council shall publish a report containing a statement of the facts and of recommendations considered just and proper.

The committee did not close the door entirely against conciliation if any possibilty of a frendly settlement should appear subsequently, thereby providing for any change in Japan's attitude.

Rumor Official Slain

SHANGHAI, Jan. 21 (A.P.) — There were persistent reports here to-day that Chang Hsia-Hsu, Premier of Manchukuo had been killed in a bombing at the Changchun railway station, and that General Muto, Supreme Representative of Japan in Manchukuo, had been seriously injured.

It was impossible to verify the reports immediately because of the Japanese censorship on press dispatches.

Bombings Continue

For the third time this week Japanese military planes bombed Chinese troops to-day in the Kailu district in Northeast Jehol Province in an attempt to break up concentrations of a reported army of 33,000. Heavy punishment was inflicted.

The Chinese Nationalist Government was reported strengthening military garrisons on the coast and in the Great Yangtze Valley. Thousands of troops—some reports

FORESEE TRIP BY MACDONALD TO WASHINGTON

British Politicians Hold Premier Best Man to Discuss Debt Case.

NO OFFICIAL WORD.

Press Takes U. S. Action as Sign She Intends Clinging to British Payments.

LONDON, Jan. 21 (A.P.)—A trip by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to the United States to discuss the war debt question was seen as a possibility to-day as a result of the invitation emanating from the Roosevelt-Hoover conference in Washington.

The announcement that Franklin Roosevelt would welcome a British delegation early in March or as soon as possible after he takes office as United States President brought forth speculation by political observers the Prime Minister might go himself. There was no official announcement of the British plans.

When the British Government made its December payment to the United States with the unilateral reservations that the $95,000,000 should be credited to a future settlement, political observers immediately considered an Anglo-American debt parley would be scheduled early this year. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, and Stanley Baldwin, President of the Council, were mentioned as likely members of a British delegation.

Baldwin, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, led the delegation which went to the United States in January, 1923, and returned with the present debt settlement of $4,600,000,000 to be paid over a period of 62 years. In that same year, Baldwin became Prime Minister for the first time.

Motives Questioned

While the invitation to a debts conference from Washington overshadowed all other news here, today's newspapers questioned the motives of the American Government and President-elect Roosevelt.

The Daily Telegraph said the Washington announcement indicated the United States was "indisposed to let go its hold of the British war debt until it had made a satisfactory bargain with Great Britain in other directions."

The question arises, it said, whether the projected World Economic Conference would not be "fatally prejudiced if the United States enters holding fast to its debt claims unless it made separate preferential bargains with its debtors."

The New Chronicle described the United State's action as "very welcome" and promising.

"If it is desirable to review the whole field of the economic crisis, the proposed conference could only be fruitful as a preliminary to the World Economic Conference, it said.

CHANGES WANTED

LINDSAY —(CP)— Dysart township will apply to the Ontario Municipal board for an order placing the municipality under the provisions of the Ontario Municipal Board Act and for the appointment of a board of supervisors, the council has decided.

School teachers in the township have not been paid regularly, allegedly because the municipality could not collect taxes from a large land company.

HEROIC RESCUE IN MID-ATLANTIC SAVES 22 MEN

Line is Shot Aboard Little British Freighter as She Sinks Rapidly.

CAPTAIN, 3 DROWN.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Twenty-two men, hauled from the shattered decks of the sinking British freighter, Exeter City, were safe last night aboard the S.S. American Merchant, after one of the most thrilling mid-Atlantic rescues of recent years.

Battered by a gale and torn by waves that washed away her bridge and drowned her captain, another officer and two men, the little British ship was sinking rapidly.

The rescue was effected in a dramatic battle against storm and time. Hardly had the rescued crew been brought, exhausted, to the decks of the rescue ship, than the hulk they had abandoned began slipping beneath the pounding waves.

The scene of the grim fight was 650 miles off Newfoundland. Its progress was announced in terse messages from the master of the American Merchant, Captain Giles C. Stedman, hero of a sea rescue eight years ago, to his company ashore.

Capt. E. D. Legge, in command of the freighter, which was bound for Portland, Me., from England, was one of the storm's victims, presumably washed away together with his third officer, an apprentice and a seaman when the waves tore his bridge from beneath him.

At 5.30 a.m. yesterday, Legge had signed an S.O.S. signal, sweeping the seas for some nearly friendly ship. The American Merchant responded. Bound for New York, Capt. Stedman—who was once first officer of the Leviathan—altered his course and proceeded into the furious storm to the side of the stricken vessel.

Brought To Safety.

Over mountainous waves a line was shot to the Exeter City. Her decks were awash and she was wallowing helplessly, every lifeboat smashed.

By means of the line the American Merchant succeeded in sending over her No. 3 lifeboat to the side of the sinking ship, and after prodigious labor the 22 remaining members of the crew were brought to safety.

Captain Stedman's laconic message to his owners read:

"American Merchant, 943 GCT (4.43 E.S.T.), Lat. 46.48 north; long. 48.11 west. Twenty-two men composing crew Exeter City aboard. Rescue made in heavy sea. Expended our No. 3 lifeboat. Vessel abandoned in sinking condition. Settling rapidly. Advise Bristol Lines, Bristol, Eng."

The Exeter City had been pound-

POLICE ARREST GIRL ATTACKER

Provincial Officers Conduct Hunt Over Glengarry and Stormont Counties.

FOR PAST THREE DAYS.

CORNWALL, Ont., Jan. 21.—(C.P.)—Romeo Laroches, who has been hunted over Glengarry and Stormont counties for the past three days by provincial police, in connection with an assault on a 12-year old girl, was arrested this afternoon in the neighborhood of Williamstown.

The arrest was made by Constables Franks and Kennedy of the provincial police, aided by Chauffeur Lindop.

The girl was criminally attacked near Gravel Hill, 15 miles north of here, on Wednesday by an unidentified man.

The police of Stormont and Glengarry counties immediately took up the hunt and combed the whole area. The officers were assisted by local farmers, who conducted an independent search, covering the neighboring townships thoroughly.

Today, Constables Franks and Kennedy, driving to Williamstown established contact with Romeo Laroches, and took him in custody in connection with the crime.

UTILITIES MAY RECEIVE BACK REBATE OF $6,000 FROM HYDRO

Hon. J. R. Cooke Makes Important Announcement in Toronto.

ASSESSMENT TOO HIGH.

It is probable that the Peterborough Utilities Commission will receive $6,000 from the Ontario Hydro Power Commission on the sum of slightly more than $12,000 that the local Commission paid last year as its portion of the United States' exchange premium costs passed on to the municipalities by the Hydro.

"We expect that the charge to the municipalities as finally adjusted will be only about half the figure originally mentioned," Hon. J. R. Cooke, chairman of the Hydro Commission, announced in Toronto yesterday following a conference with Toronto electric commissioners.

No Definite Word.

While G. S. Matthews, chairman of the Peterborough Utilities Commission, had no definite word on the announced reduction in the cost of exchange levied on the local commission by the Hydro, he said that this week he had been reliably informed that "there was good news in the offing."

Peterborough is numbered among the 25 per cent. of the municipalities which have paid the exchange levy in whole or part. According to Hon. Mr. Cooke's announcement, the municipalities having made payments on the exchange premium costs will be credited with a rebate for the proportionate amounts not required from them when the final exchange costs of the provincial commission had been calculated. It had been found, he said,

Burglar Accepts Invitation

NEW YORK, January 21 (C. P.). — George J. McFadden, who operates a camera and sporting goods store 200 feet from and in plain sight of Brooklyn police headquarters, put a sign in his window a year ago, after he had been robbed of an expensive camera, inviting the burglar to come back and get the case.

The burglar came back last night, drilled his way through a steel door, but he didn't take the case. Instead he took, McFadden reported to the police, five motion picture cameras, four projectors, 50 reels of motion picture film, and 100 rolls of camera film.

McFadden said his loss was about $2,500.

DISTURBANCES SLACKEN, FREE STATE CAMPAIGN

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Jan. 21 (A.P.)—Police disclosed to-day that while President De Valera was motoring through County Kerry yesterday in his campaign for the election of next Tuesday, his advance guard discovered a barricade of stones across the road. It was removed before the President's car arrived, and there was no trouble.

At five meetings of former President Cosgrave's party in Galway 800 members of the Army Comrades' Association were on hand, but no disorder arose.

POLITICAL DRAMA IS FORESEEN IN ELECTION OF WARDEN FOR 1933 IN NORTHUMBERLAND AND DURHAM

Reeve Stinson of Millbrook and Reeve Gray of Manvers Aspirants.

BOTH CONSERVATIVES

Reeve Rickard of Newcastle, Liberal, Also a Candidate.

The election of the warden of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham for 1933 at Cobourg next Tuesday night holds every promise of dramatic interest for those who closely follow this annual quest of honors by reeves whose ability, experience and personality qualify them for preferment.

Following the customary sequence this year's warden will be chosen from the Durham county representatives. Three aspirants may be regarded as certain of nomination, Reeve Percy Stinson of Millbrook, Reeve Frank Rickard of Newcastle and Reeve Fred Gray of Manvers. Possibly Reeve George Annis of Darlington will also receive a nomination, and there may be others in the race, but it has been generally understood for the last twelve months that the toga of the wardenship will pass to the shoulders of either Stinson, Rickard or Gray.

The result of the election may be only conjectured, and one guess might be as good as another. In some affairs of the counties council, certainly in the election of warden, the political factor is a primary element. It has become something of a tradition with only few exceptions in recent years. When C. H. Davidson of Campbellford was concluding his term as warden in 1928 he deplored the sharp divisions on political lines, and quite plainly recommended the election of W. T. Wood of Millbrook, a Liberal, as his successor. Mr. Davidson's criticism of the old custom must have created some of the sentiment which both recognized and rewarded the efficient service Mr. Wood rendered to the united counties, especially as a financial adviser during the years he was a member. In 1929 he was appointed warden in a contest with M. J. Holman (Lib.) and two Conservatives, Fred Gray and Monty Wilson of Hope township.

Conservative Victories

In 1930, W. H. Nelson (Con.) of Percy was elected Warden over two of his own party, N. R. Hartt and Gordon Parker; and in the following year George Hooton (Con.) of Cavan succeeded to the wardenship in competition with Bert Richardson (Con.) of Manvers, M. J. Holman, W. F. Rickard (Lib.) and W. H. Carruthers (Lib.)

Some of these party designations may not be entirely accurate, but they reflect the general opinion in the precincts of the counties council. The 1931 contest finally simmered down to Mr. Hooton's plurality over Rickard, Carruthers and

Fast Thinking

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 21 (A.P.)—A negro convict, breathless and perspiring plunged past a group of farm workers and as they tried to stop him shouted:

"I'm helping train the dogs—they'll be here in a minute."

It seemed logical and the farm workers let him pass.

The bloodhounds appeared a few minutes later just as the convict predicted. They were practicing all right, but professionally. Guards said the negro, Ellis Wright, had just escaped from the city stockade.

Wright was right about another thing. The dogs needed training—they lost his trail in the everglades.

MRS. LANCASTER IS LAID TO REST

Fitting Tribute is Paid to Woman Who Took Important Place in Community.

HUNDREDS PRESENT.

(Examiner Correspondent)

HAVELOCK, Jan. 21.—With every sign of affection and respect from citizens in all walks of life, young and old, rich and poor, the remains of the late Mrs. T. P. Lancaster were borne to their final resting place in the family plot at Norwood on Friday afternoon.

The closing of all business places, the schools and the attendance at the house and cemetery of members of the legislature, representatives from various municipal bodies and newspapers, the Girl Guides in a body, the county council in a body and all other organizations throughout the village of which Mrs. Lancaster had been an active and much appreciated member, and the presence of many close personal friends were the outward expressions only of a grief that is very real and deep, in the passing of one, who during her six years sojourn here had endeared herself to everyone with whom she came in contact.

She was president of the local Women's Institute, vice-president of the Horticultural Society, vice president of the parish guild of St. Johns (Anglican) church, secretary of the village relief committee, assistant president of the Peterborough County Conservative Association, president of the Girl Guides committee, women's association, president of the village relief sewing committee, a member of the library board and particularly active relief work that called for personal supervision.

Long before the time set for the service at St. John's (Anglican) church the building was filled to overflowing, save for a few pews reserved for the immediate family and many had to remain outside as the hour of the funeral drew near.

Rev. E. W. G. Worrall, rector of St. John's church assisted by Rev. T. J. O'Connor-Fenton, of Norwood, were in charge of the service at the church and graveside. The beautiful hymns "To the Hills Around, Do I Lift Mine Eyes", "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" and "Lead Kindly Light" were fittingly sung during the beautiful ceremony of the Anglican church service, which offers so much consolation to the bereaved family and friends of the beloved one who has gone before.

Six leaders of the Girl Guides were present in uniform as honorary pallbearers, and after the committal service at the graveside stood at a last salute to their beloved friend.

The pall bearers were her five brothers and one brother-in-law, namely Bruce of Havelock, Harry of Lindsay, Gordon of Peterborough, William J. of Norwood, John of Leamington and J. A. Moffatt of London, Ontario.

Graduated as Nurse

Born at Norwood in 1892, Mrs. Lancaster, Clare Elizabeth Puffer, was educated at the Public and High Schools of that village. When sixteen years of age, she entered Nicholls Hospital at Peterborough, as a nurse-in-training, later going to Cooke County Hospital in Chicago from which she graduated. Immediately on graduation she took over the superintendency of a large hospital in Millville, N.J.

She was twice married. In 1915 she became the bride of Dr. Rexford Merrick, M.D., P.Ph., whose death occurred nine years later, during seven of which he was an invalid.

Two years after Dr. Merrick's death she renewed a girlhood acquaintance with Mr. Lancaster while he was on a visit to Knoxville Tioga County, Penn., where she was spending a vacation.

It was at this time Mr. Lan-

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 21 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The Men's Club of St. John's United Church, Campbellford, started the second year of its existence on Thursday and re-elected as its president E. H. Greig at the annual meeting staged in the church hall and featured by a banquet served by the ladies of the church. BABY CARRIAGES OFTEN ASKED FOR Great Boon to Home Where There is a Small Baby.

Baby carriages are often asked for, for homes where babies are plentiful and money is not. If the small boy or girl is ill and wants to have an airing while convalescing, the mother has to carry the infant. A baby carriage or stroller is a great boon in these homes.

Another article often asked for is a mattress. They seem to get worn out and go to pieces very quickly in some places, and they are not easy to replace, when there is no money in the pouch to buy them.

Then there are stoves. It seems hard to think of a woman cooking for seven or eight of a family on a Quebec heater with one lid, but that is just what many of them do.

Chairs and tables are hard to get but come in very handy, also rockers. Then there are high chairs, which are also in great demand.

In fact, any article of furniture that seems to be quite easily obtained when there is money and work, is welcome in many houses where there is neither, in this year of hard times.

Clothing of any type, size or condition can be used. For men, women, children or infants.

Telephone 3315, the new bureau of the Relief Campaign, which will be open for distribution shortly, and these things will be called for.

CLEVELAND MEN FACING CHARGES ARSON, MURDER

Former Attorney, Insurance Adjustors, Barber Supply Manager Among Accused.

$2,000,000 INVOLVED.

Arrests Are Sequel to Fire Last June When 13 Lost Their Lives.

CLEVELAND, January 21.—Five men, described by police as a "$2,000,000 arson gang," were accused of first degree murder yesterday in the burning of the downtown Ellington Apartment Hotel, in which thirteen persons perished, last June 9.

The charges were made in warrants sworn to by Safety Director Frank J. Merrick, who said the five conspired to burn a barber supply shop on the ground floor of the building and collect $20,000 in insurance.

He asserted that L. J. Kamins 64-year-old former attorney, now serving an arson sentence in Rockview Penitentiary, Pennsylvania was the "king pin" of the Ellington fire, and has obtained a large income for years as an incendiary.

Besides Kamins, the warrants named Sam Nieman and Paul Childs, Pittsburg fire insurance adjusters; Ben Hirsch of Aliquippa a suburb of Beaver Falls, Pa., and Ray I Turk, of Cleveland, manager of the American Beauty and Barber Supply Company.

$2,000,000 Damage Alleged.

"Our evidence," Merrick said, "will disclose that this gang has been setting fires all over the Midwest, and in the past ten years has set fires from New York to St. Louis that caused $2,000,000 worth of damage.

"We charge that Turk hired a professional arson gang to set fire to his shop, so that he could collect the insurance on it," said the Safety Director, describing Hirsch as a "professional firebug."

Pittsburg police were asked to arrest Childs and Nieman, and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania was requested to see that Kamins is not released without notifying Cleveland police.

A search for Hirsch has been under way for several weeks, Merrick said. Detectives who went to Turk's home were told by his wife that he had left the city.

Merrick said a painter whose name he would not reveal told him of seeing a carton believed to have contained gasoline and chemicals carried into the barber supply shop.

Removal is Alleged.

"The shop was stripped of almost all its valuable merchandise, and the goods were sent by truck to Pennsylvania after a large inventory of the contents had been taken," Merrick continued. He said Hirsch figured in the investigation because of a note for $375 he gave to Turk.

Investigators agreed that the explosion, followed by flames which shot through the Ellington Building last June 9, apparently centred in the barber supply shop. The flames raced through hallways and shafts to the roof of the building. Scores of the 200 residents were injured in escaping, and thirteen men and women were trapped in the blazing structure, and their bodies later found in the smoking wreckage.

MARKSTAY, Ont., January 20 (C.P.). — Somebody shot a wolf, and because he didn't know, left $25 lying right on the road. Shot three times through the breast. Lupus was found dead on the highway by John Green. Mr Green promptly applied for the $25 bounty, and as nothing is known of the person who shot the wolf, he may collect.

GEORGE MOORE, NOVELIST DIES

Irish Writer Best Known For His Work "Confessions of Young Man."

IN HIS 81ST YEAR.

LONDON, January 21 (C.P.). — George Moore, the famous Irish novelist, died at six a.m. to-day. He would have been 81 years old next month.

Moore died in his widely-known home in Ebury Street. He was seriously ill only a few days, but his health had been failing, due to old age, for some time.

Despite his advanced years and impaired health, Moore was active in the literary field close to the end. He left an uncompleted task in which he was greatly engrossed—the editing and supervising of a complete edition of his works.

He also left an unfinished "modern" novel a little more than half of which he had written.

George Moore is best known for his philosophical novel, "Confessions of a Young Man."

Born in Ireland

He was born at Moore Hall, in County Mayor, Ireland, Feb. 24, 1852. His father was a member of parliament.

In 1870, after the death of his father, George Moore entered the art schools at Paris. He studied painting, which experience left its impress upon his writings. He also penned poetry. "Pagan Poems," appearing in 1883, was probably his first work drawing wide attention.

His avowed purpose when he returned to England was to free that country from the "Victorian shackles." "A Mummer's Wife" was his first challenge to the contemporary novel.

His "Confessions of a Young Man" a product of his Paris experience, was published in 1888. Other works followed, giving Great Britain a new style of prose, notably "Hail and Farewell" and "Conversations in Ebury Street." During the Boer War he produced "Memoirs of My Dead Life", "The Untilled Field" an "The Lake."

Chaperons

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (C.P.)—Miss Marie Berger, junior at the University of Chicago, doesn't think much of chaperons, and she went back a long way to support her argument.

"Just look," said she, "at the Garden of Eden. Adam and Eve got along until the snake came along as a chaperon."

She had the affirmative side in a debate on the proposition that "The only good chaperon is a dead chaperon."

ROBERT INNES IS PRESIDENT OF SEYMOUR AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

DEFICIT REDUCED.

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 21 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Despite the financial stress of 1933 the Seymour Agricultural Society was able to reduce its current indebtedness from $334.58 to $96.40, and this despite the fact that Fair Day was not the anticipated success owing to bad weather conditions. This was the report given by the financial committee, of which Dr. S. L. O'Hara is the chairman, at the annual meeting of the society held yesterday at Campbellford and presided over by the 1932 president, W. J. Abernethy.

The meeting was featured by the election of officers for the current year, which resulted as follows: President, Robert Innes; first vice-president, W. S. Milne; second vice-president, W. J. Ross; secretary-treasurer, G. A. Kingston.

Lady Directors.—Mrs. Charles Macoum, Mrs. T. L. Diamond, Mrs. John Locke, Mrs. George VanVolkenburg, Mrs. W. J. Abernethy, Mrs. Robert Lee, Mrs. R. Innes, Mrs. A. E. McCook, Mrs. Robert McCollough, Mrs. John Simpson, Mrs. J. C. Anderson, Mrs. Dr. S. L. O'Hara, Mrs. E. C. Roberts.

Honorary Directors.—Fred Dinwoodie, Thomas Varcoe, William Fraser, M.P.; Robert Little, F. J. McArthur, M.P.P.; F. C. Hendy, Thomas H. Rowe.

Auditors—Wesley Stephens, Marshall West.

Chairmen of Committees.—Finance: Dr. S. L. O'Hara, Sports: T. J. Horkins. Grounds: J. Watters. Property: John Locke. Police: Neil Thompson. Publicity: G. A. Kingston.

Reports from the 1932 committees were given which all showed a good years' work accomplished and splendid co-operation between the officers and board.

In the report of the Finance committee it showed that grants to the society totalled $1,265.18 of which $464 was the Legislative grant. Total prize money paid out amounted to $1,678.60.

Mr. Stephens brought up the matter of building a new display building for the ladies, putting forward the idea that the society should grant the sum of $200 for this purpose. This matter was discussed and decided against; the matter being left with the new board of directors to handle as they see fit.

It was decided to appoint departmental judges for 1933, and to authorize the new president to attend the Fairs' Association meeting held in Toronto.

Before the meeting adjourned the retiring president expressed his pleasure at the splendid co-operation that had been shown him during the past year, and the incoming president asked the same support and co-operation for the year 1933.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Saves $2. No Cooking! So Easy!

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare, and costs very little, but it positively has no equal for quick, lasting relief.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 oz. bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's so easy! Thus you make 16 ounces of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and children love its taste.

This simple mixture soothes and heals the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, the most reliable healing agent for severe coughs. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Increased Japanese Army in Manchukuo Serious Threat To Whole Civilized World

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

THE insolence, and mendacity, and defiance of Japan is nothing less than a threat to the Occidental nations of the world. Japan is determined that Japan shall control the future of Asia. Japan has resolved on a Munroe doctrine for the Orient. She is a party to peace treaties safeguarding the sovereign rights of all Asiatic nations. Every one of these treaties she has violated. The League of Nations and the Simon Commission have thus far failed to move her. The setting up of the Republic of Manchukuo is an example of her duplicity. As this letter is being written a greatly increased army is on the way to Manchukuo to deliver a crushing and final blow to insurgent Chinese forces. The Manchukuo Republic is a farce. Japan is making sure the republic shall last until Europe ceases to protest, and the time has come for her to absorb Manchukuo as she did Korea. In plain words, this is her policy. What will Europe and America do about it? Nobody knows. What will be the effective result of the Simon Commission, and the effort of the League of Nations to settle this controversy between China and Japan? Nobody can even guess.

In the world there are two storm centres. The Polish corridor is one. Manchuria is the other. Of the two Manchuria is the more serious. The settlement of the Manchurian problem threatens to involve the whole world.

Besides being a great storm centre, Manchuria is the distress centre of the world. Economic conditions are extremely pathetic. Harbin, the most important city in Manchuria, has been flooded with water. The leading business streets have been covered with four and five feet of murky, dirty, stinking water. Harbin has an upper and lower city. The flood has dropped two or three feet in the streets of the upper city. In the streets of the lower part of the city, mud, stench and cholera remain. Hundreds of Chinese and Russians were drowned. The disaster is widespread. Along the Chinese Eastern Railway at least 10,000 have perished, either by drowning or by cholera. In the vicinity of Harbin soy beans are extensively cultivated. This bean is a chief food. The floods have utterly destroyed this means of livelihood. Famine is on the way to this whole district. The Japanese army and officials are in control of this portion of Manchuria. In the night the Japanese have sprayed with kerosene whole blocks where disease had broken out, and have burned both Chinese men, and women, and children, and all the buildings. To mention such atrocity without comment is enough.

This gruesome scene is not without a gleam of brightness. The Y.M.C.A. has penetrated this far away lonely land. When the floods were at their worst and cholera was stalking the streets, the "Y" launch was busy distributing food down by the river where the conditions were the very worst and danger the greatest. These heroic workers found one spot of ground, like a little island crowded with hundreds of men, and women, and children; and, in shacks, with chickens, ducks, pigs, and cows and dogs. This little escape spot was only some three hundred feet in length and twenty-five in width. Crowded they were, nor did they know how long their stay might be as the waters rose and fell. For hundreds of miles the same jeopardy and uncertainty is present. Add to this misery, the winter is fast approaching.

What about the Japanese invasion of Manchuria, and the creation of the Manchukuo Republic? Will this act, of Japan bring a stable and good government, so much needed? Some things Japan can do well. One thing she has not done for herself nor for anybody else. She does not hold the secret of composing antagonisms. Instead, Japan is a disruptive force. She has filled Manchuria with sufficient opposition to create a situation Japanese officials cannot placate. One mastery alone remains for her. It is the mastery of the sword. By the creation of the Manchukuo Republic Japan has completely disorganized Manchuria.

Japan fought her way to Harbin to protect the eastern and western lines of the Chinese Eastern Railway. Since the arrival of her troops and officials, the Eastern Railway has not run at all. The problem of the future for Japan and Manchukuo will in all probability be determined by the ability of the Chinese to render financial aid, to keep soldiers of sufficient numbers in Manchuria to worry the Japs, and to hold them away from complete conquest.

Europe and America have just two methods of influencing the present situation. One is boycott. The other is war. A Chinese boycott failed. An American and European boycott would seriously hamper Japan. Would it compel her to come to terms? Japan is in the midst of a financial crisis. Bankruptcy is looking her full in the face. Japan cannot finance a lengthened war. Manchukuo looks like a Japanese failure.

WEEKLY BIBLE LESSON

JESUS FORGIVING SIN.
MARK 2:1-12.

LAST week we had Jesus healing the sick and casting out evil spirits.

This week He heals the palsied man, but first forgives his sins.

This is a most important act in the work of Jesus. One for which He is attacked by the Pharisees. With them God was the only forgiver of sin. If Jesus had been just an ordinary man the act would have been blasphemy and meant nothing; but with Jesus being the Son of God it meant everything. Not a far away God; but He who had lived among men and knew their temptations and sins had power to forgive them and lift the burdens from their souls.

When we are facing the guilt of the sins of our flesh, of our minds and of our spirits we should remember that Jesus of the Cross is a great forgiver and a great Saviour.

In the lesson for to-day Jesus was in a house in Capernaum and the people had crowded in to hear what He had to say. They had taken possession of the place. There were many that could not get near Him. Those who had the front places kept them, pushing the others back.

When four men arrived carrying a sick man the crowds were too selfish to let them through. How disappointed the sick man must have been when he was kept back from Jesus! How bitter he must have felt towards those who shoved him out! How he must have said to his friends: "It is no use, take me back home."

But those four friends were not easily beaten. They had great faith in Jesus and they were determined to bring their friend into His presence. So they carried him up the outside stairway to the top of the house and lifting the tiles let him down into the room where Jesus was.

Their act proclaimed their faith in Jesus and the need of their friend. Jesus understood it all. He saw the man's need and said, "Son, thy sins are forgiven." The scribes could not see that the man's sins were forgiven, so Jesus did something which they could see. He healed the man and sent him away carrying his bed.

Let us be sure of the things taught us in this lesson. First, it is great help to have friends who will bring us to Jesus. Second, by bringing some boys or girls to Sunday school we may bring them to Jesus. Third, Jesus wants to forgive all our sins.

A Chat with Young Peterboro

ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR JANUARY 29.

LISTEN to this!" says Harry the other day. "It says here that once every seven days all the mules that work in the coal mines in Pennsylvania are brought up to the top and spend a day in the open air. This is to prevent them from going blind. Ain't that queer!" "Not a bit," says I, "mules are worth money. But some folks seem to think that mules are more valuable than human souls. God gave us the Sabbath for the same reason, so we could keep from getting soul-blind. The Sabbath was made for our good, though some seem to think of it either as a punishment to be got over with as soon as possible, or else to be put to any sort of evil use. The old Babylonians used to have a seventh day rest because they found God had put it into their make-up. They called it 'the day of rest for the heart.' No! God didn't make us on the eight-day clock principle. Six days of labor for the body and one day of rest for the soul.

"The best sermon I ever heard of that was preached on Sabbath-keeping was a mile long. Pretty long, you say? Just wait! When Sir Hudson Taylor, the missionary in China, was a very old man, he wanted to preach a last sermon in a village a mile from where he lived. It was Sunday and he wouldn't hire porters to carry him and make them break the Sabbath even for preaching. So his son, carrying a stool, went along with him. Every little while, the old man would sit down and rest and then start again. Well, the trip made so much comment as the people asked why the old gentlemen didn't hire porters and got the reason why not, that they called it the 'Mile Long Sermon' on the Sabbath, the best that China ever got. A good way, too, of preaching, I call it."—Young Canada.

Cathedral Musings

IT is not a very easy thing to become a Christian; it is the most difficult thing in the world. To become a real Christian, one must break the power of the selfish will, and this no man can do by his own human power. He must render his self-will like dead. He will then live in God, and be submerged in the love of God; while he still continues to live in the external world.

Jesus Forgives Sin

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL.

IF "A friend in need is a friend indeed," the paralytic of our lesson had four friends who were friends indeed. The measure of their friendship was not the difficulties in the way, but the extent of their friend's need and his own helpfulness to meet that need.

Jesus had no difficulty in drawing a crowd. His difficulty was rather in avoiding the crowds that better teaching might be done. But even when he withdrew from the cities and "was without in desert places: they came to Him from every quarter. And when He entered again into Capernaum after some days it was noised that he was at home. And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no, not even about the door; and He spake the word unto them."

The teaching of the Word of God was the magnet that drew the crowds to our Saviour. Repeatedly "they pressed upon Him to hear the Word of God."

Of course, there was much of idle curiosity, and Jesus never encouraged this. But there was also much genuine heart hunger and Jesus never disappointed this. He fed the people upon the things of God for which their souls hungered and "the common people heard Him gladly."

"Where there is a will there is a way," even when it is the will to help someone else rather than ourselves. The four friends who brought the paralytic to Jesus were undaunted when they could not gain admittance to the house of Simon where Jesus was teaching the crowd that packed the house to the doors and overflowed into the yard. They climbed the steps to the flat roof and removed the matting or other light roofing material and lowered their helpless friend, mat and all, into the presence of Jesus where room was quickly made for those whose earnestness and determination challenged the attention of all. Far from disrupting or even interrupting the sermon, the interruption became the sermon's clearest illustration.

"Jesus seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer, thy sins are forgiven."

A Strange Diagnosis.

That was a surprising diagnosis of this man's need! Who said anything about sins or forgiveness? Is that why these men have gone to all their trouble in tearing up the roof and lowering their friend? Why not say, "Son, be of good cheer, thy paralysis is cured?" Because the Good Physician aimed not at accidental symptoms, but at fundamental causes.

Man's deepest seated need is spiritual rather than physical. Sin is more depressing than sickness and more deadly. Christ's authority to minister in this realm of divine prerogatives was questioned by those who took Him for a man only instead of the God-man, and they charged him with blasphemy. But he vindicated His authority to "restore My soul" by exercising demonstrable power to heal the body, giving as His reason, "That ye may know that the Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins."

It was an amazing claim, amazingly demonstrated as the man took up his bed and walked forth before them all. Christ Jesus is a Saviour who "cleanseth us from all sin."

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY EXAMINER

Jesus Forgives Sin — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Mark 2:1-12

Jesus had no difficulty in drawing a crowd. As soon as the people learned that he had returned to Capernaum they packed to the doors the house where he was staying because they knew he would teach them the Word of God.

Four men came bearing on a mat a friend who was paralyzed, whom they wished to have Jesus heal. Finding the house crowded they climbed to the roof and removed enough of it to make an opening through which they lowered the man.

The interruption became a fine illustration for Jesus' sermon. For when he saw their faith he said, "Son, be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven." Some present thought Jesus guilty of blasphemy for thus claiming authority to forgive sin.

Jesus proved his authority by saying, "That ye may know that the Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins, I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thy house." And the man arose, rolled up his mat and carried it away.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

According to a judgment given by Magistrate W. A. Smith, of Windsor, in dismissing a charge against a Border Cities man for not paying his radio license fee, the law regarding radio operation and licenses stands very much in need of amendment.

Under the wording of the act, the magistrate finds, every person who turns the dial and tunes in a radio set must have a licence or be subject to a penalty.

Obviously, as the Windsor ruling points out, it was never the intention of those who framed the act that everybody in a house in which a radio was installed should have to possess a license to operate the set.

The legislation was designed to make it necessary for a license fee to be paid for every radio set, but as it is now framed calls for every person in a home in which a radio is installed to have a license, which is an absurdity that was surely never contemplated when the act was drawn up five or six years ago.

There is another weakness in the present act, inasmuch as, according to the Windsor magistrate, there is no presumption that the person in the possession of a radio has installed it or has been operating it; therefore, direct evidence to that effect would be necessary to secure a conviction.

Parliament will undoubtedly be given a chance during the coming session to approve of an improved radio license act which, in view of this important decision, would seem to be needed badly.

HIS FIFTEENTH TERM.

Depressions may come and depressions, we hope, may go, but Mayor Denne and the presidency of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition seem to be associated together for ever.

At the annual meeting of the board yesterday His Worship was elected president for the fifteenth year in succession, a record of continuous service not approached probably in any similar organization in the country.

The Industrial Exhibition, it need scarcely be said, is the apple of Mayor Denne's eye, and he is just as enthusiastic about it and just as certain that it is doing a great work on behalf of agriculture and in the development of this city as he was when he first took office fifteen years ago.

It is that enthusiasm, along with his willingness to work hard and long and his ability to get others to do the same thing, that explains the unanimity with which each annual meeting sees the mayor returned to the head of the board.

His associates know that he has never grown stale, never become wearied, and that his leadership is as active and virile as ever, and they are not anxious to lose the driving power that has been behind the local Exhibition's climb into the front rank of such exhibitions in this country.

To keep the annual fair up to its customary standard of excellence under present conditions is not an easy task, but with Mayor Denne at the helm it will be tackled and accomplished.

CHASING THE GLOOM.

Efforts being made in various quarters to bring a little sunshine into the economic situation and cause people to look on the brighter side of things are distinctly commendable.

In this connection, a well-known Canadian business firm deserves credit for its contribution to gloom-chasing.

This firm recently announced the demise of "D. E. Pression," and followed that cheerful obituary with some wholesome philosophy that is well worth passing on to readers of this column.

The article reads:

"The biggest liability in to-day's business reconstruction is the pessimist. He suffers from a pitiful mental disease that leaves him licked before he starts. When thunder clouds gloom his commercial sky he becomes a coward—a would-be poisoner of brave men's minds.

"To his suspicious mind, a concern's temporary reduction or loss of profits is 'insolvency,' a bank's restriction of loans betokens 'financial catastrophe,' and industry's pause to re-gather momentum spells a 'cataclysm.'

"The pessimist is the worm that spoils the apple. He hinders our progress toward the business confidence that will restore sanity and prosperity throughout the world. Step on the worm.

"Ignore him! Don't argue with him; the times are too ripe with opportunities in the new era of better business now dawning.

"The courageous men of the hour need their optimism. It is justified, by every discoverable economic fact. So, in heaven's name let us be optimistic in 1933."

A SCHOOL OF POLITICS.

The intimation that during the coming summer a school of politics is likely to be established in Eastern Ontario by the Liberal party will undoubtedly cause a great deal of interest.

Such an institution where leading Liberal politicians could meet with representative economists, business men, college professors, etc., and discuss with them the problems of the day might well be made to serve a most useful purpose.

There is some reason to feel that professional politicians do not sufficiently seek or follow the opinion of leaders in other walks of life, and as a result of this failure to obtain an accurate gauge of public opinion, they often drift into the adoption of policies that do not stand up to critical inspection.

It can readily be seen that a free and frank interchange of ideas as is proposed in the case of this contemplated school of politics would equip the politicians with an all-round fund of knowledge, and with an appreciation of other people's viewpoints that should prove of great assistance to them in their chosen vocation.

Of course, there is always the danger that in the close examination and analysis that would necessarily be entailed in conferences of this nature political leaders might lose some of their prestige and fail to measure up to the previous conceptions of them held by the men with whom they propose to confer.

That is a chance that must be taken in the interest of the party generally, and the risk is not likely to be allowed to interfere with plans now being made for the establishment of this unique school.

A BRITISH PLAN.

A campaign to establish "occupational centres" for the unemployed, apparently similar in plan to the hundreds of barter associations, is making surprising headway in Great Britain this winter, reports the London correspondent of the New York Sunday Times.

Briefly, the plan involves the opening in every hard-hit industrial city of buildings where the unemployed can work at their regular trade. It may be rough carpentry, shoemaking, tailoring or decorating, but the object in each case is the same—to keep workless men and women busy. The plan also helps the families of the unemployed who need new clothes, shoes or furniture in their homes.

"It gives the unemployed a change from years of inactivity," said the Prince of Wales after inspecting one of these centres in a drab Lancashire town. "It gives them something to do, something to occupy their hands and something to keep themselves fit in these terrible years of depression."

Hundreds of these work centres are in existence already—no one knows exactly how many. Dozens of others are being started, with little groups of three or four unemployed men as the nucleus. A call for more will be sounded throughout the year with the active assistance of the Prince of Wales, Premier MacDonald, the Archbishop of Canterbury and other leaders of the nation in all walks of life.

Unlike previous attacks on the unemployment problem in Britain the new movement does not depend on the Government for new financing, but is being started by private individuals and pushed by the unemployed themselves. It bears some resemblance to the system of self-help which the unemployed of Seattle began two years ago, but, unlike the Seattle plan, it has the Government's blessing and is spreading with active co-operation from the managers of the Government's unemployment exchanges. In addition, it has the indirect benefit of the 130,000,000 pounds the British Government is spending each year in doles to keep the unemployed from starving.

A practical advantage of the work centres is that they need comparatively little money. A million pounds, in fact, would be more than enough to honeycomb industrial Britain with them. Private citizens or municipalities supply unused factory sheds or vacant shops and later gifts of tools, lumber and other materials of which there is a surplus. Almost the only direct expense is for heat, light and management, but in some instances the unemployed help pay for these by a few pennies from their weekly dole. In districts like Lancashire, where there are many types of industries, the new work centres already are functioning easily by themselves; but in the blackest areas of unemployment, like the coal-mining valley of South Wales, outside help will be needed to teach the unemployed miners new trades.

The greatest obstacle to the scheme is expected to be the jealousy of the trade unions and hostility of the Communists, who may regard the scheme as a mere charity intended to lull the employed into contentment.—St. Catharines Standard.

A TOO LIGHT SENTENCE.

The sentence of from six to twelve months in the Ontario Reformatory passed at Hamilton upon Harry Evans, of Toronto, for contributing to the delinquency of his twelve years old daughter by teaching her to steal, is altogether too light. Whether it is the law or the magistrate that is to blame we do not know.

But we do know that this man schooled his child in the art of stealing, just as calmly as he might have taught her any useful accomplishment, and that when she had graduated to actual practice he found the result so lucrative that he gave up his work and sent his wife and daughter on a tour of Ontario cities, so that when one place began to be too warm for them they moved on to another.

At eleven or twelve years of age the child was not competent to realize the seriousness of her conduct. But the father was. Her mother seems to have been a little deficient, so perhaps she was not capable either. The seriousness of the crime was not in the immediate thieving, but in the debauching of this girl in the formative years which may possibly have a permanent effect upon her life. She may already be ruined. It is to be hoped, however, that she can be taken in hand and the mischief undone.

The deliberate destruction of a young person's code of honesty is as serious as a crime against the body, and the inhuman action of this father deserved the lash if ever a crime did.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Saskatchewan Liberals have declared in favor of currency inflation, despite the fact that Dominion leaders are known to be opposed to the plan. It is one of the developments occasioned by the unusual conditions of to-day.

The first test of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation as a political force has resulted in a defeat in Calgary where the anti-radical candidate has been successful in a by-election.

New Zealand has decided on another dose of inflation. The thing is like the drug habit, you've got to keep on increasing the amount taken.

Among the legislation the next session of Parliament will have to attend to will be considerable patching up of the radio license law which has just been torn to pieces by the Windsor magistrate.

The population of Sturgeon Falls was increased by 700 when the relief scheme started. Everybody in the district apparently heard the glad tidings that Santa Claus had established permanent headquarters in the town.

Those so-called representatives of the unemployed who waited upon the Prime Minister of Ottawa, says the Brockville Recorder and Times, must have known beforehand that the extravagance of some of their demands would bring about their rejection.

The village Agricultural Society held its annual meeting here Fri. and according to all reports this year's fair is going to be bigger, greater and grander than ever. Aint never heard of the depression, has them fair board fellers.

Walt Stocker has been elected chairman of the village Health Board and is going to take stock at the Isolation Hospital. It oughta be easy to spot a case of measles anyway, we suggest helpfully.

Thurs. a.m. was 1 of the slipperiest days on record in these parts and some villagers is still taking their meals standing up, we regret to report.

The Watercraft Minstrels put on a entertainment here this week and in spite of the name the show wasn't "all wet."

The sergeants mess of Col. Winterbottom's foot soldiers threw a party the other nite and all who was there hope the militia won't never be disbanded.

As announced exclusively in this here colyum last week, Aggie MacPhail, the lady politician, is going to give a talk in these parts in the near future and it's a safe bet Aggie will draw quite a house.

H. Cantonwine of Seattle, west of here, got hit on the head with a pop bottle in a rassling bout at Toronto, to the west of us, Thurs. nite. It's lucky the said bottle didn't hit him on the chest or it woulda bounced off and killed somebody, we surmise.

Villagers what is lucky enough to still have their shirt left is asked not to forget the relief fund campaign. Your bit will help somebody that badly needs it.

Robert Laird Borden

The Right Hon. Sir Robert Laird Borden, P.C.—Statesman, diplomat, financier, former prime minister, Barclays Bank (Canada).

This is the signature of a man of activity, energy, clarity of mind, executive ability, sensibility and altruistic ideals. By a combination of certain characteristics (notably imagination, idealism and zeal) the writer is capable of moods of such exaltation as jeopardize the structures his reasoning and diplomacy have so carefully built up. By temperament he is deeply religious and by nature generous; in moments of lesser rational governance he is susceptible to the emotional appeal. A capacity for anger of the biblical flaming and consuming variety is well held in check. The quality of control is, in fact, apparent throughout this personality. The writer is not immediately free with himself to all comers but is most accessible nevertheless. There is dignity, simplicity and distinction of taste. Although flagging zest begins to manifest itself in this famous signature there is no suggestion of deterioration.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

WE MAKE A TRAIL

EVERYWHERE we find trails. You go into the wilderness, into forests where the children of the wild are undisturbed by man, and you find many trails. Narrow ones beneath the undergrowth, wider ones along a slope, down a hill that leads to water .... You walk through a field and you find tiny roads that the little animals make, you find broader trails made by cattle, wide enough for even a man to follow with ease....Always there are trails.

Once, I remember, I was looking up toward a hill where cows were grazing. It was a peaceful pastoral scene, soundless except for the casual tinkle of a bell on a leader.

As I looked, a man came out from a barn and blew a horn, and suddenly every cow in the little herd lifted her head and raced home for dinner.

Then I became aware of trails.

The leader struck a trail, all the others followed. Clumsy. Lurching. With their full udders swinging beneath them....All of them followed? All except one, and she cut straight down the hill across the trails, started late and arrived early, first to be milked, first to be fed.

She was a genius in the herd, perhaps, who had no need of beaten trails, but struck straight toward her goal, surely but dangerously.

All the others needed and used the rails worn by the cloven hoofs of their mothers and grandmothers and great-great-grandmothers.

Thus we all follow trails....And thus, also, we make them. We are followers, we are makers of trails.

In all that we do we trace trails through life. By our deeds, by the words we speak, by every manifestation of ourselves. The brave man makes a wide trail, and men who come behind him say, "He went this way. We, not so bold, can follow him." The coward makes a trail and others say, "Other men have been afraid. Our own fears are not so shameful." The worker makes a trail, so does the loafer. The man of deeds makes a trail; so, too, does the dreamer, even the hypocrite marks his path on life. Pretending virtues that are not his, he goes his way and men may follow until his meanness is revealed; then goodness is besmirched and those who have followed the false trail turn cynical and challenge all goodness forever.

Through the tangle of living we make our little trails and all who follow may see where we have climbed a steep height, taken the shorter, harder way, avoided this small difficulty, boldly faced this tough endeavor, been brave, been craven, and come at last to the end of our trail.

Look back occasionally over the trail your feet have beaten through the years.

MURDER IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

CHAPTER 22

On Sunday, during the warm months of the year, Hollywood treks to its own favorite beach at Malibu for a modern version of a Roman holiday. At almost every cottage—and some of the cottages would compare favorably with many of the palaces of ancient Rome—along the fashionable watering places above Santa Monica there is a party.

Some of them are quiet affairs, on the surface, at which the chief amusement, besides bathing and beach sports, is tearing to shreds the reputations of those who have curried the disfavor of the motion picture colony.

The home of Pete Russell, who, perhaps, it should be explained, was a famous cowboy actor who had amassed a fortune through the medium of the "horse opera," sheltered one such soiree. Pete, despite his affection for the despised western melodrama, ranked high in Hollywood society, chiefly because of his charming wife and his aptitude for entertaining.

It was late afternoon when Nanette LeRoi arrived at Pete Russell's. Dorotha Deane brought the big car to a stop before the handsome cottage just as Russell came running out the door with a vociferous welcome.

Nanette said, "Dorotha, it's unfair to make you sit around and hold your hands when you could be enjoying yourself somewhere else. If you wish you can return for me tonight."

Dorotha brightened. This was a magnanimous for the imperial LeRoi—in public. She uttered her thanks, but inwardly she was smiling, and drove away.

If Nanette could have been an unseen witness to Dorotha's actions during the next few minutes she might have been considerably agitated. But inasmuch as she was not, and because she received such a warm welcome when she entered the cottage, she did not give her secretary another thought.

There were solicitous inquiries concerning her condition, bitter denunciations of her assailant, quiet words of consolation over the death of Richard Bailey. To all these she maintained an almost imperial attitude. She preferred not to talk about it, she said.

"That was yesterday," she philosophized. "This is today and another day. Why live in the past when we have the future ahead of us?"

Curious glances were directed toward her, but the celebrants accepted her attitude and let it go at that.

It was with difficulty, she confessed to herself and once privately to Pete Russell, that she maintained the regal bearing which was required by the legend which had been built up around her.

"If I could just be myself," she muttered disgu tedly, "I could be happy."

"Why don't you?" the cowboy actor insisted.

"And have this bunch of wolves tearing me to pieces? Not Nanette LeRoi!"

Which was that.

Later they went swimming. Nanette borrowed a bath suit from the large stock which Pete Russell always kept on hand for his guests. Once in the water, she pulled away from the others and swam far out into the bay. The water was a bit rough and they watched her anxiously, ready to go to her assistance if strength should fail her. They remembered the wound in the shoulder.

But she returned safely. She walked out of the water and up onto the beach and threw herself down in th sand. She seemed to have scarcely exerted herself.

Russell, staring at her from a short distance away, remarked to the man tanding beside him:

"She's got the strength of an ox," devoutly. "What a woman!"

"I didn't know they grew them like that in France," the other man muttered. "I'll know enough not to go to that country looking for a wife."

Presently, luncheon was announced. Clad in their bathing suits, Pete Russell's guests crowded into the house and ate heartily. Pete said to Nanette:

"I don't see how you made that swim."

"Why not?" she asked quietly, qut a flush betrayed her eagerness. Like all people of the theater, she was susceptible to flattery.

"That wound in your shoulder—where you were shot—"

"It is nothing," she said. "Only a scratch." And to prove it, as the others looked on in amazement, she ripped the bandage from her shoulder to reveal only a small red smear.

Truly, it was only a scratch; the bullet had barely grazed h r, causing only a very slight flesh wound, hardly enough to cause any pain at all.

The cowboy grinned. "I reckon somebody was sure a pretty bad shot."

"Much to my satisfaction," she affirmed.

When lunch was finished someone turned on a radio. The music was fast, zippy. A couple whirled into a dance. Soon, they were all dancing, their feet moving clumsily in rubber bath shoes or, as in the case of the men, without any shoes.

The room grew warm and almost oppressive. Nanette went to a window and gazed out. Pete joined her.

"It's so warm," she murmured.

"Maybe we all ought to go for another swim," he suggested.

"No." She turned suddenly. "A drive, perhaps, that would be refreshing."

"That's a good idea," enthusiastically.

"May I borrow your car?" she asked coolly without waiting for him to say more. "I have much to think of. I should like to go alone."

"Why—er—yes," he stammered in dismay. "If you want to."

He led her outside, showed her how to manipulate the various levers and gears on his especially constructed model—a heavy, open car—and then watched her enviously as she drove away. He stared after the receding car as it sped down the beach road toward Santa Monica and wished he was at the wheel and this gorgeous woman was at his side.

At last, abandoning a vain hope that she would come back and ask him to accompany her, he went back in the house. A chorus of jeers greeted him.

"So your queen walked out on you," a girl cried.

"She'll be back," he replied defensively.

"Oh, Pete," a little fluffy blonde purred cat-like, "it's so hot. When she gets back can I borrow your car for a ride?"

"Well," heatedly, "it is hot, ain't it?"

"Oh, forget it," a gruff voice demanded. "Let's dance."

And dance they did. This was at the beach; her majesty, Queen Nanette, was gone. They feared no imperial frowns now if they grew noisy. There was one thing to do—make the best of a brief respite from the restraint in which they had conducted themselves out of respect to the haughty LeRoi.

When Nanette drove away in Pete Russell's car another car had pulled away from an adjoining cottage. In it was a man and a woman, but Pete paid no attention to them. There was a party at that cottage and it was probably two of the guests leaving to attend some other affair, as is the Hollywood custom.

The car followed closely behind Nanette. A man was at the wheel, a woman sat beside him. It was still light and their features could be easily distinguished. The man, plainly, had lived a life of dissipation. His hair, just turning gray, and thin and straggly and easily ruffled by the breeze. His eyes were bead-like and suspicious. A sallow complexion emphasized his sagging jowls and curling lips.

The woman was in the prime of life, though she was still young enough to attract attention, even in a crowd where there were other beautiful women. Her hair was the color of burnt copper. Her eyes were dark and thoughtful. She had finely moulded features which accentuated her well-cared-for skin. But her brow was deeply furrowed and little lines were at the corners of her mouth.

"If we can just get rid of her!" the woman hissed. "It's a shame that bullet missed last night."

At Santa Monica Nanette turned up the canyon road toward Hollywood. As she whirled off the beach road she glanced back at the other car. She gasped. Even in the gathering dusk she recognized them. Lucy Wilbur and Larry Weldon!

She knew they were following her. She put on a burst of speed. Weldon did likewise. The road stretched out before her as she climbed the steep bluff onto the canyon drive. Her foot pressed down on the accelerator and slowly she drew away from the other machine.

"They'll never catch me," she almost snarled.

FALLEN LEAF PRODUCED ANTHEM

On this date, in 1908, Canadians mourned the death the previous day of Alexander Muir, the author of "The Maple Leaf For Ever." Born as Leamshagow, Lanarkshire, April 5, 1830, he was brought to Canada by his father who settled at Scarboro, near York (as Toronto was then called). Alexander inherited his love of knowledge from his father and determined to devote his life to teaching, which he did after graduating at Queen's University in arts in 1851. He was at all times an intense loyalist, a staunch Protestant and a worshipper of Queen Victoria.

The maple leaf had been formally adopted as the emblem of Canada by a number of Toronto men when the Prince of Wales visited that city in 1860 and thereafter was worn on coat lapels on national holidays. One evening Muir was walking with a friend when a leaf fell from a maple. He picked it up, remarked upon its beauty, and returning home whote the poem. His wife pressed that he should set it to music and teach it to his pupils. He did so. Afterwards it was sung in public at Beaverton at a celebration of Queen Victoria's birthday and at once made a hit with the loyal folk of Ontario, whence it in time spread all over the Dominion. Muir himself financed the printing of the first 1,000 copies expending $10 but he only got back in return three dollars, and that was all he made out of the production of a national anthem! Alexander Muir died only comfortably off, but he left his family something better than riches, a reputation for integrity and patriotism, which he even instilled into the young. He wrote other patriotic songs but none of them attained the popularity of "the Maple Leaf For Ever."

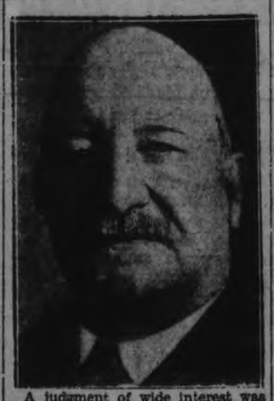
PASSES AT 104

BEAMSVILLE— Mrs. Mary Ann King, 104 years old, died here early today. She had resided all her life in this district and retained her faculties almost to the last. She was born in Clinton township in 1829.

Her son and a grandchild survive.

Says No To Informer



A judgment of wide interest was brought down by Mr. Justice W. H. Wright of the supreme court at Ottawa on Friday when he dismissed with costs the action brought by an informer to recover money won in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes. The case turned on the fact that the ticket was purchased in France and therefore is not governed by the Canadian criminal code.

WINNIPEG EXCHANGE.

WINNIPEG, January 21 (C.P.)—Importers took only a passing interest in the grain market here during the past week, and at the close of trading on Friday fractional losses were shown by wheat.

Export trade was of small volume. Vancouver continued to ship good quantities from day to day, but the total of new sales made was disappointing, especially at the Atlantic seaboard.

A little spurt in prices followed rumors Russia was dickering for Canadian wheat, but these were promptly denied. Strength developed also on reports of a very bullish nature from the winter wheat area of the United States.

Broomhall maintains, however, purchases from Canada will be sufficiently large between now and July to make Canada's share of the world trade about 318,000,000 bushels. A carry-over of about 115,000,000 bushels, or some20,000,000 bushels less than a year ago, is predicted for the end of the crop year, July 31.

Coarse grains showed gains and losses for the week. Oats prices were ⅝c higher to unchanged, barley ¼ cent lower to unchanged, flax ¼ to ⅜ cent higher, and rye ½ to ⅝ cent lower per bushel.

STRIKE IN LONDON.

LONDON.—Ten thousand bus drivers and conductors in the London area went on strike to-day, and half the bus service in the city was tied up.

This was an unofficial strike by employees of the London General Omnibus Company, resulting from the refusal of the men at one garage to carry out a new order speeding up the service.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, Jan. 21. (CP)—The Toronto wholesale cheese market was steady to-day with dealers buying large, colored, parafined and government grades at 10c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New, large, 11½c; twins, 11¾c; triplets, 12c; old, large, 17¾c; twins; 18c; triplets 18¼c; medium, large, 11¼c; twins, 11½c; triplets, 11¾c.

RELIEF OVERDRAFT

LONDON, Ont.—An overdraft of more than $100,000 on 1933 relief expenditures is faced by the 1933 council and will have to be taken into the tax rate. Expenditures on food, shelter, clothing and fuel through the city relief department totalled $434,122 in 1932. The city receives back two-thirds of this amount, leaving $144,707 to be paid by the municipality.

"SWAP" IN SIGHT

WINDSOR.—Barter may enter an agreement between the East Windsor City Council and Sandwich East Township Council. The township has an automobile, not used since the Police Chief was discharged, while East Windsor has a fire department which might give protection in the township. Possibility of a trade is now being considered.

ACT OF GRACE

LONDON, Ont. — Although no negligence has been proven against her, Margaret Benson, Delhi, today asked the courts to approve an "act of grace" settlement of $650 on the family of the late Frank Chanda, Simcoe, killed by an automobile driven by the Delhi woman. Chanda was walking on the highway. No inquest was held.

MINISTER 100 YEARS OLD.

AUBURN, N.S. — Rev. William Ryan, who was ordained to the ministry of the Methodist church in 1862, is celebrating his 100th birthday at his home here to-day. Rev. Mr. Ryan, who entered the work of the Wesleyan church of British Amecrica in 1858, after he had studied at Mount Allison Academy, preached with vigor until he was 98 years old.

The sun is the nearest of the stars, and to the earth the most important.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET

(By Claude A. Jagger, A. P. Financial Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21. —(AP)—The stock market was more inclined to edge upward today, than otherwise, but on the whole was stagnant.

Trading was in extremely small volume, with a turnover for the two-hour session of about 350,000 shares, and fractional gains and losses were mixed through the list at the finish. The average net change was unimportant.

The weekly report of freight car loadings, showing a fair seasonal gain, was too closely in keeping with expectations to affect the market.

The market showed traces of firmness during the first half of the session. Some selling appeared in the leaders in the late trading, however, and the close was barely steady.

American Telephone weakened in the last hour, closing down a major fraction. Selling of Consolidated Gas again appeared in small volume, and that issue closed off a minor fraction. U. S. Steel was off a small fraction at the finish, as was Union Pacific.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (C.P.)—News of the War Debt Conference did not do much for the Toronto stock market, for it was just as draggy to-day as at any time in recent weeks. The oil shares were in fair demand, and some trades passed in Nickel, C.P.R. and Bell Telephone, but the general flow of business was very slow.

Announcement of the new bond issue gave support to Bell Telephone and it advanced to 98, up a point. Shawinigan was off a point to 12 and the other utilities were quiet.

In the oil group Imperial made a fractional gain to 8⅞, and British American was steady at 8, while International Pete picked up a little to 11¾ and McColl Frontenac was also a little stronger.

Action was very quiet in the miscellaneous shares. Gains of mere fractions appeared in Canada Cement, Hayes Wheels and Service Station and Toronto Elevators was off a half point.

Hamilton Bridge lost a quarter point and a fractional gain was recorded for Steel of Canada.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Jan. 21 (C.P.). — Montreal Stock Exchange listings moved higher during to-day's short session. With the exception of Montreal Power and Shawinigan Power, which forged up a point, the advances were confined to fractions. Sales volume was fairly heavy for a two-hour session.

Opening at 30¼, Montreal Power mounted steadily higher and closed at 31¼, where it was up a point. Shawinigan Power touched 12¾, a point higher than yesterday's closing quotation, but dropped back to 12½ just before the close, where it was up ¾.

National Breweries gained ½ at 16½, as did Dominion Bridge at 17¼ and McColl Frontenac at 8¾. Hollinger was up 30 cents at 6.40, while Montreal Power debentures were 3-8 higher at 42 3-8. Brazilian Traction at 9¼ and Bell Telephone at 97½ were both up 1-8.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO Jan. 21. — (C.P.) — Wright Hargreaves got up sufficient steam to-day to pass Teck Hughes, thereby settling an argument of long standing. There are said to have been many bets that Hargreaves would never get ahead of Teck. While Hargreaves was selling at 4.30 to-day and Teck at 4.25 someone got through an order for 100 Hargreaves at 4.25, but the price went back to 4.20.

The close at 4.25 was 9 points up. Teck Closed at 4.23 down 1.

General tone of the standard mining market was strong. Siscoe and Granada scored substantial gains under heavy trading and firmness ruled also for San Antonio, Sylvanite, Moss and Macassa, while Kirkland Lake gained a point or more.

Dome at 14.90 was up 15 and Hollinger gained 5 to 6.30, while Lake Shore and McIntyre held steady.

Noranda led the base metal stocks, advancing to 21.25, Nickel was up 5, and Sudbury Basin came to life with a jump of 10 to 70. Eldorado was quiet and unchanged at 1.50.

Reported Japanese efforts to induce former President Tuan Chi-jui to set up an opposition government in Peiping and split China in half were said to have failed. Tuan, long credited with close associations with the Japanese, was reported to have gone to Nanking to offer his services to the Chinese Nationalist government.

We have verified the cash and the securities representing the Bank's investments held at the Head Office at the close of the Bank's fiscal year, and during the year we counted the cash and examined the securities at certain of the important branches. Basic facts about the

Canada Life

ALL authorities agree that safety for a life assurance company lies in wide diversification of its assets.

Policyholders and beneficiaries of the Canada Life remain confident and secure, during periodic financial disturbances, in the knowledge that the Company's well diversified list of investments takes care of such situations.

Mr. Leighton McCarthy, President, speaking at the Annual Meeting said:

Life insurance is a co-operative association of individuals. The funds represent the contributions of individuals made in instalments over a series of years; these funds are managed in the common interest of the group of policyholders, and are distributed or redistributed in varying maturities to the individuals as the various contracts require.

Life insurance by its certainty of performance has so completely demonstrated its solidity and usefulness under the economic strain that it is hard to overvalue the service contributed during this period of depression, to its policyholders and to the national welfare. It has played a splendid part in relieving the monetary strain and in many cases averted financial disaster. During the last three years of depression, six and one-half billion dollars of life insurance funds have been made available for the current needs of distressed people in United States and Canada.

It has been possible to do this without interruption of the normal functions of the Companies, largely owing to the fact that they were better prepared to meet emergencies than other lines of business and because the demands they are likely to have made on them are spread over a period of years. Demand for liquidation of all or even a substantial part of their liabilities at one time, is not a normal possibility; neither are they subject to a sudden immediate interruption of their income. Their income from premiums and interest is a constant and continuing one. Income is in normal times, more than sufficient for all claims made on them; but even if, in times of crisis, extraordinary demands are made upon them, a proper diversification of their investments makes it possible for them to take care of these demands without difficulty.

Associated with this idea of diversity has been the traditional observance of the trust fund conception of our reserves, and habitual conservation in investment selection.

The Canada Life has taken care of all demands, from the ample resources at our disposal, and the Company has not sold a security to provide funds for our disbursements.

New paid for assurances amounting to over $80,000,000, put on our books in 1932, a period when financial conditions were badly disturbed, is a tribute to the well directed and persistent efforts of our associates in the field. The considerations for the sale of annuities increased by over $2,000,000 and amounted to over $7,780,000.

Our total net income in 1932 from all sources was over $50,000,000. The Company made payments during last year of over $29,000,000 under its policy contracts, in settlement of death claims, matured endowments, dividends, annuities and cash values for surrendered policies; or a total of $80,000 each day of the year. Of this amount, over $20,000,000 was paid to living policyholders.

During the last three years of depression we have paid out approximately $78,000,000 into the daily activities of the general public, in addition to the flow of our funds through investment channels.

Safety and Stability are, first and foremost, the keynotes of our traditional policy.

POLITICAL DRAMA IS FORESEEN IN ELECTION OF WARDEN FOR 1933

Holman.

Last year the late Nelson Stone (Lib.) of Campbellford was defeated by N. R. Hartt (Con.) of Murray township.

The very fact that Mr. Rickard and Mr. Grey have previously aspired to the wardenship may be regarded as an assurance that they will again seek the honor next week. Meanwhile, Percy Stinson (Cons.) of Millbrook, who was brought up in the municipal school of W. T. Wood, demonstrated his aptitude for counties council responsibility and in his three years at Cobourg became recognized as one of the keenest minds in the council.

Stinson-Rickard Rivalry

All the signs last year pointed early to a friendly rivalry between Mr. Stinson and Mr. Rickard, reeve of Newcastle, and if they were the only candidates their contest for the wardenship would be fought out on straight party lines. But, Fred Gray is a third aspirant, and in a three-cornered contest, the advantage would lean to Rickard the Liberal against the two Conservatives, Stinson and Gray.

Naturally, the Conservative forces would welcome the entry of George Annis (Lib.) into the arena to complicate the prospects of Frank Rickard, and according to rumors during the last six weeks that is a possible development, although from some sources it has been reported that Mr. Annis is not seeking a nomination which other members may propose to inject as an added note of interest into Tuesday night's election.

A Through Canvass

It has been learned of late that both Mr. Rickard and Mr. Stinson have canvassed those new members of the counties council whom they had reason to regard as favorable to them. And as the municipal elections came and passed some of the changes were scanned and weighed for their potential political effects on the 1933 wardenship.

For example when Dr. Hess was defeated by George B. Stevenson in Hastings village, everyone in touch with the situation realized that this was a Liberal gain in the counties council. And when a recount in Haldimand a few days ago reversed the annoucement of election night and declared James Smith reeve of Haldimand, that was apparently another Liberal gain. At least it probably assured to Mr. Rickard the support of Mr. Smith who voted for him two years ago.

The Cobourg Uncertainty

Other municipalities in the counties might be mentioned in regard to the political repercussions next Tuesday night, and especially Cobourg where the election of Reeve W. E. Cooper (Lib.) has been protested by ex-Reeve W. J. Corbett (Cons.) and is today to be reviewed by Judge O'Connor at Cobourg. If Reeve Cooper is sustained in his position, one result is expected to be two votes presumably for Mr. Rickard, and the loss of two for the Conservative who would have received the support of Mr. Corbett.

If the Cobourg electon is invalidated, Mr. Cooper will not be eligible for the chair occupied by the reeve of that town, and the Liberal nominee for the wardenship will be without the two votes which the reeve of Cobourg is entitled to in the election of warden because of the town's comparatively large assessment.

Party Groups Even

Generally speaking, it is understood that the political aspect of the counties council this year is about evenly "Grit" and "Tory". This approximation has been estimated by both camps, but the definite division will not be known until Tuesday night when the counties clerk calls for the balloting.

Another interesting aspect of the wardenship of the united counties is the experience in administering public affairs that has been recognized as a qualification for parliamentary honors.

Milton Elliott of Bowmanville, warden in 1927, was the Conservative candidate against W. J. Bragg in Durham county in the 1929 provincial campaign.

Fred W. Bowen, of Clarke township, warden in 1921, was subsequently elected member of Parliament for Durham, and is the riding's present representative.

Milton E. Maybee of Brighton township, warden in 1920, also moved on to Ottawa from the counties council until he was finally defeated by W. A. Fraser, the present M. P. for Northumberland.

These were three of the Conservative wardens of recent years.

Fred J Slade of Alnwick township, warden in 1918, a Liberal was the Progressive candidate in the federal election at which Mr. Maybee was first successful.

Possibly Mr. Gray, Mr. Stinson and Mr. Rickard may have political visions warranted by the success of some of the wardens of other years. Other possibilities might be mentioned, but they are based only on surmise, whereas the features of the contest for the wardenship of Northumberland and Durham this year are presented from fairly solid facts.

MAYOR DENNE HEADS BOARD FOR 15TH TERM

largely attended by the directors. President Denne said that last year's Exhibition had shown a profit of $264.42, and it was one of the few outstanding exhibitions that had come out on the proper side of the ledger sheet. "This success," he stated, "was due wholly to the work of the various committees in cutting down their overhead. We certainly must watch our expenditures again this year if we want to maintain the standard of our show and yet keep within our means.

"We must retain our faith in country, in our show and in each other, and continue on with determination," he declared. Every effort should be directed also at cutting down the board's overdraft at the bank, which represented improvements in the Exhibition's buildings in recent years, he said.

William Knox, the general manager, was unable to attend the meeting, and so no report was made by him. However, it was said that plans are already materializing for a splendid Exhibition for this fall.

It was voted that the spring stallion show be dispensed with. A motion was carried that departmental judges be used wherever possible and that general manager confer with the chairmen of committees on the appointment of the judges.

On motion of Tom McIndoo, delegate of the board last year to the convention of the Fairs' Association, it was decided that no delegates be sent to the convention this year, although the board will send its membership fee of two dollars. "They have nothing to teach us at this convention," stated Mr. McIndoo. "Its benefits and interests are mainly for small one and two-day shows."

Morris and Lawrie were appointed auditors for the year.

On motion of Howard Quinn, it was decided that the Property Committee endeavor to level and widen, if possible, the show ring for cattle.

D. B. Falkner, manager of the Bank of Commerce, congratulated the board on the large attendance of its directors and the keen interest shown at all times by its members in the affairs and management of the Exhibition.

A nominating committee drew up the Board of Directors for the year. Nine members, who had shown lack of interest in the work of the board, were dropped from membership, while two new ones, Tom Shields and Allan Brown, were added. The board now has 54 members, as follows:

Honorary members—Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C.; E. A. Peck, M.P.; J. F. Strickland, M.P.P.; J. P. Lancaster, M.L.A.; G. A. Macdonald, William Montgomery, warden; H. A. Morrow, W. G. Morrow, Rev. Father Phelan, Rev. P. Costello, Rev. Dr. Biagrave, and the president of the Ministerial Association, W. R. Breyfogle.

Board of Directors—C. E. Moore, W. Steinkrauss, Thos. Graham, W. R. Shields, Vivian Millburn, Walter Bowles, S. T. Millburn, W. Roseborough, C. F. Kitney, V. Eastwood, Stanley Lowe, J. A. The Executive Committee consists of the chairmen of the various committees, and a meeting will be held in the near future.

MRS. LANCASTER IS LAID TO REST

caster was in the motor accident that almost cost his life, but due to her knowledge of surgery and first aid she stopped the hemorrhage that would in a few moments have drained away his life blood, by tearing her clothing and staunching the flow with a tourniquet. Later when it was thought he must lose his left hand, which was badly mangled in the accident, she intervened, persuading the attendant physician to wait a few days longer and see if the member cold not be saved. Her effort were rewarded, and though the hand is scarred badly it did not have to be removed.

Two years later they were married and took up residence in Havelock, where Mr. Lancaster is editor of "The Standard" a weekly newspaper.

Due to their untiring efforts at home beautification, their home is the most beautiful in Havelock. Though preferring the quiet of her home to any outside activity, when Mr. Lancaster was nominated as Conservative standard bearer, she took her place by his side, and did all in her power to forward his interests in the campaign.

Her passing in such a tragic manner after only six hours' illness, the result of a stroke, at the age of forty-one years, has left a place in Havelock which will not be easily filled. Her epitaph "She was a good woman" is written deep in the hearts of the whole community, and especially in the hearts of the suffering poor, whose welfare was her last earthly thought.

Noticed among those prominent men present from out of town were Hon. George H. Challies, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Game and Fisheries, and James Fordyce Strickland, K.C., M.P.P., of Peterborough.

Among those who sent telegrams and messages of sympathy were: Premier Geo. S. and Mrs. Henry; Hon. W. H. and Mrs. Price; Hon. W. G. and Mrs. Martin; Hon. Chas. and Mrs. McCrea; Hon. Thos. GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—It has been a slow week on the local butter market and prices have slipped a little. Brokers were unable to move any large lots of fresh or regraded solids and, though the general undertone to the market was firm, fractionally lower quotations were in effect at the week-end. At the first of the week brokers had a top price for regraded solids of 21½c, but at the close of the week 21¼c was quoted, with No. 1 fresh makes at 21c. Second-grade butter of 38-score quality was quoted at 20¾c last week-end and at the first of this week, but on Friday this grade was quoted at 20½cc.

Cream Steady.

Prices on churning cream were unchanged this week, as they have been for several weeks, and with butter prices slightly lower they will probably remain steady for a week or two more. Country shippers were offered 21c for special, 20c for No. 1 and 17c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points.

Cheese in Demand.

A firmer feeling at Montreal and only fair supplies on this market held prices on new makes of cheese quite steady this week. On Friday brokers offered new makes at 10c for large, 10¼c for twins and 10½c for triplets. The increased prices of last week were in effect this week to retailers at 11¼c for new large, 11¼c for new twins, 11¾c for new triplets and 13¾c for new stiltons.

Egg Prices.

Receipts of fresh eggs were too heavy for the local demand and prices were reduced several times during the week. On Friday country shippers were quoted 19c for extras, 17c for firsts and 15c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned, and retailers were offered fresh supplies at 27c for extras in cartons, 25c for extras loose, 23c for firsts loose and 20c for seconds loose. Pullet extras were practically off the market, but were quoted by brokers in their week-end offerings at 21c for extras, 19c for firsts, 18c for pullet extras and 18c for seconds, graded and in free cases.

Poultry Market Firmer.

The poultry market, in keeping with its strong satisical position, is displaying a much firmer tone, and price advances have taken place on a number of markets. The firmness is particularly in evidence on chicken and fowl and some of these kinds are still being packed for storage. Turkeys are in fairly liberal supply, but are firming in keeping with the generally strong market.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Despite heavy receipts, egg prices held firm. Fresh graded extras in carlots or less were quoted at 25 cents and firsts and pullets at 22 cents a dozen. Storage eggs in carlots or less were steady at 21 cents for extras, 20 cents for firsts and 19 cents a dozen for seconds. Receipts totalled 1,902 cases.

An easier tone was experienced by No. 1 finest butter in carlots or less, which was quoted at 21 cents a pound, with odd sales at 20¾ cents. Receipts were 34 boxes.

Cheese held unchanged at 8¾c to 9c for current Ontario white, 10c for current Ontario colored and 10½c to 11¼c a pound for early Ontario make. Receipts were 65 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes per 80-pound bag held steady at 85 cents, as did Prince Edward Island Green Mountains per 80-pound bag at 90 cents and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains per 90-pound bag at $1.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21. — Selling orders predominated in the grain pits late yesterday, and price advances made earlier failed to hold.

"Spread" dealings in wheat sales here against purchases at Kansas City, were largely responsible for Chicago market setbacks. Houses with connections southwest led the selling movement in Chicago. Weakness of the Winnipeg wheat market was also an unsettling factor.

Wheat in Chicago closed unsteady, 1-8 to 3-8 under yesterday's finish, with corn at a shade decline to a shade advance, oats unchanged to a shade higher, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, January 21. — Unable to withstand the bearish influence of the world wheat export situation in relation to Canadian wheat and lower outside markets, wheat prices broke sharply in the closing minutes of trading on the grain market here yesterday.

Scraping the day's bottom most levels, values closed ¾c to 1c lower, with May delivery at 46⅛c, July at 46⅝c, and October at 48c.

Induced by lightness of offerings, wheat prices crept slightly higher at the opening, but soon sold off and traded at fractionally lower levels until near the close.

The market steadily resisted the bearish pressure exerted by weak Liverpool and Chicago markets and reports from the United Kingdom that good quantities of Argentine wheat were being purchsed by European imports. Only moderate sales of Canadian wheat were made for overseas shipment.

This influence, however, proved too much for local prices and the values skidded precipitately in the final dealings, seeking still lower levels at the closing bell.

Cash grain spreads closed a quiet session practically unchanged, and coarse grains eased fractionally in sympathy with wheat.

FINE REPORTS ARE GIVEN AT CAMPBELLFORD MEETING

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Made Progress in Past Year.

APPOINTMENTS MADE.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan 21. —Progress in the work of the church for the year 1932 was shown last evening when St. Andrew's Presbyterian church held its annual meeting and received reports from the various organizations and officials of the congregation, J. R. Battisby presided, the devotional exercises being conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Robinson.

The report of the session was given by Mr. Robinson which showed the membership of the congregtiontion standing at 340. During the past year 26 members had been lost by death, five had left by certificate, there had been one wedding and eight infant baptisms. There was little change in the Sunday School Mr. Robinson stated, the weekly prayer services had been carried on throughout the year and he greatly appreciated the work of the choir.

The treasurer's report was given by George Whitlaw and showed that total receipts for 1932 were $5,078.84, a balance now being on hand of $16.36. To the missionary work of the church the sum of $403.43 had been given. He also stated that there was the probable saving this year of $813, and despite notes outstanding of $1,224.66 an estate the half of which when sold was due the Presbyterian church, would balance this. The church financially was in a sound condition and there was every prospect of the coming year being a prosperous one.

The report of A. G. Thompson, for the trustees showed that insurance being carried on the church and church property amounted to $23,000, which was a decrease of $800.

The Ladies Aid of St. Andrew's have done splendid work during the past year as revealed by the secretary's report given by Mrs. P. MacMillan, Membership numbered 42; a total of twelve meetings have been held, ten regular and two specials, the average attendance had been 25 and the average collections $2.40; Mrs. Anderson the treasurer showed that total receipts amounted to $369.14, the balance on hand being $27.97.

W.M.S. Report

Mrs. J. R. Battisby gave the annual report of the W.M.S. which showed that the membership totaled 32; there had been 12 meetings held the average attendance at which had been 25. There were 54 home helpers attached to the organization. Much good work had been done during the year, including the sending of bails and cloths to mission schools and the West. Total receipts for the year amounted to $304.37 as shown by the treasurer, Miss J. Neill. Of this $303.12 had been expended leaving a balance on hand of $1.25.

The Mission Circle (Young Ladies') showed a membership of 32; meetings held 9 with an average attendanceof 22 Three quilts had been made during the year. Total receipts were $110.48, disbursements $96.68 leaving a balance on hand of $11.80. Of the money expended $80 had been sent to the presbyterial.

For the Junior Mission Circle, Miss Phylis Adamson as secretary reported that the membership was 30 with the average attendance 20 Miss Leah Blue as treasurer reported the sum of $1.51 in the bank Total receipts being $42.43 and expenditures $40.92.

Young People's Society

The Young People's Society, of which Miss Margaret McGregor is secretary, held 25 meetings in 1932 with an average attendance of one hundred per cent. The work during the year had been progressive and much good had been accomplished. The treasurer, Thomas Campbell, reported the sum of $9.94 on hand, with total receipts standing at $59.78 and expenditures at $49.84. The sum of $25 had been given to the Board of Managers.

The Sunday School report was given by Wallace Rutherford the secretary and Miss Grace Blue the treasurer. The membership of this organization stood at 58, and 7 teachers. The average attendance for the past year had been 40. Total receipts were $217.01 with expenditures at $159.55, the balance on hand being $57.46.

Work of the choir had also been active during the past year with the total receipts standing at $24.37, the balance on hand being $6.77. Miss Margaret McGregor is the secretary and Mrs. P. MacMillan the treasurer.

Before the appointment by the meeting of managers to succeed the three retiring members of that board, J. F. McGregor, J. H. Wallace and Wm. Anderson, Mr. McGregor spoke on the matter pointing out that the board at present was too large which made it very hard to get a quorum at any of the meetings. It had been suggested that the membership be cut from the present standing of fourteen to nine, and if this was decided upon it would be necessary to appoint two instead of three from the meeting. This was discussed and acted upon Mr. McGregor and Wm. Anderson getting the appointments.

Neil Morrison and Wesley Stephens were both re-appointed auditors for the current year.

Much discussion centred around the disposal of the church shed, which serves the town at large but was felt did not serve the congregation to-day as it did in the past, and constituted a financial consideration in connection with its upkeep.

Bringing this matter to a head a committee, consisting of William Cock, J. R. Wallace, and Andrew Govan, was appointed to handle the matter and report to the Board of Managers their findings.

The printing of a year book was another matter that was dealt with at length, Mr. McGregor outlining the merits of this and giving estimates of several printing firms. Mr. Robinson also told the meeting that this step was in conformity with the rule of the church. However when the question was put to a vote the decision was against the proposal.

A vote of thanks to all the organizations of the church for their splendid work during the past year was moved and seconded by J. A. Anderson and J. D. Cummings, a standing vote of thanks to Mr. Robinson for his work during the past season also being given.

In reply, Mr. Robinson stated that it had been a delight to work with the congregation, and the bond of delightful fellowship had been strengthened between them. It was impossible to make a minister's work easy, he stated, but the people could help in this.

After all, he declared, a great good had come to all departments of the church, and for this God should be thanked. "In 1933 let us spend and be spent in the service of our blessed Master and His Church," he added, asking for the co-operation of all the members of the congregation.

ed for nearly 24 hours, while her crew attempted to keep her afloat. Not until he saw she was doomed, did Captain Legge send out his appeal this morning, and then only because his last lifeboat had been crushed and the hatches stove in under the thunderous hammering of the water.

Picked Up Message

The American Merchant picked up his message, 15 miles away from the Exeter City. Those 15 miles, however, were through mountainous seas, directly into the teeth of the howling gale.

By the time Captain Stedman reached the scene, Captain Legge and his three men had fallen prey to the storm, and a howling gale, in which the American Merchant itself reared and plunged, prevented an immediate rescue.

Stedman navigated his ship to leeward of the distressed freighter and closed in as far as he dared. A rocket gun was hauled out and a line attached. After a few hours of raw, blistering work, the line was cast aboard and made fast by the now hopeful crew.

DODGE ENTERS LOW PRICE BATTLE WITH NEW D.Q. SIX "MIRACLE" CAR

Prices Are $365 to $375 Lower Than the 1932 Sixes.

NOVEL FEATURES.

Full details are now available on the new Dodge Six, announced at prices which mark it as a sensational Dodge bid for a place among the very lowest priced cars.

The line at present includes a Coupe at $730.00, a Coupe with rumble seat at $780.00 and a five-passenger Sedan at $800.00, a Convertible Coupe will be announced later—Prices F.O.B. at factory, Windsor, Ontario.

These prices which are from $365.00 to $375.00 lower than the 1932 Dodge Six mark an entirely new standard of value for a car of traditional Dodge quality, completely redesigned to meet to-day's standards of style, performance and engineering, Dodge officials claim.

It is quite evident that Dodge engineers and body stylists have had their innings in the fashioning of the streamlined Mono-Piece steel bodies in which every line seems to indicate power, speed and elegance.

In mechanical respects the new Dodge presents an impressive list of noval fesutres. A dedcidedly low-hung chassis provides, without sacrifice of road clearance, the low center of gravity so important for the higher road speeds and changed driving standards of to-day. The wheel-base is 111¼ inches.

75 H.P. Floating Power Engine

The floating power mounting of the engine, with 1933 refinements, places the power plant low in the frame, a circumstance which not only assists in a further lowering of the center of gravity, but in giving a straight-line drive from transmission to rear axle.

The two engine supports are cushioned with live rubber in such a manner that there is no actual metal-to-metal contact between the engine and its supports.

With a bore of 3⅛ in. and a stroke of 4¾ in., giving a piston displacement of 201.3 in. and a tax power rating of 23.44 HP, the engine delivers 75 H.P. at 3600 R.P.M. This power is obtained with a compression ratio of 5.5 to 1, safeguarding perfect, smooth operation with the use of any and all commercial grades of gasoline.

Silenced Fuel System

Gasoline is supplied, from a 12-gallon tank carried between the frame members, under the rear valance, by an automatic pump provided with visible filterer. The pump does not depend on vacuum, but is positively driven from the camshaft.

The ventilator also cools the oil so that it retains its lubricating qualities over long periods.

Efficient Engine Cooling

The engine is cooled by water circulated by a belt-driven impeller pump mounted on the fan bracket.

Dodge engine lubrication is of the pressure-feed type controlled by a powerful camshaft-driven gear pump. The pump raises the oil from the crankcase reservoir and forces it through a series of rifle-drilled passages running through the solid metal of the cylinder block and supplying oil to the crankshaft, connecting rod and camshaft bearings and to the silent-chain timing drive.

Many Electrical Improvements

A number if important improvements are shown in the electrical system. An advantage of the starter is that the current is switched on only after the starting-motor gear is fully meshed with the flywheel gear. The arrangement prevents gear damage, sticking and imperfect engagement.

One of the comfort and safety features emphasized by Dodge is its novel steering system. This has been designed with special attention to the problems introduced by to-day's higher road speeds and changed driving standard.

Automatic Clutch

Designed for use with free wheeling, the Dodge vacuum-operated automatic clutch makes the used of the orthodox clutch pedal unnecessary. The combination of automatic clutch and free wheeling gives free wheeling itself a new scope of usefulness and safety. The statement is of interest that the Dodge automatic clutch makes perfectly safe drivers of one-legged persons.

A point worthy of note is that the design of the Dodge transmission and free wheeling unit gives the owner the option of three different driving styles—he may drive either in conventional gear, in free wheeling, or with both free wheeling and automatic clutch.

Centrifuse Brake Drums

The brakes are of the hydraulic type, which the company's engineers regard as safest and most dependable, because being self-equalling, they do not require periodical adjustment of rods, clevices and other mechanical connections.

Two Chassis Frames in One

The strutural foundation of the new Dodge is a double-drop bridge-type chassis frame of unique design. The tremendous strength and rigidity of the frame comes from its truss construction which braces it lengthwise, sidewise and diagonally.

Other mechanical improvements include steel tubing front axle; elimination of rear axle noise; axle shafts are of heat-treated chrome-nickel steel, half in. in diameter at wheel bearings; easier riding due to the perfection of spring suspension; a device for keeping springs lubricated at all times, and all-steel bodies; and beautifully equipped interiors, giving a maximum of comfort and ventilation.

Splendid Progress Is Made During Year

BURNS' CONCERT AT ST. PAUL'S IS BIG SUCCESS

SPECIAL MUSIC.

Conclusion of Program Lunch Was Served and "Pokes" Broken.

Friendliness of the real, honest Scottish type pervaded the gathering which took place last evening in the Sunday-School auditorium of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, when an old-fashioned soiree or Burns' concert, was held, under combined auspices of the Men's Association, the choir and the Ladies' Aid Society.

Every individual in the gathering that reached capacity of the big auditorium and overflowed until nearly four hundred people were seated, seemed to enjoy the program from start to finish. It was of the Scottish type that strikes a responsive chord in hearts that come from old Scotia or that have heard there famous tunes since childhood, even though they hail from other lands.

Contrary to a custom which has become all too habitual here recently, the gathering started almost on time and the audience did not have to wait for the usual fifteen or twenty minutes after the announced time of opening the entertainment. Probably a Scotch dislike of wasting anything, even time, but it had the excellent effect of making everyone enjoy the program just that much more.

Everything had a Scottish flavor, even the unique refreshments which were passed around at the conclusion of the music and consisted of shortbread and other cakes in a paper bag, and coffee. The bursting of the paper 'pokes', as the Rev Dr. Barr termed them, in a humorous little speech which made a jolly period to an evening of real enjoyment, afforded members of the audience some fun.

John Hornsby acted as chairman and M. B. Chenhall, A.R.C.O., played the acompaniments for the various numbers.

A feature of the evening was the brief address on Robert Burns, given by the Rev. John Sutherland of Keene.

Braw Piper

A real Scottish piper, Alex Milne, played his resounding instrument in a bagpipe solo, "A Man's a Man for a' That", as a fitting opening to the program, going on with "The Bannocks o'Barleymeal", and obliging later on with "The Road to the Isles."

The Sunday School orchestra played a Scottish march and also, with Noel Barr playing the violin in sweet, clear tones, joined in with the music of "Ye Banks and Braes o'Bonnie Doon."

St. Paul's choir sang in excellent voice a fantasia of Burns' airs, in which might be recognized such old familiar tunes as "There was a Lad", "John Anderson, my Jo, John", "Cornrigs", "Green Grow the Rashes, Oh", "A man's a man for a' that", and "Auld Lang Syne."

The vocal solos of the evening were splendidly rendered in each instance and received a generous meed of applause. Stanley Willis sang "Mary of Argyle"; Mrs. Bruce Munro sang "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton"; George East sang "Scots Wha Hae"; Mrs. Laurie Mitchell's solo was "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon"; William Grieves sang "Lass o' Ballochmyle"; Miss Olive Cullen sang "Lea Rig"; Dr. J. C. Smith of Lakefield sang "The March o' the Cameron Men"; Miss Jessie Pattison sang "Comin' thru the Rye" and John Anderson sang "The Star o'Rabbie Burns."

A quartette composed of Mrs. Bruce Munro, Miss Jessie Pattison, George East and John Anderson, sang "My Luves likea Red, Red Rose" and one of the hits of the evening, owing to the variations introduced by the vocalists, who added a plaid shoulder shawl and rakish tam as 'props' for their performance, was the duett by Miss Pattison and John Anderson. They sang "The Crookit Bawbee" and, in response to insistent applause, an encore in "Huntingtower."

Miss Margaret Wyllie gave a very fine reading of an incident from a scene connected with the Scotch Covenanters, and Miss Freda Castle, to music played by A. Milne on the pipes and attired in full Scottish attire, danced the Highland Fling.

Robbie Burns

To th's evening of Scottish music and dance and historical anecdote, a fitting interlude was the very interesting and graphic address given on Robert Burns by the Rev. John Sutherland of Keene, who outlined in pithy, graphic style some of the characteristics of the great Scottish poet.

"In the character of Robert Burns" he said, "sincerity was a clear note. Those who say that Burns was not a religious man make a great mistake, because a sincere belief in God is an outstanding attribute of true religion, and he had that. When he caricatured religion, it was not the real ype, but the formal sort of religious practice which prevailed to a great extent at that time.

"Burns was cradled in poverty and it was only through hard work, through study and perseverance, that he won fame and was able to overcome the difficulties which surrounded him from birth. He was the greatest natural genius, I believe, of his time, not excepting Sir Water Scott.

"He was a man of fine, manly qualities and great independence. He had a wonderful personality. He excelled in conversation and repartee and yet he was a very humble man.

"We are not here to judge of his faults, but rather to acclaim the genius of the man. Burns, unlike Shakespeare and Shelley and Keats and other great writers, did not deal in abstract matters. He wrote of real life. Sympathy is said to be one of the strongest attributes of a poet. When Burns wrote of the little field mouse and the Highland daisy, we feel that he had the ability to put himself in the place of that which he wrote about.

"There is such a thing as beautiful poetry which is not true to reality. Every song is a poem but every poem is not a song. Matthew Arnold, who was remarkable in many ways as a writer, could write poems, but his poems were not songs.

"Burns put life into the Scottish language. The melodies which he used were known before his time, but the words were tawdry. He took the good old Scottish dialect and the old Scottish melodies and added suitable and appropriate words, as you can judge for yourself after hearing the songs in to-night's program. There is no doubt that he was the greatest song writer that ever lived.

"Burns hated inequality and injustice, but I doubt if he would be a Bolshevik, were he alive to-day. He would be eager to help make matters right but he would go about it, I believe, by trying to make men see that necessary changes must be brought about by getting men to understand things from a higher standpoint. He would try to solve difficulties by the use of the great Christian principles."

At the conclusion of the address, the lunch was served and the concluding numbers on the program were rendered.

Mr. Hornsby thanked the audience and the artists, in the name of the three host societies, and his words were echoed by the Rev. Dr. Barr. The entertainment concluded with a general singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

$80,500,000 IN NEW BUSINESS BY CANADA LIFE

Safety and Stability Are First and Foremost President Delares.

ANNUITIES INCREASE.

"Safety and stability are first and foremost, the keynote of our traditional policy," Leighton McCarthy, President of the Canada Life Assurance Company, stated at the company's 85th annual meeting recently.

In reviewing the Canada Life's secure financial position, Mr. McCarthy described the balance sheet as "a very strong one." In this, total assets are shown as $216,886,246.26, an increase of $12,110,226.77. During the year the company's already large proportion of government guaranteed and municipal bonds was increased by $14,995,119 to a total of $56,369,177.85. In common with the experience of other companies, demands for policy loans and cash surrender values were heavy. In this connection Mr. McCarthy said, "All demands have been taken care of from the ample resources at our disposal, and we have not sold a security to provide funds for our disbursements."

Surplus funds and special reserves of the Canada Life are $8,237,758.59 after writing down securities by $846,061.06. Reserves for special contingencies have been increased to two million dollars.

New business placed on the company's books during the year amounted to over 85,500,000. This is not as high as the volume of new paid-for business in some previous years, but being made in a period when financial conditions were badly disturbed, the total was described by Mr. McCarthy as "a tribute to the well-directed efforts of our our associates in the field."

Annuities Increase

The sale of annuities increased by over $2,000,000, and amounted to $7,780,286. Total business in force amounted to $928,389,962, which is approximately three times the amount in force ten years ago.

Total income from all sources amounted to over 50 million dollars. About $80,000 per day, or a total of over 29 million dollars for the year, was paid out in death claims, matured endowments, dividends, annuities and cash values for surrendered policies.

The interjection of this 29 million together with similar distributions made in 1931 of 25 million, and in 1930 of 23 million, making a total of 77 million, into the daily activities of the general public, in addition to the flow of funds into policy loans and investments, is this company's share of 6½ billions of dollars which life insurance contributed during the three years of depression to the ability of individuals on the American continent to survive the ordeal of these difficult times.

Defining life insurance as a "co-operative association of individuals" Mr. McCarthy declared it to be "a great social asset and the nation is benefited by its wider spread."

The Canada Life has had an office in Peterborough for over sixty-five years. Owing to the conservative investment policy of this company, it is well able to withstand the present investment conditions.

Peterborough officie had a large increase in business over the previous year, which is more or less due to the stability of this old Canadian company, now in its 86th year.

Connected with the Peterborough office are D. M. Bissell, J. H. Lawson, C. A. Sollitt, and J. H. Wilson who are ready to give the insuring public the best life insurance service possible at all times.

Supper Club Hears Address On Health

One of the liveliest meetings of the season was held last night by the Friday Night Supper Club with a large attendance and fine fellowship prevailing. The speaker, John S. Adair, a member of the club, gave an interesting address on health, presenting his subject in an informal but impressive way. He stressed the desirability of periodic medical examinations in checking up one's health. C. A. Salmonsen presided and congratulated the speaker upon his fine address.

70 CITIZENS CONTRIBUTE $1,185

The first week of Peterborough's relief fund campaign has brought to City Treasurer Adams contributions from about 70 citizens, amounting to $1185.

That averages $200 a day. And the objective set by the local committee is $20,000.

The average giving of approximately $20 seems to be the most commendible feature of the report from City Treasurer Adams this morning. In this city of nearly 25,000 persons there are fewer than 70 who can read this statement with that equanimity which rests on a sense of having done one's duty.

Many of the other citizens are excluded from any reflection from the present total of the fund. For the time being they are dependent on public assistance, but there are hundreds of others, even those who can afford at least one dollar, who should turn upon themselves any criticism they may feel like expressing in regard to the progress of the Relief Fund.

Premier Henry recently declared that there should be in every community more willingness on the part of the people to assume a large share of the extraordinary responsibility of meeting the present need of finances to carry on the charitable work of helping those who are unable to obtain employment and thereby "pay their way" for themselves and their families.

This was a direct challenge to citizens of this province to take some of the burden off the public treasury.

Peterborough is now undertaking the collection of such an auxiliary fund, and although the first week has moved off in low gear there is every confidence that the objective of $20,000 will be reached without prolonging the appeal unduly.

As has already been emphasized, every dollar helps, and for the one dollar or the hundred dollars you give the provincial assistance increases it to three dollars or three hundred as the case may be.

Contributions should be sent to Frank Adams, city treasurer.

COMMISSION MAY RECEIVE

that the amounts estimated as necessary to be paid by the municipalities for the exchange had been higher than required.

Mr. Cooke explained that the rebates would be made in the same way as the rebates—or additional levies—are conveyed to the municipalities on account of their payments for power received from the provincial commission. At the start of the year, he pointed out, the provincial body estimates the rate that should be paid by each municipality. At the end of each year, costs and contingencies are calculated exactly, and each municipality sent a "thirteenth bill," either crediting it with a rebate or levying an additional charge for power.

A million dollars is involved in the adjustments of exchange to be made by the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, and a proportion of this cost was charged against the municipalities. Peterborough's share was a little over $12,000.

12. A case was discovered today where the taxes were $36 per year, so the rent should have been $4 50 per month. The tenant was entered in the rent book twice, once as Aimee Malee and once as A. Malette, and total rent of $9 per month was paid.

Mayor Calls Council

A committee meeting of the town council has been called for late this afternoon by Mayor J. P. Marchildon. The written notice sent to Councillors said the purpose of the meeting was to consider stopping the issuance of relief vouchers "and other things."

L. Spence, Government relief investigator(has been asked to attend the meeting, from which press and public will be excluded.

"We have no money and cannot pay, so what's the use of issuing vouchers," the Mayor said in an interview to-day. He would not amplify what "other things" will be discussed by the meeting.

The town will default $3,000 debenture payments falling due in February, it was understood to-day.

The attitude of the council and many citizens towards the investigation and its advisability was expressed by a councillor. The investigation was useless, he said, since "we did not steal, we simply took from the government and gave to the town."

60,000 SEE WALES HUMBLE ENGLAND 7-3

Welshmen Lead Terrific Attack in Last Haf to Gain International Victory.

FAST FORWARD PLAYING.

TWICKENHAM, England, Jan. 21 (C. P. Cable)—Wales trounced England 7-3 in the first of the great international rugby matches of the season, played here today before 60,000 persons.

It was all England in the first half but the Welshmen led a terrific attack which bowled the English over in the last half.

The game got off to a scrappy start and the Welsh forwards had the English defense at sixes and sevens for a time. Jones had a chance to score but kicked wide. England's backs attacked and Burland would have scored had he not held on the ball so long. Black, Arnold and Brown all had short shots on the Welsh goal but failed to penetrate.

After 25 minutes of fine passing and shooting with Booth and Burland and Elliott working out great combination Elliott scored a try from the far corner. Black attempted to convert but missed by a few inches.

Immediately on the resumption of play Wales went into the attack. Boon was left unmarked and scored a spectacular goal from 20 yards out England was unable to hold the Welshmen who kept hammering away.

R. Gerrard, who hails from Bath on the English team was hurt in a tackle on the left field and the struggle continued, most of it being carried on in the England end of the field. The Welsh forwards, Bout, Bowcott and Davey were too much for the English players and Boon finally scored a touch which Jenkins converted. The judges disagreed on the touch, however, and eventually disallowed it.

Wales had won the first match. The fast play of the Welsh forwards completely upset the English backs and virtually won the game. W. Wooller, Colwyn Bay, an 18 year old school boy, played a great game and startled the fans.

BANK GOVERNOR

fast tables when the ceremony was performed. With Mr. Norman, when he entered the side door of the Registry Office, was an elderly woman, believed to be his mother, another woman relative, and Sir Mark Collett, uncle of the bridegroom.

A few persons in the Registry Office got a hurried glimpse of the Bank of England's Governor as he dashed into the office, pulling up the collar of his heavy fur coat about his ears. How the bride reached the office is still a mystery. Shortly after she arrived, Sir Mark and the two ladies emerged and departed, but the newly-weds had already motored away to a destination which was not divulged.

WESTWOOD INSTITUTE FAVORS NURSING COURSE

WESTWOOD, Jan. 21 (Examiner Correspondence).—Mrs. J. Thompson, president of the Westwood branch of the Women's Institute presided on Tuesday afternoon at the January meeting held in the Town Hall.

It was decided that a gift of a bank account of one dollar be presented to each Institute baby at birth, this to be in effect from the date of organization of this branch. A discussion on the nature of the short course to be held this winter followed, the majority being in favor of a first-aid nursing course.

An interesting paper on current events was read by Mrs. Stewart Graham.

The feature of the meeting was a paper on "Keep Your Friendships in Repair," prepared by Miss Lila Slade, but owing to illness was given by her sister, Miss Leta Slade.

After singing the National Anthem, all enjoyed the usual social half-hour.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind.

MILLBROOK

An outline of the work being accomplished by the Women's Institutes of the province, was an interesting feature of a recent W. I. program in a rural centre, the secretary of the branch who occasionally goes out on a speaking tour for the department, giving the inspiring information, "certainly a source of pride to all connected with the Institute activities."

"Here is a list of some of the things Institutes are connected with and making an actual accomplishment," declared the speaker. "We may group them under such headings as general programs, including papers on a variety of topics of constructive interest; building or buying, and maintaining community halls; instituting school inspection, supervision at the noon hour in schools, school nurses and other forms of child welfare; travelling libraries secured, or Institute or public libraries established and carried on successfully for years; the listing and care of pioneer and neglected cemeteries; junior branches organized and assisted in many ways; northern relief work that has been a real boon to many a woman on an isolated farm in the north country, and bales sent that have been, as I heard one settler express it, "like a miracle from heaven, we were in such need," and finally, though all branches have not yet appointed these, programs by convenors of provincial standing committees."

"The recent provincial convention gave every promise that the good work will be continued as effectively as in the past, even in these days of reduced resources, and indeed the possibilities for the future are bright with promise, for members have become interested in such a wide variety of activities, they are not willing to limit the scope of their horizon, but rather desirous of extending it, and so clothing, improved arrangement of furniture, lighting, etc., in our homes, the right manner of providing meals and school lunches for our households and our children, who must take the noon meal away from home; an interest in the laws of our land, local relief work, and community improvement, wholesome amusements and entertainment—all these, and still others, are part of the undertakings in which our organization is concerned."

"We must not forget that some attention is also being given to certain of the lighter forms of agriculture, as garden clubs and home canning clubs, etc., so that our women and girls are adding materially to the farm income, and this is surely a very important matter considering the deflation in the prices of our products at the present time. Also it is worthy of note that the work of the individual branches is quite voluntary and independent of control outside the membership, though we are better off if we act on the practical suggestions that come to us regularly from the department, and particularly if we make thorough use of the several booklets that are available for the asking, and replete with information of inestimable value to us as homemakers."

A period for questioning was allowed before the speaker proceeded, and a number asked about the assistance available in the way of short courses, especially in dressmaking, one member remarking—"You know several of us are making our own dresses now, instead of buying them ready-made as formerly, because we save dollars that way, and an instructor would be of great help to us, for some of us are quite inexperienced, though we do lots of sewing along other lines." The warning was given, however, that it would be unwise to secure a demonstrator or lecturer, or instructor, along any line unless the members were ready as a whole, to support the effort, and "help yourselves while the chance is yours all you possibly can."

"In closing, I would like you to notice that the Department of Agriculture serves us in such ways as furnishing and distributing literature of special interest to women, keeping all branches informed of activities of the W. I. all over the Dominion; supplying lecture demonstrators on such subjects as are wanted; making available courses of two weeks each on such studies as Food Values, Home Nursing and First Aid, Sewing and Millinery, and others, this service having developed to such large proportions, and being so much valued, especially in localities where opportunities for such practical instruction do not actually exist, that the number, and attendance, has increased year by year."

The speaker was warmly thanked for her constructive talk, and it was unanimously decided to continue the topic under study at some later date, "but that indefinite statement does not mean that we are shelving it altogether," the president warned, "for we shall certainly make a place on our program for this theme at no distant meeting."

WARSAW

Mrs. Fred Crowe gave a very interesting history of edcuation at the last W.I. meeting as follows:

"At first education was simply as a means of providing food among the primitive people. There is no school, but people must provide food, clothing and shelter, and must find means of so doing, and others followed. The child joins this knowledge through imitation. His amusements and games are imitations of the work of his parents. Indian children play with a log in the water, and learn to balance and to paddle. They need this knowledge later in using their canoes. The boys shoot at a mark with bow and arrow, the girls make clay utensils, and play at preparing meals. The child is educated through his games, and by working with and imitating his parents. Through their initiation ceremonies, the boys are taught to endure pain, hardship and hunger, also obedience and reverence.

Initiation ceremonies, as practiced by primitive peoples, seem to us very crude. At the age of ten or eleven the boy is painted with totemic symbols and severely beaten. A year later he is beaten again, and must hunt for the animals used in the ceremonies. He is given little to eat.

In China formal education meant the mastery of the language and literature. The characters of the Chinese written language represent ideas, so they have to learn about twenty-five thousand characters. However, their sacred books use only about five thousand. Their school work was largely memorizing from the sacred books. The object of the teacher was to compel his pupils, first, to remember, second to remember, and thirdly, evermore to remember. They aimed to imitate the past, and worshipped their ancestors. This form of education was non-progressive. However the Chinese are gradually changing.

The Japanese have already adopted a great deal of Western education

Coming to Europe, the Spartans 750-500 B.C., felt every Spartan must have a sound body to begin with. Until the seventh year, the child was in charge of his mother. Then the state took charge. Every year an endurance test, a severe whipping was undergone. The education was physical and moral, little of the intellectual nor of the aesthetic was attempted.

As the Greeks rose, during the age of Pericles, 461-456, B.C., all Athenian boys boys learned to read and write. His books were rolls of Egyptian papyrus, written with a sharp instrument on a tablet covered with wax. The chief books were the Iliad and the Odyessy of Homer, much of which he memorized. They are beautiful poems, for Homer endowed his heroes, with a love of beauty, bravery, patriotism, truth and other virtues. He was also trained in music and athletics. Every boy learned to sing, and to play on the lyre, it moulded character. The youth went regularly to the wrestling grounds for practice, in gymnastics, not for development as professional athletes, but to make their bodies strong and vigorous. At the great national games, the prizes were wreaths of paraley or laurel. The Greeks set honor above money.

Greek education was physical and intelleotual. Intermarriage of near kin caused the decline of the Athenian artistic and moral standards.

While education of Greeks had been cultural, that of the Romans, who followed them was practical. They gave prominence to oratory, law and medicine, but they in turn declined when education was allowed the upper classes only.

During the middle ages education taught discipline and the church doctrines were taught. There was no demand for schools outside of the church, but the monks copied the writings of the past and so preserved them for us. In this period universities were founded. Later came the renaissance, with its humanistic education. Literary classes of Greeks and Romans were studied, also students were drilled in Latin grammar and oratory.

Vittorino de Feltra, an Italian 1578-1446 has been called the first modern school master. He aimed to make school life pleasant and his school house was called the Pleasant House.

Then came the Reformation, and education gradually became realistic, followed by a strong conception of discipline. Then came the psychological, modern scientific and socialogical tenderness, until to-day, education strives to develop individual personality and social welfare."

OMEMEE INSTITUTE TO SPONSOR COURSE

January Meeting of the Branch Held at Home of Mrs. P. Parsons.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, Jan. 21. — A number of matters of importance came before the members of the local Institute, held at the home of Mrs. P. Parsons, on Wednesday night. The ladies decided to have a two weeks' coufse in either nursing or sewing in the spring, and the decision to apply for a summer speaker were perhaps the principal matters disposed of.

Mrs. G. Shields of Mount Pleasant, was present, and gave a splendid report of the convention held in Toronto during the latter part of November.

Mrs. S. Elliott gave a vocal solo, which was well received and heartily applauded.

The hostesses of the day were Mrs. McQuade, Mrs. Fee and Mrs. Parsons.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Rhea.

Women's Association.

The January meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United church, was held at the home of Mrs. McPhee, on Thursday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. Sandy, was in charge. Mrs. McPhee acted in the capacity of recording secretary, owing to the absence of Mrs. Morcombe.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Stinson, showing a nice little balance of funds on hand.

The chief business of the meeting was the arranging for the tea that will be held in the church basement on Tuesday, February 14th.

Following the singing of a hymn with Mrs. Reddick presiding at the piano, Mrs. Reddick closed the meeting with prayer.

The next meeting will be at the parsonage.

Weddings

WINGETT—WILSON

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 21 (Examiner Correspondence). — The marriage took place quietly on Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage of the United Church of Dora May Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wilson of Hall's Bridge, to William H. Wingett, youngest son of Mrs. Wingett and the late Leonard Wingett; Rev. W. R. Archer officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Wingett will reside in Lakefield.

ABANDONS SEARCH.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Jan. 20 (C.P. Cable).—Captain Wally Hope, British aviator, to-night abandoned his search among the Alps for trace of Bert Hinkler, famous Australian airman, who has not been reported since he left London two weeks ago to-night on a flight to Australia.

TEST FLIER KILLED

DAYTON, O.—Lieut. I. A. Woodring, Wright Field test filer, was killed instantly to-day, when the engine of an experimental observation plane exploded at an altitude of 2,000 feet. The plane was torn to bits in the air.

BETWEEN BOOK ENDS

If you could only read one hundred books in your lifetime—what ones would you choose? What books contain the highest and bravest heights of man's immagination—the essence of the heritage of the ages? Here is the list scrupulously selected by the editors of "The Golden Book," including Dr. H. S. Canby and Hugh Walpole, representing the common denominator of the literature that is part of the truly educated man's life to-day.

The Bible, Homer Iliad, Odyssey; Aesop Fables; Aeschylus Prometheus Bound; Sophocles Oedipus Rex; Euripides Medea; Herodotus History; Plato Dialogues; Aristotle Politics, Poetica; Lucretius on the Nature of Things; Virgil Aeneid; Tacitus Histories; Horace Poems; Plutarch Lives; Epictetus Morals; Marcus Aurelius Meditations; the Arabian Nights; the Song of Roland; Niebelungenlied; Dante, Divine Comedy; Boccaccio, Decameron; Chaucer, Canterbury Tales; Malory, Mort d'Arthur; Rabelais, Gargantua et Pantagreul; Montaigne, Essays; Cervante, Don Quixote; Bacon Essays; Chakespeare Plays; Milrin, Collected Poems; Pascal Letters; Pey's Diary; Bunyan Pilgrim's Progress; Le Sage, Gil Blas; Pope, Poems; Swift, Gulliver's Travels; Defoe, Robinson Crusoe; Voltaaire, Candide; Fielding, Tom Jones; Sterne, Tristan Shandy; Goldsmith, Vicar of Wakefield; Franklin, Autobiography; Burke, Speeche osn America% Rousseau, Confessions; Walpole, Letters; Boswell, Life of Johnson; Kant, Critique of Pure Reason.

This brings us up to the great romantic movement which swept European literature around the birth of the 19th century. In next Saturday's column we shall reprint the more modern half of this list.

"Sir Walter Scott," by John Buchan, 1932—

John Buchan's biography of Scott is decidedly the best of the many books which have appeared on the Scottish giant of letters of recent years. While the book is slightly disappoiting owing to the absence of illustrations, the text is more stirring than that of a great many novels. Scott is most sympathetically portrayed, especially in the first and closing chapters, "Boyhood," "Youth," "The Writer," and "The Man." A criticism of his work is presented which displays familiarity and deep appreciation on the part of Buchan. This is a book which will challenge the reader who knows his Scott and will undoubtedly send the reader who does not, to the novels and poems of that genius, "second, perhaps, only in all English literature to William Shakespeare.'

Mistaken titles afford frequent amusement in our libraries. The other day an elderly lady asked for a book about a shirt tail. It developed after much questioning that what she wanted was Vincent Starrett's new mystery story, "The End of Mr. Garment." A request was also recently made for Dostoievsky's "The Brothers Kalamazoo." And still more recently, a demand for a copy of Thomas Hardy's "Jude the Obscene."

"The Strange River" by Julian Green, 1932—

Julian Green, despite the fact that he writes in French, is a young American who lives in Paris. He has won more literary awards with fewer books than any other young novelist in our day. The world of his creation recalls that of the sombre Russian giants of literature. He is disturbingly masterful at portraying the inner motives and moods of men and women. This new book is in a similar dark mood to "The Dark Journey" and "The Closed Garden." It is the stor of Philippe, an extremely civilized young Parisian of splendid physic but of faint-hearted courage: Elaine, his bitter wife, who is indifferent to him; his sister-in-law Henriette, obviously madly in love with him and his little son, Robert, a silent watcher of the tragedy. The black smooth-flowing Seine ...ns a reflecting counterpoint to the story.

"The Strange Story" is intellectual in its appeal; a stronfi creation pleasing to those who have cultivated an objective attitude of life. If the great art of writing is the art of making people real to themselves with words, this is a successful book.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE

In some sections of the dial radio stations are interfered with by a steady whistle This is caused by the carrier wave of one station mixing with that of another station, on or near the same setting of the dial. It is called a "heterodyne whistle." This is most noticeable on the high-frequency end of the dial, toward high kilocycles, low meters, or zero end of the dial, depending upon which calibration is being used. The stations at that end are much more numerous, and less powerful.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr. Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

The Women Teachers' Guild entertained at Central School on Friday evening in a novel way. Its twentieth anniversary was marked by a social evening to which were invited all teachers who had been members of the staffs of the local schools during the past two decades. The present teachers and their guests were received by Miss Lillian Esplen, Miss Stalla Bennett and Miss Edith Murphy. After registering they enjoyed a half-hours' reunion. A delightful program was then provided, during which Miss Helen Staples recited very acceptably; Miss May Jory sang two groups of lovely songs accompanied in her usual capable way by Mrs. Agnes Logan Green, and Miss Musa Cox played a delightful piano solo. This part of the evening concluded with a cleverly-written skit presented by the former presidents of the guild, which outlined its history vividly and was enlivened by an excellent parody sung to the tune of "Alice Ben Balt," and accompanied by Miss M. Rannie. The skit was written by Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner. At the close of this interesting program a table loaded with birthday gifts from which all present received mementoes, provided much amusement. Refreshments were then served from a table attractively set with a handsome lace cloth. In the centre was a huge birthday cake with twenty candles, flanked by silver bud vases filled with roses and sweet peas. Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner and Miss Esplen poured tea. Refreshments concluded with the formal cutting of the birthday cake, the drinking of a toast to the Guild proposed by Miss M. Ross and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne." The committee responsible for arrangements consisted of the executive, the Misses Esplen, Staples, Lancaster, Cox, Burgess, Bonnycastle, Going, Wilson, Dobbth, Deyell, O'Connell, Batten, Lawrence and Murphy. Those responsible for this delightful evening were tendered an appreciative vote of thanks by Miss Daisy Walker seconded by Miss Ethelwyn Dix. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. R. Hendry. Mr. J. Beggs gave readings, "Devil m' Care," and "Feminine Mood," which received hearty applause. Freda Castle delighted the audience by dancing the Highland Fling to bagpipe music supplied by Mrs. Milne. Mr. R. Gilmour added a modern touch to the program by singing two radio favorites, "Nobody knows, nobody cares," and "Give me your smile." Mr. Alick Milne enhanced the entertainment with two readings, "Cremation of Sam McGee" and "Dan McGrew." Dancing was engaged in after the program, for which Mr. R. Gilmour played the melodeon. The committee served the company with light refreshments, thus bringing a pleasant evening to a close. On Wednesday evening, the twenty-fifth, the Club will observe a Burns' anniversary by holding a Burns' concert in their usual club rooms, to which the members are asked to bring their friends.

White With Black

By MME. LISBETH

BLACK AND WHITE remains the most outstanding color combination on the horizon of fashion, notwithstanding its long reign.

In this distinctive ensemble Charlotte Susa, screen player, shows a costume for afternoon with black crepe dress that features a modestly puffed sleeve which ends in a tightly fitted cuff, and a white crepe collar that crosses to give a high bodice line, continuing around from the back to a tied sash in front at the normal waistline.

A short capelet of ermine and a turban of embroidered white silk with a tiny veil complete the costume.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

THE INCREASING USE OF MIRRORS in decoration leads to the consideration of how they should be placed.

* * * * * * *

Too frequently one enters a home where their treatment has not been well thought out, and rather than adding to its charm, does the opposite.

* * * * * * *

In speaking of mirrors in decoration the first point of importance is what they will reflect. The filling of a certain space with something agreeable to meet the eye is important.

* * * * * * *

Now a mirror used for decoration is only attractive in proportion to what is contained in the shifting reflection within its range.

* * * * * * *

A mirror is well placed if it holds a pleasing vista within its frame.

* * * * * * *

If the ugliest portion of a room or a hallway is held in the reflection, it will not matter how handsome the frame. The mirror from the standpoint of decoration is a failure.

* * * * * * *

* * * * * * *

This in itself sounds attractive. What a shout of laughter went up when the result was viewed! For the mirror, in that position, was a total failure. It held the reflection of a typewriter in a room adjoining and portions of a clothes closet. It was immediately shifted to a position where a handsome vase, beautiful lamp, and handsome wall hanging were the objects to be glimpsed.

* * * * * * *

It is possible to give the feeling of an extra window in a room by placing a mirror against a wall so that it will catch the reflection of the out-of-doors.

* * * * * * *

The use of mirrors to create vistas is of importance to anyone interested in home decoration, whether the house be small or large. They should be suspended on two cords from each end, which extend perpendicularly from mirror to molding.

* * * * * * *

They should not be allowed to tip forward, but be flat against the wall. But, of course, there are exceptions to this rule.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Exactly on the 27th of January the incidence of common colds per person throughout North America reaches its peak.

The lowest point (when there are the fewest colds) is on the 28th of July. The increase begins sharply early in September, rises gradually until the last of December, at which time there is another sharp rise, going up to the high point of incidence late in January. There is then a gradual fall until about the 12th of May, when the figure reaches that of September, just before the first sharp rise. Corresponding to this, the mean temperature is highest on the 28th of July and lowest on the 17th of February.

"Colds," therefore, have something to do with the cold. They are definitely related not only to cold weather, but to wet, dampness, fog, etc. What else they have to do with is more or less debatable.

Certainly one thing that they have to do with is business. In the United States every worker loses from one to three days a year because of colds. Forty-seven per cent of all the causes of absence from work are due to respiratory diseases, and 71 per cent of all respiratory diseases are colds.

Age is another thing that has something to do with colds. The largest number of colds per population occurs in people under the age of nine. Healthy young adults from 15 to 24 have very few colds, but healthy adults from 25 to 35 have a great many more. Finally, at the age of 55 people have almost no colds at all. The presumption is that by that time they have acquired immunity to the virus or germ of the cold and hence are protected.

Men and women have colds about equally.

Occupation has much to do with colds. Indoor workers have colds nine times as often as outdoor workers.

People who wear heavy underwear, rubbers, and take exercise regularly, have more colds than those who wear thin and little underwear, no rubbers, and take little or no exercise. This is the result of a scientific investigation, not my opinion. (See "Fortune," October, 1932.)

Smoking, sleeping eight hours a day, taking cold baths, and breathing through the nose or mouth, according to a questionnaire to Cornell students, have nothing to do with taking colds.

Certain people are certainly susceptible to colds; some of these can take cold serum four times a year and have none at all.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

L. L. T.: "When my daughter puts on certain dresses it causes an irritable itching of the skin in certain places. Is there any scientific basis for this?"

Answer: Sensitiveness to many substances which are used in dress materials has been reported. Therefore, undoubtedly your daughter's sensations have a definite basis in fact.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

AN OLD FRIEND BACK

You will not often be wrong if you state that there are no new ideas in the game We continually see old ideas offered as new. Fashions change in bridge as they do in dress. In both instances trade is stimulated by offering changes to purchasers. Something new appears to be worth more than it really is. Sane customs never can be far wrong, but extremes soon become unpopular.

Just at present one hears: "Partner. I make strong opening bids, as dealer or second, and use lighter bids to open third or fourth hand." This same thing was in vogue some 15 years ago, and for the same reason that it has reappeared. The meaning is that players have been making too light opening bids as dealer or second hand, and that the requirements of 3 quick tricks, third hand, and 3½ quick tricks, fourth hand, have been absurdly high. Be sane. Even as dealer or second hand, pass high quick trick values when no suit bid can be made, and when two unguarded suits prohibit no-trumps. Even as third or fourth hand, make opening bids as follows: upon 2½ quick tricks, if strong in both major suits; upon 3 quick tricks, if strong in one major suit; unless the hand may be bid and rebid.

Even as dealer or second hand, pass hands like the following:

♠ A 8 5	♣ A 7 3 2
♥ A 9 5	♦ J 6 4
♠ A K 8 2	♣ A 6 4
♥ 7 3 2	♦ 9 7 5
♠ A K 8	♣ 6 4 3 2
♥ A Q 2	♦ 7 5 4
♠ A K Q 8 5	♣ 7 4
♥ 6 3 2	♦ 7 5 4

In any position about the table, two very long suits, especially major suits, justify opening upon 2 quick tricks, or even less, provided holdings are freakish, and may be bid high without much danger. In any position, bid hands like the following:

♠ A K 5 4 2	♣ 6 4 2
♥ K 6 3	♦ 9 7
♠ A Q 10 4 2	♣ 6 4
♥ K Q 6 3	♦ 9 7
♠ A 10 7 5 4 2	♣ 6
♥ K Q 6 3 2	♦ 9
♠ A 10 7 5 4 2	♣ None
♥ K J 6 4 3 2	♦ 9
♠ Q J 10 9 8 7 5	♣ None
♥ K Q 6 4 3 2	♦ None

Compensated Bids

A compensated bid of one in which strength of one kind atones for lack of strength of another kind. Thus lack of strength in major suits requires added strength in quick tricks. Lack of strength in quick tricks requires added strength in probable tricks, so that rebidding may be carried higher with safety.

Complementary hands are those in which strength of one partner rounds out the sort of strength lacking by the other partner. If you are very weak in quick tricks, and long in probable tricks, due to suit length, partner's assist must be based upon great quick trick strength, thus complementing your own strength in suit length, giving you jointly both trump length and high honors.

MADE TO CHEVROLET ORDER FOR CANADIANS

What does Chevrolet's No-Draft Ventilation Mean?

A revolutionary development which will cause as much comment today as did Chevrolet's adoption of the Six-Cylinder Engine five years ago

Now Chevrolet "scoops" all other low-priced cars again! This time with the greatest advancement in motoring comfort since the closed body itself—Fisher No-Draft Ventilation, individually controlled.

WHAT IT IS

Fisher No-Draft Ventilation is a system which utilizes the natural air currents generated by the car's motion to send fresh air into the car and to eject used air and smoke. It employs no fans, motors or other mechanical devices likely to get out of order.

WHAT IT DOES

Eliminates Drafts: Fisher No-Draft Ventilation ends drafts and yet permits perfect ventilation of the car interior. Prevents window clouding: keeps all the glass in the car clear and unclouded, without letting in rain or snow. Circulates air in the car: expels stale air and smoke. Cools car in hot weather: creates cooling summer breezes even on hottest dog-days.

This new System is individually controlled. Each occupant of the car adjusts the ventilator nearest him, opening or closing it as desired, without danger of drafts to other passengers.

A COMPLETELY MODERN CAR

This great advancement is only one of the remarkable new features, pre-selected by 30,000 motorists, that add to the value of the new Chevrolet Six, Made to Order for Canadians. Others include: Bigger, roomier Fisher bodies . . . "Air-Streamed" styling . . . Cushion-Balanced six-cylinder engine . . . Silent Second Syncro-Mesh . . . Extra horsepower . . . Octane Selector . . . lower centre of gravity . . . Starter-ator simplified starting . . . and many more! This is a year when it will pay you to make your motor car investment shrewdly . . . on facts. That's why we urge you, before you buy any car, to have a demonstration of these outstanding advancements in Chevrolet's proved Six—the only low-priced car that has them all!

Low prices that take account of today's incomes . . . easy GMAC terms . . . Dominion-Wide Lubrication Plan including ten free chassis lubrications.

Petes Defeat Cobourg 8-1 for 4th Straight Win

CALLADINE IS STAR OF HOMESTERS

Scores Four Goals, Assists in Another Besides Checking Effectively at Centre Ice.

NUMEROUS PENALTIES..

Locals Play Vastly Superior Game to Visitors in Every Department.

The Petes' juniors clamped onto the top rung of their O.H.A. group by taking their fourth straight win last night, swamping Cobourg, 8 to 1, before a good crowd. The ice was fast to start with, but heavy at the end. The win last night made it a certainty for the locals in the playoffs, as they have only two remaining games.

The young Blue and Whites proved vastly superior to the husky visitors in all departments from start to finish. They outskated and outplayed them throughout, flashing neat combination and hard shooting, while their checking efforts had Cobourg helpless. The only goal scored against the local outfit was a fluke, a long bouncing shot from the blue-line fooling Sanderson. It came in the second frame. The Petes ran in two in the first, four in the middle go and two in the last.

Bill Calladine was outstanding for the homesters, turning in a stellar all-round performance. He scored four of the goals and figured in another, besides checking effectively at centre ice. Cliff Cadd was also a shining light, scoring one and aiding in another. McGregor did the same. The main trio of local forwards showed to great advantage, while the second line also looked better than the out-of-towners. The local defence had a big edge over their opponents, going very well. Sanderson had a fairly easy night in goal, but at times stopped plenty close in.

Despite the eight goals against him, Platt turned aside a bunch and would have shown up better but for a weak defence. The forwards worked hard, but lacked coaching. Henderson, Lucas and Bevans were the pick of the players offensively. The visitors had twelve penalties chalked up against them, mostly for crude checking, while seven were counted against the Petes. A free-for-all among the players enlivened things toward the end, Hill and E. Parker drawing majors for starting the fist fight.

Calladine Scores First.

McGregor missed an open net early in the first, and Calladine threatened twice, finally scoring from a face-off ten feet in front of the Cobourg net. Cadd made it two a minute later on a beautiful solo rink-length rush right through to the goal. Calladine tallied again but the play was called back. Mitchell went off for tripping, followed by Williamson for the same offence. Mitchell was no sooner back than he was chased again for boarding. Burley and Hill almost rang the bell, and play was fast for a space. Henderson drew the gate for cross-checking just before the end.

Calladine intercepted a pass to start the second frame and the goalie blocked his shot, but Jay raced in and hammered home the rebound. Calladine made it 4-0 right after on McGregor's pass at the goal-mouth. Cobourg buzzed around hard for a few minutes, and Cadd got the finger for tripping. Goody followed suit for hooking to save as Calladine went in fast. A puck hit the post by Sanderson, and then Bevans bounced a hard one from the defence-line to notch the only Cobourg counter. Henderson hit the trail for slashing, and Calladine scored again, intercepting a pass at the enemy blue line and flipping a quick one into the corner of the net.

Neat Combination.

Shortly after, McGregor converted Cadd's pass on nice teamplay. Sanderson pulled a great save, and then Calladine was rubbed out for hooking. Henderson found the skids once more for holding, and then it was J. Parker for slashing. The Cobourg goalie starred as the Petes lined up around him and peppered the puck at that goal for a solid minute without getting it in.

Calladine took the air for boarding early in the third, Cadd making the team two men short then for tripping, but the locals checked the visitors up tight. Comrie adorned the fence next for tripping, followed by Mitchell for slugging. Calladine chalked up another marker on smart solo work, going in fast to bat in his own rebound. Henderson was run off for using the butt-end, Calladine dittoing for charging. Then Goody got it for the same thing, Fenton joining the Big Parade right after for boarding. Play was slower for a bit and then Hill and Parker tangled in a fight, players of both sides jumping in and giving the referee a job to restore order. The pair got major penalties, and play speeded up. With a minute to go, Burley blazed a shot from outside defence, and the puck was deflected off a defenceman's stick into the goal to wind up the countering.

The teams:

HOPERS TURN BACK BOWMANVILLE 6-4

Winners Play Five-man Defense in Third Period to Hold Early Lead.

PORT HOPE, January 21. — In a rugged Intermediate O.H.A. game here last night Port Hope defeated Bowmanville 6-4 and showed a complete reversal of form over their appearance in Bowmanville last week when they were defeated 9-4. Micks in the Port Hope nets played a stellar game and Harwood and Sneyd on defence checked and bodied with noticeable effect. Bowmanville led after the first period 3-2, but at the end of the second Port Hope were in the lead 6-4. The first two periods saw both teams playing smart hockey, but in the final twenty minutes Port Hope played a five-man defence, which Bowmanville failed to penetrate. The line-ups:

Bowmanville — Goal, Martin; defence, Densen and Chartran; centre, O. Piper; wings, Piper and Jamieson; subs., Chartran, Candler, Rundle and Hooper.

Port Hope — Goal, Micks; defence, Harwood and Sneyd; centre Dawley; wings, Highfield and Rowden; subs., Francey, Hagerman, Berbert, and Roche.

Cantonwine Can Twine a Mean Noose

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, our 2 hockey teams up to the day this was written ain't lost a game as yet, which ain't such a rotten record. The juniors put themselves in a nice place to cop the group honors when they invaded Bowmanville and beat the rubber town kids on their own cushion, not exactly a easy job for any man's team. The young fry has now grabbed 3 games in a row, and will take some beating in the group battle.

The intermediates ain't been licked yet either ,old-timer, although they didn't do quite so well in the Bowmanville invasion as did the kids. A 3-3 tie was the best they could do, but mebbe at that the Petes was lucky, for the game was played under conditions that might easy of caused a fluke win for the Bowmanville crew. The going was more suitable for a water polo game than for a hockey fixture, and everybody, including the referee, was pretty well water-logged before the battle was half over. The teams depending on natural ice is sure having a tough time with this Florida winter weather, and if they ain't a few weeks of frigid temperature developed before long it's just going to be too bad about completing a schedule.

Our chesty rassling friend, Mister H. Cantonwine, was the centre of a storm scene in Toronto the other nite, Mac, in the course of which Mister Cantonwine was crowned with a pop bottle. A lotta folks still take their rassling seriously, Mac, hence the riot when the Portland hangman done his favorite stunt of hanging his opponent on the ropes. You'd of thought by this time that the fans would grasped the idea that this rope speciality is just a little bit of showmanship on the part of Mister Cantonwine, just a part of the act, and it should merely rate a laugh instead of causing the fans to see red. Evidently many of the Toronto followers of the game is still blind to the racket, for anyway when the Cantonwine person went through according to routine with his hangman stuff the crowd started a riot. The Socialist idea is all wet. If you did divide all the money in the world up equally it wouldn't be a week before some of the folks would be handing their share back to somebody in the rassling game or some other racket.

Our Mister Bailey has been in the limelight again. I've always claimed that if they stait him and Mister Cotton alongside a centre man that could go the length of the ice without falling over his own feet that the pair would start clicking goals, and the way they been performing since Mister Bill Thoms was hired for the Leafs gives me a good chance to say, "I told you so."

Baseball is just round the corner, Mac. In fact, with Mister B. Ruth and the Yanks in the annual argument over the Babe's salary it might be claimed the season is about here. A nice bit of ballyhoo that yearly scrap, and it will likely wind up as usual with the Babe getting as much salary as a railway president.

Well, Mac, I'll lay off now.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

KEMPT'S COMBINES GAIN TOP OF EAST PETERBOROUGH LOOP BY BLANKING CARTERS 5 TO 0

Bill Cripps Suffers Injured Shoulder Following Collision With Lackey.

HEAVY CHECKING.

Foley Plays Good Game in Losers' Net—Norwood's Front Line Works Effectively.

HASTINGS, Jan. 21 (Examiner Correspondence). — Playing their best game of the season, Norwood Combines whitewashed Herbie Payne's Carters of Peterborough 5 to 0 on Friday night in a scheduled East Peterborough League game at Norwood Arena. The win puts the Combines on the top of the League and brings their present winning streak up to four.

Alex. Kempt was obliged to start with only three subs, and after the first period he lost the services of Bill Cripps, who collided with Laskey and suffered an injured shoulder that compelled him to retire.

The game was interesting despite the fact the score was a little one-sided. The Truckers' front lines could not get started, being checked almost before they got started. On the defence Lackey and Swanger used their weight to advantage, also Stante, who relieved them. Tommy Foley in the nets could not be blamed for the loss, as the five that beat him he had no chance on.

Star of Game.

For the Combines, the first string line of Cripps, Stevenson and Calladine went well; Rogers also put up a good performance along with McConnell, but the star of the game, if one must be picked from the classy outfit, must go to "Mose" Scriver, husky defenceman, who played one of the best games of his career; his rushes were dead on and ended with a shot on goal. Along with Webb, they were obliged to go nearly the entire sixty minutes without a rest. Beavis in goal gave a masterful display of net-minding.

The game opened rather slow for the first few minutes, Carters carrying the play into Combine territory most of the time. From a scramble at the right boards, Meagher shot; the puck glanced off Beavis into the corner, but the goal judge put up his hand. In the argument that followed, Beavis took a punch at the goal judge and was promptly banished by Max Board for two minutes, Pat Calladine going into the nets. With this advantage, the Truckers put on more pressure, but to no avail. Webb got a penalty. "Mose" Scriver went through the entire works, but Foley outguessed him. On his next rush he passed to Calladine for the first goal. Less than a minute later, Bill Cripps got the rubber at centre, rounded the defence, to go right in on top of Foley to make the score 2-0 at the end of the first.

Best Hockey of Night.

The second period provided the best hockey of the night. F. Cripps went off for tripping, and the Carters moved up, Beavis being called upon to make some hot saves. Lackey bodied Bill Cripps and he retired. Fred Cripps got a rest for dumping Meagher, and Webb followed him. With a two-man advantage, Carters had a wonderful chance to even matters up, but their rushes were off the mark. Bill Rogers, the midget of the Combines' second string line got a big hand from the crowd when he dumped Lackey.

Take 2—Kempt's Combines ... ...

Score Three Goals

The final session was just under way when Magee got the gate for crashing Webb. Scriver took the rubber at his own blue line to make one of the best rushes of the game to put the Combines three up. Three goals up the Combines watched the defense very close until Stante was warming the bench for dumping Webb, F. Cripps going through the defence for the fourth one. McConnell got the last one on a solo effort with but ten seconds to go.

Combines.—Goal, Beavis; defense, B. Cripps and Webb; centre, Stevenson; wings, F. Cripps and Calladine. Subs., Rogers, Scriver and McConnell.

Carters.—Goal, Foley; defense, Swanger and Lackey; centre, Maudsley; wings, Meagher and Magee; subs., B. Jones, H. Jones, Carroll and Stante.

Summary

First Period:
Norwood—Calladin (Scriver).
Norwood—B. Cripps.
Penalties.—Beavis, Webb.

Second Period:
No Score.
Penalties.—F. Cripps, Webb, Rogers, Magee.

Third Period:
Norwood—Scriver.
Norwood—F. Cripps.
Norwood—McConnell.
Penalties—Magee, Stante 2.

P.C.I. Beats Norwood

In the Junior City League game P.C.I. won a hard-fought battle from the Norwood kids, 1 to 0. The score is a good indication of the play, P.C.I. getting their goal in the first period on a shot by Kirkwood.

The last two periods Norwood had as much of the play, but couldn't even it up. With three minutes to go in the last period, Alex Kempt sent everyone up, but Sloan in the nets was the P.C.I. hero.

Jopling of the visitors was the star of the game, his rushes being dangerous every time. For Norwood every boy gave all he had.

P.C.I.—Goal, Sloan; defence, Richardson and Jopling; centre, Lipsett; wings, Archibald and Howland; subs., Kirkwood, Kingdon, Begley and Stapley.

Norwood. — Goal, Thoraby; defense, L. Rogers and Davis; centre, Goden; wings, McGowan and C. Puffer; subs., Innis, G. Puffer, N. Rogers and Stewart.

MAROONS FACING TOUGH ASSIGNMENT

Amerks Hook-up With Red Wings at Detroit in Week-end Battle.

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (C.P.).—Forecasts said "cold and possibly stormy" for a quartette of Canadian section National League teams over the week-end. The prospects were held particularly gloomy for Sunday night at Chicago, New York and Detroit.

Canadiens, who can't manage any winning at all away from home, are hopeful of picking up two points in Montreal to-night at the expense of Boston Bruins. Somewhat less hopeful are Maroons, Ottawa Senators and New York Americans.

A win would place Canadiens definitely back in contention in "low-brow" Canadian division where it doesn't take a great many points to be a contender just now.

Maroons pull down a tough assignment, facing Rangers at New York Sunday night. Senators are out to see if Tommy Gorman's Black Hawks are as potent as their 6-0 win Thursday night over Americans would indicate, meeting Hawks at Chicago.

But the so recently humiliated Amerks have drawn the hardest job of all. They hook up with Detroit Red Wings at Detroit. The border team has been unbeaten in the last 12 starts.

EXTRA DISCUSSION.

OTTAWA. — Although the Dominion-Provincial Conference was officially concluded late last night, the majority of the delegates remained in Ottawa for further discussions among themselves, and with various departments of the Government. "The Conference proper is concluded," one delegate said, "but the work of the committees will go on."

TWO SHUOUTS ARE FEATURE OF SENIOR 'A' O.H.A. HOCKEY

Kitchener Blanks Hamilton 1-0 While Sailors Whitewash Nationals 3-0.

TIGHTLY FOUGHT.

(By the Canadian Press)

Hamilton Tigers apparently have lost the knack of bulging the nets on their own ice and today they looked back on two successive 1-0 defeats or approximately 130 minutes of scoreless hockey.

Showing scant regard for the highly-placed Tigers, Kitchener Empires stepped out on Hamilton ice last night and eked out a 1-0 win, completely demoralizing the Yellow and Black attack with their tenacious checking.

In the other game in the group Port Colborne Sailors stretched their record of wins to three straight when they shutout Toronto Nationals, 3-0, on Port Colborne ice and drew to within two points of the third-place Niagara Falls Cataracts.

In the game at Hamilton, Empires chased the puck-carrier into the corners and boards and worried him so he forgot all about combination. If a Tiger did get into position to shoot, Berner in the Kitchener nets would spoil his effort.

Lederman Scores

The only goal was scored when Lederman picked up the rebound of Harlock's shot after a furious Kitchener rush and pounded it past Marsh.

This inpotency against teams in the lower half of the standing, has cost Tigers their chance to dislodge the league-leading Toronto Marlboros, who were standing idle, while Yellow and Black were dropping games to the fifth-place Empires and sixth-place Toronto Nationals.

Port Colborne were extended to the limit by Nationals, despite the difference in scoring. The win tightened up the top section of the league and the Ports in fourth place today, are only five points behind the leading Marlboros.

Johnny Cuthbert, Ports' methodical pivot, whose goal in the Kitchener game, gave his team a 1-0 win, scored the first marker on a long shot and Wade duplicated this shortly after. Fan Heximer notched the other one.

Marty Nugent, lankky defenceman for the Toronto outfit, was outstanding and unfortunate in that he did not score.

Fenelon Falls Wins From 'Caygeon 2-0

FENELON FALLS, Jan. 21.—In a junior O.H.A. game here last night Fenelon Falls defeated Bobcaygeon by 2 to 0. Graham scored in the first period on a pass from Warren, while Henderson scored in the second period on a pass from Robertson. Teams:

Fenelon Falls—Goal, Smith; defence, Littleton and Robertson; centre, Pentland; wings, Deyman and Henderson; subs., Townley, Graham, Warren and Jewel.

Bobcaygeon—Goal, Kimble; defence, Kennedy and Kellett; centre, Johnston; wings, Conway and A. Nichols; subs., T. Nichols, Newman, Gallagher and Kelso.

POOR CROWD SEES SUBSTITUTE BOUT

Birkie and Jimmy Braddock Fail to Excite N.Y. Fans in Tame Affair.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21. (AP) — Hans Birkie, German heavyweight from California, to-day held a place that might have belonged to Billy Petrolle or the Dutch Windmill, Beb Van Klaveren—that of the winner of last night's feature bout at Madison Square Garden—but it wasn't the same at all.

Where the Petrolle-Van Klaveren lightweight scrap, cancelled because of Bep's cracked hand, was expected to pack them in, Birke and his opponent, Jimmy Braddock of Jersey City, proved singularly unacceptable substitutes to the fight faithful. Only about 4,000 turned out and many of them didn't remain for the finish of the dull bout.

Going slowly and carefully, Birke forced what action there was and made himself some trouble in the eighth round when he walked into a couple of ponderous wallops from the right hand that Braddock kept crocked most of the time. He shook off the effects and disturbed Jimmy with a couple of hard socks in the 10th.

Birkie weighed 200 pounds, Braddock 181½.

A couple of the five round preliminaries furnished more excitement for the small crowd than the main event as Abe Feldman of New York and Charley Massera of Pittsburgh, two promising young heavyweights, triumphed. Feldman belted out a decision over Johnny Rousseau of Montreal and Massera was credited with a knockout over Arthur Huttick of New York in three rounds.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

MORE THAN HALF OF NEWCOMERS TO NATIONAL LEAGUE THIS YEAR GOT THEIR START IN THE WEST

Wiseman, Aitkenhead, Asmundson, Doraty, Starr and Jackson Hail From Prairie.

"BULL-DAYS" OVER.

Bill Thoms, Newmarket and West Toronto Ace is Well on Way to Success.

TORONTO, Jan. 21 (C.P.)—For one reason or another it's a longer jump to the National League from the hockey ivory pits of Western Canada than from the East's amateur ranks—but the Plainsmen get there just the same.

This is what they call a "West year" under the big top, but not one of the Prairie hockeyists who has made a success in his freshman campaign came straight from amateur company. Rather, it was a highly-experienced group that caught on.

Such fire-year stars as Eddie Wiseman of Detroit, Andy Aitkenhead and Ossie Asmundson of New York Rangers, Ken Doraty of Toronto, and Wilf Starr and Red Jackson of New York Americans won their big league tryouts by demonstrating unmistakable ability in the minors.

"Bull-Days" Over

The bull days for Ontario amateurs when a leap from non-paying clubs to the major circuit was frequently completed without aid of stops by the wayside, may not be over, but no such hop has been negotiated this season. In other years Howie Morenz, Charlie Conacher, Joe Primeau, Harvey Jackson, Bob Gracie and others turned the trick.

Of more than 20 newcomers to the N. H. L. this year who have virtually clinched places, more than half got their hockey breeding in the West. And when they come to choose the best freshman of 1933 a Prairie puck-chaser probably will be named.

Outstanding Forward

Wiseman, chunky little 150-pounder from Regina, who got his professional experience with Chicago Shamrocks in two American League campaigns, stands out at mid-season as the outstanding forward among the freshies.

Fortified with more speed than Coach Jack Adams had on tap in his Red Wing Camp and a dead-on shot from the right boards, Wiseman stepped into a place on the Detroit team with ease. He was fresh from leading American League scorers last season and promptly stepped up with the first dozen point-makers in the N.H.L. American Division.

Wiseman has accumulated a total of 14 scoring points to keep in a tie with such noted marksmen as Ebbie Goodfellow, a teammate, and Art Somers of Chicago Black Hawks.

Starr and Jackson, both Winnipeg products, have been equally sensational since they joined Americans late in December. Starr, a centre with blinding speed, got his chance with the Americans after break-up of the Springfield club of the Canadian-American League and Jackson graduated from the Amerk farm club, New Haven, in the same circuit.

A third recruit who has made the grade with Joe Simpson's surprisingly strong club is Ronny Martin, left winger from Calgary, who developed into a high scorer last season with the champion Buffalo Bisons of the International League.

Doraty, a little fellow who came to Toronto's Leafs via Cleveland and Syracuse of the International, has worked regularly alongside Andy Blair and Bob Gracie on a steady scoring front line that has held its own, and now Bill Thoms, former Newmarket and West Toronto Junior ace, is on the way to success. Thoms had less than a season's experience with Syracuse.

Two conspicuous newcomers work with Wiseman on the Detroit club—Carl Voss, ex-hockey and football star of Toronto, and Walter Buswell, defenceman. Voss, the International League's leading scorer last season, was purchased at the end of the campaign by Rangers, who sold him to Detroit. Buswell played with Chicago Shamrocks.

Lester Patrick calls Aitkenhead, blonde goaler from Saskatoon, his "find." The 28-year-old Western Scot, born in Glasgow, reached hockey's heights slowly, but he made good immediately upon stepping into the shoes of John Ross Roach, made vacant when Patrick disposed of the veteran to Detroit.

Lanky Gordie Pettinger of Regina and Asmundson, from Saskatoon, are considered by Patrick sure-fire to stay with his Blueshirts if they keep up the good work. Both played with Bronx Tigers in the Canadian-Americans loop a year ago.

Chicago's outstanding new men are Don McFayden and Don McKenzie, both Alberta-bred who were picked up when the American League Shamrocks disbanded after winning a title last year. Roger Jenkins, right winger, is another recruit who has showed ability in a Hawk uniform.

Cy Denneny scored a beat on the boys when he replaced the injured Alex Connell with young Bill Beveridge, Providence Red goalie. When Connel was ready again for action Beveridge had played such brilliant hockey there was no place for the veteran who, it seems, still is worth $10,000 to the Senators. Fort William Gus Forslund, who did minor league work at Duluth, has been a success at right wing for the somewhat downtrodden Ottawa club.

Canadiens discovered two more flying Frenchmen in Art Giroux and Leo Gaudreault, forwards of Providence. They are "up" to stay.

Bowmanville Squad Hockey-Wise Outfit

The strong and canny bunch of Bowmanville Intermediates are here Monday night for their return game with the Petes, clashing at the Brock at 8.30, if there's ice. It should be another hard old battle, as they fought ninety minutes to a 3-all tie in Bowmanville last Monday night. This is the team that put the Petes out of the running last year, and they have always been a tough morsel away from home.

The locals aren't taking them lightly, however, and after the Petes' fine showing right in Bowmanville ,they feel they can lick them here. They were ahead twice in that game, but it was sewed up late in the third period and three overtime sessions failed to break the knot. The local Intermediates, as well as the Juniors, seem to be going some place this year, not having a loss so far. They will give the fans a game to be remembered here Monday, and the largest crowd of the year is expected. The Juniors go to Cobourg that night.

STARS SUFFER 5-0 DEFEAT IN GOAL RAMPAGE

Tecs Push Five Goals Behind Goalie Benny Grant in Less Than Two Minutes.

CLEVER COMBINATION.

TORONTO, Jan. 21. (CP)—Thirty-eight hundred London fans are to-day, no doubt, talking about the five goals they saw Tecumsehs push by Goalie Benny Grant in Syracuse nets last night. Five goals in a hockey game is not an unusual occurrence but when they are scored in two minutes they assume a different color.

One point down, Syracuse trooped into London yesterday for a game which meant the leadership of the International Hockey League. To-day they are three points down, because they permitted Tecumsehs to run in five goals during two minutes of the second period and walk off with a 5-2 decision.

Gene Carrigan, towering centre man of the winners started the spree, Leo Quenneville continued it a scant 10 seconds later and Eric Pettinger finished it, scoring the last three goals, to leave the fans gasping in their seats.

Clever Combination

Combination method of the Tecumsehs which has enabled them to hold their high position since the season opened was again in evidence, assists being given on all the counters.

Davie Downie and Jack Markle scored for Syracuse after this but London were content to take things easy, after their splurge.

Grant, who suffered a cut nose in a game the previous night, stopped another shot, this time with his mouth and was forced to leave the game for repairs.

Windsor Bulldogs pulled further away from the fifth-place Detroit Olympics, when they downed Cleveland, 4-2, for their fourth straight victory. Handicapped by having only four substitutes, Indians toiled diligently, tying the score on two occasions.

Eddie Rodden, returned to a Windsor uniform after an absence of three years played smart hockey, giving the pass for the winning goal. Hughie Plaxton, Johnny Proudlock, Harvey Rockburn and Mickey Blake were the Windsor marksmen, while Halliday and Riley scored for the losers.

SPORTS Day by Day

HOCKEY—BOWLING—BOXING

BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

It is likely that the benefit hockey game for George Merrett will be held around the firsto f February. The local O.H.A. intermediates have two games at the Brock next week—Bowmanville on Monday and Port Hope on Friday. Then there will be E.P.L. and City League games on Tuesday and Wednesday there, so it was decided that the following week would be the best spot to stage the benefit night in. An all-star East Peterborough League team will play the Petes; there will probably be an exhibition of lacrosse on skates, and other attractions.

* * * * * * *

We're looking for a full house at the Brock Monday when the Bowmanville veterans resume their feud with the Blue and Whites. It's between these teams for the group championship, and believe you us they're well-matched outfits. Down in Bowmanville last Monday, ninety minutes of hard-fought hockey came and went and still the teams were even. The boys dragged themselves off the ice nursing a 3-3 tie and making threats of what each would do in the return tilt. Well, it's on Monday, and we'll see what we'll see.

* * * * * * *

No more predicting close games as far as the juniors are concerned, until the playoffs. No, sir, they crossed us up badly last night. We thought this big Cobourg team would give 'em a fight, but it was just a walkaway for the Petes. An 8-1 count about tells the story, and that lone Cobourg counter was a fluke. The Petes had no trouble caging the rubber eight times and came close to putting in half a dozen more. Still, it wasn't a bad game to watch, and doubtless that large crowd of fans now realize we've got a pretty smart little junior outfit. They should win their next two games of the schedule and then try conclusions with stronger squads.

* * * * * * *

Bill Calladine was the big noise for the locals last night, the tow-head not only checking and stickhandling his opponents dizzy but scoring four goals himself and assisting in a fifth! It was a great performance all right. Cadd, Jay, McGregor, in fact the whole team looked fine in every way. Cobourg really wasn't an awful lot of competition last night, but probably the Petes would have looked just as good against any outfit in the group last night.

* * * * * * *

This guy Goody, Number 3, on defence scaled around two hundred pounds, but it was just so much beef on the shelf as he didn't know what to do with it and far too slow a skater. Lucas turned in several pretty stick-handling efforts, and young Henderson, who played some with Cobourg intermediates last year, also showed up well at times, but he was dirty. The bunch of them were guilty of a lot of raw checking, but quite a bit of it was just lack of coaching. Don't blame their goalie too much as he really did look good on a number of tough ones, and then the Petes were going through the defence like a razor through cheese repeatedly and right in on him. John Ross Roach can't stop those kind very often.

* * * * * * *

Hill and Parker had some little argument later in the game and started to throw fists toward each other. The other boys should have kept their heads and stayed out of it. It was bad enough for them to mix it, but we see no reason for a bunch of kibitzers going over the boards. Maybe they meant to try and stop it, maybe not. But they weren't needed, as there was help in the penalty box, and that often starts a riot. The referee was right on the job last night.

* * * * * * *

These Norwood Combines must have been hot last night, as they more than avenged themselves on Carters, rapping in five goals and blanking the trucking lads. We hear the Norwood forwards and Foley in the losers 'net were the big stars of the tussle. The City League affair down there must have been a pip last night, P.C.I. taking a 1-0 decision over Norwood. Those Collegiate boys look to be headed toward a title in a hurry, and they certainly are practising hard on the quiet. There'll likely be a city loop double-header at the Brock on Tuesday. It was 4-3 for Keene of the West End circuit last night over Maroons.

* * * * * * *

Westclox didn't play last night in Lakefield, the game being put over till Monday up there. Following the junior contest at the Brock here last e'en, Manager Eddie Wright had his intermediates step through a lively hour of drilling. The ice was pretty slow but the boys had a stiff workout, and they should be right for that game here Monday against the tough Bowmanville clan. All we need these nights is ice.

* * * * * * *

Shadow-boxing: Paul Berlenbach, ex-light heavyweight champ, who earned $300,000 when in the ring, is broke at 32 and advertising for a job as chauffeur . . . . Dave Shade, great middleweight a few years ago, was taken to Bellevue Hospital, N.Y., in a straightjacket the other day, eleven husky cops having a job to hold him . . . . Al Wolgast, terrific socker from Michigan who was lightweight champ some twenty years back, has been training hard on the Coast for many years, gone a bit screwy on the subject of another big bout which never comes . . . . Jack Johnson, who laid down to Willard in the heavyweight brawl in Havana, was refused a license to box last week in Paris . . . . And so it goes, great ring heroes of yesteryear just tramps to-day; they've sure earned any big purses they may have drawn when in their prime.

BELLEVILLE WINS FROM MADOC 6-2

Nickle Stars in Goal for Losers—Quinte Juniors Continue to Head Group.

BELLEVILLE, January 21.—Belleville Juniors continued at the head of their group, the result of a 6-2 win at the expense of Madoc Juniors here last night. The locals had far too much experience and considerably more speed than the losers and were continually carrying the play to the opposition. The addition of Roy Covert, with Kingston last year, bolstered the second line and "Gilly" Goyer has a well-balanced squad that should go somewhere in the junior race.

Stars for Madoc.

Nickle in goal for Madoc was easily the star of his team, being given but little protection. Rashotte and Armstrong played well up front, with Ashley showing the best of the defence. McGuire, Morgan and Covert carried the brunt of front line play, with Rigby and Thompson forming a formidable defence. All of the goals scored by the winners were the result of well-timed combination plays. The game was clean, only four penalties being imposed, Belleville drawing three, and all coming in the second period.

The line-ups:

Belleville — Goal, Sinfield; defence, Rigby and Thompson; centre, Barriage; wings, McGuire and Goyer; subs., Hogan, Covert, Morgan, and Harvey.

Madoc — Goal, Nickle; defence, Ashley and West; centre, Rashotte; wings, Armstrong and McGuire; subs., Akey, Terry and Ross.

Referee—Leo Barrett, Belleville.

The Summary.

First Period—

1—Belleville, Barriage (Goyer), 1.40.

2—Belleville, McGuire (Goyer), 12.00.

3—Belleville, Morgan (Harvey), 3.00.

Second Period—

4—Madoc , Armstrong, 8.30.

4—Madoc, Armstrong (Rashotte), 8.30.

5—Madoc, Akey (Ashley), 8.00.

Third Period—

6—Belleville, Morgan (Covert), 4.00.

7—Belleville, Goyer (Barriage, McGuire), 7.30.

8—Belleville, Covert (Morgan), 2.00.

N.Y. Rangers Lead In Game Penalties

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (CP.) — Lester Patrick, who has out-foxed many a managerial rival in his highly successful guidance of the New York Rangers' destinies in the National Hockey League, would seem to have out-foxed those who recently have held referee-favoritism accountable for the Blue-Shirts present winning ways.

Spurred by the jibes—perhaps good-natured, perhaps not—that reached his ears at more than one point on the league circuit, Lester locked himself up with statistics for the 24 games his men have played this season, and to-day produced these facts:

His Rangers drew more penalties than their opponents in 18 of those two dozen games.

Two games saw the penalties equally divided.

A grand total of 337 minutes have been served by Ranger-men against 263 minutes by their opponents.

"And," said Lester, that familiar look of triumph in his eyes, "figures do not lie, even in times like the present."

NOT EXERCISE CAUTION

TORONTO.—A coroner's jury investigating the death on Jan. 1 of Annie Corrison found that George S. Lyon, 74, North American senior golf champion, driver of the car which struck the woman, had failed to exercise due caution.

Mr. Lyon who is also a former Canadian amateur champion was present at the hearing but did not testify.

An autopsist's report showed the woman had not died directly from injuries suffered, but rather from a condition caused by lying in bed for some time.

Bowling Gossip

The biggest upset of the current bowling season was chalked up on the record lists this week when the C.G.E. shop league bowlers gathered at the Duffus alleys on Wednesday night. In a group one league battle the clever Draftsmen, who usually set the pace were overwhelmed by their old rivals The Stores No. 1 gang who scattered 3507 pins in three games to set up a record for team total in the C.G.E. Shop League. The Drafting Room team total was 2949, Hickey and Metherel being the only bowlers to top the 600 mark. For the winners Bud Weese was high with a triple score of 829. The following are the scores of the winners:

Fred Martin	236	232	208	676
John Bell	218	166	203	587
Fred Reed	196	223	232	651
John Playford	254	214	296	764
Bud Weese	265	296	268	829
	1169	1131	1207	3507

The Rate Setters led by Reg. Dyer with a high three of 730 romped away to a four point victory over the Stores No. 2 team. Tom Miller with 627 was the only player on the losing side to top the 600 mark.

The Machine shop gave the Engineers a rough passage, winning every game. The latter team staged a rally in the second canto but lost out by four pins. Bill Bolam was high for the winners with 638, while Fred Jones and Dave Menzies had singles of 254 and 244 respectively.

The Engineers No. 2 team handed the Test Men the small end of a 3-1 argument in a Group 2 league fixture. Langley for the Engineers was outstanding with 730.

Cost No. 2 team humbled their co-workers on Cost No. 1 line-up by taking every game. The scores however were rather low on both sides.

The league standing is as follows:

Drafting	56
Stores No. 1	56
Price Setting	44
Stores No. 2	40
Machine Shop	26
Test	18

FRENCH SCORN TECHNOCRACY

Most Economists, Industrialists Refuse to Discuss it—Press Ignores It.

HOLD IDEA RIDICULOUS.

(By Adelaide Kerr, A.P. Staff Writer.)

PARIS, January 21 (A.P.). — The French reaction to technocracy is as cold as to prohibition.

Most French economists and industrialists refuse to discuss it until it has been more fully explained. French newspapers ignore it and the average Frenchman has never heard of it.

Those who will discuss the theories generally oppose them. "The crisis itself, and not the machine, is causing unemployment," said a member of one of the largest industrial firms in France.

"Man will never accept an exchange medium of energy units. He wants money he can touch— and save," declared a well-known economist.

"There's nothing new in that theory," said a French official of the International Chamber of Commerce. "Europe advanced such an idea a decade ago."

Francais Delaisi, French economist, thinks the idea that the machine is threatening the social structure is "ridiculous."

Cricket Results

BALLARAT, Australia, Jan. 21. (C. P. Cable).—Fresh from their impressive victory over the Australian cricket eleven in the third test match the English eleven began a two day game here to-day against a Victoria country team.

England scored 255, with Leyland knocking up 62 and the Nawab of Pataudi 54 while the Victoria team playing 13 men had scored 36 for one wicket when play was closed.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

Little Nelly
Liked bread and jelly,
But her brother Fred
Liked jelly and bread.
—Shadow Song.

Knarf was in the strangest place you can imagine. He had made himself small and had jumped into a glass of jelly. Why? Because he had wanted to go on an adventure. The other shadows—Mij, Flor, Hanid and Yam—hadn't been as foolish as Knarf. They had let him jump into the glass of jelly without jumping in themselves.

Even at that it mightn't have been so bad for Knarf to have jumped into the jelly, only the minute after he had jumped in, the jelly began to harden. Then Knarf couldn't jump out again. It isn't pleasant to feel that you are stuck in a glass of jelly and that when the cook gets up in the morning (for it was still late at night), she is going to put a cover on the glass, and take everything down to a shelf in the cellar. You see, you're liable to have to stay in the cellar the whole winter.

Eat Up the Jelly

Well, Knarf wondered how he was going to get out, and the other shadows wondered how they were going to get Knarf out. It didn't do them much good to wonder, so they finally asked the spider. The spider lived in a web in a corner of the kitchen, right behind the stove. The spider didn't like the cook at all, because the cook was always sweeping away the spider's web.

The shadows pushed and pushed, but the jar was too heavy.

"The only thing to do," the spider said, "is to eat up all the jelly. If there's no more jelly in the glass, your friend won't have any trouble getting out" The shadows agreed that this was an excellent way of getting Knarf out, but they couldn't see how they were going to eat all the jelly. Shadows, unlike children, don't care about jelly. As a matter of fact, they don't care about anything. They don't have to eat.

Then Hanid got an idea. "My little mistress likes jelly better than anything in the world. Let's take the glass of jelly to her and ask her to eat it up."

Knarf Is Saved

"But she's asleep now," the others said. Hanid said she would be glad to wake her up if she knew she was going to get some jelly. So all the shadows climbed upon the table where the glass of jelly was standing and—ugh, ugh, they pushed. It was a terribly heavy glass. Shadows aren't strong at all.

I don't think they would have moved it at all if the dog, who was asleep under the table, hadn't heard a noise and jumped to his feet to see if robbers had come into the house. He thought he saw the leg of the table moving, and he made a rush for it. This tipped the table just enough to send the glass of jelly rolling to the floor. The glass broke and the jelly spilled all over the floor. It was a great pity (for it was lovely jelly) but Master Knarf got free at last. And that was important wasn't it?

RELIEVE DISTRESS AND REDUCE TAXES

Your careful consideration of the unfortunate conditions of about 3,000 persons in this community, who are compelled to ask for relief, and your subsequent donation to the relief fund will serve two purposes. First, it will bring cheer to the needy, and secondly, it will serve to reduce our already heavy tax rate, which is of interest to all, because if the necessary amount is not forthcoming by goodwill donation, it will of necessity have to be assumed by the taxpayers later on. If, however, a goodly sum is realized from those able and willing, the Dominion and Provincial Governments will both double the amount, therefore it will be seen the latter course should be desired. Your City Council and Citizens' Committee are now asking for $20,000 which will mean $60,000, and this would go a long way towards bettering conditions locally for some time to come. Won't you do your part?

RELIEF CLOTHING BUREAU

GRAB BAG

Will corn that has been kept for centuries grow if it is planted?

What is the difference between white and black pepper?

Correctly Speaking—

Two adjectives modifying the same noun should be separated by commas if they are co-ordinate in thought; but if the first adjective is felt to be superposed on the second, they should not be separated by a comma.

WARKWORTH MAN WILL STAND TRIAL

Thomas Lamey Committed on Charge of Criminal Negligence in Auto Crash.

LINDSAY, Jan. 21.—Before His Honor Judge Ponton in the County Court yesterday, Thomas Lamey of Warkworth, was committed for trial on the charge of criminal negligence in connection with an accident in which Mrs. Sam Galbraith was seriously injured. The woman was run down by a car driven by Lamey, who elected to be tried by the judge without jury. The date of trial will be April 13th. Lamey's own bail of $1,000 was accepted. He is being defended by C. A. Payne, K.C. of Belleville.

Wm. Thompson, of Oshawa, while engaged in loading a truck with ties at Jones' mill, near Janetville, was the victim of a painful accident. His hand was jammed between two ties and his thumb was severed.

Roy J. Goring, of Peterborough, was the guest speaker at the local Kiwanis luncheon this week. He gave a most interesting address on business conditions fifty years ago—a comparison of present day merchandizing with merchandizing in the old country store and town store.

ED. FENNELL REFUSES CUT

Salary Reductions Come Under Discussion at Havelock Council Meeting.

CARETAKER APPOINTMENT

HAVELOCK, Jan. 21. (Examiner Correspondence).—Attempts at economy were frustrated on Wednesday evening at the inaugural meeting the village school board when motions to effect savings by salary reductions were vetoed with the chair voting to carry on amendment giving the secretary 10% of his old salary for acting treasurer. This action was taken after Edward Fennell, secretary-treasurer refused to take the 10% cut handed out on a motion by trustees Bernard Smith and William Copp.

This was one of the high lights in a lively session that contrasted to the meetings of late that have been comparatively quiet. It was obvious from the outset that the chairman, Fred J. Squire was not in favor of salary cuts such as were handed out and vacated the chair in favor of Trustee Robt. Crawford in the closing minutes of the meeting.

After the members took their oath of office, Fred J. Squire was chosen as chairman of the board for a third term.

A most favorable report on the Public School by Leo. W. Copp, I.P.S. was read and adopted on motion of Smith and Crawford with "That some consideration be given to improve ventilation as recommended."

Letters were read from N. L. Small, M.A., assistant in the Continuation school and Miss Emma Massie of the public school staff with reference to appointment and absence on acount of illness respectively. A letter from the school inspector told of an increased grant obtained through the efforts of T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P. The difference between the grants for a six room school and those for an eight was $120, the amount of the new grant. On motion by trustees Smith and Wannamaker a letter of condolence expressing the board's heartfelt sympathy in his recent sad bereavement. A letter from the School Trustees and Ratepayers Association was read in connection with appointing a delegate to the annual convention in Toronto and membership in the association. A letter from Miss Inkster who is teaching in Saskatoon explained an absence due to illness and the doctor's certificate.

On motion of trustees Crawford and Bullied the correspondence as read was placed on file. It was decided to take out membership for the entire board in the Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association at the cost of $7.00. Considerable discussion took place over the sending of a delegate to the convention but finally it was decided that no delegate would be sent. Smith and Copp—"That the board lay the matter over until the next meeting".—Carried.

There was only one application for school attendance officer, Joshua Parcels at a salary of $20 for the year. In previous years the board paid Fred McAdam $15 for this work and the principal reported that he made about fifty calls last year. On motion of trustees William Copp and William Bullied Mr. Parcels was given the position if he wished to take $15 for the year.

Much discussion arose over the appointment of school caretaker, two applications being received for same. John Bound at $650 and Harold Yeo at $780 for the year. Robert Buchanan, the present man get $900 per annum and was reappointed with a ten per cent reduction in salary.

TOLD SHE WOULD NEVER GET RID OF SCIATICA

But Bathurst, N.B., woman did—at the cost of $1—with T-R-C's.

Here is the story of a woman who, six years ago, was terribly crippled with Sciatica—that sharp, stabbing pain from thigh to heel. She actually lay on hot water bottles for weeks, and was told her case was so bad she would never get rid of her Sciatica:—

"My landlady saw I was hopeless and told me of a man who had boarded there getting rid of his Rheumatism by using T-R-C's (Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules). This man hadn't walked for years, but by taking a steady treatment had driven the Rheumatism right out of him.

"Well, I got a $1 box and could hardly believe the benefit I received. Why, that one $1 box drove every trace of Sciatica out of me. Once in a while since that time I get a twinge, but a few doses of T-R-C's drive it away." Mrs. Tom Magson.

Time and time again T-R-C's have given safe, speedy relief from painful Sciatica; also from Acute Rheumatic suffering, Neuritis, Neuralgia and Lumbago (Lame Back). Deep-rooted, stubborn cases of Rheumatism require patient and correct use of T-R-C's for a reasonable length of time; but you are sure of relief if you persist with T-R-C's. No harmful or habit-forming drugs.

T-R-C's do this—Enter the blood stream and help your body throw off the misery-causing poisons which have accumulated in your blood. When these go, health and happiness return. T-R-C's are 50c and $1 per box at your dealer's. 226

ROSENEATH W.A. ELECTS OFFICERS

St. James' Church Society Holds Meeting at Home of Mrs. Ross McCracken.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, January 21 — The annual meeting and election of officers was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross McCracken, by the ladies of St. James Women's Auxiliary.

The business period was chiefly the reading of various reports of the society.

The treasurer, Mrs. James Webb, gave a splendid report of the year's work and it was found very satisfactory by the auditors, Mrs. D. Robins and Miss J. Johnston, having a balance on hand of $16.36.

The secertary, Mrs. Frank Brown, read the report, showing on the minutes that 11 meetings had been held with an average attendance of 13 members, and an average collection of $1.03. There were 19 members, the president, Mrs. James Timlin, presiding at all meetings, having missed but two meetings in her three years of office.

There were six members reading the Living Message during the past year. A donation of $2 from Mrs. T. McCracken to be used toward building new steps at the church, was received.

Mrs. R. W. White, Burnley, donated a pretty embroidered quilt that sold for $10.

Mrs. M. G. Wood of the Toronto House and branch, reported; she sent splendid reports of the board meetings and thanked St. James W. A. for their work and co-operation.

A vote of thanks was tendered the officers of 1932 for the efficient manner in which they had conducted the work during the year.

Rev. F. H. Battersby, rector, officiated at the election of officers, and Mrs. John Blodgett and Mrs. Alex. Brown counted the ballots. The results were as follows: Hon. President, Mrs. F. H. Battersby; President, Mrs. Herbert McCracken; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Frank Nichol; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. James Webb; Secretary, Mrs. Frank Brown; Treasurer, Mrs. Rupert Nichol; Little Helpers' Secretary, Mrs. Clara Braithwaite; E. C. D. Treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Timlin; Leaflet Secretary, Mrs. John Drope, Auditors, Mrs. Edgar Braithwaite, and Mrs. William Houghtailing.

The meeting was concluded by the new president, and on motion by Mrs. F. Brown and Mrs. J. Timlin, the lunches will include sandwiches and one kind of cake during the year.—Carried.

Another motion by Mrs. J. Webb, and Mrs. E. Timlin that $15 be given the wardens to defray expenses. —Carried.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the hostess, Mrs. McCracken, and Rev. Mr. Battersby brought the meeting to a close with prayer.

Delightful refreshments were served, and during the social half-hour the members talked over making plans for the year 1933, and arranged to meet in February at the home of Mrs. James Timlin.

MESSENA CANAL IS U. S. AFFAIR

DIVERSION IS TOPIC.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—(CP).—Any diversion through the Massena, N. Y., Canal in connection with the St. Lawrence waterways scheme is purely a domestic matter for the United States. This is the substance of notes exchanged between Canada and the United States.

An official statement to-day by the Canadian Department of External Affairs reads:

"An exchange of notes between the Canadian Minister to the United States and the Secretary of State of the United States was made on the 13th January, 1933. The notes related to the effect of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep waterway treaty which was signed on the 18th July, 1932, upon the existing diversion through the Massena Canal of water for power purposes, which is returned to the St. Lawrence through the Grass River. During the enquiry by a sub-committee of the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate into the St. Lawrence treaty, which has recently been concluded, it was suggested that an indirect effect of the terms of the treaty might be to commit the United States Government or the state of New York or other authorities concerned to the continuance of that diversion.

"It was the view of the Canadian Government that the question of the continuance, control or elimination of the diversion through the Massena Canal was a purely domestic question in the United States. It was recognized that the competent authorities in the United States are free to eliminate the diversion of water for power purposes through the Massena Canal and to use the water so released through the main river works in conformity with the provisions of article 4 of the treaty, which provides that the total water used for power purposes on either side of the international boundary shall, under no circumstances, exceed one-half of the water available for such purposes. Accordingly the notes were exchanged in order to make this position clear."

Poll parrot feathers, or imitations thereof, are being used extensively to trim spring hats.

Institute Meeting Held At Warkworth

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARKWORTH, Jan. 21. — One of the largest and most interesting Institute meetings was held on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. James Sykes, when 60 members and 10 visitors were present.

A great deal of business was discussed, and reports were heard from the relief, sick and Sunshine committees. Several boxes of fruit had been sent in to the sick and shut-ins. The members are busy preparing quilts for relief purposes.

Mrs. James Armstrong, as convenor, put on the following program:

Reading by Mrs. Thane. This was followed by a splendid paper entitled: "Making the Most of Life," by Mrs. Armstrong. Mrs. Gordon gave a reading entitled "A Child once More," which was much enjoyed.

An interesting part of the program was the rug demonstration, which included exhibits and instructions for the same.

At the close the hostess and her assistants served a dainty lunch, and the singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

The members of the Institute are having their annual at home in which they are entertaining their families on Tuesday evening in the town hall.

Cavan

Group 3 of the Cavan Women's Institute held a sewing bee at the home of the convenor, Mrs. Richard Matchett, on Monday afternoon. The Institute is preparing a bale for Northern Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller, Peterborough, visited friends in Cavan on Sunday afternoon.

David Staples, who is attending Lindsay Collegiate, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Staples.

Mrs. Locke, Millbrook, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Perrin.

Messrs. Arthur Sutton and son, Raymond, of Colborne, and his brother-in-law, Mr. Arthur Conlon, of Allendale, visited Mr. R. A. Sutton at the week-end.

Miss Beulah McNish, Balsam Lake, who is a student at the Peterborough Normal School, spent the week-end with her cousin, Miss N. Sutton.

The many friends of Mr. Clifford Elliott will regret to learn that he is a patient in Dr. H. A. Turner's Hospital, suffering from blood-poisoning from a hurt on the knee.

Mrs. S. Richards, Mrs. H. Gardiner and Mrs. Sidney Hutchison were guests of their aunt, Mrs. C. Carr, on Monday afternoon. Later in the evening, about twenty of the members of the Cavan Women's Institute gathered to spend a social evening with Mrs. Hutchison before her departure to reside in Havelock, where her husband has been transferred as foreman on the C.P.R. During the evening Mrs. Staples, secretary of the Institute, on behalf of the society, expressed regret at her leaving, appreciation of her work while here, and best wishes for happiness in her new home. The president, Mrs. Pertin, presented her with a beautiful bowl for bulbs. The service of refreshments brought a pleasant evening to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison and son Garfield left for Havelock on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. Carr received word recently of the hold-up of the store in Detroit where her son Clifford is manager. There was no shooting, the intruders only getting the day's cash receipts in the till.

The annual meeting of the Cavan Rural Telephone Co. was held in the Community Hall on Monday evening.

ROTARY GIVES $1,000 TO AID NEEDY IN CITY

President Juby Makes Announcement at Club's Luncheon.

DR. BANNISTER SPEAKS.

Life of Canadian Statesman Sir Georges Etienne Cartier Described.

One thousand dollars will be the gift of the Rotary Club to the Peterborough Relief Committee. This was the announcement made at the Club's luncheon at noon to-day by James Juby, president.

"The Club's executive has decided unanimously to give $1,000 to the Peterborough Relief Fund," stated President Juby. The announcement was greeted with sustained applause by the Club members in expressing their approval of the club's munificent gift to aid the city's relief activities.

Dr. Bannister Speaks.

Dr. J. A. Bannister, principal of the Peterborough Normal School, addressed the Club on the life and background of one of the most colorful and important of Canadian statesmen, Sir Georges Etienne Cartier, who because of the abiding trust that the French-Canadians had in his leadership was able to bring Quebec into Confederation.

Jacques Cartier, the intrepid French explorer, who first sailed up the St. Lawrence in 1534, was an ancestor of Georges Cartier, who 300 years later was to play such an important role in the progress of Canada, stated Dr. Bannister. Georges Cartier's grandfather came to Canada in 1758, a period of troublous times in the colony when the grim struggle between the Tell Stirring Tale of Drifting Week in Gale, Minus Rudder.

RESCUE IN NICK OF TIME.

YARMOUTH, N.S., Jan. 23 (C.P.) —Two New Brunswickers and five Nova Scotians, used to the ways of the sea, were ashore to-day with a story to tell. They will tell it in the clipped and terse manner of the seagoing breed as they wait for new berths in some forecastle or after cabin. But the listener with sense to understand will read between the words, for their story is the tale of the Dawn Wilkie.

A week of drifting on a rudderless vessel, battered about by a rising gale and then by the flush force of it, should be good for a yarn or too in any sailorman's kitchen, that was what the Dawn Wilkie's crew went through, to find rescue when hope and little more was left. Food was short, the rudder was gone, rising water sloshed in the hold when Captain Newton Wilkie and his men were taken off their laden schooner by the trawler Gertrude M. Mauchi on Saturday morning. That night the trawler brought them in to Yarmouth and left for the Banks, because she had a job of fishing to do.

The Wilkie was homeward bound to Saint John from the West Indies with molasses when she lost her rudder a week ago. Driven by the southeast gale, she took a terrific battering. Seams opened and when the Fuchi took her men off it appeared the Wilkie had few hours to live. She had to be set on fire to remove the menace to navigation, and the $30,000 cargo was lost.

Old Man Winter Visits England

LONDON, Jan. 23.—(C. P. Cable) — England is in the throes of winter, an icy winter whose grip has demoralized bus and train services and cancelled countless events.

Many rugby matches were postponed on Saturday as were the Derby races, and in place of these skating parties are holding forth in Scotland and Northern England. Snowdrifts between Aberdeen and Inverness has disrupted traffic while a group of 27 motorists who were rallying at John O' Groats have moved to Monte Carlo for more appropriate weather

RUM SHIPS SAFE OUTSIDE HOUR'S SAIL OF SHORE

U. S. Supreme Court's Decision Made Regarding British or Canadian Craft.

WILL END MUCH FRICTION.

Coastguards Had Contended They Could Board Vessels Within 4 Leagues.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (C.P.).—The United States Supreme Court ruled to-day that British or Canadian rum running vessels cannot legally be boarded, searched and seized by coast guardsmen when more than one hour's sailing distance from the shore. The decision was handed down in a case brought by Frank Cook, a Canadian.

Unusual interest attached to the decision because of frequent friction arising from the search and seizure of Canadian and British vessels by coast guardsmen on the lookout for rum-runners.

The court held that the treaty with Great Britain in 1924, which authorized the boarding of British vessels suspected of liquor smuggling, if found within one hour's sailing distance of United States shores, had taken precedence over conflictive provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930.

The United States had contended that under the 1930 Tariff Act, coast guardsmen were authorized to board British vessels within four leagues of the coast.

Archdeacon Forsyth Is Claimed By Death

CHATHAM, N.B., January 23 (C.P.). — Pneumonia following a year' sconfinement in hospital here resulted early to-day in the death of Venerable Archdeacon David Forsyth, 87, rector of the Anglican Parish of Chatham for 57 years.

The late Archdeacon was rector of Chatham from 1873 until 1930, and Archdeacon from 1908 to 1932. He also served as Archdeacon of St. John from 1902 to 1908. Archdeacon Thomas Parker succeeded to the Archdeaconry of Chatham last year.

Beloved by all creeds, Archdeacon Forsyth was ordained priest in 1874. He received the degrees of B.A and M.A. from the University of New Brunswick, and D.C.L. (honorary) from the University of King's College. He was born near Sussex, N.B., on October 27, 1845.

JUDGE STUBBS DEFENDS ACTION IN WILL CASE

MacDonald Will Case Most Infamous Declares Witness.

"TRAIL OF INFAMY."

Court of Appeal Never Read Evidence Judge Declares Heatedly.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 23. (CP). — Fighting dramatically to defend himself against accusations of judicial misconduct, Judge L. St. G. Stubbs to-day showed a commission over a "trail of infamy" and pointed out details of "one of the most infamous will cases ever stalked into daylight."

Continued evidence regarding misjudgment in the MacDonald will case the judge criticized "the powers that be" for their "unfairness to me" and again attacked judges of the court of appeal "for their stupid comment and argument."

"Reading from a pamphlet which he published "to put the details of the case before the public," the judge presented a full chronological report of the entire case.

Should Read Evidence

The only way, however, that Mr. Justice Frank Ford would be able "to come to a correct conclusion," he said, would be "to read the transcript of evidence given during the hearing of the case in court.

"The court of appeal never to this day read it and, therefore, never was in a position to make their stupid comment and argument" the judge declared heatedly.

From abstracts of evidence, he told the court, he had advised the Attorney-General's Department there had been grounds for charges of "fraud, perjury and subordination of perjury" against John A. Forlong, son-in-law of Alexander MacDonald, and a charge of perjury against W. A. Irish, witness to the will of which probate was refused by Judge Stubbs.

CANADIAN PRESS LAUDED BY ROSS

Claims Industry One of Best Organized, Most Efficient in World.

GIVES "INSIDE DOPE."

MONTREAL, Jan. 23 (C.P.).—The Canadian newspaper industry is one of the best organized and most efficient industries in the world, the Montreal Canadian Club was told to-day by P. D. Ross, publisher of the Ottawa Journal.

"I think this country has reason to be proud of its press," said Mr. Ross, "in proportion to its means and opportunities, it ranks high in its principles, its ability, its performance, its moderation and justice, and its fairness to everybody and to all parties and public issues."

"Inside a Newspaper" was the Ottawa publisher's subject, and he referred to the scores of operations necessary for the publication of a newspaper edition. The cost of publishing a line of type in the Journal was placed at six cents, and Mr. Ross reminded the Canadian Club it cost as much to print a line of readable news as propaganda for some individual or organization or a line of other "philanthropic concession."

"One thing that bothers the average newspaper editor," said Mr. Ross, "is the multiplicity of appeals, or requests to help grind somebody else's axe." There are appeals for the suppression of readable news; for the inclusion of non-readable news. "Well," commented Mr. Ross, "when we give the space, it is space that costs us money and that shuts out news which is part of the lifeblood of the paper."

Readers Want Spicy News.

It was the theory of every non-newspaper publisher, continued Mr. Ross, that a paper ought to be conducted in a dignified, high-class and educational way. "Each of you, of course, when he picks up the paper, pounces first upon the latest murder or scandal—but each of you is anxious to see every newspaper trying to improve the morals of the rest of the community. I will try to give you the Canadian newspaper man's point of view. He proposes to earn his bread and butter by publishing a decent newspaper, but not to attempt the impossible. He knows there are limits to newspaper philanthropy anywhere, and he knows what those limits are in Canada. The London Times would not live a year in this country — there isn't the constituency.

"The Canadian newspaper must be published in a way to appeal more or less to the whole community. We must not only try to please the public man, and the professional man and the merchant, but we must try to please the coal heaver and the domestic servant and the butcher's boy as well."

Irish Promises

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Jan. 23. —(C. P. Cable)— The electors in the Free State tomorrow will choose between a considerable array of promises.

The Republicans under De Valera promise: The end of the oath of allegiance; no change in the land annuities stand toward Great Britain; reduction of taxation; halving of land annuity payments to the government; protection of domestic industries; an attempt to make the country self-supporting as far as primary products are concerned; improvement of export markets in foreign countries; abolition of the senate or reduction of its membership; reduction of the size of the Dail.

The Nationalists, under Cosgrave, promise: A trade agreement with the United Kingdom; cessation of economic warfare with Great Britain; negotiations for revision of the land annuities agreement; as good a market in the United Kingdom for agricultural products as any other country has; reduction of land annuity payments to the government by half and their cancellation until the end of 1934; no sacrifice of the Free State's fiscal independence in gaining these objectives.

PARTY TO SEEK LOST EXPLORER

Renewed Search for Col. Fawcett Under Geographical Society Auspices.

IN BRAZIL JUNGLES.

SOUTHPORT, Eng., Jan. 23. — Arrangements have been completed for a new expedition to proceed from England to South America to search for the missing Colonel P. H. Fawcett, lost for years in the jungles of Brazil, it was learned yesterday.

The expedition will be under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society, and explorers said the party probably would be gone over a year unless they found Fawcett and his companions, including one son, before then.

Colonel Fawcett's son Brian recently returned from South American convinced that his father is still alive.

"If father is a captive," the son said, "it is merely a matter of time before he escapes."

An expedition headed by the Swiss trapper, Stephen Rattin, at present has not been heard from since last summer, and fear is felt Rattin and Horacio Fusoni, Argentine newspaperman with him, also may have died in the Brazilian tropical hinterland.

Henry Orders Town To Continue Paying Till Checkup Made

Deputation Protests $25,000, Held Up 2 Months By Gov't., Has Been Paid Out On Vouchers By Merchants Who Refuse To Pay More Fearing Town Will Go Bankrupt.

BUSINESS MAN DENIES WIDESPREAD MISUSE; WITNESSES SCARED—INTERPRETER NEEDED.

TORONTO, January 23 (C.P.). — Premier George S. Henry to-day heard a deputation from Sturgeon Falls urging that the Ontario Government take over and assume 100 per cent. of relief costs. The deputation was informed that the Government would take the entire question of relief administration in Sturgon Falls into consideration while the Premier instructed them to proceed with relief.

A chief point of contention was the payment of some $25,000 in relief vouchers, which the deputation contended has been paid and is at present held up by the Government.

This amount is spread over about two months and was paid out by merchants who are awaiting payment. Premier Henry agreed that this also will be inquired into. Until this amount is paid or settled in some way it was stated to the Premier that merchants will not accept further vouchers fearing that the town may go bankrupt.

The deputation included: Mayor Marchildon, and Councillor Bankie Albert Michaud and Theo Legault, the merchants, E. Sabourin, banker and A. Z. Aubin, M.L.A.

Interpreter Wanted

STURGEON FALLS, Ont., Jan. 23 (C.P.)—Judge J. M. Hall of Sault Ste Marie, presiding over the Royal Commission investigation into Sturgean Falls relief disbursements is expected to give an answer to-day to the request for the services of an interpreter during the remainder of the hearing.

A resolution, petitioning the Commissioner to make his appointment, was passed at a joint meeting of the town council and merchants Saturday, who had met to discuss the town's finances.

At this meeting it was contended much of the evidence to date has been incorrect, because the French-speaking witnesses were unable to grasp meaning of the questions put to them in English.

J. A. Fortin, assesor of Sturgeon Falls, told the Commission he had received $400 in cash as salary, but was paid $67 in relief vouchers for work done supervising the installation of new machinery and repairs at the power plant.

The rent book examination was concluded at noon.

GIRL'S ATTACKER GETS TWO YEARS

20 LASHES IN SENTENCE.

CORNWALL, Ont., Jan. 23 (C.P.). —Found guilty of attempting a serious offence with a 13-year-old school girl at Gravel Hill, about 15 miles north of here, last week, Romeo Laroche, 25, of Ottawa, was sentenced in Police Court to-day to two years in Portsmouth Penitentiary with twenty lashes.

Laroche was arrested on Saturday afternoon by Provincial Police, who had scoured the country north of here for three days. The offence took place on Wednesday afternoon as the girl was returning home from school, and until the arrest of the attacker was effected on Saturday, farmers of the district assisted the police in combing the country.

Appearing in Police Court, Laroche denied the stories told by the girl and her 10-year-old brother. The man was positively identified by the children, and it was also learned from the evidence that about two months ago the prisoner had received two meals and a night's lodging at the girl's home.

"This is one of the most despicable offences I have had in this court," Magistrate Milligan said, "and the public should be protected. You should be punished in a manner which will teach you how to conduct yourself."

VALUABLE BOX FOUND

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

NAZARETH, Galilee, Jan. 23.—Queen Jezebel's make-up box containing rouge, lipstick, eye-mascara and face powder, has been found. The box containing these ingredients, every bit as dainty as the articles of the modern Parisian perfumer, was located in the hills which cover the ruins of the royal city of Samaria, capital of the Northern or Israelite Kingdom, whose inhabitants, "The Ten Lost Tribes," were led into captivity, only to disappear forever from the scene of history. The last time Queen Jezebel, King Ahab's evil spouse, used that make-up box was to "vamp" Jehu as he rode into the city at the head of his victorious troops. The story is one of the finest pieces of reporting I know. Perhaps it may be repeated here.

The Weather

While thunderstorms in Winter are not unheard of, they are by no means common, and the one yesterday afternoon furnished vivid flashes of lightning and accompanying thunder claps. The rainfall was .37. Owing to the already saturated condition of the earth, most of the rain ran off and formed many small floods. The temperature Sunday was 43 degrees. Lowest last night 32.—W.P.

U. S. LAME DUCK SESSION GOES INTO DISCARD

Politicians Shake Off Grip of Stage Coach Era After Trying 10 Years.

RATIFIED BY 36 STATES.

In Future Congress Elected November Will Meet Under New President in January.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (A.P.)—American politics shook off to-day the grip of the stage-coach era with a 20th amendment to the constitution which proclaims that henceforth officials defeated at the ballot box shall have little voice in government.

In near record time, less than a year, 36 States of the Union, Missouri this morning being the last, have ratified the "lame duck" amendment. Congress had taken 10 years to agree upon proposing it. It will go into effect next October 15, controlling the terms of Congress and the President from then on.

What It Means

What it does is this: the Congress elected in November of any year will meet on January 3 of the next year. The President elected in November will take office the following January. Contrast that with the existing system, established in 1788: In December after the November elections the old Congress, full of defeated members, come back and legislates until March 4, when it goes out. The new President takes office on that date, but unless he calls a special session, the new Congress does not meet until next December, 13 months after election.

The old order was founded in the days of stage coach and horseback travel, when it took months for members from distant parts to move themselves to the Capital.

It was clung to by the ultra-conservatives, who were too fearful of too unlimited sway for public opinion, by those "lame ducks," and members anticipating defeat, who favored a long adjustment period during which they could look around for a new job while clinging to the Federal payroll.

GASOLINE PRICE CUT IN CANADA

All Standard Grades Are Cut One and Half Cents.

CENT ON THIRD GRADE.

Canadian motorists were benefitting today from a reduction of one and half cents in all standard grades of gasoline. According to an announcement made last night in Toronto the drop in price of gasoline resulted from the fall in price of crude oil in the United States and South American fields.

A local official of the Imperial Oil Company said that the reduction did not similarily affect the price of all grades of gasoline. On all standard grades, he said, the reduction was a cent and a half, but on the third grade or cheap gas the wholesale reduction was only a half cent, and at the strvice stations no reduction on this cheap gas might be given. The cheap grades here have been selling at 25 cents a gallon.

All prices of standard grades of motor oils remain the same.

Good Shine On Judge Wearing's Shoes Nets Italian Much Coveted Citizenship

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 25.—(CP)—Because an elderly Italian shoeshiner puts a good shine on County Judge Joseph Wearing's shoes, the judge in naturalization court today made him a Canadian citizen. Of course, that was only one of the reasons, but it was the one that most impressed the judge.

"Why this man always makes such a particularly good job of shining my boots, I am going to let him through," declared the judge. The elderly man smiled broadly and walked proudly out of court.

It was one of the largest naturalization hearings in recent months, more than 20 applicants being granted citizenship. Among them were several prominent Londoners, including a university professor, a well known athlete and several businessmen.

To find out what an Italian shoemaker knew about Canada, Judge Wearing asked him who was premier, the "head man" of Canada.

"Mr. Bennett, he's the boss," the applicant replied.

"That's right. Now who is premier of Ontario?" the judge wanted to know.

"Oh's that's same man," the Italian said.

"Oh, that seems to show Mr. Bennett must be the whole government," the judge commented in granting the application.

Light Signals Will Be Flashed To Mars Day, Night For 6 Months—Hope For Reply

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.—(C.P.) — Scientists will this year attempt the seemingly impossible—the sending of light signals to the planet Mars, declared Rev. D. B. Marsh, who headed the Hamilton delegation which last year photographed the eclipse of the sun in Quebec province.

"A group of English scientists are preparing during this year to signal the planet Mars with a beam of light of 15,000,000,000 candle power and preparations are well under way to accomplished this great feat," he said. "The great projectors are to be erected in Switzerland, on the summit of the Jung-Frau. On this elevation there is an observatory and an adequate electrical power plant.

"By these powerful rays, they will send Morse code signals as well as project light beams, such as infra-red parallel beams and conical beams," he said. "It is believed the latter will penetrate the stratosphere and beyond. The intention is to send signals for six months at regularly timed intervals, day and night."

Astronomers throughout the world he said, were to be asked to be on the lookout for answering signals or any special lights noticeable on Mars.

Over 100 Injured As Police Battle To Restore Order

Cosgrave Forced To Abandon Meeting In County Kerry —"White Army," Guarding Nationalists, Attacked With Iron Bars By Gangs Of Hoodlums.

BOTH LEADERS ISSUE FINAL APPEALS FARMERS LIKELY TO DECIDE ELECTION.

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

DUBLIN, January 23 (C.P. Cable). — For the second time within 12 months the Free State to-morrow goes to the polls, and a bumper poll is expected as climax to a campaign which has been bitterly contested throughout.

More than 100 Irishmen were nursing cracked heads and other injuries suffered in lively political riots over the week-end, as the chief figures in the political drama, President Eamon de Valera and former President William T. Cosgrave, issued their final appeals.

Two riots resulted when anti-Nationalist demonstrators created disorders and uproar at Cosgrave meetings. Seven were hurt at Dublin on Saturday when a gang of young hoodlums attacked members of the "White Army" which guards Nationalist meetings, with sticks, stones, and iron bars. Fifty were injured when police and members of the White Army engaged Republican sympathizers, who threw stones during a Cosgrave Sunday rally at Trales, County Kerry. Mr. Cosgrave was forced to abandon the meeting, and police fought for several hours with the rioters before they re-established order.

Leaders Appear Together.

The second major conflict occurred at Killarney where 50 more were hurt in a fight between Republican and Nationalist supporters when Mr. Cosgrave and Mr. De Valera attempted to address meetings from platforms set close together.

Several additional persons were hurt in minor disturbances at widely separated points. The week-end brought the most widespread outbreak of violence in years, although none was reported seriously injured.

149 to Be Elected

Four members of the new Dail—three opposition and one Government member—are already returned by acclamation, leaving 149 members to be elected to-mofrow. Twenty nine constituencies are voting, with the number of seats in each varying between three and nine.

The electors total 1,710,705, an increase of 31,912 over the figure at last year's elections of the total 833,776 are women. There are

Only One Girl Escapes in Family of 5 as Dam Bursts on Picnickers.

SLIDE CRUSHES COTTAGE.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Jan. 23 (C.P.).—Eight persons were killed and widespread damage was caused to-day by a violent storm striking Sydney and the surrounding country.

A dam burst at Stanwell Park and caused a deluge to descend on week-end campers, including one family—a father, mother and three children—and two other boys.

The father lashed members of the family together to a tree stump and then plunged into the torrent with a baby in an attempt to reach higher land, but all were washed away except one girl.

Near Bulga Beach hundreds of tons of rock crashed on a cottage and killed a boy. The eighth death was of a man struck by lightning.

Many streets of Sydney were awash and part of the seafront promenade at Coogee Beach was swept away.

JAILED FOR SHOOTING

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia.—Radomir Yankovich and Joseph Florianats, two former gendarmes who killed the Bestoviko town clerk with eight shots and dozens of bayonet-thrusts while on duty at the village fair there, have been sentenced to serve two and three years respectively.

Their defence was that in their rounds of the day they had drunk at least 51 free beers apiece and, meeting this man, didn't like his face.

DOGS POISONED AT LONG BRANCH

Seven Found Dead, 6 Others Ill—Community Up in Arms.

BURGLARS SUSPECTED.

LONG BRANCH, Jan. 23.—In a community which in recent months suffered several mysterious fires, the police today were investigating a wholesale slaughter of dogs which left seven canine bodies lying rigid in death and a half-dozen other dogs in various stages of illness.

Last night dog owners, after burying their dogs or spending frantic hours searching for them and locking them away safely, were vowing vengeance and preparing for a possible series of break-ins or thefts which they feared would follow the deaths of many of their four legged watchmen.

All the deaths occurred within a few hours yesterday. The first dog found dead was that of F. S. Heron, Lakeview Avenue. Mr. Heron had let a fox terrier, "Teddy," out Saturday night for a short run. The dog failed to return. Yesterday he was found lying half a block from home, his head toward his master's house.

Other Victims

Immediately Mr. Heron telephoned several of his neighbors. One block distance, W. L. Mills, owner of a prize wire-haired terrier, "Rags," hurried to tell Councillor Elton, his neighbor.

On the way he found the body of "Ritz," a two-year-old terrier owned by Helen Fisher, Long Branch Road. He went into the Fisher home, told them their dog was dead, and then went home.

He found his own dog lying stiff on the kitchen floor, his son and wife trying to administer emetics. The dog died two minutes later.

Aroused by the death of his daughter's dog, A. M. Fisher stepped out to tell his nearest neighbor, W. Holliday, to guard his prize brindle bull terrier. As Mr. Fisher stepped into the Holliday's yard he saw the dog dying by the house. He whistled but it didn't stir. He rolled it over, dead.

Within 15 minutes, residents of the area known as Long Branch Park thronged the streets. Some were seeking their dogs which they had released for their morning runs. Five dogs were known at that time to be dead, less than half an hour after Mr. Heron found his dog.

Libby Reynold's Son May Get $2,000,000

GREENSBORO, N.C., Jan. 23 (A.P.)—The Greensboro Daily News says it learns "from a reliable source" that the infant son of Libby Holman Reynolds and the two-year-old daughter of the former Anne Cannon will each receive about $2,000,000 of the estate of their father, the late Smith Reynolds, while the remainder will be used for an endowment under terms of a settlement now being worked out by representatives of the Reynolds, Cannon and Holman families.

DIES SAVING DOG

WATERVLIET, N. Y. — David Sandberg, 57, a porter in a restaurant, lost his life beneath the wheels of an automobile to-day in an attempt to save his dog from the same fate.

Sandberg dashed into the street to save the dog when he saw an automobile approaching. The driver returned his machine, missed the dog but ran over Sandberg. The driver was not held.

Puzzle Hound

ALLIANCE, Neb., Jan 23. (CP).—Harry Gontz lays claim to the original j-g saw puzzle hound.

The Gantz family spent the other evening working on a jig saw puzzle. They completed it except for one piece. They searched the house, high and low, while Topper, their fox terrier watched with interest, but the missing pastboard could not be found.

Two days later Topper appeared slightly ill. He choked a time or two and then coughed up the missing piece.

Commits Suicide

After nearly 50,000 policemen, including the best men Scotland Yard could produce, Samuel Furnace (ABOVE), was found in a quiet rooming house. He was charged with the murder of his friend, Walter Spatchett. Furnace died January 17 in St. Pancras hospital, London, from self-administered poison, taking to the grave, the secret of his crime. Spatchett was the victim of an almost "perfect murder." A body found in Furnace's burned workshop was identified as the latter until discovery of bullet wounds led to identification of Spatchett, starting the hunt for Furnace.

FARMERS TAKE KEEN INTEREST IN SWINE TRAIN

Seventy Farmers Visited Cars When They Were in Peterborough.

HAD GOOD WEEK

Sales Are Being Made at Every Point Cars Stop.

Seventy farmers visited the swine demonstration cars at the C.N.R. Station Saturday morning, listened to several illustrated lectures on grading and parasites, and looked over the stock that was offered for sale as a means of improving the quality of hogs in Ontario.

Three sows were sold to local breeders up to eleven o'clock. After the cars were taken to Millbrook.

R. P. Wade, head of the live stock branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, told The Examiner that the first week of the trip had been entirely successful.

"We had forty men out last Monday when we started from Carleton Place," Mr. Wade said. "We sold three sows there. At Perth the attendance was thirty-five, and we sold five sows. On Wednesday we were at Tweed, where forty-five men visited the train, and we sold two sows. Wednesday afternoon at Bonarlaw we had a fine meeting. Forty-one farmers turned out, and they bought nine sows.

"That was an exceptionally appreciative crowd of earnest farmers who were tending to business instead of talking depression. They wanted to get all the information we could give them in the afternoon's visit. At Frankford we had eighty farmers, and sold one boar and four sows. Friday at Campbellford the attendance was sixty, with sales of one boar and three sows.

To keep up our supply of stock for sale to farmers we had twenty-six brood sows sent ahead to Peterborough, and they arrived on the dot. We will carry from 25 to 35 of them all the time, and we are confident we will place quite a number of them throughout the province."

The expense of the demonstration cars is being borne by the Provincial and Federal Governments, and the Packers are supplying a man to assist in the staff work. Saturday morning's lecturers were L. W. Pearsall of the Dominion Livestock branch; Dr. Lionel Stevenson, and S. E. Todd of the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers.

Meanest Man

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (C.P.)—The meanest man is at it again. Dr. Corvin F. Stine, a dentist, reported to police that a man telephoned him, asking description of "Wildee," five-months-old puppy belonging to Dr. Stine's children which wandered away recently. Dr. Stine had inserted a lost ad. in a paper.

Dr. Stine described "Wildee."

"That's the dog," said the voice on the telephone. "I've got him. But you won't get him back, just checking up—thanks."

The man hung up.

REDS AND NAZIS CLASH IN BERLIN 1 SLAIN, 40 HURT

Sixty-eight Arrested Before Police Finally Restore Order.

THOUSANDS TAKE PART.

Hitler Calls for Undying Warfare Against All Political Enemies.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—Communists and Fascists, or Nazis, clashed in widely-separated sections of the capital last night, as a violent aftermath to a Fascist demonstration in memory of one of their number, slain in similar outbreaks with Communists three years ago.

Police reports showed the casualty list included one worker killed, a policeman badly injured, and 40 civilians wounded. Sixty-eight persons were arrested.

The Communists objected to the Nazi demonstration, which was held in Buelow Square, just opposite the Communist headquarters. The demonstrators, guarded by police lines, drew up in thousands, facing the headquarters in Karl' Liebnecht Haus, and the Communists said this was a "gratuitous insult" designed to start trouble.

The street fights occurred when the Fascists, wearing their brown shirt uniforms and, singing the "Nazi" songs, returned from ceremonies at the grave of Horst Wessel, one of their number killed three years ago by Communists.

The memorial services began in Buelow Square, where 12,000 members of the Nazi "storm troops" in uniform held a peaceful demonstration during the afternoon. The police took extraordinary precautions to prevent violence. They threw lines around the place and stopped traffic for about a mile square.

Hitler Calls for Warfare

The Nazis' demonstration went off without incident and they marched to nearby Nicolai Cemetery, where their leader, Adolph Hitler, delivered an address dedicating a new tombstone at the grave of Wessel, slain Nazi student.

Amid the snow-covered graves, many stones bearing the Fascist Swastika emblem, Hitler uttered an impasioned appeal for "undying warfare" against the political enemies o fthe "Brown Shirts," his organization.

As he closed, the brown-shirted men filed slowly past the grave, saluted and departed from another exit, through lines of police. It was growing dark rapidly. The Nazis' demonstration was over and the police were optimistic that they

TWO DROWNED IN ICY WATERS

Victims, Believed to Have Taken Wrong Road, Drive Into Open River.

BOTH BODIES FOUND.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—(C.P.)— Believed to have taken the wrong road across McGregor Lake, Que., early Sunday morning, Harold Hamilton, 38 of Ottawa, and William Baldwin, 25 of Jacksonville, Florida, drove their car into the icy waters of Blanche River and were drowned. Blanche River flows past the mouth of McGregor Lake four miles north of Perkins Mills, about 40 miles north of here. Both bodies were recovered.

When the bodies were found they were out of the car, and it is believed the two men were able to get out of the automobile and had swam for some distance before being swallowed by the icy waters.

The tanning industry in Canada is centred chiefly in Ontario, about 86 per cent of the total output being from that province.

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 23 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The annual meeting of the English Line (Seymour Township) Egg Circle is scheduled to be held on Saturday, Jan. 28, in the Campbellford Public Library, and this year will assume added attraction owing to an address which will be given by the manager of the Central Ontario Co-operative at Belleville. Efforts are also being made to secure the attendance of Dr. Lionel Stevenson of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, who it is hoped will give an address on poultry diseases.

The question of the establishing of an egg grading station at Campbeliford, and the gathering of eggs will be discussed as also will a new method of the treating of eggs for storage purposes.

Hunt Arson Gang After $50,000 Fire

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (A.P.)—An arson gang that fired a $500,000 macaroni factory in Brooklyn was hunted by police to-day, but the clues were slim.

Pasquale Fariello, night watchman, told detectives four men burst into the Savoia Mfg. Company, Inc., last night, snarling:

"If you want to live, be quiet."

They wrapped an overcoat around his head, drove him miles away and dumped him on the street. When he got to a police station, he was told flames had practically ruined the inside of the factory. No motive for the gang's act was apparent.

TEA COSIES are made in two styles, the one-piece cosy and the two-piece set.

* * * * * *

The first is the usual kind, and consists of two nearly semicircular heavily wadded portions seamed along circular edges to form a heavy cover which fits down over a teapot until the straight edges rest on the tea tray or table.

* * * * * *

The two-piece set consists of a wadded lower part with a raised rim also wadded. Into this soft and warm tray portion the teapot is put, while the cap-like wadded upper part fits down over the uncovered portion of the teapot.

* * * * * *

The first style is adequate, as no breath of cold air can get to the teapot once enveloped in its depths. The second or two-part set is recommended as less cumbersome, more of a novelty, and a decided aid in keeping the beverage hot, even though the pot is not so thoroughly encompassed as with the one-piece style.

* * * * * *

Whatever the outside of these tea cosies may be, silk, satin, quilted material, etc., it is wise to use flannel for the lining. One of the smartest and mast practical outside covers for tea cosies is linen neatly tacked over the wadded foundation.

* * * * * *

The linen is easily removed to be laundered, and its whiteness or its tone, if colored linen is used, can conform to any desired scheme of table linen or tea set.

* * * * * *

You can, no doubt, cut a pattern for the one-piece tea cosy from paper. It should be semi-circular. The base should measure 10 or 12 inches.

* * * * * *

From this pattern cut four portions, two of flannel and two of white lining. Seam one lining and one flannel part together along circular edges. Wad each pocket and seam along straight edges. Sew two wadded portions together along circular edges, having the flannel come inside.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

One method of preventing and treating colds is by vaccination. This is not always successful, but for those who are incapicitated by frequent colds, it is worth trying.

According to Dr. A. R. Dochez, who probably has studied the common cold more than any other research worker, the only hope of success in the prevention of colds seems to be in vaccination. Vaccines are suspensions of dead bacteria cultured from the secretions of individuals with colds. Most vaccines are a suspension of a number of different germs.

Reports on the success of vaccines vary. Some physicians do not believe they have any value at all. Others report that there is a considerable decrease in the number of sick days from colds in factories where all the workers vaccinated.

Dr. J. A. Miller, of New York, believes that the vaccine should be made up fresh every year, because he thinks that every year there is a slightly different kind of species or group of germs which cause colds.

There are certain dietary rules which may be helpful in the management of colds. There should be plenty of vitamin A in the diet. This is to be found in spinach, carrots, prunes, cod liver oil, or yolks of eggs. Vitamin B, which is to be found in whole cereals, fruits, nuts and vegetables, should also be included in the diet. And the patient should always be given plenty of liquids, which may be in the form of hot tea, hot lemonade or hot water. On the whole, the patient should keep to a light diet.

Bicarbonate of soda and aspirin are useful drugs in the treatment of colds. Bicarbonate of soda, being an alkali, is prescribed to overcome an acid condition of the body to which colds are sometimes attributed. Aspirin reduces discomfort and minimizes infection.

There does not seem to be any very definite, certain way to get rid of a cold. The treatments mentioned above are helpful, although they cannot be said to cure a cold. There are many things which can be done to relieve the patient and make him more comfortable, such as applying throat and chest compresses, the use of medicated steam inhalations, the use of mustard foot baths, etc.

There are a number of drugs on the market in the form of inhalants, cough syrups, cough drops, salves, to be applied externally, etc., many of which are useful in giving a measure of relief to the cold sufferer.

The best thing, however, and the one which is most likely to shorten the duration of a cold, is rest in bed.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

Mrs. F. J. C.: "Is there any medicine or diet which will clear the urine or albumin?"

Answer: So-called basic diets which are alkaline in character, or medicines which are alkaline, are capable of relieving the general condition behind albumin. Sometimes they clear up the albumin and sometimes they do not.

Mrs. H. P.: "Is the solution of potassium, called 'iodide' a form of arsenic? Is it effective in the treatment of nervous disorders?"

Answer: There is no arsenic in potassium of iodide. Its use is effective in clearing up certain forms of nervous disorders.

ST. JOHN'S CHOIR ELECTS OFFICERS

W. W. Gray is Re-elected as President at Annual Meeting.

The choir of St. John's Church was entertained at a supper by the Women's Association on Thursday, when at the conclusion of which the toast to the King was proposed by W. W. Gray and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. W. Hall and the ladies of the C.W.A. for their most enjoyable supper.

The president, Mr. Gray, at the annual meeting gave a review of the past year's work, the chief events of which were: the Good Friday cantata, successes at the Kiwanis Musical Festival, boys' broadcast from CKGW on their trip to Stratford, winning by the boys of the shield at Stratford for the third successive year, and concert by the boys in November.

Rev. E. R. James took the chair, and the following officers were elected: Hon Presidents, Archdeacon Blagrave and H. W. Morpet; President, W. W. Gray; Vice-President, S. Roberts; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss R. Quartermaine; Librarian, R. Selby; Assistant, I. Luther; Choir Mother, Miss R. Quartermaine; Assistant, Mrs. H. Burrows; Sick Committee, Miss L. Bacon and H. Rush; Social Committee, Mrs. D. J. Eldred, convenor, and all the ladies of the choir.

The choirmaster, F. G. Mann, outlined various projects for the work of the choir during the coming months. He also remarked on the good attendance of choir members during the past year.

Archdeacon Blagrave congratulated Mr. Mann on his foresight and success and thanked the choir for their work. Other matters were also discussed, a committee being appointed to enquire into the question of surplices as new ones are urgently needed for some of the boys.

At the close of the meeting Archdeacon Blagrave pronounced the benediction and a social hour was spent.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

COMPENSATED BIDS

Ordinary rules are made to govern procedure with ordinary hands. Perhaps once in an evening a hand may be held that lies outside all ordinary rules. Such hands require individual judgment or special rules. Unless you are strong enough to expect to play a hand, so that your repeated bids may remove from partner's mind all danger of permanent deception, do not open contracting. Make a secondary bid after another player has opened the bidding.

To aid the judgment of players lacking experience with compensated bids, I suggest that the following special rules be employed.

Shade quick trick requirements as follows:

1. When strong in both major suits, for each one-half quick trick short of the regulation two and one-half, add one full probable trick to the five ordinarily required to open the bidding.

2. When weak in one major suit, add one probable trick to those required when strong in both major suits.

3. When weak in both major suits, add two probable tricks to those required when strong in both major suits.

Two quick tricks justify an opening bid as follows: Upon six probable tricks, if strong in both major suits; upon seven probable tricks if strong only in one major suit; upon eight probable tricks if weak in both major suits.

Even a third or fourth hand, the hands shown below are amply strong to open contracting. Each hand has two quick tricks. No. 1 should win six tricks. No. 2 has the required seven probable tricks. No. 3 has the required eight probable tricks.

No. 1—
♠ A 9 7 5 4 2 ♣ K 7 6
♥ K 10 8 5 ♦ None

No. 2—
♠ A 9 7 5 4 2 ♣ K 10 8 6 3
♥ K 7 ♦ None

No. 3—
♠ None ♣ A 9 7 5 4 2
♥ None ♦ K Q 10 8 6 5 3

Suppose you have a hand strong in one major suit, and you hold 1½ quick tricks. How many probable tricks do you require to open contracting?

Your special rules state that you must have one full probable trick more than five, for each quick trick that you fall below the customary two and one-half quick tricks. Your hand falls one full quick trick below 2½ quick tricks therefore you need seven probable tricks when strong in both major suits. But you are strong only in one major suit, so you require another probable trick or eight probable tricks.

Counting up the value of No. 4 given below, you find no excuse for making an opening bid. When you count the probable tricks in No. 5, you discover ample strength for such an opening bid of 4-Spades, or pass. Do not open such a one-sided hand with a bid of only 1-Spade.

No. 4—
♠ A J 9 8 7 5 3 ♣ 6
♥ 7 4 ♦ K 10 8

No. 5—
♠ A J 9 8 7 5 4 2 ♣ None
♥ 7 4 ♦ K 10 8

Good for a cold winter night, this menu, isn't it? Hot soup to start with and an ice box cake to serve with the coffee.

To-day's Recipes

Date Ice Box Cake.—One-half pound graham crackers, one package dates, two tablespoons orange juice, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth pound marshmallows, one-half cup nut meats, coarsely chopped; one cup cream, whipped. Turn the mixture out onto it, shape into a long roll. Cover with the paper and place in the refrigerator over night to chill.

Increase In Divorces No Cause For Alarm

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 23 (A.P.) — There's no need to feel alarm at the increasing number of divorces, says Mrs. Pearl L. Weber of Omaha Municipal University. It's just a sign that women are forcing men to improve.

Mrs. Weber, philosophy instructor and mother of four children, looks at it—and her husband agrees with her "pretty much," she said: Women are demonstrating that they will not put up with cruelty and other distasteful conditions any longer.

"Marriage is on the re-make," she declares, "and divorce is the assertion of woman's independence. Women, who obtain most of the divorces, are forcing men to improve." And when they complete their task there'll be fewer and fewer divorces. That will be the happy time when responsibilities are evenly divided between husband and wife, she philosophizes.

Flouting The Flu

BE BEAUTIFUL

(By GLADYS GLAD)

In the past, all that was required of operatic stars was that they have beautiful voices and know how to use them. They did not have to be beautiful. Indeed, most of them were over-developed, fat and dowdy-looking. But to-day, operatic stars must be pleasing to the eye as well as to the ear. They must be slender and well-formed, like Lily Pons, or Bori, and many others. And so, because their voices are of prime importance to them, when attempting to reduce they employ on a safe and healthful reducing routine such as the one outlined in my "New Figure" booklet.

There are quite a few women, however, who do not need to follow as complete a reducing routine as the one outlined in my booklet. They should, of course, practise the excellent exercises described in this booklet, so that their figures will be molded on harmonious lines. But women who are only about six or eight pounds overweight can follow a much simpler diet routine in order to trim down their figures to the required slenderness. And one of the best I know of for only slightly overweight individuals s the vegetable bouillon diet.

In this diet, nothing should be consumed for about six days but clear, vegetable bouillon. Orange juice or a little weak coffee may be substituted for the bouillon at breakfast, but lunches and dinners should consist of the vegetable bouillon only. At least six or eight glassfuls of the bouillon should be consumed each day, and they need not only be taken at luncheon and dinner time. For the dieter may take a glassful whenever she begins to feel especially hungry or weak.

This vegetable bouillon diet should not be continued for more than six days at most. After that she should return to a normal diet. This does not mean that a girl can relapse into incorrect habits of eating and still preserve her newly-acquired slim figure. But if she eats sanely and wisely, her slender, well-shaped figure will not merely be a temporary result of the bouillon diet, but will be lasting.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Blonde Hair Rinse

G. S.: The blonde hair rinse you refer to consists of the juice of one lemon, one tablespoon of vinegar, one tablespoon of peroxide and a pint of clear water.

Facts And Fancies

To Cleanse Rubber

Curves may be fashionable once again, but the sale of rubber reducing garments still goes on. These aids to slenderness that cling so closely to the skin require as much care as the daintiest lingerie.

There are practical reasons for keeping them immaculately clean. A soiled and gritty surface is likely to irritate sensitive skins and to make the rubber fiber stretch and tear.

Never use hot water to cleanse garments that contain rubber. Sponge them with a cloth that has been wrung out of tepid soapsuds and rinse with a clean wet cloth after each wearing. Occasionally immerse the pieces in tepid soapsuds, rinse first in another bath of suds, then in clear, tepid water, and hang in the shade to dry.

Washing Woolens

Wool should be washed often because its rough surface catches dirt easily. If the dirt become firmly embedded beneath the scales because of continued wear against the surface, it becomes practically impossible to wash it out without rubbing. Mild soap and plenty of it should be used in order to counteract any possible hardness in the water. The soap must first be completely dissolved so that it can be rinsed out readily.

It is important to wash and rinse wool in lukewarm waters of the same temperature and to dry it at ordinary room temperature. Any application of heat or cold while the fabric is wet will have unfortunate results. Washing in hot water, rinsing in cold water, drying out-of-doors in cold weather, drying in the hot sun or over a radiator, all are harmful to the fabric. Quick and gentle handling is necessary. The fiber is so elastic that any rough handling, even hanging to drip, will pull it out of shape. Wool should never be soaked before washing because the scales become so softened that any handling will interlock them.

These are the important steps to remember. Use lukewarm water and plenty of mild suds, handle quickly and rinse thoroughly. Roll each article in a towel to absorb excess moisture. Remove from the towel at once and dry flat at room temperature after gently pulling to shape.

KEEP AWAY FROM HOME IS HINT GIVEN UNEMPLOYED HUSBANDS

Claim Presence at Home Upsets Domestic Routine—Hostility, Trouble Arises.

WIVES WARNED.

(By Howard W. Blakslee, A.P. Science Editor.)

NEW YORK, January 23 (C.P.). —Unemployed husbands are warned not to stay home too much and their wives are cautioned not to punish their anxious men folk in a report on "what the depression is doing to family life," issued to-day by the United States Committee for Mental Hygiene.

When the breadwinner loses his job, the report says, "there is often seen a tendency in the other members of the family to throw blame on to the father for the dilemma in which they find themselves. He usually reacts in one of several ways: Sometimes he gives in and adopts a hangdog air.

"In this case he often develops numerous symptoms of apparent physical disease (headache, general weakness, vague pains here and there) for which, however, the most careful medical examination fails to disclose any adequate physical cause. However, this man does not deliberately and intentionally manufacture his symptoms of illness.

"Perhaps,' 'adds the report, "father should not spend so much time at home. There is sometimes a marked increase in hostility toward the father when, because of unemployment, he begins to function more actively in the domestic scene His presence at unusual hours tends to upset domestic routine and to throw many of the usual daytime customs of the family out of gear."

On the other hand, the report finds evidence that "there is less juvenile delinquency at present because unemployed fathers are spending more time with their children at home."

CLOTHING BUREAU OPENS ON TUESDAY

Tickets Will Be Used to Gain Admission to Get Clothing.

A casual survey of the goods already received at the Relief Depot on George street, reveals many useful articles. Energetic workers have been busy for days, culling out the things that can be used from those which are of absolutely no use, arranging on shelves for handy delivery and generally sorting and fixing.,

There is a quantity of good clothing, in men's and women's and children's apparel and things for babies. There is some furniture, a few mattresses and several stoves.

On shelves marked "prunes" and "raisins" and "wheatlets," formerly used by the Groceteria people for their own products, repose shirts and underwear and silk scarves, as well as boots and gloves and hats.

One local shoe dealer helped matters out considerably by going over his stock and sending in many pairs of shoes of all sizes, that are of good material but a little old style. They are very acceptable at this time.

One thing that is noticeable is the lack of working wear for men. That is, heavy shirts, working pants and boots and heavy underwear are conspicuous by their absence, and yet these are the things that are needed. Khaki pants or shirts would be just the thing at this time of year, for the man who is looking for work and getting it in small quantities, without enough money to buy supplies of this sort.

The bureau is opening on Tuesday morning by means of a system of tickets issued by Relief Officer Metheral, so that only a certain number in a day may gather there. This is to avoid crowding and general disorganization of supplies, which are laid out neatly now.

If you have anything of use in this clothing bureau for the needy of the city, please telephone 3315 or The Examiner and it will be called for.

NATION'S CREDIT BEING INJURED

reached. This question, however, is now being squarely faced for the first time since our unfortunate venture into government ownership. We can expect important and early decisions. What these will be we of course do not know, but we shall be greatly disappointed if they fall short of stopping the drain upon the public treasury; if not at once, at least within a year or two at the most. In other departmentsp rogress has been made.

The recent Imperial Conference has served, he said, to correct a former impression that Great Britain would as soon trade with other countries as with the Dominions of the Empire.

Inflation and Credit

"Inflation in whatever degree would not add a penny to the price of our wheat in Liverpool, and I am afraid any apparent advantage in converting the pound into depreciated dollars would prove quite illusory. On the other hand, the mere threat of a departure from sound money would seriously damage the credit of the country, both abroad and at home and cause a flight from the Canadian dollar, the harmful consequences of which it is not difficult to foresee. The placing of an embargo on the free shipment of gold is quite another thing and is a sound measure at this time.

"We also hear some criticism of the banks. It is almost assumed, even in quarters which should know better, that something must be wrong with our banking system; first, because the banks continue to make profits and to pay dividends, and second because they are said to be inactive in measures and policies to lift the depression, although what the banks might do that is not being done is never clearly expressed. The real facts in regard to profits are simple. Canadian banks are extremely well financed. No water has been pumped into their stocks, nor have they split their shares as became very popular, even in the best commercial circles, a few years ago. They have conserved profits in good times, steadily putting by not large amounts, but something nearly every year over a long period—77 years in our own case.

"It is suggested, too, that in addition to inflation of the currency and the 'reforming' of the banking system, the organization of a Central Bank would make credit more plentiful. There has not in many years been any lack either of banking credit or of currency supply nor is there at the present time. Our own bank would be very glad to liquidate a substantial portion of its security investments, but there is comparatively little demand from industry, commerce or agriculture, bearing in mind always that we must safeguard our depositors' money and confine advances to reasonably safe business."

THE RELIEF CAMPAIGN.

While the first week's returns in the Relief Fund campaign were not extensive, The Examiner has no doubt of the final result, inasmuch as Peterborough has never failed to respond to a genuine call.

It may be that a large number of people have been waiting to be canvassed, and for their benefit the explanation is given that it was felt by those citizens who have been active in relief work that most persons would prefer not to be called upon by collectors and would welcome the present opportunity to make an entirely voluntary donation.

Members of the committee were confident that Peterborough's citizens would readily respond to the appeal without being canvassed in person, and there is reason to believe that once this condition is understood their confidence will be shown to have been well founded.

Some 70 citizens have responded to the appeal in the last week; that leaves hundreds of persons who are financially in a position to make some contribution to this most deserving cause who have not yet measured up to their responsibility.

Now that they understand that personal canvassing in this campaign is being reduced to a minimum, it is to be hoped that there will be an immediate acceleration in the rate of receiving subscriptions, and that by the end of this week it will be possible to announce that Peterborough is well on its way to attaining the desired objective.

ADVERTISING FOR TOURISTS.

According to the director of the Provincial Information Service of New Brunswick, that province obtained splendid results from an extensive tourist advertising campaign carried on last year.

New Brunswick used newspaper space in American and Canadian newspapers to such excellent advantage that the number of cars entering the province during 1932 was considerably larger than the total for 1929, which was considered to be a boom year.

The experience of the Maritime province in this respect should prove of general value.

If one province has found it extremely profitable to encourage the tourist traffic by effective advertising, it might be good business for the Dominion as a whole to utilize the same medium in the interest of Canada generally.

It is readily admitted that the tourist industry has become one of the country's most extensive and most profitable industries, and that being so, the wisdom of cultivating and building up an even greater traffic should be equally obvious.

For reasons that are apparent, there may be a distinct falling off in the number of tourists entering Canada this year, unless energetic steps are taken to stimulate the tourist industry by advertising widely the many advantages the Dominion offers its summer visitors.

Granted Government expenditures must be curtailed, but when, as in this case, definite and important benefits are certain serious consideration should be given to this matter of advertising for tourists; there is not much sense in cutting off an expenditure if a loss of many times that amount in the form of revenue is entailed.

OVER 15 MILLION JOBLESS.

Figures obtained by the Business Week and based on a re-check of all the available data by proven statistical methods show that previous estimates of the number of unemployed in the United States have been altogether too conservative.

These statistics, carefully compiled, indicate that actually more than fifteen millions of the normally employed workers in the United States started 1933 without jobs, and this at the accepted average of 1¼ dependents for each worker means that 37,500,000 men, women and children are directly and immediately effected by unemployment this winter.

A study of the figures prove that the greatest casualty list has been caused in the building trades and that 80.3 per cent. of those normally employed in those trades were without employment at the beginning of this year.

The mining industry with 50 per cent. idle, garages and service stations with 58.5 per cent. of their normal staffs out of work, automobile and other vehicles manufacturing plants with 57.7 per cent. on the unemployed list and lumbering with 53.7 of its men without jobs are other industries that are shown as having been particularly hard hit.

The grand total indicates that while 48,833,000 persons were gainfully employed in the United States in April, 1930, this number had decreased by 15,262,000 at the end of 1932; in other words, 31 per cent. of those who had jobs in prosperous days are now without employment.

INFLATION.

One of the afflictions of these days is the tribe of economists, or of near-economists, who keep preaching theories and proposals in language that few understand. There is the matter of our dollar. Not a day but somebody rises to declare that it should be on a "parity with the pound," or "linked up with the pound," or that we should have a "managed currency." Obsessed with financial jargon, they write columns about these things in mysterious terminology, either forgetting that to the average man these vague terms are Greek, or unable to tell in plain English and in a concrete way just what their theories mean.

* * * *

What do they mean? Just what, in plain English, is "parity with the pound?" How would it be brought about, and by whom, and what would it likely mean for the Dominion, for provinces and municipalities, for the public as a whole?

* * * *

Parity with the pound would simply mean this: That when a Canadian wanted to change dollars into pounds he would have to pay $4.86 (the old par pound) for them, instead of $3.76, which he paid for them yesterday. Our dollar would be depreciated to that extent.

The argument used by the inflationists, or by those who want "parity with the pound," is that when the pound became worth more of depreciated Canadian dollars, the British people who buy from us, and who must buy dollars with pounds to do so, would buy more from us, the reason being that they would require fewer pounds with which to get dollars to pay for our goods. The case, in other words, is that with our dollar depreciated to the level of the pound, our export trade would pick up, that, almost immediately, we would sell more wheat. There would be more money for farmers; much of this money would go to manufacturers; the railways would get their share—business generally would look up.

* * * *

Now all of this, or at least some of it, is true. True with qualifications. The Canadian wheat grower, at the present time, is not marketing his wheat on even terms with the wheat grower in Australia. The reason is that Australia has a depreciated currency (the Australian pound is actually lower than the British pound), the result being that the British importer finds it more profitable and easier to buy wheat from Australia. Consequently, and most logically, the placing of the Canadian dollar on a pound parity would mean a better chance of competition with Australia. It would almost without a doubt, help our farmers generally. For a time, at least. And this might help all business.

* * * *

But what is the other side? If we depreciated our dollar, brought it down to the pound level, what might be the effect on our financial structure? Let us see.

Yesterday in New York the British pound was quoted at $3.34. Therefore, if our dollar were linked to the pound, its quoted average value in New York would be between 60 and 65 cents—70 cents at most. What would that mean? One of the things it would mean would be that every time a Canadian industry or municipality or province, or the Dominion Government itself, came to pay the principal or interest of New York loans, it would have to find from forty to thirty-five extra cents for every dollar that it paid. United States dollars would be at a premium of from $1.30 to $1.40. If, therefore, the city of Ottawa came to pay off $1,000,000 of New York borrowings, it would simply have to dig down for $1,400,000. Or for $1,300,000 at best. And the same thing would apply to an industry; or to any government or individual who owed money in New York.

* * * *

Could Canada stand this? A recent estimate showed the debt of all Canadian municipalities in New York at $315,000,000. The same estimate placed the debts of our provinces in New York at $770,000,000. It placed the combined debt, Dominion, provincial, municipal, at almost $3,000,000,000. Canada, every year, must pay the interest on this debt—in United States funds. If, therefore, our dollar were depreciated to, say, 60 cents in the United States (which would mean that we would have to pay $1.40 for an American dollar) what would be the burden of these interest payments? Could we, in point of fact, meet them at all? Find all the extra millions that we should have to pay?

One answer is our trouble in meeting this interest now. Our dollar, during the past year, has been at a New York discount of (on an average) 12 per cent. Yet with that discount, which is a far cry from 40 per cent., our provinces have had to seek federal help, and our municipalities have been hit desperately. Calgary has decided to default.

* * * *

And this, of course, isn't all. There is the matter of the man on an income. Under the depreciation, the Government would print more dollars, but the dollars, although there would be more of them about, wouldn't buy as much. Those who would be selling abroad, people like our wheat growers, would benefit, as we have seen; but those who would buy goods abroad would have to pay more in dollars, owing to the dollar's lower exchange; and so the price of imported goods would rise, which would mean that the domestic price would rise, too.

The result, of course, would be depreciation of wages, of incomes. The dollars of the workingman would buy less, so the dollars of the salaried man. It could hardly be otherwise. The inflationists say, of course, that the Government could check prices, that, in fact, it could control not only pries, but wages; could see to it that the worker didn't lose. It is a pretty picture; but those of us who have seen Governments attempt these things must remain skeptical. We tried once before here in Canada to control prices, with pretty ghastly results.

* * * *

There is something else, this: That there is no guarantee that a cheapening of the dollar would mean permanent gain in export trade. It might mean gain for a time, but what would happen if and when other nations cheapened their currencies still further? Australia is urging that very thing at the present time.

This, indeed, is the weakness of inflation. It feeds upon itself. And logically. For if a 25 per cent. depreciation be a good thing, then why not 50 per cent. depreciation a better thing? The thing goes on this way—or has in the past—until it comes to zero.

* * * *

Summed up, the case for and against parity with the pound is this:

It would or might mean more sales for our farmers, a greater export trade in wheat, the circulation of more money, a temporary fillip for business.

But it would also mean—inescapably—a crushing burden upon the Dominion, upon provinces, municipalities, and some industries; this plus a depreciation of real wages, plus also the danger of still further inflation.

Whether Canada is prepared to risk these dangers for the advantage of a temporary improvement in her export trade, we do not know. No one need argue that the present system is perfect, or that it is like the laws of the Medes and Persians, and cannot be changed. But every sensible person must surely hold that we must not go off the deep end without knowing what we are doing; that the least we can do before linking up with the pound is to consider its probable consequences.—Ottawa Journal.

MONEY IN HANDS OF THE FEW

Editor, The Examiner,
Peterborough:

Dear Sir.—Perhaps nowhere in the world is concentration of wealth in the hands of a few more aptly illustrated than in the United States.

A report of the Federal Trade Commission published in 1926 had this to say:

"The foregoing table shows that 1 per cent of the estimated number of decedents owned about 59 per cents of the estimated wealth, and that more than 90 per cent was owned by about 13 per cent of this number."

One of the issues of The World's Work for last year estimated the Mellon fortune at seven billion nine hundred and ninety million four hundred and twenty-five thousand and—but why bother about mere hundreds! A footnote added that this did not include two billion one hundred and sixty-six million his brother has or had. So the mellon fortune reaches the tidy little sum of $10,000,000,000!

It was Mr. Mellon who wrote, "Taxation: The Peoples' Business"!

Yours truly,
W. H. C. COULTHARD.

NO SENSE OF HUMOR

Want to join my club?

It will not cost you a cent, but it will cost you something.

It's called The Society of Men and Women Who Admit they Haven't Any Sense of Humor, and you'll have to abandon your pretense and belief that YOU have a Sense of Humor—if you want to join.

So far I'm the only member.

And I don't expect the membership to be large.

For years I thought I had one of those things. Didn't I laugh at jokes? Wasn't I "philosophical" about my troubles? Didn't I laugh occasionally at some of the ridiculous situations I found myself in and go around telling people what an idiot I had been? Certainly I did. . . . Then didn't I have a Sense of Humor? Surely. Beyond a doubt or a misgiving I had one.

Trouble was I had been led to believe that if you didn't have a Sense of Humor you were lost. You were uncivilized. You were a dullard and an ignoramus and unfit for enlightened society. . . . So I insisted I had. . . . I might admit my judgment was faulty. I might admit I had a bad memory. And I'd cheerfully confess to all kinds of weaknesses and ineptitudes. . . . But I could never admit I couldn't see anything funny in my own trouble. And that, exactly, is essence of having a Sense of Humor.

Well, I'm cured. I haven't a Sense of Humor, and I never did have one. . . . When I bump against a door in the dark, I kick it. When someone does me a bad turn, I'm sore about it. When trouble comes upon me, I worry—a lot. The only time I have Sense of Humor is when I'm travelling through calm seas, when I'm completely healthy, when I'm on top of the world. At all other times, give me half a chance and I'll fuss and fume and run up my blood pressure.

MURDER IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

CHAPTER 23

It was nearly ten o'clock when Nanette returned to the beach cottage.

Pete Russell was talking to some of his feminine guests when she walked in. He saw her and let out a gasp of admiration. Abruptly, almost rudely, he left them and went to her.

"You're wonderful!" he exclaimed. Quite openly he allowed his eyes to cover her from head to foot.

A moment later he was surrounded by most of the men, each clamoring his compliment in an effort to outdo the other. The women, left unattended, exchanged glances of venomous hatred.

Nanette's gown was of tight-fitting black silk, daringly decolette, serving more to reveal than conceal the voluptuousness of her dainty, well-proportioned form. Her hair was drawn back tightly, parted in the middle and knotted at the back. A single black pendant, her only adornment, dangled about her velvet-like throat.

"She would have to do something like that," one of the other girls muttered bitterly.

Pete Russell, unable to control himself, grasped her by the arm, but she easily, but firmly, released hers lf, and in such a manner that she gave no offense.

"You were gone so long," he breathed devotedly, "three hours."

"You missed me?" with raised brows.

"Of course," one of the other men chimed in. "How could we help but miss you?"

"It was so warm," she explained, and there was a mysterious twinkle in her eye, "and had so much to think about. Before I knew where I was I found myself in Beverly Hills, so I decided to change from my bath suit for something else."

Peace turned to his guests. "Let's all get dressed," he suggested, "and go out and crash somebody else's part."

The women were only too glad to do that. Without further ado, they went to the rooms set aside for them. The men were more reluctant to leave her, but they finally dragged themselves away.

If Nanette's ears burned as she was left alone there was ample cause. The women, whom she had caused to be so completely snubbed and ignored, set upon her with drawn fangs, and by the time they had put the finishing touches on their toilette her reputation had been torn to shreds. There was nothing left unsaid about her.

In the men's rooms they were talking about her, too, but in a different way. To them she was thoroughly desirable; there was not one among them who would not gladly have enacted the role of Young Lockinvar at that very moment if Nanette would have willingly played Elaine.

But when she was left alone Nanette doffed her shroud of imperial superiority. A frown darkened her face; her lips were pressed together until they were white. Fear sprang into her eyes. Haunted!

She went to the window and looked out, as if expecting someone. But if she was anticipating the arrival of anyone else she was disappointed. She turned and walked slowly across the room, her hands clenching and unclenching.

Back and forth she paced, nervously, anxiously. Something was preying on her mind.

The radio sent forth its blatant jazz. Distractedly, she turned to it and started to snap off the current. At that moment the sound of a loud gong crashed from the loudspeaker. It was like a gong of doom.

A voice rasped: "Ladies and gentlemen, may we interrupt the program of dance music for just a moment to bring to you an important news flash?"

She grew tense and pale.

"Rufus Chivington, valet to Richard Bailey, who was slain in his home in Hollywood last night, committed suicide tonight. Chivington was found in the garage at the Bailey home. He had been overcome by carbon monoxide gas. Chivington was rushed to the emergency hospital in Hollywood, but efforts of doctors to revive him with a pulmotor failed. Police Chief John Lee issued a statement in which he said that he believed Chivington had ended his own life because of grief for his lain master. An element of mystery was added to the suicide by the discovery of a young woman, as yet unidentified, in the car with the servant."

Nanette stood staring at the radio receiving set with unseeing eyes. So Chivington was dead. He had paid his price of loyalty to one who did not deserve it. A cloud of uncertainty crossed her countenance. The police said it was suicide. Was that just a trap? Did the police really believe it to be suicide?

Approaching footsteps roused her from her cogitations. She had forced a smile to her lips when Pete Russell, attired in a far different manner than one would suspect af er seeing him on the screen, came upon her. He advanced toward her, grinning broadly.

"I'm glad you're alone," he said. "There's something I want to tell you."

She turned away from him. "I'm worried," she lied, "about Dorotha."

"About Dorotha? Don't you think she can take good care of herself?"

"Yes, but she should have been back long ago. I told her to come back."

"Oh," petulantly, "she'll get back. And, besides," hopefully, "I can see that you get home all right."

"But you don't understand. Dorotha has my car. Something might have happened to her——"

"Now you stop worrying your pretty head about your secretary," he said protectingly. "Worry makes wrinkles, you know."

She shuddered ever so slightly. "Wrinkles! Ugh! I don't want wrinkles."

"Of course you don't. If you do the first thing you know you'll be playing mother characters instead of death-dealing heavies like Garbo and Dietrich."

"How you talk!" she protested in such a manner that he knew she liked it.

"Gee," he enthused, "I sure would like to see you put it all over this bunch. If you would just——"

But Nanette never did learn what he was going to say. The approach of some of the other guests silenced him and he started talking, as men and women will, about the weather.

Soon they were all dressed and anxious to be off, the women especially. They were disgusted with the treatment which had been accorded them since Nanette LeRoi had come among them, and they were not at all hesitant about revealing just how they felt.

"I think she's got her nerve," the fluffy blonde exclaimed angrily. "Her sweetheart isn't in his grave yet, and here she is out vamping every man within reach."

Nanette overheard and turned a deep scarlet. Her eyes blazing, she whirled toward the girl.

"You——" she fairly snarled, "you'd better keep your mouth shut or I'll——"

The room was charged with an electric tenseness. The two women stood facing each other, bitter hatred written into every line of their features.

The blonde's escort took her by the arm and fairly dragged her from the room.

Pete whispered in Nanette's ear, "You come with me."

Without a word she turned and followed him to his car. As he shifted the gears and sped away he muttered:

"We'll ditch this mob. There are plenty of places to go."

"Take me home," Nanette said huskily. "I think that would be best."

Pete Russell was prone to debate the question with her, but she was adamant. Reluctantly, he assented.

At Santa Monica they pulled out of the long line of cars and turned up the bluff to the canyon road, which led into Beverly Hills and Hollywood. Pete attempted to make conversation but Nanette was sullenly silent, and at last he gave up in disgust.

The car raced over the smooth highway, past the polo field, the University of Southern California and presently rolled into Beverly Hills. A moment later it came to a stop before the modest little bungalow that was Nanette LeRoi's home.

She alighted, thanked Pete for his hospitality and started for the house. The car roared away. As she moved up the cement path the shadowy form of a man arose from the front step and started toward her.

She stopped dead in her tracks and screamed.

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

LAURIER'S TRIBUTE TO QUEEN VICTORIA

On this date, in 1901, Sir Wilfrid Laurier made one of the greatest speeches of his life, his tribute to Queen Victoria, who had died the previous day. It is impossible for this generation to imagine the dismay which the news of the Queen's death caused in Canada. She had never visited this country; she had sent her sons and her grandsons here; they were known to at least some of us; but Victoria was a sort of legendary figure; whom we all loved because she was our sovereign and because she had been a good wife and a good mother. So, Canadians mourned as if they had all known her intimately. Her reign had seen the growth of this country from a collection of scattered provinces, in two of which rebellion was rife soon after she ascended the throne, into a great Dominion. The Victorian era had been a great one for Canada. The calamity of the Queen's death was felt the more since at the time the empire was at war in South Africa, a conflict which did much to hasten the aged sovereign's death; Canadians were fighting for her with Britons from all over the great Empire; it was the time when we were proud to sing "Soldiers of the Queen."

Perhaps the greatest tribute paid to Victoria was not by an Englishman, but by a French-Canadian. Sir Wilfrid Laurier voiced Canada's sorrow in a speech, which the Earl of Rosebery described as "one of the finest passages in contemporary history." His peroration was exquisite.

"She was a queen; she was also a wife and a mother. She had her share of the joys and sorrows of life. She lived, she suffered. Perhaps, though a queen she had a larger share of the sorrows than of the joys of life, for as Chateaubriand somewhere says, we have come to know how much there is of tears in the eyes of queens. Her married life was one of the noblest that could be conceived. It can be summed up in one word: It was happy. But death prematurely placed her cold hand upon happiness by the removal of the noble companion of her life at an early age. From that moment she never was exactly the same. To the end of her life she mourned, like Rachael weeping for her children and would not be consoled. After the lapse of 40 years time may have assuaged, but it did not remove her grief. We can apply to her the beautiful language of the French poet, 'Dans sa premier larmes elle noya son coeur' (In her first tears she drowned her heart). She is now no more!—no more? Nay, I boldly say, she lives. Lives in the hearts of her subjects, lives in the pages of history. And as the ages revolve, as her pure profile stands more marked against the horizon of time, the verdict of posterity will ratify the judgment of those who were her subjects. She ennobled mankind; she exalted royalty—the world is better for her life."

It was Laurier at his best. He excelled in memorial eulogy, as witness also his memorable tribute to the memory of his great opponent, Sir John Macdonald, in June, 1891.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WINNIPEG EXCHANGE

WINNIPEG, January 23 (C.P.).—Influenced by steady Liverpool cables local wheat scored gains of ¼c to ⅝c in opening minutes of trading to-day. Pit trade from the start was extremely dull, with most of the operations confined to local interests.

At mid-session prices rested ¼c to ⅝c higher than Saturday's closing figure, with May selling at 45⅞c, July at 46⅝c, and October at 47⅝c.

Inter-market spreading operations were negligible, and small gains recorded at the start were easily held due more to the nightness of offerings than any particular support. Early reports indicate practically no export business worked in Canadian wheat over the week-end.

Liverpool wheat shortly after mid-session was unchanged, while noon quotations at Buenos Aires were unchanged to ⅛c lower.

World wheat shipments for the past week totalled 16,250,000 bushels of which nearly 5,250,000 bushels was of North American origin. Supplies on ocean passage increased almost 4,000,000 bushels for the same period.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (A.P.) — Stocks were easy in the late trading to-day, showing general losses of a fraction to a point, but the market was very dull. American Telephone Eastman, Woolworth and Allied Chemical were off about one each, while National Dairy, Case, National Biscuit, New York Central, Santa Fe and General Foods showed declines averaging half a point. Transfers approximated 600,000 shares.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Jan. 23 (C.P.)—Selling which came into the Toronto Stock Market this afternoon carried the list to a lower level. Weakness showing chiefly in the interlisted issues. C.P.R. fell off more than ½, Brazilian ⅝, Nickel a fraction, Smelters a point, while Ford finished unchanged at 7⅞.

Oil shares fluctuated within a narrow range and closed unchanged except that McColl Frontenac was up ½ at the close, and International Pete weakened ¼.

Main interest in the utilities centered in Bell Telephone which worked ½ lower.—Small gains were registered by Montreal Power and Shawinigan, while weakness predominated in Consumers Gas and British Columbia Power "A." Food shares moved along sluggishly with weakness uppermost.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Jan. 23 (C.P.)—The Standard Mining Market had one of its biggest trading days within a year to-day, buoyancy ruling in all sections of the board. The high-priced gold shares led the procession, followed by the favorites of the second group of golds and by Noranda. Volume was heavy also in some of the penny gold stocks.

Dome closed at 15.50 for a gain of 65, and McIntyre was a close second with a gain of 60, closing at 23.25. Lake Shore gained 25 to 33.25 and Hollinger was up 35, closing at 6.75.

Both Noranda and Ventures, although chiefly copper properties apparently moved with the golds because of their production of the precious metal. Ventures was under accumulation with moderate appreciation showing and Noranda in heavy trading adavnced to 21.50. Nickel held around 9.20.

RATS GROW BOLD

FALCONBRIDGE—Rats and mice are becoming too bold in Falconbridge and residents are becoming alarmed. Asleep in her carriage, Jacqueline Smith, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Smith, was bitten on the cheek by one of the rodents. Tracks around the carriage provided the clue.

Fred Sawchuk found a rat near his cookery. It darted at him, but he killed it was a stick.

GANDHI TO GUIDE PAPER FROM CELL IN PRISON

POONA, India, Jan. 23.—(AP)— From his prison cell at Yeroda, Mahatma Gandhi will guide the policy of a new weekly newspaper to be published here, devoted exclusively to the removal of the stigma of "untouchability."

He is not to be the editor for he realizes his limitations as a political prisoner. He has not applied for permission in connection with his plan as this would not be necessary for the course he contemplates.

Forbidden Soldiers Song Sung By Belfast Crowd

BELFAST, Jan. 23 (A.P.)—Three thousand people sang the hitherto forbidden soldier's song and shouted "Up De Valera" and "Up the Rebels" in Clonard street and Falls Road in Belfast last night at an open-air meeting to raise funds to help the Fianna Fail party in the Irish Free State election. Police made no attempt to interfere.

While Hugh Corvin, Secretary of the Gaelic League, was speaking in Irish a young girl explaimed, "Oh, he's saying it in Irish. How can we understand him." Corvin switched to English, observing, "I must apologize for having to use the language of a foreigner."

The soldier's song is the official Republican Anthem in the Irish Free State, but is still technically forbidden in Northern Ireland.

JUDGE STUBBS DEFENDS ACTION IN WILL CASE

of Grace Anne Forlong, (the daughters for administration of this estate in the light of the fact and circumstances of the case I would be recreant to my trust as a judge of this court to grant it" the judge read. "The wrong-doing in this case disentitles both her and her husband from ever being placed in any position of trust and responsibility in connection with the estate."

The judge said he had urged that the legislature, the only authoritative body, should order payment of the will to charities to which he said MacDonald intended his estate should go. This was not done, however, and the court of appeal granted letters of administration to the daughter.

Got Power of Attorney

"In evidence shows that while this old gentleman was lying on his last sick bed and was mentally incompetent, they got not only this will but a general power of attorney under which they transferred large portions of the estate and distributed $200,000 worth of stock among employees of the MacDonald firm," the judge read.

He charged the evidence showed $1,000,000 was thus transferred and no succession duties had ever been paid on portions of the estate thus transferred.

HENRY ORDERS

Evidence Continues.

With investigations of the town's rent book completed, the Royal Commission investigating relief disbursements here to-day turned to more oral evidence and called witnesses to the stand.

W. L. Fortier, clerk treasurer since June 1932, was asked to explain how relief was carried on.

In June and July no clothing was given and in August council had decided to give clothing to children only, Mr. Fortier said.

"Let me correct you there," Mr. Williams interrupted, "we find in the books big accounts given to people who had no children, so don't dwell on the school children."

"I know that," witness admitted. "In August about $4,000 worth of clothing was distributed, chiefly by Councillor Joe Sevigny, chairman of the relief committee."

"I am told there were some kicks" said Mr. Williams.

The "kicks" were some people were receiving more relief than required, witness said. "Some of the councillors thought too generous supplies were given."

Frightened Witnesses.

TORONTO, Jan. 23 (C.P.).—"I'll bet you a hat when all the evidence is placed before the Commissioner it will be found not five per cent. of relief was distributed improperly in Sturgeon Falls," declared Theodore Legault, merchant and former member of the Provincial Legislature, in an interview to-day.

Mr. Legault was one of a deputation from Sturgeon Falls asking the Government to grant 100 per cent. relief to their municipality.

"The people who have given evidence were frightened to death," he said. "They are brought before the Commissioner and questioned in public, and they don't know what they are saying half the time. The French people are always frightened when they are taken into court, and about 70 per cent. of the people of Sturgeon Falls are French and they won't even give us an interpreter."

There were only 75 salaried people in the town of 4,600 population, and there was no cash in the town, he said.

City Ticket Offices Will Go To Depots

TORONTO, Jan. 23. — (C.P.)— "The moving of the city ticket selling offices of both the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways throughout the country, wherever feasible, to the station depots of the railways is likely to be realized in the near future as the results of agreements said to have been signed by the heads of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways in recent conference in Montreal," a Toronto paper says to-day.

"Not only will these moves take place as soon as it is possible to work out the details, but as a means of removing part of the costly competition which has featured the annual expenditures of both railways. It is understood the soliciting departments of the passenger and freight businesses of both railways are to be greatly reduced," the newspaper says.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Unexpected strength shown by Liverpool wheat quotations gave an early upward trend today to grain values here. Drought in domestic winter wheat territory southwest was unrelieved. Opening unchanged to ¼ up, Chicago wheat futures went higher afterward. Corn started at ⅛-¾ advance and subsequently held near the initial range.

MARMORA AGRICULTURAL GROUP DECIDES TO CARRY ON FOR YEAR

Averts Carnage

In the face of two desperate Chinese armies Rev. A. C. Hoffman, unarmed, marched into the centre of the rival camps, consulted the two generals and was able to call off the conflict and save another Chinese city from going up in smoke. The two armies were struggling for possession of Luchow and it looked as though the successful army would loot the city and kill thousands of inhabitants. Dr. Hoffman reports that the Chinese armies had the most modern of war weapons, including bombing aeroplanes.

Reeve, L. E. Neal is Elected President —Adverse Balance of $73 is Reported.

71 MEMBERS LISTED.

MARMORA, January 23 (Examiner Correspondence). — With a limited attendance the annual meeting of the Marmora Agricultural Society was held in the Council Chamber on Friday afternoon, with the retiring president, G. B. Airhart, in the chair.

That the activities of the society should be carried on despite the present times was the concensus of opinion of those at the meeting. When the meeting adjourned, the 1933 membership list stood at 71, an unexpressed justification of the stand taken by those at the meeting. H. W. Sabine, secretary-treasurer, followed with a very concise financial report. The report showed that receipts for 1932 totalled $2,302.66, with the expenditures amounting to $2,376.06, leaving an adverse balance of $73.40. When it is considered that many of the expenditures were not annual ones, the report is very encouraging. A gain in entries over 1931 was reported for last year. In 1931 entries were 1,537, while last year they totalled 1,696..

G. B. Airhart, before introducing the election of officers spoke in favor of the Fair being continued in 1933, and no dissension with his views found utterance. He firmly declared that having served two years as president, he would not seek re-election. In retiring he felt he should pay a tribute to the past presidents on the board of directors for the support which they always gave the president.

Officers Elected.

For this year's presidency of the society, Reeve Lindsay E. Neal of Marmora Township was given acclamation. F. S. Johnston stepped up into the 1st vice-president's office, and Charles Jones was elected 2nd vice-president.

The Board of Directors are: R. E. Bonter, G. Wellman, Sr., T. W. Rhind, J. E. Gehan, W. A Sanderson, Wellington Billings, W. J Pack, L. P. Hughes, Dan Shannon, W. H. Heath, C. Cook, F. N. Marett, R. E. Lumsden, A. E. Hubble, and J. Clemens, with all past presidents and Joseph Wilson, agricultural representative. The associate directors were re-elected as follows: Mesdames D. Shannon, A Connor, D. E. Bell, C. A. Bleecker, F. R. Wells, F. N. Marett, E. C. Prentice, Hugh Crawford, S. B. Wright, F. A. Bapty, H. R. Haacke. Orville Leonard, F. E. Trennum, T E. Laycock, W H. Heath, L. P. Hughes, W. J. Barlow, W. S Stiles, and G. Kerr.

It was then decided to apply for Government judges for the same classes as in the past years. The society will also link up with the Central Ontario Fairs Association and the Ontario Fairs Association as heretofore. Messrs. F. N. Marett and L. E. Neal were appointed as delegates to the Central Ontario Fairs Association with power to appoint proxies if they find it inconvenient to attend. Messrs. H. R. Pearce and P. Gray were re-appointed auditors. Before the appointed as chairman of a committee which will put on an old-time dance in the Town Hall on February 10, and E. C. Prentice's offer to put on a play a little later was accepted. After the adjournment, the directors held a short meeting, at which the chief business transacted was the re-appointment of H. W. Sabine as secretary-treasurer of the society.

French and English over the possession of the northern part of the continent was reaching its climax. After the fall of Quebec, Cartier's grandfather went into business at St. Antoine, and it was there that Jacquest was born in 1814. Sir Georges Cartier was educated at the Montreal Seminary, then, as now, under the management of the Suplicians.

There was very little of English in his education, which was directed more or less along the same lines as that prevailing in France at the time of Louis Fourteenth. However, his duty of obedience and submission to government was impressed upon him, said the speaker.

Took Part In Rebellion

Soon after at the age of 20, he was admitted to the Bar and almost immediately came under the influence of Papineau, whose oratory was inflaming the French Canadians to a realization of their right to a representation in government. Sympathetically the speaker showed that the power of government had been seized by a few and that the mass of French speaking people had not the rights that they were supposed to enjoy. Cartier carried a musket in Papineau's brief rebellion and had to flee to the United States.

Later he returned and was pardoned for his part in the affair. One result of the rebellion was the Union of Upper and Lower Canada, said the speaker. Both provinces had equal representation in the legislature, but the French were almost entirely shut out of the new legislature. Sir Georges Cartier continued his efforts to gain responsible government and in 1849 at the age of 34 he entered the legislature. There his outstanding abilities soon gained recognition, and after twice refusing a portfolio, he was sworn in as a member of the executive in 1855. From the day he entered the cabinet to the day of his death, his career was a useful and fruitful one for his country.

Aided Confederation

It was through his progressive leadership in the Legislative Council and the manner in which he maintained and voiced the rights of the French-speaking people that he gained the firm support of the French-Canadians and carried Quebec into Confederation. He it was who maintained that the confederation of the provinces should be a federal union with each province retaining the right to manage such affairs as touched only itself.

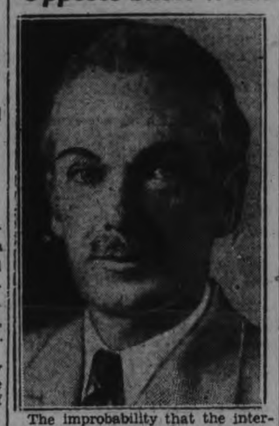
In 1872 through a succession of events over which he had no control and for which he was no way responsible he was defeated and lost his seat in the government. Broken in health after his year of incessant toil, he died the next year.

H. R. H. Kenner expressed the thanks of the club to Dr. Bannister and stated that the lives of three men, Cartier, Sir John A. Macdonald, and Sir George Brown, mainly responsible for confederation should be closely studied by every Canadian. He stated that Canadian union had served as a pattern for other parts of Empire.

Exchange Rates

Exchange rates at noon today were: Pound sterling in Montreal 3.87; U. S. dollar in Montreal 1.13⅛. Pound sterling in New York 3.36-11-16. Canadian dollar in New York 86 15-16.

Opposes Short Week



The improbability that the international conference on unemployment would sanction or approve a plan for a 40-hour week was increased at Geneva when the Canadian, French and German delegates opposed the motion. In stating Canada's position, A. R. Goldie (ABOVE) of Galt, Ont., who is Canada's representative, explained that manufacturers have been using the spread work method to great extent, but without maintaining the full weekly wage and at a sacrifice to both workers and employers.

DISARMAMENT SNAGS LISTED

Washington Official Shows How Points of Conflict Overbalanced Agreements.

MAIN PLANS FAIL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(A.P.) —A year of disarmament effort at Geneva was said by the Foreign Policy Association to-day to have resulted in points of conflict between the great world powers outweighing those of agreement.

A report prepared by William T. Stone, Washington representative of the Association, summarized the points of agreement and disagreement as follows:

Agreement— Qualitative disarmament; prohibition of air attacks against civilian populations; prohibition of chemical warfare, provisional agreement on control of arms manufacture, budgetary limitation and supervision, and the priciple of equalization of rights approved in the five-power declaration as part of "a system which would provide security for all states."

Disagreements—Germany opposing Great Britain and the United States, ignoring French system of security; France and her dependents opposing the Hoover plan for direct military reductions independent of security; France opposing British proposals for direct reductions; failure to apply as a definite agreement German demands for full equality of rights.

CANADIAN EXPORTS TO UNITED STATES DROP FOR THE MONTH

While Trade With United Kingdom Increased During Same Period by $729,000.

Montreal Bank Statement.

MONTREAL, Jan. 23 (C.P.) — The Bank of Montreal, in its monthly business summary issued to-day, takes note of a shift in Canadian export trade away from the United States and toward the British market. Practically the whole of the $10,639,680 decline in Canadian domestic exports for December, as compared with the corresponding month last year, was in exports to the United States, it says.

The United States market, it continues is virtually closed to farm and livestock products from Canada, not a bushel of wheat or barley having gone from the Dominion to that country in December, nor a pound of butter, and only $32,000 worth of cattle. Exports to the United Kingdom, however, increased during the same period by $729,000.

"In a large survey of Canada's foreign trade in 1932," the summary says, "the impressive feature is the sharp decline in exports to the United States and the trend to increase exports to Great Britain."

The summary contains a brief referenec to removal of restrictions on Canadian cattle shipped to the United Kingdom and notes exports of animals are being made in fair volume from Saint John and Halifax.

Statement of chartered banks for November, 1932, it says, "show several important changes in accounts" during the month, "proceeds of the loan issued by the Dominion Government resulted in an increase of $60,997,000 in Federal deposits, bring the total up to $105,754,000. Notice deposits rose by the sum of $8 109,000, but there was a reduction of $21,116,000 in demand deposits, making a net decrease of $13,007,000.

"Holdings of Government securities rose by $35,600,000 to $551,158,000, the highest figure on record. The quiet state of trade caused a decline of $18,813,000 in current loans, bringing the figure $103,559,000 below November, 1931."

GEORGE VAN VOLKENBURG IS GROUP'S FIRST PRESIDENT

Northumberland County Cheese Factory Patrons Elect Officers for Current Year.

AIMS OUTLINED.

CAMPBELLFORD, Jan. 23 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — George VanVolkenburg, prominent Seymour Township farmer and president of the Woodland's Cheese Factory, was elected by the Board of Directors the first president of the Northumberland County Cheese Factory Patrons' Association, following the formation of that group at a Campbellford meeting last week. Other officers elected were: Vice-President, F. Harnden; Secretary-Treasurer, John A. Murray; Auditors, Walter H. Smith and Thos. H. Rowe.

The formation of this group is based on the solidification of all cheese factories in the county, the board being composed of the presidents of each factory.

At the organization meeting a constitution was presented and accepted, this aiming to advance the cheese industry in the county. It also advocates the improvement of quality and increase the quantity of all raw material going into the factories and to work for the consolidation of the present manufacturing plants with the view of having them operated more economically and for a longer period each year and to arrange for a more equitable handling of the surplus milk during the winter months.

Cold Storage.

The arrangement of cold storage will also be looked into for the storage, assembling and cooling of cheese and markets, especially a more up-to-date system of doing business arranged.

Although the organization will hold jurisdiction in the County of Northumberland it can act as an auxiliary to and affiliate with any Provincial or Dominion association that now exists or may in the future be formed, having for their objects the principles of the association. It will also be possible to appoint to the board in an executive position any person who is not a cheese factory patron, thus giving scope for the acquisition of a person in an advisory capacity.

The first year's fees for membership will consists of one-half cent per thousand pounds of milk for each factory, based on the previous year's record.

In an endeavor to get every factory linked up with this association it is expected that factory meetings will be held in the county at which the patrons will be informed at it the objects and aims of the new group.

Argue's Victory

For the third time in as many years, Argue Martin, M.P.P., of Hamilton, won the Dominion squash racquet title at Hamilton. He is Canada's foremost exponent of the speedy game, and in the final game against J. Nitterance played sensationally.

Lady Bailey Starts Back Over Sahara

The report that Lady Bailey turned northward, to recross the Sahara desert, indicated she has given up her projected flight from London to Cape Town. She was missing four days last week after taking off from Oran on the second leg of her flight and was found, exhausted and suffering from thirst, near Tahoua, French West Africa. She flew the 250 miles from there to Niamey. An Algiere despatch yesterday said bad weather prevented her departing from Niamey.

Mixed Theories

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23.— (A. P.)—James Dixon, 38 year old negro, was in the city jail today because he wanted his $8 to go far—but he got his theories of inflation and deflation mixed up.

In attempting to make big bills out of little ones, police said, Dixon had added a zero to the "1's" in the upper right corner but on the upper left he put the zero before the "1."

Obituary

ABRAHAM MATCHETT

(Examiner Correspondence)

CAVAN, Jan. 23.—The death of Abraham Matchett occurred January 10th at the home of his son Captain Henry Matchett, Fort Benning, Georgia. He was a member of one of the highly respected pioneer families of Cavan. He was born and spent his younger days on the farmer on the Eighth Line, Cavan, now owned by his nephew, Mr. Richard Matchett.

After his marriage he moved to St. Paul, Minnesota, U.S.A. where he was in business for many years. He is survived by two sons, Captain Henry Matchett of Fort Benning, Georgia, and Sherwood of St. Paul, Minnesota, and one daughter, Mrs. Sterling Temple of Niagara Falls, U.S.A. and one sister, Mrs. Johnson of Bethany. Although Mr. Matchett was in his seventy-ninth year, his death came as a surprise to his relatives in Ontario as he was a regular correspondent and had been in excellent health. He had been in the garden, where he loved to work among his roses and flowers. After supper he retired, feeling as well as usual, but in the morning suffered a stroke from which he never regained consciousness.

He had been remarkably bright for his years, kept in close touch with many friends by correspondence and each summer made a visit to his relatives in Cavan and other Ontario places where he much enjoyed renewing old acquaintances. Interment was at St. Paul, Minn.

window. And as Jehu entered in at the gate . . . he lifted up his face to the window, and said, 'Who is on my side? Who?' And there looked at him two or three eunchs. And he said, Throw her down .'So they threw her down; and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses; and he trode her underfoot."

That is the story, intense, dramatic and swift. The box used on that occasion which has just been found is of ivory. It is of fine workmanship. The excavations carried on in the hills of Samaria reveal that this city was of much greater extent and splendor than has been thought. The excavation work is carried on jointly by the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Harvard University and the British Palestine Association. So far the walls of Ahab's palace have been laid bare. It is the palace from which he could see the garden of Nabob which he coveted and which Jezebel obtained for her husband by having Nabob killed.

Synagogue Laid Bare

Interesting as the finds at Samaria may be, no less so is the work at Capernaum. There the synagogue has been laid bare. It is the synagogue in which Jesus preached on the Sabbath that is to say, where He, as a good Jew, was called to read a portion from the Torah. In the yard where the broken down columns and walls lie now in orderly piles, preparatory to being put back in their original shape, I saw a stone engraved with the Mogen David, the Star of David, the Jewish national-religious emblem which may be seen in the facade of Jewish temples and synagogues all over the world to this day.

This stone in Capernaum, however, is of particular significance. It faced the speaking rostrum, or pulpit of the synagogue. There is no question that Jesus was looking directly at this stone as He pronounced His first public utterance.

Ruins of Biblical Cities

Further south in the Plain of Cities they have come upon a set of foundations which are considered those of the destroyed cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Scientists at work there assured me that there is not the slightest doubt that the two cities were destroyed in a fierce catastrophe, probably a volcanic eruption coupled with a terrific earthquake.

Just outside the present city of Jericho the walls that fell down "at the blast of Levitical trumpets" have come back to daylight. They show Hittite traces of architecture, but no certainty exists as to how Joshua got them to tumble down at the precise moment. There are scientists who believe that he tunnelled underneath and had the Levites and the Arch of the Covenant parade about with much ceremonial in order to divert the attention of the people of Jericho from his sapping operation . I visited Jericho several times and fully expected to be offered a piece of the scarlet cord which a certain lady, by the name of Rachab, an ancestor of David and of Jesus, is said to have hung outside the window. But perhaps this was too much to expect.

Science Will Not Say

Digging for ancient sites is going on in twenty-seven important places in Palestine. In the valley of Josaphat, which is honeycombed with tombs, there was found last year a small stone coffin inscribed with the name Jeshua ben Yussef or Jesus the Son of Joseph. It was one of those coffins in which withered human bones were gathered after they had lain in larger tombs for a number of years when they were removed to make place for newcomers.

The discovery of this coffin naturally produced a violent altercation. For if this box had actually once contained the remains of Jesus of Nazareth, what becomes of the whole theory of the resurrection? The box contained nothing but a little dust. Announcement of its discovery brought immediate challenges from the highest ecclesiastical authorities in the world. Without having seen the box, without having the experience of scientific research, the box was condemned by those men as "an impossibility." But an impossibility or not there it was, inscribed in Aramaic, the language of common parlance in vogue in the epoch when Jesus lived. Side by side with the account of the resurrection as given in the New Testament, stands this crude box inscribed with the name of Jesus, taken from a graveyard in which were also found boxes inscribed with the names of men who are known to have been contemporaries of the Nazarene. The scientists who made the discovery refuse to be drawn into any controversy. They content themselves with saying: "There is no use combating religious opinion which rests upon sources of information which are suspect to every scientist and to the majority of Christian pastors. The only thing to do is to go on with the job, find what there is to find and draw our own conclusions."

This job is an arduous one. Palestine is a land that holds many a mystery in its soil. The debris of the centuries has covered the remnants of centuries. In Jerusalem the excavators are down to the fifth and sixth foundation. It is almost certain that a seventh, an even earlier Jerusalem, lies below these. If we take into consideration that a great civilization, that of the Hittites, had flourished and had already disappeared in the days when Joshua conquered the land for the children of Israel, we may gain a slight insight in the magnitude of the task of the many archaeological organizations which carry on operations in Palestine.

PROPOSALS CONDEMNED TO LINK TWO RAILWAYS

WINNIPEG, Jan. 23. (CP)—Proposals for amalgamation of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways were condemned by Senator Landrun McMeans and five Manitoba members of the House of Commons when they attended a conference of railway empicyee's representatives here during the week-end. The members were W. W. Kennedy, Cons., Winnipeg; A. D. Beaubien, Prog., Provincher; J. H. Stitt, Cons., Selkirk and A. A. Heaps, Labor, Winnipeg.

Also adopting an attitude of sympathy with the men Hon. Robert Rogers, M.P. for South Winnipeg, stated he had received word from Ottawa the other day that there was no possibility of an amalgamation.

represent the Farmers' and Ratepayers' League, is making a special appeal to the agricultural community to use its power "over the policies of our governments." One item in its program is revision of the Anglo-Irish treaty "by consent so that it recognizes our right to leave the Commonwealth if we wish."

Referring to this plank in the Centre Party platform, Eamon de Valera said in one of his speeches, "What is the moral right of the Commonwealth to hold us, I would like to know. We have a moral right to be as independent as any nation in the world."

LONDON, Ont. — Elijah Henry, young Muncsy reserve Indian who went on the warpath and threatened his sweetheart with a gun, will spend 30 days in jail. Elijah attended a dance where he accused his girl of "two-timing" him. When her brother stepped in, Elijah jabbed the gun into the brotherly ribs and then fled without firing a shot.

And all through the 26 counties of the Free State candidates and party organizations are working with feverish energy. Daily papers all carry huge party advertisements. Bill-boards are ablaze with multi-colored posters. The grey stone walls which skirt the country roadside and city pavements bear lime-washed appeals to hesitant voters.

The leaders of both the main parties are planning huge closing demonstrations. Mr. De Valera says his final word in Dublin tonight. Mr. Cosgrave has six meetings in Cork to wind up his campaign.

Final Results Friday.

The voting is done by proportional representation. The counting begins on Wednesday, so that the returns of those elected on the first preference votes are expected late Wednesday afternoon, but the final results will not likely be learned before Friday. And as the battle closes the question of which way the farmer will vote remains a great mystery, which only the ballot box will solve. Both sides recognize the issue lies largely in the hands of the farmers, and the farmer is saying very little.

The Fianna Fail expects gains in Mayo and Galway, with the west their chief strength. The Cosgrave Cumann na nGadeheal is looking to gains in the south. The new Centre Party, which is bidding for the balance of power and is supposed to

OLD BUSINESS MAN PASSES IN STIRLING

George E. Lagrow Been in Business for Forty-Six Years.

STIRLING, Jan. 23 (Special to The Examiner).—A sadness o'erspread this community on Tuesday afternoon, when it was learned that George E. Lagrow, one of Stirling's pioneer business men had passed away aged 76 years and nine days. Mr. Lagrow had suffered a paralytic stroke about five years ago, but had practically recovered his former activities, and had been enjoying good health until a couple of weeks ago when he was overtaken with a second attack of this malady. He gradually became worse and on Saturday all hopes for recovery were given up, and he passed away three days later.

Mr. Lagrow was well known throughout the district, and was in business here for over forty-six years, having retired from the grocery and bakery business over eight years ago. He conducted his business in the store now occupied by G. W. Jones. He was highly respected and esteemed, and was a man that believed in uprightness, and his word was never questioned. Although born in Cornwall, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lagrow, he came to Stirling when a youth, with his parents. Later he resided in Tweed for a short time, but returned to Stirling and started in business for himself and gained the reputation of being one of the most successful business men in the district. He had seen Stirling develop from a hamlet into a thriving village and could relate many interesting and humorous stories of when this village was the rendezvous for river drivers in the early days, and the Trent River was a log-race.

In religion he was a devoted Roman Catholic and in politics a staunch Liberal.

Mr. Lagrow was married twice. His first wife, Miss Jane Sweetman, of Frankford, predeceased him eighteen years ago. To this union there were two children, one son, James E., of Stirling, and one daughter, Lena, who died sixteen years ago. Eleven years ago he married Miss Josephine Kennaley of Keene. Besides his widow and son, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Bamber, of Belleville, Mrs. Belnap, of Vancouver, and one borther, Will, of Watertown, N.Y.

The funeral service was held in St. James' Church where Requiem Mass was sung for the repose of the soul of the deceased by Rev. H. J. Farrell. In honor of the deceased the business places were closed during the service.

The pall-bearers were M. Kennaley, Keene; Michael Shea, Clinton McGee Sr., A. L. Hough, Ham. Johnston and Thomas Heard.

REDS AND NAZIS CLASH IN BERLIN

would reach their homes without incident.

But trouble began in the streets as the Brown Shirts moved along. A band of Communist workers in the northern district of Berlin upset a truck, barricading one street along which the Nazis came, homeward-bound. They blocked other streets and fights broke out immediately.

The police, carrying rifles, advanced without firing, and dispersed the mobs in that area, but not until several had been injured.

In the factory district of Tegel, Communists boarded street cars and dragged the Nazis into the streets, where they beat them until police came.

In another area in North Berlin, a group of Communist workers, whose demonstrations earlier in the day had been dispersed, gathered again at dusk. The police fired, wounding many, before they dispersed. Three were taken to hospital.

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 23.—(AP)—Attendance at a moving picture show cost Robert Evans, 56-year-old gardener $8,500, he reported to police. His wallet, containing his life's savings, which he reported missing after leaving the theatre, was found on the floor by the manager but it was empty. Evans told police he drew the money, in 17 $500 bills, from a bank three weeks ago and had been carrying it with him.

BRITISH VIEWS OPPOSE RETURN GOLD STANDARD

Hold Freedom of Exchange in International Trade Must Come First.

DEBT PARLEY WELCOMED.

U. S. Seen as Using Debt to Force Britain Back to Former Basis.

LONDON, Jan. 23 (C.P.).—Opposition to the idea of Great Britain returning to the gold standard was strongly featured in to-day's newspaper editorials after the week-end's digestion of the proposed Anglo-American debt negotoations. Comments were based on Washington despatches suggesting the United States may use the British debt as a bargaining weapon to force this country back on a gold basis.

The United States Government's offer to welcome a British debt mission shortly after March 4 was the chief business before to-day's Cabinet meeting—the first to consider the invitation. A formal acceptance may not be forthcoming for several days.

Times' Attitude.

The London Times very cordially welcomed the American action, but nevertheless shied at the idea of restoring the gold standard. It said:

"The hope of thereby providing a remedy for the evil of fluctuating currency exchanges to the relief of international trade is to confuse cause and effect. Gold, being only a counter, cannot be freely exchanged in international finance unless there is a freedom of exchange in international trade — grave risks would be incurred by any attempt to mask the symptoms of the real disease, the breakdown of trade, before finding effective remedies for the causes which produced it."

The Conservative Morning Post declared making the stabilization of the pound the subject of bargaining would be a most unfortunate development. It further saw "little hope for a useful result of the conference unless conditions are first established for final ratification of the Lausanne agreemnt, and it is clear these conditions cannot be established by a settlement of the British debt alone." It is urged the United States to invite all its other debtor nations to new negotiations of their debts.

(The Allies in Europe agreed at Lausanne to reduce German reparations to the equivalent of about one cent on the dollar providing they received similar concessions from the United States.)

Return Impossible.

Lord Rothermere's Daily Mail and the "Labor-Socialist" Herald, while favorably commenting on the American action, both insist that it is impossible for Great Britain to return to the gold standard on the old basis.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald was still considered one of the most likely choices to head the British mission to Washington, providing his health and affairs here permit. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, may be kept here because of Budget problems, and Stanley Baldwin, President of the Council, because of the unpopularity of the debt agreement he negotiated in 1923. These and Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, however, were believed in line for appointment to the mission.

Weak Girls and Boys

Mrs. Stimpson's Nervous Daughter Helped by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—School Boy Likewise.

New Strength During 'Teen Age

"My daughter was a thin, nervous child, 24 pounds underweight. Having been brought up in England, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are so widely known, I gave them to her, with the result that she is now, at 16, a fine, healthy, lively girl." So writes Mrs. G. Stimpson, Winnipeg, Man.

"My brother, George, had been growing pale, and lost his appetite, and could not concentrate on his mechanical studies," writes Joseph Johnston, Edmonton, Alberta. "A neighbor recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. George took them regularly, and in a week showed great improvement. Since then he has been feeling great, and has not been bothered by stomach or headaches."

The 'teen age is a trying time, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are wonderfully effective in imparting needed vigor and vitality to growing girls (and boys, too). The Pills actually create an abundance of rich, red blood, and this revitalizes exhausted systems. At your druggist's, 50c.

CAMP BORDEN HAS NEW ROLE

Defense Department Provides Work There for 160 Jobless Single Men.

LAST THROUGH WINTER.

BARRIE, Ont., Jan. 23 (C.P.). — Camp Borden, where thousands of men have been trained for the Canadian Air Service, is now engaged in a new peace-time role, that of keeping the wolf from the door of nearly 160 single unemployed homeless men from all parts of Ontario.

The men, who heretofore have had scarcely a place to sleep, are concentrating at Camp Borden today and to-morrow and will remain there until the end of March.

H. T. Simpson, M.P., North Simcoe, declared to-day this subsidiary camp is directly under the control of the Department of National Defence at Ottawa, and the purpose is to make a home for the men during the winter months. The Dominion Government is bearing the entire cost without assistance from the Province or municipalities.

Members of the new camp will be enraged in providing Camp Borden with a thorough cleaning-up. Old railway tracks and sidings laid during more prosperous times will be taken up and old buildings which are past their useful days will be removed. The men will be quartered in the various barracks and the camp will be civilian in nature, and not operated on military lines. The men will be provided with board and clothes, and will also be paid at the rate of 20 cents a day.

Barrie will lose a number of those on relief through the camp.

Assets totalled $47,298,633 and the distribution of ledger assets was as follows: 30.1% Government and Municipal Bonds; 28.0% First Mortgages; 18.6% Policy Loans; 10.8% Corporation Bonds; 5.3% Bank, Loan, Trust and Consumers' Gas Stocks; 3.8% Preferred Stocks; 3.2% Real Estate and Cash in Banks, etc; 1/5 of 1% Common Stocks.

GREAT STRENGTH AND STABILITY

The soundness of the Company's investment policy is indicated by the high character and well-balanced diversification of its assets and also by the earned interest rate of 5.70%. After writing down assets by $1,164,841 and providing an investment contingency reserve of $1,100,000 the surplus funds amounted to $6,035,328. The Company thus holds assets of $115.00 for every $100.00 in liabilities.

The policyholders, who receive the entire profits earned and who own and control this mutual assurance company, may regard with satisfaction its outstanding achievements, dividend record, strength and conservatism.

U. S. BEER BILL ADVANCES STEP

FAVOR 3.05 PER CENT.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(A.P.)—The Collier-Blaine bill to legalize 3.05 per cent. beer and wine in the United States won the approval to-day of the Senate Judiciary Committee after an attempt to limit the alcoholic content to 2 per cent was rejected.

The committee adopted an amendment to prohibit sale of the 3.05 per cent beverages to children.

The Volstead law modification proposal now goes to the Senate, but promptly will be referred to the Finnace committee for consideration of its provision levying a tax of $5 a barrel.

The move to cut the alcoholic content permitted by the bill was made by Senator Bratton, New Mexico Democrat, but was rejected by the committee 8 to 6.

With strong Democratic support of the bill, leaders have predicted that it will reach a vote in the Senate this session. It already has passed the House in different form, proving for 3.2 per cent. beer.

President Hoover, according to his friends on Capitol Hill, is prepared, however, to veto the bill.

The 3.05 per cent limitation is based on an official British Commission's report that beer of that content is non-intoxicating.

HOTEL GENOSHA, OSHAWA IS OFFERED FOR SALE

OSHAWA, Jan. 23.—At a meeting of the bondholders of the Hotel Genosha, held in the hotel Saturday, it was unanimously decided to offer the hotel for sale, subject to the approval of the court, which is necessary under the receivership by which the hotel is operated. If the hotel cannot be sold, it was decided, operation will cease, and it will be closed down. This information was given out by John S. Moore, General Manager of the London & Western Trust Company, which is the receiver for the property. Any reasonable price will be accepted for the property, said Mr. Moore, and he made the suggestion that probably a local group might be interested in taking it over, in order to keep it in operation.

REEVE BOTTUM LIKELY WARDEN

DR. ANDERSON IS CORONER

LINDSAY, Jan. 23 (Special to The Examiner). — The Ontario Municipal Board will be asked to take over the government of Dysart Township, Haliburton County. This action was taken at a recent meeting of the municipal council in order to protect all bondholders, ratepayers and everyone concerned.

Victoria County Council will meet on Tuesday of next week. There will be a race for the Wardenship, and the concensus of opinion is that Reeve Bottom, of Bobcaygeon will be given the honor. A ten per cent salary cut on all county employees is one of the questions before the council.

Dr. Anderson, of Kirkfield, has been appointed coroner for the County of Victoria.

Gerald Robinson and Eugene Coulter, of Verulah, had a narrow escape from serious injuries near Kinmount when a truck load of furniture slewed and landed the truck in the deep ditch. A cow which had been tied in the truck was killed, but the men escaped with a shaking up.

INFANTRY DRILL CHANGE MOOTED

U. S. Army to Try Regulations Abolishing Pomp in Favor of Efficiency.

SPEEDS TRAINING.

NEW YORK, January 23 (...—The famous old army command of "Squads Right" will be totally ignored on February 1 when Company F of the Seventh Regiment, New York National Guard, will demonstrate proposed new infantry drill regulations before Major-General George E. Leach, Chief of the United States Militia Bureau.

No longer, under these regulations, must a recruit learn the "Close order" tactics which drive drill sergeants distracted and occupy weary hours of every soldier's day.

New commands include such expressions: "Approaching enemy aircraft!" "Triangular formation!" "Line of sections!"

Lieut. Peter W. Guala, of Company F, describes the new regulations as abolishing military pomp in favor of efficiency.

"The United States soldier of the future," he says, "will be trained solely as a fighting man. Every command he hears will indicate fighting rather than disciplinary action. Under the new regulations, we can make a soldier out of a civilian in one month instead of the six months we required during the World War."

UNTOUCHABILITY TEST IS COMING

Willingdon Permits Private Member's Bill to be Introduced in Legislature.

VITAL PROBLEM.

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 23 (C. P. Cable).—A test decision, one of the most important problems in India will be taken in the Legislative Assembly of Madras shortly. It was officially announced to-day that Earl Willingdon, Viceroy of India, had decided to permit the introduction into the Assembly of a private member's bill seeking abolition of untouchability—the caste disabilities for Untouchables, of whom Mahatma Gandhi is most prominent—on the understanding the government is in no way committed to acceptance or support of the principles of the bill.

At the same time, however, the Viceroy refused to permit introduction of two bills which were designed to remove the religious disabilities of the depressed classes, and to remove the present ban on their approaching the temples. He made this decision on the ground the bills were of an essentially All-Indian character affecting generally the religious beliefs and practices of the Hindus as a whole.

Removal of the disabilities under which the Untouchables have suffered for centuries is one of the cardinal points in Mahatma Gandhi's policies.

"Gossip and Such"

THE GYM TEST TO WHICH Seaman Watson, the British featherweight rule was submitted before the New York boxing commission would permit him to enter the same ring with Kid Chocolate in a battle for world title, brings back that hardy perennial among fistic topics—the gym champion.

* * *

THE GYM CHAMPION IS A fellow who is unbeatable in practise but a fadeout in the ring. And the history of pugilism has had many champions of this stripe as the other champions who do their stuff before roaring thousands-and collects.

* * *

HE IS PROBABLY THE most tragic of ring characters of which there are many. His cleverness, speed and punching ability in practise blinds everyone including himself. And then he gets into the ring and a punch shatters rosy dreams into drab reality.

* * *

JACK McAULIFFEE II WAS an outstanding example of the gym champion. In camp he looked like the sure successor of Jack Dempsey then the heavyweight king. The rooky fists of Luis Firpo destroyed that belief. Jack had courage, ambition and brains, but must have lacked that quality that some sports writers call competitive spirit.

* * *

SEAMAN WATSON MAY not become a world champion, but then he is not a gym champion either. In his gym test he was capable but no flash. However, this does not mean he won't go great guns against stiff competition in American rings. Some of the greatest fighters have been flops in practice.

* * *

PAUL BERLENBACH WAS the direct opposite of the gym champion type. Paul was terrible in training, but put up some of the greatest battles of the last decade when he got inside the ropes with a really tough opponent. Herr Maxie Schmeling is another Pole 'Em Paulie. He looke like a palooka in practice togs.

* * *

WHEN TRAINING FOR THE Stribling bout, Herr Max appeared slow and confused. Meanwhile, the challenger was causing comment by the brilliance of his performances in camp. But on the night of the fight, it was Maxie. All of which is to the effect that you can never tell who's really who until the bell rings.

* * *

JACK DEMPSEY, AT LEAST in his early years, looked good in the gym or in the big ring. Jack was that rare ringster who makes it a fight whether it was with pillows or skin-tight mittens. But there were never many like the Manassa Mauler. And there isn't anyone like him now.

ROACH STARS AS RED WINGS BLANK AMERKS

Sorrell and Carson Score as Detroit Wins Twelfth Straight Victory.

SENATORS LOSE 2-1.

Maroons Blank Rangers 5-0; Canucks Make Comeback to Defeat Bruins 5-2.

TORONTO, Jan. 23. —(CP)— John Ross Roach isn't for giving the opposition a chance to break Detroit's winning streak in the National League—not a chance.

The old Port Perry puck-stopper, who got himself sold down to Detroit at the end of last season by doing a Grover Cleveland Alexander during Rangers' play-off spasm, has avenged himself most fully on New York.

Last week he shutout Rangers and last night he held Americans scoreless as the Red Wings alighted in first place in the circuit's United States division with a flourish that was mostly of Roach's doing.

These consecutive shutouts ran the string of John Ross to six for the season and four since the Wings started an upward flight in mid-December that is still unfinished. The former Toronto and Ranger goalie played his most spectacular hockey of the campaign to allow Detroit to upset Americans 2-0 last night and regain the leadership by a single point over the Patrick Blueshirts.

Johnny Sorrell scored in the first period and Frank Carson rattled home an Ebbie Goodfellow pass in the second to encourage Roach in barricading his cage from the onrushing Amerks, joint sensations with the Wings until a few days ago.

The loss left Joe Simpson's Spangled outfit with only a point to spare in second place over Montreal Maroons, who got definitely into third place at last by bashing the Rangers 5-0 in New York. There was no recent precedent for this upset but the in-and-out Redmen care little for past performance charts when they feel the way they did last night.

It was Davie Kerr's second straight win since he took over Flat Walsh's goaling job and the first whitewash Rangers have been subjected to in New York since late in the season of 1931. Glen Brydson, Paul Haynes and Hooley Smith just about clinched the affair for Maroons in the second period, scoring successively, and Earl Robinson and Baldy Northcott completed the rout in the third.

Canadiens, who are just as much in earnest about climbing as Marroons, were equally impressive as they walloped Boston Bruins 5-2 at Montreal Saturday night. Bruins offered stubborn resistance but the Frenchmen rammed in two goals in the first period, Aurel Joliat and Sylvio Mantha scoring, and got a third early in the second from George Mantha before Harry Oliver finally tallied for Boston.

2-1 Win Over Ottawa

If Ottawa Senators could have held 25 seconds longer they would have pulled out a point at Chicago but Art Coulter, recruit Hawk defenceman, spoiled the defensive effort by shooting a goal at this stage on Tommy Cook's pass to give Tommy Gorman's team a 2-1 win, second straight since the old Ottawa tactician took charge of Chicago's hockey destinies. Allan Shields had given Senators a lead in the first period and Mush March had tied the count in the second.

Four Senior Teams Defeated By Leafs

TORONTO, Jan. 23.— Four victories in one afternoon. That is what Toronto Maple Leafs, world's hockey champions, achieved on Saturday afternoon. But it did not increase their lead in the National Hockey League race.

The occasion was the huge charity show, a unique program in Toronto hockey history, and a great show it was. A crowd estimated at 13,000 saw Conny Smythe's hustling Leafs turn back four of the strongest senior teams in Ontario, thus showing that amateurs are no match for the "pros."

In the opening session Niagara Falls Cataracts bowed in defeat by 1 to 0. Next came the close-checking University of Toronto seniors, who gave an impressive display despite the fact that they were blanked 3 to 0. Marlboros were next in line, and they had the Leafs plenty anxious, although outscored 3 to 2. National Sea Fleas, Allan Cup champuions, were last on the card, but they suffered the same fate, going down by a 3 to 0 count.

BISONS BLANK OLYMPICS FOR 4-0 VICTORY

Herd Gains Second Place With Syracuse as Result of King Loop Win.

DETROIT FALLS TO STARS.

TORONTO, January 23 (C.P.).— The remarkable spurt of the Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League is being duplicated to some extent by the thundering Buffalo Bisons of the International Hockey League. Winning eight and tieing one of their last 10 games, Bisons to-day have advanced to within two points of the league leadership.

Playing a double-header over the week-end, Buffalo whitewashed Detroit 4-0, on Saturday, for Goalie Bus Tauscher's third consecutive shut-out on Ford Erie ice, and on Sunday they played a scoreless tie with Cleveland Indians at Cleveland.

In the third game played, Syracuse regained some of the ground they lost to London on Friday, when they inflicted a second loss on Detroit Olympics by a score of 6-2 at Syracuse on Sunday.

An almost perfect game was staged at Cleveland, for in addition to a complete absence of goals, only two penalties were imposed, both going to Buffalo players.

Moore Good in Goal.

Alfie Moore ,who is playing in the Cleveland nets again, after a lengthy absence, had more work than Tauscher to do, as the Bisons pressed hard to run their string of successive wins to five.

Taking a cue from London, who scored five goals against them in two minutes, Syracuse slipped three pucks into the Detroit net within one minute during the middle session. Red Mitchell, Detroit's rookie defenceman, was serving time when the trio were counted.

Just to show they had not given up battling, Detroit scored a goal in the final five seconds, Gus Marker rapping one past Benny Grant on a pass from Gordie Brydson. Incidentally Brydson also helped Makarsky score the first Syracuse counter.

Darragh Scores Two.

Stars' goals were well distributed. Tony Savage and Hal Darragh had two. In the three-goal splurge, Teasdale, Jack Markle, and Stew Adams were the marksmen, and Scotty Martin notched the other.

In the Detroit-Buffalo game, the Olympics weakened after the first frame, and were unable to hold the Bisons, who scored two in each of the last two sessions.

Lloyd Gross and Leroy Goldsworthy added extra spice to an already hectic game when they tangled with one another, requiring a half-dozen players to untangle them.

Bud Schultz and Carr picked up two scoring points each. Carr joined with Gamey Lederman to help Roter Roth score the first goal, while he notched one himself on a solo attack.

Schultz scored the second Bison marker by himself and gave Leo Godin a pass for the third goal of the game.

Tulsa A.A. Entry Blanks Pla-Mors

TULSA, Okla., January 23 (C.P.). — Tulsa's new American Association hockey team, late of St. Paul, to-day had shown a complete reversal of form to wrest a 1-0 decision from Kansas City Pla-Mors.

"Sonny Boy" Wakeford, an oiler in the old days of Dick Carroll as coach and Walter Whiteside as the owner, shot in the single goal of last night's contest late in the first period on a pass from Norman Locking.

Two fights between Wakeford and Wasp Campbell, the diminutive Kansas City centre, added extra interest. They were assessed major penalties.

ARROWS HEAD MINOR LEAGUE

Philadelphia Defeats Providence Reds 5-1 on Their Own Ice.

CUBS LOSE TIE CHANCE.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 23 (C.P.).— The fast-stepping Philadelphia Arrows, who have been chasing the Boston Cubs since the start of the Canadian-American League season, overtook their rivals during the past week and to-day occupied the top place in the standing with a two-game margin.

The Cubs lost a chance to pull back into a first place tie at Quebec on Friday, and Saturday night the Arrows widened the gap by smearing the Providence Reds, last year's champions, 5-1, on their home rink. The Reds trailed the Cubs by a half game with New Haven and Quebec forming the rear guard in the five-club circuit.

Top High Scoring.

Although yielding the lead, the Cubs refused to give up their high scoring honors. Lloyd Klein, burly Boston winger, topped the list with 25 points, 12 goals and 13 assists, and his mates on the Cubs' Varsity line, the injured Alex Cook and Ted Saunders, were in a tie for third honors behind Paul Runge of the Arrows, who registered four goals against the Reds Saturday night to boost his total to 24 points. Then he collected three points Sunday night against the Eagles. "Hago" Harrington, Providence, followed the Cubs' player with 22 points, and Eddie Burke, Philadelphia, has 20.

Peters of Philadelphia became the circuit's highest penalty carrier during the week, which he finished with 26 minors and a major. Ellis Pringle of New Haven, last week's leader, followed with 26 minors and a major, and Bill Regan, New Haven, stood third on the list with 23 minors and a major.

SWITCH GEAR BLANKS OFFICE FOR 1-0 COUNT

Armature Winding and Machine Shop Battle to Scoreless Tie in C.G.E. Shop League.

DRAFTSMEN-TOOLIES 1-1

Four bitterly-fought hockey battles passed into history on Saturday afternoon when the C.G.E. Inter-department league schedule was continued, despite poor ice conditions, at the Brock Street Rink. The games were the most keenly-contested of any so far this year and resulted in two tie scores, one shut-out and a 2-1 decision, the lowness of the scores indicating to a great extent the close competition, although the soft ice surface tended to slow up the smooth hockey artists, thus reducing to some extent the possibilities of scoring.

The Toolmakers in the senior section of the league who have not been demonstrating much of the classy hockey that has been a feature of the Mechanics' performances in past years, came to life on Saturday by holding them to a 1-all tie. The Switchgear team on the other hand continues to loom as a real threat by shutting out the Office 2 to 0. In Group Two the Structural Steel playing with five men, surprised the fans by trouncing the Fractional Motors, 2 to 1, while in the other game the Armature Winders who are holding down the cellar position, held the clever Machinists to a scoreless tie.

The Office fell back into third place in the league standing by their defeat at the hands of the Switchgear stalwarts, while the winners, maintaining the fast pace in the senior section with the Draftsmen. This game which was played early in the afternoon before the ice was very soft, was a speedy hard-fought tussle that was anybody's verdict until the dying moments of the Lattle.

The Pen-Pushers who boast a Junior O.H.A. goalie in Tommy Miller and a smart defence in Eddie Williams and Mick Magee had more than their hands full in breaking up the driving attacks of the Switchbuilders who literally swarmed around the Office net during the greater part of the duel. Miller block vicious drives from all angles, besides saving sure goals on close-in scrambles. The winners relied for the most part on their clever three-men attacks to carry them almost to the goal-mouth before shooting and this style of attacking salted away the decision.

Paggett, Playford and Maudsley teamed up on the first string front line for the winners, in impressive fashion, breaking fast and passing cleverly to become real threats on every rush. Maudsley secured both goals for Switchgear, one in the second period on a close-in shot that found the upper corner, and the other in the third frame, when he shot from well inside of the blueline, the puck slipping between Miller's legs.

Tuck, for the Office, certainly deserved at least one goal on his play, as he gathered in numerous passes in the Switchgear territory only to miss the net or be robbed by Hope, who was unbeatable in the winners' nets. The teams:

Office.—Goal, Miller; defence, Williams and Magee; centre, Tuck; wings, Payne and Reeve-Newson; alternates: Beavis, Masters, Gray and Broadley.

Switchgear.—Goal, Hope; defence, Mowry and Whatley; centre, Maudsley; wings, Paggett and Playford; alternates, Higgins, Lawrence, Cordery, Hirst and Hall.

Penalties.—Paggett, Payne, Grey and Beavis.

The Drafting Room in their argument with the Toolmakers got away to a nice start in th e first period when Rooke, on right wing, stick-handled his way through the entire team and scored from within a few feet of the goal, giving Stan Jones little chance of blocking. This tally looked very large as the game rolled on and neither teams was able to score, despite the fact that both goalies were given plenty of work.

Both teams flashed good combination and some very tricky stick-handling, while play ranged rapidly from end to end of the arena. Micky Williams and George Jay swooped in on Kearns in the Drafting net repeatedly but were unable to break down his splendid defence. Rooke Allin and Palmer were the main attackers for the Drawing-Makers, the latter displaying a shot that made Jones' task a difficult one.

George Jay secured the counter that tied the score, just one half a minute before the gong went to end the game, when he worked his way in close and batted a fast one past Kearns. The teams:

Tool Room.—Goal, Jones; defence, Griffin and Sanderson; centre, Earle; wings, Jay and Williams; alternate, Craig.

Drafting Room.—Goal, Kearns; defence, Howe and Davis; centre, Palmer; wings, Rooke and Allin; alternates, Shields, Hickey.

The Armature Winders picked up a little for the first time this season when they held the Machinists who are leading Group Two, to a scoreless tie. Muir, Milliken, Ben Wilson were the standouts for the Winders, while Ivan Pearson, in goal, was unbeatable, stopping a flock of hot ones.

For the Machine Shop Bernard Jones and Ashmore were probably the best, but the fron line of Pearson, Craig and Stan Clarke never stopped trying and dished up some very creditable hockey. The teams:

Armature.—Goal, Pearson; defence, Auld and Muir; centre, Mullard; wings, Calladine and Milliken; alternates, McGillen, Menzies, Ben Wilson and Max Wilson.

Machine Shop.—Goal, Tice; defence, Jones and Ashmore; centre, Clarke; wings, Pearson and Craig.

The Structural Steel stayed right up with the leaders in the intermediate group by taking the Fractionals into camp, 2-1, and played the whole game one man short. Kearney, Pilling and Howarth were the mainstays for the winners. The teams:

Fractional Motors.—Goal, Routley; defence, Hatton and Thomas; centre, Rainey; wings, Hall and Hayes; alternate, Hollingsworth.

Structural Steel.—Goal, Black; defence, Howarth and Darling; centre, Pilling; wing, Kearney.

Referee for all four games—Archie Weir.

ALBIONS TIE WITH MADOC GROUP LEAD

"Kid Line" of Chiles, Hagerman and J. Voyer Stars in 3-1 Win Over Deloro.

CLOSELY FOUGHT

HAVELOCK, Jan. 23.—Havelock Albions advanced into a tie with Madoc for group leadership on Friday evening by defeating Deloro, in that town ,by the score of 3 to 1. The game, despite the fact the ice being in poor condition was fast and exciting throughout. The kid line, consisting of Chiles, Hagerman and J. Voyer, was by far the best on the ice and their offensive and back-checking had the Deloro squad completely baffled. C. Wrightly of the junior team made his first appearance with the Intermediates and teamed up well with McLaughlin on the defence. Jack Davidson replacing Kennedy in the nets, who is suffering from an injury received in practice, played well for the locals.

From the face-off play raged back and forth for a few minutes and both goalies were tested with hard shots. Finally McLaughlin snared the puck at his blue line, carried it the length of the ice and passed nicely to Chiles, who was camped in front of the Deloro nets. Chiles made no mistake and batted the rubber past Callery for the first goal of the night. Deloro put on the pressure, but the Albion defense was impregnable.

Deloro Scores.

The second period was hardly under way when Jacks shot a hot one at Callery from the left boards. Watson went in fast for the rebound and shoved the puck past the goalie for the second goal for the Albions. Deloro then staged a 'ganging act' and were finally rewarded when O'Neal drove a hard shot past Davidson from inside the blue line. The Albions went right back, however, and Jacks made it 3 to 1 on a solo dash, just before the period ended.

The last period was much the same as the first two, but hard checking kept both teams off the score sheet..

Line-ups:

Deloro— Goal, Callery; defence, Brown and Dorie; centre, O'Neal; wings, Stewart and A. Phillips. Subs McCroden, Lovelace, C. Phillips.

Havelock— Goal, Davidson; defence, McLaughlin and Wrightly; centre Jacks; wings, Watson and A. Voyer. Subs, Chiles, J. Voyer, Hagerman, Sanderson.

FALLS SHARES SECOND PLACE WITH HAMILTON

Cataracts Advance by Turning in 3-1 Victory Over Toronto Marlboros.

STEELE LEADS WINNERS.

(By The Canadian Press)

Loquacious Gene Fraser and silent "Nipper" Wilson have their proteges, Niagara Falls Cataracts sharing second place with Hamilton Tigers in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior "A" series today, a single point behind the leading Toronto Marlboros, whom the Cataracts defeated 3-1 Saturday night.

This was the second win for the Falls over the Toronto outfit and the only other time they met, the result was a tie.

Young "Chet" Steele, who played with Marlboro Juniors last season and who is performing with the Cataract Senior this year, proved a Nemesis to the Dukes.

He scored two goals, one a shot from the blue line, which rather nettled the chesty group-leaders. His other goal came near the end of the game, when Marlboros were pressing hard for the tying goal and cinched matters beyond doubt.

Henry Lauzon scored the other Falls' tally on a perfect pass from his north-country teammate, Arva Maki.

Sturdy "Pud" Kitchen, Marlboro's reliable rearguardsmen counted the lone Marlboro tally when he batted in a pass from Bob Davidson.

Neither team was at full strength Art Whittaker, Don Hodges and Johnny McNeill being absent from Marlboros line-up, while Maxie Kaminsky and Scotty Bowman were missing from the Falls' roster.

CLOSE SCORES SCHOOL HOCKEY

QUEEN MARY LOSES 10-3

Two close scores marked the three School Hockey League games staged Saturday at All Saints' rink. Prince of Wales and King Edward put up a fine hard-fought battle between well-matched teams, the K.E. boys winning, 3-2, with half a minute to play in the last frame. Queen Alex took a 6-4 win from Central in another classy and even tilt; while the Queen Mary squad dropped a 10-3 decision to the strong King George outfit in the third tussle.

There was no score in the first period of the initial contest, while both teams chalked one up in the second, Jobe being the King Edward scorer. He passed to Post who tallied early in the third, but again the Wales battlers with a minute left evened the count. Just before the end, Jobe, who starred throughout, took Patterson's pass from he faceoff and hoisted a long one past the other goalie. The teams:

King Edward: Goal, Piercy; defence, Grose and Hall; centre, Patterson; wings, Jobe and Post; subs, Wainman, York, Leggitt.

Referee—O. M. Steer..

Break Tie to Win

Showing a spurt early in the third period, Queen Alex ran in two goals to break a 4-4 tie and pull out ahead of Central. It was a close fight all the way through, both sides showing hard and clever school hockey. It was marked by fair combination, steady defence playing and good work on the part of the rival goalies. Outside of that early part of the third when the winners showed to advantage, there was little to choose between either side. The teams

Referee—D. Crawford.

Cop Early Win

The King George sexette opened up strong and began counting early in their game with Queen Mary and had an edge throughout, though play was closer in the third frame. D. Mortimer starred for the losers, getting all three goals, one unassisted on a beautiful ring-length solo rush. Bousfield at centre turned in a steady efficient effort, with Legon, Blade, Hopcroft and Craig going good as well. The whole King George squad, in fact, worked smoothly, while the losers battled gamely against heavy odds. The teams:

Queen Mary: Goal, Graham; defence, Windsor and Kelly; centre, Mortimer; wings, Kent and Crary; subs, Ackford.

King George: Goal, Hepburn; defence, Hopcroft and McLean; centre Bousfield; wings, Legon and Blade; subs., Davies and Craig.

Referee—O. M. Steer.

SEAMAN WATSON IS CONCEDED LITTLE CHANCE OF GAINING WIN

Ring Observers Call Fidel Labara to Defeat Britisher on Friday Night.

AT ODDS OF 2 TO 1.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (A.P.)—First British featherweight champion in 23 years to try his luck in a United States ring, Seaman Watson will battle Fidel Labarba in a 12-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night. To the winner will go a title match in February with Kid Chocolate, Cuban negro, recognized in the New York State Athletic Commission as world's 126-pound champion.

Unlike his immediate British predecessor, Jim Driscoll, who outpointed Abe Attell here on Feb. 19, 1910, Watson is conceded little chance by ring observers of beating Labarba. The Californian is one of the games' greatest featherweighs and probably will enter the ring a favorite at odds of at least 2 to 1. Labarba gave Chocolate a smashing battle here a few weeks ago and is anxious for another "shot" at the disputed title.

Unexciting Week

This international duel tops an otherwise unexciting week of boxing. Baby Arizmendi, Mexican flash, who is recognized as featherweight title-holder by the California Commission, faces Speedy Dado of the Philippines at Los Angeles tomorrow. At St. Louis, the same night, Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion in the eyes of the New York State Commission, engages Al Stillman of St. Louis in a 10-round non-title match.

PEDEN AND AUDY IN SECOND PLACE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 23 (A.P.) — A blonde German youth, Charlie Winter, and his partner, Dave Lands, crept up among the leaders of the six-day bicycle race early today. A sensational jam that lasted until near midnight last night found the Winter-Lands team stealing the show as Winter also single-handed picked up three laps on the leading team of Reggie McNamara and Norman Hill.

Winter and his mate were five laps behind the pace-setters when the German started the wild jamming.

The field was cut to 11 teams when Harvey Black and Bob Christian withdrew after falling 10 laps off the pace.

GEORGE STREET "B" JUVENILES LOSE TO SAINTS

St. John's Junior Team Drops 15-3 Decision to Murray Street Squad.

CHURCH CAGE LEAGUE.

Knox Juniors kept themselves in the face for the second half of the Church Basketball League schedule by defeating Mark Street, 24 to 14, at the "Y" Saturday evening. The George Street "B" juvenile squad was put out of the race when St. Andrew's walloped them, 14-9; while St. John's junior team fell by the wayside, losing 15 to 3 to Murray Street. Some fast, clever cage play was seen in all three contests, which were marked by exceptionally efficient refereeing.

The George Street "B" team was without Art Stinson, captain and star, although they gave St. Andrew's a good fight anyway. The count was 11-2 against them going into the last half, and they had a good edge during this second part. Weese went well, getting five points; Gunsolus and Henry each snared a basket. For the winners, Doug. McPherson was the best on the floor, with Johnston and McKone also effective. McKone and McPherson got six points each, with Johnston getting two. The teams:

George Street B—Phillips, Weese, Gunsolus, Henry, Ash and Edwards.

St. Andrew's—McPherson, Allen, McKone, Johnston and Killenbeck.

Referee—Vince Holmes; scorer, D. Charlton.

Hard-Checking Game.

The first junior game was a hard-checking one, with Murray Street in front, 6-2 at half-time, and holding their opponents helpless the rest of the way. The Holmes brothers and Galley proved much too good for the Saints, Galley counting nine points, Al Holmes dropping in two baskets, and Vince one. Britnell showed up well for the losers, while Patterson hooped the ball once, with Young getting the other point. The teams:

St. John's—Patte, Young, Gledhill, Patterson, Walsh and Britnell.

Murray Street—A. Holmes, V. Holmes, Galley, Welch and Miller.

Referee, Russ Kitchen; scorer, D. Charlton.

Lead From Start.

Knox had a big line-up and kept alternating to keep on top of their opponents all through the last cage fixture, and were in front of Mark Street 11-7 at the half-way mark. The winners showed up well, both on the firing line and back on defence. They had a smart passing game working throughout. Archibald led with seven points, Seabrooke notched five, Londerville and Hammell each hooped two baskets, and Cowling and H. Cunningham each one. Smith of the losers was the best player on the floor but was watched closely. Sagar and M. Hunter turned in a smart effort, the latter's shot being a bit off. Mark Street had as much of the play as Knox, but the latter squad was better on the defence. Smith got seven points, Sagar six and Wallace one. Ten fouls were called against Knox and seven on Mark Street. The teams:

Mark Street—Sagar, M. Hunter, G. Hunter, Pearse, Ferguson and Smith.

Knox — Hammell, Cunningham, Londerville, Archibald, Wallace, Seabrooke, Benson, Masters and Cowling.

Referee, Russ Kitchen; scorer, Ed. Ascott.

AT THE REGENT

RICHARD DIX IN "ROAR OF THE DRAGON"

There is a fine cast for this picture, and it simply teems with action of a vivid type. Although it looks like a page out of a book of stirring adventure, it is as true to reality as it is possible to get, for everyone knows that scenes like this are probably repeated often in the war-ridden country of China.

Richard Dix is the handsome, hard-drinking, hard-fighting Captain Carson, skipper of an American boat that stops at a Chinese port to find itself embroiled in a struggle with bandits led by the ruffian Voronsky. Gwili (pronounced Jee-lee, by the way) Andre is the heroine, a lovely lady with a French accent and slumbrous eyes, who arouses Carson's antagonism through her connection with the bandit. Then there is Arline Judge in a fine little bit, as "Bridgeport" the young American girl trouper who does so much good work while the hotel in which the Americans stay is laid under siege by the bandits. ZaSu Pitts has a characteristic bit that brings her the customary chuckles, and Edward Everett Horton almost steals the whole show as Busby, whose courage makes him one of those characters whose acting catches at the throat.

It is good entertainment, with plenty of hot fighting and swift and sudden episodes. With a brave hero, a lovely lady, a band of villains and little bits of heart and humour stuff, "The Roar of the Dragon" has lots of red-blooded interest.

There is a good comery in which a little man and a big compete for the favor of an untrustworthy maiden.

New O.H.A. Ruling Is Explained

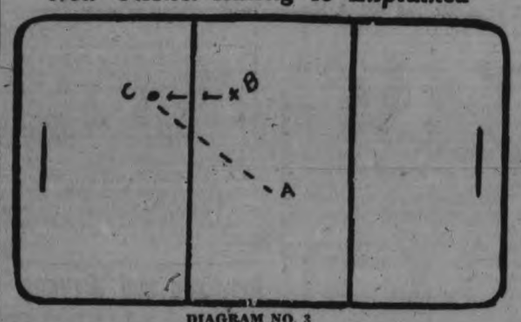

DIAGRAM NO. 3

Here's a point in connection with this year's new O.H.A. rules which should be clear by now, but at least one local referee and a number of the players—not to mention fans—seem vague on it. It concerns passing the puck over the blue line into enemy territory. The above diagram is self-explanatory. A and B are on the same side, both in neutral territory, with B a little ahead of A. The puck (designated as C) is passed forward over the blue line by A. It is quite legal for B to race forward and get it without being called offside. The O.H.A. rule book distinctly states that either the puck or puck-carrier must be first over the line, and there is no offside in neutral territory. A diagram in the '33 O.A.H.A. book leaves no room for doubt upon this matter, and referees are advised to check up on it, if at all doubtful.

SPORTS Day by Day

HOCKEY—BOWLING—BOXING
BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

Well, let's see what's billed on the local hockey menu for the start of the week. Of course, we can't go ahead and say such and such a game will be played without first making allowances for the weather. But if we get ice, there'll be plenty doing the first part of this week. For one thing, the Bowmanville intermediates tangle with the Petes at the Brock tonight at 8.30, and this has all the earmarks of one pip of a scrap. Don't forget that ninety minutes of hockey they played in Bowmanville last Monday to wind up 3-3. If they go like that here, it'll be a game folks. The Petes haven't lost one in three starts.

* * * * * * *

Our juniors are listed to go to Cobourg this p.m., too. Then, a City Hockey League double-header will be run off tomorrow night at the Brock, with a couple of E.P.L. games there Wednesday. The Westclox East Peterborough League entry journeys to-night to Lakefield, with Norwood going there next Friday. Four Church League games will be run off maybe this e'en at All Saints' rink, followed by a West End League game; and tomorrow at Sacred Heart rink, followed by a West End League game; and tomorrow at Sacred Heart rink, four Southend League fixtures are scheduled. The dope appears elsewhere today.

* * * * * * *

Followers of the C.G.E. Shop League were treated to a treat that was a treat at the Brock Saturday afternoon. Four swell battles on ice that was just so-so sent 'em home talking to themselves. Toolmakers and Draftsmen tied their affair up 1-1; Switchgear blanked the Office, 2-0; Structural Steel, and with one player short don't forget, walloped the Fractional Motor squad, 2-1; with Armature Winders fighting to a 1-all draw with the classy Machinists. A lot of good hockey up there every Saturday afternoon..

* * * * * * *

Up at the "Y" Saturday evening, they decided to enter a basketball team in the O.A.B.A., with O. A. DeGraw acting as coach of the boys. Any player wanting a tryout should attend their practise tomorrow night up there. It's uncertain yet when the team will actually begin playing, as they may get a grouping around here somewhere, or maybe get a bye into the playdowns. There is a wealth of good cage material around Peterborough this year, and we should have a strong bunch of ball-and-hoop artists in the Ontario race.

* * * * * * *

So far this winter, there have been quite a few postponed hockey games around here, but they should be pretty well caught up. At anyrate, we've had a bit more luck than up to this date last year Some of the games had to be run off on poor ice, but at least they have been taken out of the schedule, and those that have had to be muffed will likely be picked up later. That is, if February runs true to form. Our O.H.A. tussles are the biggest source of worry the first half of each winter, but we haven't had much to kick about so far this year.

* * * * * * *

As this is being written, indications point to no game at the Brock to-night, in which case the Bowmanville team will be notified to come here tomorrow evening instead—again provided there is ice. These advance notices on hockey games in such uncertain weather is just guess-work at best, and as prophets we are more or less losses, but as the Bowmanville-Petes' contest is a "natural", the fans will doubtless flock to it whatever night it's on.

* * * * * * *

The past few hockey seasons haven't seen Peterborough teams exactly covering themselves with glory in the O.H.A. hunt, but folks around town are beginning to do quite a bit of chattering about our outfits this winter. Our juniors should cop their group and put up a fight in the next round, while the intermediates are almost sure bets in their grouping, and improving every game out. Give the birds who plank down their shekels game after game a couple of battling hockey teams that are getting results, and your season can't flop on you even if the ice problem does not put creases in the brows of the men at the helm.

* * * * * * *

It's not so very many years back when they used to line up from the Brock right around onto George Street an hour before game time. The old rink was packed to the rafters to see a bunch of fighting Petes' taking on the best of the province. We've even stood on a chair with two other guys to just get our heads over the fence at the end of the rink and holler and boo for sixty hard minutes—and when we tell you that one of those fellows on the chair was Jack Deannard, you know that a five o'clock subway rush would be just pie to us now Hockey has not passed away around here since those days—just in the doldrums that's all. But it's coming back all right. Maybe, our intermediates will kick up quite a bit of dust before they're through right this winter.

Hoards Whitewashes Menie 1-0 While English Line Blanks Petherick's 3-0.

ICE HANDICAPS PLAY.

BURNBRAE, January 23 (Examiner Correspondence). — With a good crowd on deck, the East Seymour Hockey League got away to a flying (or more appropriately, a swimming) start on Saturday afternoon at Davidson's Arena. Shutouts were the feature of the day, Hoard's slipping a 1-0 win over the strong Menie squad, while English Line blanked Petherick's 3 goals to nil.

Ken Oddie Is Star.

The first game was exceedingly fast for the first of the season, with several players on either team starring roles. Ken Oddie was the big shot for Hoard's, his goal in the second spasm being a clean-cut individual effort. Roy Oddie was good in goal, while Couch, borrowed from Campbellford Juniors for the occasion, was also outstanding. Every player on the winning team gave a good account, and Manager Hobbs has a strong contender for the top. Menie played nice combination and had their full share of the play, but had hard luck on the shots. Doug. Milne on defence was outstanding, while Rannie and Nelson went well together up in front. Ken Oddie and Jack Rannie enlivened proceedings by starting a young war, getting a five-minute spell in the cooler.

The line-ups:

Hoard's — Goal, Roy Oddie; defence, O. Rannie and Jeffs; forwards, Rimington, K. Oddie, Couch, subs., Hoggs, H. Gunning, C. Gunning, Jones.

Menie — Goal, Eagleson; defence, Craighead, D. Milne; forwards, E. Whitton, J. Rannie, Nelson; subs., Linn, W. Whitton, K. Milne, and E. Little.

Superior Weight Counts.

In the second encounter, English Line, with much superior weight, played a stronger game than the light Petherick boys, running in two goals early in the first period and one in the third. Harry Stevens scored two on passes from Donald Peake and E. Little, while Manager Shillinglaw scored the other goal. Ted Owens in the Line nets was unbeatable, while his opponent, playing the first game of his career as a net minder, played a fine game, two of the shots that beat him being on three-man combination efforts, with only one defence man out in front. This game was very clean, only one penalty on each side, and while the losers had as much of the play as the winners, they failed to get in for close shots until the dying moments of the game.

Petherick's — Goal, A. Watson; defence, Anderson, D. Kerr; forwards, G. Kerr, A. Petherick, G. Petherick; subs., D. Watson, Barnum, Southworth, J. Watson.

Charlie Holmes referred both contests to the satisfaction of everyone. Roy Fry acted as straight timer and George Anderson as the penalty timer.

Next Saturday's games:

2 p.m., Hoards vs. English Line.

3.30 p.m., Menie vs. Petherick's.

CHICAGO CLUB PAYS $75,000 FOR STAINBACK

Four Ex-Cubs to Play With Los Angeles Club of Pacific Coast League.

GO SOUTH NEXT MONTH.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (A.P.)—The National League champion Chicago Cubs' roster, which originally includes 32 names, will list only 28 when practice starts on Santa Catalina Island next month.

In order to obtain George Stainback, a young outfielder, from the other Wrigley club, Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League, for 1933 delivery, the Cubs had to put out money in considerable quantities, and four players. The money was reported to have been $75,000. Three players have been named to sojourn on the coast next year—Outfielder Mike Kreevich, Marvin Gudat, all-around handy man, and Pitcher Ed Baecht. The other will be named later.

The squad includes a dozen pitchers, three catchers, nine infielders and only four outfielders.

Bowmanville Game Here Called Off

Junior Game at Cobourg is Also Postponed, May be Played on Wednesday.

The Bowmanville - Peterborough intermediate O.H.A. game scheduled for to-night at the Brock has been called off owing to soft ice. It will be played here to-morrow night, provided the weather is colder. The junior game this evening in Cobourg has also been called off, and may be played down there Wednesday. Both local teams, in the thick of the fight for group honors, are in perfect trim now and anxious to clean up their schedules, but must await upon the weather.

The Bowmanville Huskies have promised to come here for their game Tuesday night if there is any sort of ice, and they really prefer the heavy going, this bunch of strong veterans favoring a hard-checking game and solo rushes along with any breaks that may be going. The Petes like fast ice, as they set a lively pace and use a smart passing game. However, they outplayed Bowmanville on a terrible sheet of ice down there last week, though only getting a 3-3 tie. At anyrate, it will be a hard-fought hockey game whenever these teams clash.

PROMINENT SPORTSMEN AT VAN HORNE BURIAL

KINGSTON, Ont., Jan. 23 (C.P.) —Many prominent sportsmen and members of fraternal organizations were present at the funeral this afternoon of George Van Horne, member on the Ontario Hockey Association executive, whose death occurred Saturday.

Officials of the O.H.A. will, it is understood, attend in a body.

The late Mr. Van Horne had been ill only a short time when his death occurred. In his younger days, he was a noted player with Kingston hockey teams. He was born in Port Hope, but lived in Kingston practically all his life.

For seven years he had served on the O.H.A. executive, and was considered as next choice for the second vice-president.

Interment took place in Cataraqui cemetery.

GROVE SQUAD TIES P.C.I.

School Hockey Teams Battle to 3-3 Decision in Exhibition Game.

KING EDWARD WINS 5-3.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 23. (Examiner Correspondence). — One of the best games of hockey ever played in the Lakefield rink was the game between P.C.I. and The Grove on Saturday afternon.

The P.C.I. was a strong team with every boy on his toes and the entire team clicked perfectly, strong defence, fleet and effective forwards and a goalie who stood on guard like Horatius on the bridge.

The Grove also showed good form with Wright, Macrae and Gunn as the most outstanding. Burgess in goal played a good game also.

Kingdon of P.C.I. shot in the first counter after several hot minutes Gunn put one in to utes Gunn put one in the to Sloane's citadel and at the end of the first period the score stood at 1-1 which gives a good indication of the play. Gunn again scored early in the second period which gave the locals a slight edge which however was of short duration as Begley got one past the vigilant Burgess and again the score was tied. Just at the close of the period Wright, in a solo rush shot a hot one which Sloane could not stop and the period closed with The Grove one up.

The heavy ice told in the pace of the third period which was not as steadily fast as in the first two, Jopling scored the only goal of the period and the game ended 3-3.

G. W. Smith handled the bell.

The line-up was as follows:

P.C.I.—Sloane, goal; Richardson and Jopling, defence; Kingdon, centre; Begley and Stabler, wings; Kirkwood, Lipsett, Archibald, Howland, subs.

The Grove — Burgess, goal; Wright and Wood, defence; Macrae, centre; Stuart and Gunn, wings; MacPherson, Fletcher, Dench, Hepburn, subs.

King Edward Wins 5-3

The second game on Saturday afternoon was a Public School fixture here when King Edward school and the local school battled away on the soft ice in a game which was a victory for the visitors, 5-3 after a good exhibition of juvenile hockey. Louis Sabatino handled the bell. In spite of the handicap of soft ice the game was clean and only three penalties were handed out, one in each period. For the visitors the goalie was a strong factor in the victory and Jobe had the scoring punch getting four of the five scored. Jewell, Loyst and Morin starred for the locals with Yale putting up a good game during his time in goal.

In the first period Elwood Reil opened the scoring with a neat shot after one minute of play. Five minutes later Jobe tied the score and just before the period ended, Jewell landed one behind Piercey. Leggitt drew the only penalty.

After ten minutes hard going in the second Jobe tied the score again and a minute later McFadden put Lakefield one up again. Junkin drew the penalty.

Jobe, Post and Jobe scored in the third when the heavier Peterborough boys showed less the fatigue of the heavy ice but the locals acquitted themselves creditably. Patterson of Peterborough drew the penalty.

The line-up was as follows:

Public School—Loyst, goal (sub); Jewell, r. defence; Morin, l. defence; Patterson, centre; . Riel, r. wing; Jenkinson, l. wing; McFadden, Charlton, subs.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

This is rain
It's sure to get Whatever it falls on Soaking wet.
—Shadow Sayings.

It was bad enough for the shadows when it snowed, but when it rained—dear me, you ought to be glad you're a child and not a shadow. Shadows don't always walk upon their feet, upright, like children. They slide along the ground. Would you like to go sliding along wet ground? I guess not.

Still, shadows are shadows, just as much as children are children. It is their duty to slide along the ground whether it is wet or dry. Hanid, Flor, Yam and Mij did it without complaining. Knarf complained, but he did it just the same.

The other day the children came out of school to find the streets all wet. It had looked like rain in the morning, so they all had rubbers and an umbrella.

"What about us?" Knarf asked his master, the little boy named Frank. Little Frank didn't answer the shadow.

Knarf Is Punished.

"You might just as well run ahead," the other shadows told Knarf.

"All right, then I will run ahead," he answered. With that he suddenly darted ahead of his master. I'm sorry to say that Knarf couldn't get very far ahead. In fact, he found himself stuck, somehow, to his master's shoes and he could not break loose. He went sliding along the cold wet street.

"Go ahead! What are you waiting for?" cried Knarf to his master.

As though all this were not bad enough Knarf's master now stood on the curb of the street, waiting to cross. His mother had told him never to cross the street until all the automobiles had pased. Knarf didn't like standing still. It made him cold and damp. He cried: "Go ahead, what are you waiting for?" It ddidn't matter to Knarf that a huge truck was drawing near. Little Frank paid no attention to his shadow. He only remembered that his mother had told him to wait. So he waited. Knarf cried louder and louder. The other shadows (who had to wait, too) tried to quiet him. "No, no—I won't wait another second. I'm going now." So Knarf gave a tug with all his might, and his legs stretched longer and longer (though his feet still stuck to his master's feet) until all at once the truck came rolling up. Knarf had gotten altogether too close. It was too late for him to draw back. Then—splash! The wheels of the truck went through a deep puddle and Knarf was soaked so much that he shrank to the size of a gumdrop. After that he acted more politely.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, January 24

A PARTICULARLY lively and enterprising state of affairs in both business and private interests is forecast from the dominant lunar and mutual figures. The energies will be stimulated to high pressure outlets of adventure and aggressiveness. Negotiations with large corporations mergers, diplomatic societies or secret organizations should flourish to high degree, but we wary of some subtlety or queer quirks of the mind in handling these affairs. Private matters will be lively, happy and eventful as well.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a very lively, prosperous and happy year both in business and private life. All the energies will be well stimulated to high achievement. Those contacts with large corporations, mergers, secret bodies or diplomatic circles should thrive. But be careful as to peculiar, curious or quixotic states of mind. A child born on this day should be splendidly endowed with practical as well as cultural talents, with much of initiative and grace making for its success. It may have a peculiar caste of mind, with original literary or artistic expression.

Rundown and Nervous

MANY women are troubled with monthly bearing-down pains, weakening drains, backache or sideache and nervousness — such women, and young girls growing into womanhood should take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Read what Mrs. W. Healey of 15 Able Ave., Brantford, Ont., says: "Ten years ago I was rundown, nervous and felt so tired and weary all the while. I took only two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it strengthened my system, built me right up and I felt like a new person." Sold by all druggists.

Madoc

Miss McDermid of the High School staff, has returned to take up her duties at the Madoc High School, after a prolonged illness.

A very pleasant afternoon tea was held at St. John's Rectory on Wednesday, the 18th, with a good attendance and excellent financial results. The guests were received by the hostess and Mrs. Davies. In the dining room beautiful spring flowers and gleaming silver with red candles made an attractive picture. Mrs. Charles Hart poured tea, with Mrs. James Watson and Mrs. Bonny assisted, while to look after tea and other wants Mrs. E. C. Tufts, Mrs. F. Smith, Mrs. William Gray and Mrs. Heyworth, were kept busy. From soon after three until after the six o'clock bell was ringing, the visitors continued to come, and a very enjoyable and profitable afternoon was the result.

A. E. Ames, President Kelvinator Of Canada

The financial report for 1932 showing a surplus was adopted at the annual meeting of Kelvinator of Canada held at his head office in London, Ontario.

A. E. Ames was re-elected chairman of the board. Geo. W. Mason of Detroit was elected president; H. A. Lewis of Detroit was elected treasurer and Merlin Wiley, also of Detroit was elected secretary. Other directors are A. T. Little and F. S. McNeal of London, D. O. Bull of Brampton, C. B. McNaught of Toronto and H. G. Perkins of Detroit who was a new member to the board. Mr. McNeal was re-elected General Manager.

Mr. McNeal reported to the meeting that the 1933 Kelvinator models had been enthusiastically received by the trade and that Kelvinator's new feature of continuous refrigeration while defrosting was considered the biggest feature in the Electric Refrigeration Industry this season.

Dealer contracts for 1933 are in the profess of negotiation and while there were a few points at the first of the year in Canada where the franchise was available, dealer applications are being rapidly received so that all territories are expected to be closed very shortly.

Kelvinator faces the year with confidence and courage having improved their current position by reducing factory inventories and stepping in processes in production.

UNITED CHURCH IN ASHBURNHAM HAS GOOD YEAR

Mark Street Church Annual Reports Reveal a Year of Progress.

41 NEW MEMBERS.

Possibly never in the history of Mark Street Church has there ever been a more enthusiastic and satisfying annual meeting, than that which was held on Friday evening.

The Sunday school room, with every available space, laid with tables by the men of the U. B. One Club and filled with festive viands from the congregation arranged by Mesdames Andrus, Wand, Thorne, Agnew and Gamble, was filled to capacity to review the activities of the year and arrange plans for the coming year.

The minister, Rev. Chas. D. Daniel, led in worship service after which he was elected chairman of the meeting with Ward Gamble as secretary.

The report of the session showed the minister had conducted 19 marriages, 35 baptisms, 20 funerals and that 41 members had been added to the communion roll, 29 of whom were received on profession of faith. The resident membership now stands at 250, an increase of 25 over last year.

The Official Board through the treasurer, G. S. Eason showed the annual financial receipts for the year as $2,931.24, the loose collections alone showing an increase of $540, even in a year of depression, over that of last year. The current indebtedness has been cut in half from last year, so that in all a most favorable financial year has been enjoyed even in the midst of such trying times. The congregation were commended for their loyalty to the church.

The Women's Association closed the year with raising $340, $150 of which was given to the building fund and $75 to the Official Board.

The Sunday School had a most successful year with a roll of 450 and an average attendance of 191. The annual contribution of $200 was made to the Building Fund. The superintendent, Ward Gamble, with his efficient staff of teachers and officers were commended on the very successful year.

The Women's Missionary Society showed a profitable year, raising $155 and with an enthusiastic and larger attendance throughout the year.

65 On Roll

The Young People's Society closed the year with 65 on the roll with an average attendance around 40. Over $60 was raised for beneficient purposes. Much credit is due to Chas. English, the president and his group of young officers.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Greenslade came in for most favourable mention. At the present time they are engaged in the production of a musical comedy, "The New Minister" and the proceeds are being contributed to the Building Fund.

The Dramatic club presented their usual good report and will soon present to the congregation their new play "Happy Valley".

The Emma Smith Mission Band reported an average attendance of 27, making their givings to the Band around $40. Mrs. L. Cunningham and Mrs. G. Eason have given very efficient leadership.

The Building Fund showed during the year the retirement of another $1,000 with interest, leaving the balance of the mortgage at $8,500.

The U. B. One Bible and Bowling class under the presidency of James Ellis and the teaching and leadership of Thos. Hendry, received a very hearty vote of thanks for the project they completed this year in the exterior decorations of the church grounds and the building of a new bowling green. They were also commended by the minister for the fine fellowship they have created among the men of the church and in their general support to all church activities.

Address to Minister

The meeting was drawn to a close by the presentation to the minister and his wife, the following letter of commendation.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Daniel: "We, the congregation of Mark Street United Church, wish to convey to you in a sincere yet informal manner, our heartiest thanks for your splendid leadership during these days of stress and strain. We seek to express our sincere appreciation and gratitude for your wonderful enthusiasm, energy and sympathy, expressed in your work in building and establishing the Master's Kingdom in our congregation and community.

"May God's richest blessing be ever upon you and may He spare you for years of service in His Kingdom and with us, is the great desire of your congregation in Mark Street United Church.

Signed, A. W. Gamble, secretary Official Board; Kent Throop, chairman Board of Stewards."

With the singing of "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," the congregation retired to a new year of enthusiastic and increased endeavour for 1933.

HAVE YOU MADE YOUR DONATION TO THE RELIEF FUND ?

No one wants to be dependent upon Relief, and no one desires to be unemployed, but it is impossible for about 800 of our men to get work, therefore upwards of 3,000 men, women and children are hungry, cold and poorly dressed. Those who are fortunately better off should turn back and extend a helping hand in the nature of money, clothing, food, furniture, etc., to tide these people over conditions as they are – give what you can, large or small, but help.

'Phone 3315 and your articles will be called for and placed at the Relief Clothing Bureau, and make your donations of money to Frank Adams, City Treasurer.

Burnham; Pianists, Frances Jones and Mary Burnham; Home Department Superintendent, J. H. George; Primary Department, Miss Burnham, Mrs. J. H. Might, and Miss Beatrice Jones. Teachers.—Men's class, Mrs. L. H. Rae; Boneka, Mrs. W. W. Jones, with Mrs. George as assitant; Young Men's class, W. A. O'Brian; Mizpah, Miss Estelle Hetherington; Trail Rangers, P. Stinson; Intermediate, Mrs. H. Lang, Mrs. M. McDowell, Mrs. O. W. Williamson, Mrs. George Fallis; Misses Margaret Luxon, Jean Burnham, Francis Jones, and Jack Stinson. Leadership training, Miss Hetherington. Supply teachers: Kenneth Fallis, who is also missionary superintendent; T. L. Aiken, Grant Henry, Clarence Ball, Marian Earle, Marian O'Brian, Gertrude Spence, Sadie Rowland. The Tuxis Square will be responsible for the review in March, and the Superintendent for the temperance instruction.

Mr. Fallis reported forty pledge cards signed on a recent special temperance Sunday, and the letter from Mr. Squire, of Bowmanville, asking signatures to a petition to Premier Henry not to grant wine or beer licenses to restaurants, clubs etc., led to the decision to have the petition signed locally, and to communicate with other schools of the neighborhood and have it signed in these places as well.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. Jones, dismissed the gathering with prayer.

RADIO NOTES

By R. H. CHILDERHOSE

When listening to a transatlantic radio broadcast, usually re-broadcast by a nearby station, radio listeners often remark they "hear the ocean waves." They hear a sound very similar to the waves rolling and breaking, but this is due to the radio signal alternately diminishing and increasing in volume called "fading." On short waves used in these broadcasts, fading is much more frequent and complete than on ordinary broadcast waves, but the short waves can be used for communicating over much longer distances.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr. Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

BENNETT TO SPEAK

At 8.00 o'clock to-night, the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada will be heard over CKNC. Mr. Bennett is the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN

Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 40c to 43c; oats, 20c to 22c; barley, 32c to 34c; corn, 33c to 35c; rye, 30c to 32c; buckwheat, 27c to 29c.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

Egg prices continued the downward trend on Saturday, as supplies on the local market piled up. The demand was fair, but receipts were far too heavy, and dealers reduced their quotations to country shippers one cent per dozen. Brokers were quoting low prices on graded lots, but found difficulty in moving large quantities.

Country shippers were offered 18c for extras, 16c for firsts, and 14c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned, and retailers were quoted extras in cartons at 27c, extras loose at 25c, firsts loose at 23c, and seconds loose at 20c. Brokers asked 21c for extras, 19c for firsts, 18c for pullet extras and 18c for seconds, graded and in free cases.

Butter.

Trade in butter was not heavy, and prices were steady at 21c to 21¼c for No. 1 creamery solids, and 20½c for No. 2. Prices to the trade were unchanged at 25c for No. 1 creamery prints and 24c for No. 2.

Cheese.

New cheese was in fair demand, and prices on the brokers' market were firm, while quotations to retailers were ¼c higher. Old cheese was also ½c stronger to retailers. Brokers quoted new large at 10c, new twins at 10¼c, and new triplets at 10½c. Prices on new makes to retailers were 11½c for large, 11¾c for twins, 12c for triplets and 14c for stiltons.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—As a result of the mild weather causing increased production which was reflected in heavier receipts, egg prices dipped sharply lower on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market last week. Butter and potato prices were also down, while cheese quotations were fractionally higher.

Egg receipts for the week totalled 9,936 cases as compared with 8,038 cases the previous week and 3,121 cases the first week in the month. On Saturday arrivals totalled 2,112 cases. Fresh graded extras in carlots or less registered a drop of 6 cents, finishing the week at 25c a dozen. Fresh firsts and pullets were quoted at 22c a dozen, off 5c and 4c, respectively. A decline of 1c to 1½c a dozen were by storage eggs in carlots or less. Extras sold at 21c, firsts at 290c and seconds at 19c a dozen.

Poor demand forced carlots or less of No. 1 grass butter down a quarter of a cent at 21c a pound. Odd lots were quoted at 20¾c. Last week's receipts were 898 boxes.

New Brunswick Green Mountain potatoes per 80 pound bag, lost 5c during the week at 85c. Prince Edward Island Green Mountains were unchanged at 90c per 80-pound bag and at $1 per 90 pound bag.

Current receipts of Ontario white and colored cheese were a quarter of a cent higher, white being quoted at 8¾c to 9c and colored at 10c. Early Ontario make was unchanged at 10½ to 11¼c a pound. Receipts for the week totalled 323 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Tumbling of wheat prices Saturday followed early gains that were attributed more or less to steps toward settlement of England's debts to the United States.

More than a cent a bushel reaction took place in wheat values, largely because of a dearth of new speculative demand, as well as on account of week-end liquidation pressure from recent buyers. Late setbacks of wheat values here were in the face of Liverpool quotations stronger than expectedandnotwithstanding reduced official estimates of Canadian wheat yields and of Russian winter wheat acreage.

Wheat closed unsteady, 3-8c to ¾c under Friday's finish; corn at a shade decline to 1-8c advance; oats a shade to 1-8c to ¼c off, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, January 23. — In spite of early gains wheat prices failed to hold their ground in the face of dull trading and weak outside markets, and futures closed the short week-end session here on Saturday ⅜c to ⅝c lower.

May closed at 45¾c, July at 46¼c, and October at 47¼c.

Pit trade was small and of an uninteresting character. A little export business showed up, but the volume was not appreciable and had little effect on prices.

Other bullish factors which had only temporary influence on the trend were provided by the Dominion Government crop report showing a further reduction in the 1932 Prairie Provinces wheat crop and unfavorable reports from the United States South-west. Chicago and Liverpool were also weaker.

Cash wheat and coarse grains trade was dull and spreads remain unchanged.

Mothers Advice Helps Girl Regain Lost Energy

Her Housework a Burden Until Backache Relieved By Dodd's Kidney Pills

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 23. (Special) Even when in good health many a young wife finds that looking after a home and family is quite a task. How unfortunate then is the woman whose household duties become a double burden, due to illness.

Such was the condition that confronted Mrs. D. Cross, of 210 Gilbert Avenue. In telling how she finally found relief, Mrs. Cross says—"I can highly recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills for kidney trouble and backache. I suffered terribly with my back and could hardly do my housework. My mother told me about Dodd's Kidney Pills for she always uses them. After I took the first box I felt like a new woman. We always keep a box in the house—it pays."

Thousands of grateful people have publicly testified to Dodd's Kidney Pills. Why not benefit by their experience? There is no reason at all why anyone should continue to suffer when Dodd's Kidney Pills can be obtained from druggists everywhere.

MRS. D. CROSS

who suffered so much from backache she could hardly do her housework. Upon her mother's advice she found prompt relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills. Now she always keeps a box of Dodd's in the house. It is a wise precaution.

PREMIER STANDS BY SOUND MONEY FOR CANADIANS

Honor and Wisdom Preclude "Absurdity" of Inflation Plan He Declares.

RAILROAD PROBLEM.

Canada Has Heavy Payments Meet in United States This Year.

(By Jack Hambleton, C. P. Staff Writer)

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—Premier R. B. Bennett today stands on record as definitely against the inflation of Canadian currency unless unforseen circumstances arise

Forcibly and definitely, the Dominion leader last night told the Toronto Board of Trade there were but two reasons for inflation of currency.

They were: ;

A lack of currency with which to carry on trade.

The insolvency of a country.

Neither condition prevailed in this country, he declared. Never in its history had Canada held so much money available for trade. And the Dominion was weathering the storm and did not face insolvency.

Guest of Premier.

Before leaving for Hamilton, where he had a speaking engagement to-night, Prime Minister R. B Bennett was the guest at luncheon to-day of Premier George S. Henry and members of his Cabinet. The function, which was private in nature, was held in the Parliament Buildings.

Throughout the morning, Premier Bennett was busy. Several conferences with Ontario Cabinet Ministers and interviews with party stalwarts occupied his time.

His plans are to be back in Ottowa to-morrow morning.

Must Meet Big Payments

During the year 1933, Canada must meet obligations amounting to $684,149,000 he declared. "This is the sum total of principal and interest payments on Canadian bonds, of which $266,124,100 of principal and interest is due in United States funds, the balance being due in Canada."

The inflation of the Dominion's currency would have deplorable effect on the country's credit, for "we have to provide by renewals $343,133,808," he said. Obligations had been guaranteed for the railways, and these amounted to $88,000,000 alone.

DEATH CLAIMS BABY WITH CLOSED ESOPHAGUS

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS, N.J., Jan. 24 (A.P.)—Little Helen Marie Taylor, the baby born with a closed esophagus, died early to-day in hospital. The baby, whose case was described as without parallel in medical annals, previously had been given only "one chance in a thousand" to survive.

After she was born last Friday, nurses noted that whenever she was given nourishment she suffered severe choking spells. Dr. William J. Greenfield of Hackensack found the esophagus, the tube through which food is carried to the stomach, was closed at the third rib. Five physicians performed an emergency operation yesterday, inserting a tube through the abdomen to permit artificial feeding.

IN HIS 73RD YEAR.

Was Storm Centre of Customs Probe—8 Vacancies Now in Upper House.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24. — Hon. Jacques Bureau, K.C., member of the Senate since 1925, and a former Minister of Customs and Excise in the Cabinet of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, died suddenly in his hotel here yesterday. He was 72 years of age.

The Senator, who was a native and lifelong resident of Three Rivers, Que., where he headed an outstanding legal firm, had come here to consult his physician, who had been treating him for a year. He suffered a sharp attack during the afternoon. His physician, who had spent part of the morning with him, was hastily recalled, but Mr. Bureau died of angina pectoris shortly after his arrival.

Mr. Bureau's body will be taken to Three Rivers to-day where interment will take place, the time to be announced later.

As Minister of Customs in the first Government of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Senator Bureau figured prominently in the charges levelled against the department and the subsequent investigations. The "Customs scandal" as it was called at the time, was used by the Conservatives as their chief weapon in the 1925 general election.

Figured in Inquiry

While the Liberal strength in the House of Commons was considerably reduced, Mr. King was able to carry on in office for nearly a year with the aid of the Progressives. In the meantime, a Royal Commission had been appointed to investigate charges against the Customs Department and made an extended inquiry from coast to coast.

Irregularities in the department were found to be of long standing, and many of the major abuses dated back to times before Senator Bureau assumed office.

Young Car Thieves Taken In Brighton

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Jan. 24.—(C.P.)—Gordon Brooks, 19, John Bradley, 17, and Charles Dillene, 17, all of Toronto, were arrested in Brighton early to-day, while in the act of trying to procure gasoline for a car allegedly stolen in Toronto. The youths slipped through the police blockade at Toronto with the car. A pair of 1932 plates were on the car, but Police found a pair of 1933 plates under the seat. After standing trial for breaking and entering, the youths will be released to Toronto police.

Man Is Fined $5.00 For Walking On Grass

MONTREAL, Jan. 24 (C.P.)—If any further evidence were needed that Spring is here it was provided yesterday. Of all strange things to happen in January—a man was charged in Police Court with walking on the grass in Lafontaine Park. A constable said he pleaded with the man not to destroy the tender shoots, then was compelled to issue a summons when the vandalism was persisted in. A fine of $5 was imposed, and the nature-loving constable received a benign smile fro mthe Bench.

U.S. DEBT PARLEY IS OPEN TO ALL NOT IN DEFAULT

MADE DEC. 15 PAYMENTS.

Roosevelt Stand Unknown Toward France, Belgium, Poland, Esthonia.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—The debt discussion door was thrown wide open to-day by the incoming United States administration to all debtor powers which are not in default on their December 15 payments.

The invitation to Premier Mussolini which was announced to-day in Rome was extended by Secretary Henry Stimson of the State Department yesterday on behalf of President-elect Franklin Roosevelt and is similar to that given to Great Britain last Friday.

An invitation is expected to be shortly to Czecho-Slovakia, Latvia, Lithuania and Finland, the only other debtors which stand in the preferred class with Britain because of their payments on Dec. 15.

No official announcement has been made as to the Roosevelt attitude toward the defaulting powers—France, Belgium, Poland, Estonia.

Rosso Visits Stimson

Ambassador Rosso of Italy called at the State Department yesterday for a talk with Secretary Stimson, thus affording the secretary an opportunity to extend invitation personally.

Ambassador May of Belgium called at the State Department yesterday also and for the same announced purpose. His country is in a differentp osition from that of Italy and Britain, however, in that Belgium defaulted on the Dec. 15 payment.

Efforts to supply Great Britain with the fullest information regarding the scope of the forthcoming Anglo-Amercian discussion of war debts and economic problems are being made by the State Department.

This was indicated by Sir Ronald Lindsay's visit to the Department yesterday which probably was the first of several calls the British Amabassador will pay to Secretary Henry Stimson and his assistants at the State Department before the London Government

CLEVER PILOT SAVES 7 LIVES

Lands Load of Mining Magnates Safely After Breaking Ski Taking Off.

COASTS IN ON ONE "LEG."

CHAPLEAU, Ont., Jan. 24 (C.P.). — Piloting his heavy plane with marvellous skill and daring, Ronald George to-day made an almost perfect landing on one ski on the ice of Chapleau Lake here. And not until the big plane had bumped to a stop did his seven passengers realize how closely they had come to death.

George took off with a party of mining notables for a trip to the Kenty Gold Mines property at Swayze Lake. As the machine roared across for the start, a ski struck a piece of cordwood hidden in the snow and broke just as the machine lifted. Part of the broken wood smashed a window of the cabin plane.

With his ear and hand cut by flying glass, George said nothing to his passengers, but appeared to be continuing on his way. Actually, however, he circled over the town, signalling groundmen to stand by for a forced landing.

Fellow-pilots rushed out with fire extinguishers and with medical supplies ready. But instead of the apparently inevitable crack-up, George balanced the big plane on one "leg" and coasted across to an almost perfect stop.

Apart from the pilot, whose injuries were superficial, none was hurt.

Veteran Reeve of North Monaghan Becomes Warden a Second Time.

COUNTY COUNCIL OPENS.

Veteran campaigner and dean of the County Council, Reeve John McIntosh of North Monaghan was this afternoon elected Warden of Peterborough County Council at the inaugural sessions of the year 1933.

The choice was unanimous. The nomination of Reeve McIntosh for Wardenship was moved by Reeve Rork Ferguson of Asphodel and was seconded by Reeve Hugh Given of Harvey.

It is the sixth occasion since the year 1882 when the honor first fell upon Reeve H. Collins that North Monaghan Township has provided the Warden, and it is the second occasion that the honor has devolved upon Reeve McIntosh. The former occasion upon which Reeve McIntosh headed the County County Council was in the year 1919.

County Clerk and Treasurer Edward M. Elliott formally opened the naugural sessions of the Council shortly after two o'clock this afternoon.

Having taken the oath of office and donned his robe Warden McIntosh ascended the dais and thanked the County Council for the honor paid him. To-day he said he felt one of the most humble members of the Council. He hoped their confidence would not be found misplaced, at the end of the year.

HURON, ERIE FISHERMEN FIGHT OVER FISH EGGS

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 24 (C.P.).—Point Edward and Kingsville are engaged in a fight over 45,000,000 babies. Both want the honor and responsibility of caring for them. Incidentally, the "babies" are fish-babies in process of development at the Point Edward hatchery, and ordered removed to the newly-built hatchery at Kingsville, where the eggs were originally collected.

Lake Huron fishermen protested the removal to Kingsville, claiming Huron has not been stocked with whitefish like Lake Erie has. They claim an order has now been issued not to move the little fish, but Austin Smith, M.L.A., Essex South, declared "they are our eggs and we are going to get them."

IRISH ELECTORS FLOCK TO POLLS IN FREE STATE

Flare-ups Occur—Lord Mayor of Dublin Attacked on Way to Vote.

VIOLENCE FEARED.

Counting of Ballots Does Not Begin Till Wednesday—Final Results Friday.

(By George Hambleton—C.P. Staff Writer).

DUBLIN, Jan. 24 (C.P. Cable).—The Irish Free State went to the polls to-day and it was not long before the usual flare-ups attaching to Irish voting made their appearance. Up to this evening, however, no serious disturbances had been reported.

Outstanding was the attack made on Alderman Alfred Byrne, Lord Mayor of Dublin, and an Independent candidate in the elections. A group of young toughs jostled him as he went to cast his vote. Byrne, who is no physical weakling, struck out vigorously, and with policemen approaching the gang fled.

Several shots were fired at nearby Dalkey when a number of Republicans clashed with adherents of former President William T. Cosgrave but so far as could be learned no one was injured.

Polling was heavy in Dublin and other cities but reports were that casting of votes was proceeding slowly in the rural ridings.

Both Leaders Confident

Both President De Valera and former President Cosgrave expressed confidence in the outcome, as their respective party organizations worked with might and main to muster a record expression of opinion in the Free State's most critical election.

The confusion in the minds of many electors at the system of marking the preferential ballots was nothing to the state of mind of a group of voters who reached the poll station in Dublin to find their votes had been cast for them previously by impersonators. The authorities immediately began an investigation.

The polls do not close until 9 p. m. and as night drew on there were some apprehensions that violence might break out, few precautions having been taken.

"The result of the elecion," says the Irish Times, "still hangs on a razor's edge. It may be in the hands of the voters who have not voted once during the last 10 years."

And organizations of every political stripe echo the appeal to vote.

William T. Cosgrave, former president, told the people in his final message, "All things point to a re-

Court of Appeal Reviews Evidence Of Murder Trial

Court Reserves Judgment In The Appeal Sent Down By Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister Of Justice, For Henry Walter Reid Convicted Of Murder.

TRUE STORY OF KILLING NEVER BE TOLD HON. MR. JUSTICE MIDDLETON DECLARES.

TORONTO, January 24 (C.P.). — Judgment was reserved in the appeal of Henry Walter Reid against his conviction and sentence of death for the murder of Harry Thomas in a Peterborough boat house on September 4 by the Ontario Appeal Court to-day.

Reid, who, with Thomas, was a vagrant occupying the boat house located in what is known in Peterborough as "East City," was sentenced to pay the death penalty on January 6, 1933, by Mr. Justice W. H. Wright. On an application for mercy to the Minister of Justice and his reference of the case to the Ontario Appeal Division, Justice Wright granted a reprieve until February 10, next.

"There is no question Reid killed this man Thomas," asserted Chief Justice F. R. Latchford at the outset. "And killed him with the bread knife which is in evidence. The man was stabbed in the left breast near the heart, severing the artery. The single point here is whether what the prisoner did constituted murder."

"Exactly," agreed J. A. O'Brien for the accused.

Outlines Evidence

Mr. O'Brien stated that Reid had declared Thomas had become incensed when he would not consent to aid in a contemplated holdup with another occupant of the boathouse known as "Yank." Thomas rushed at him while he was cutting up some meat, the result of a foraging expedition, Reid had claimed, and when he turned to meet him the knife entered the breast of the deceased.

Mr. Justice C. A. Masten asked Mr. O'Brien to inform the court whether the case came to the court in the same position as an appeal and whether a report should be made to the Minister of Justice.

Justice Magee considered that the Court could not deal with the case except on the grounds that Mr. O'Brien had urged before the Minister of Justice.

"I think that the Minister of Justice was acting under the state to do what he has done," Chief Justice Latchford declared.

"With great respect, I think the whole cage comes to us for review

LARGEST PIPE LINE IN WORLD IS KEY TO NEAR EAST PROGRESS

Industrial Scheme to Transform Farming Lands Into Machine Civilization.

IMMIGRATION IS HIGH

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Copyright

HAIFA, Jan. 6.—British, American and French interests have begun construction of the largest pipe-line that was ever built. The oil-line starts in the Mosul district in Irak, runs square through Syria and will have its terminus in this city of Haifa, where the British government is building an immense harbor. Besides being a second Vera Cruz, Haifa will be a powerful naval base, the main point d'appui in fact for the defence of the Suez Canal, the Empire's chief artery to India.

Pierre van Paassen

The Irak oil-line will be 1,200 miles long, from Kirkuk in Mosul to the Mediterranean sea-board. Just before entering Palestinian territory, the pipe-line will split in twain and a branch will run to the small bay of El Mina, the sea-outlet in the Lebanon Republic. At Haifa wide areas of land have been set aside for the stores and, later, for the receiving and refining plants into which the crude petroleum will gush from Mosul. The refined spirit

Balks At Sunday Job So Vag Goes To Jail

ORILLIA, Ont., Jan. 24 (C.P.)—Tony Carao, 18, of Buffalo, N.Y., to-day was under sentence of three months' imprisonment in the county jail. He pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy.

When Tony applied to Police Chief Louis Church for shelter from the wrath of the element, and was sent to the unemployed single men's hostel, he refused to saw four sticks of firewood, the task imposed upon him in return for having received two meals and a night's lodging, on the ground that the day was Sunday. When Tony protested his religious scruples against laboring on the Lord's Day to the Superintendent of the hostel, police were called, and he was hustled away to the local jail to appear before the magistrate.

Eight Hundred Dollars Will Be Given at Once to Relief Commttee.

NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

Two Hundred Dollars Will Be Retained for Later Emergencies.

A gift of $1.000 to relief was made by the Peterborough Lodge of Perfection, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, at the lodge's regular monthly meeting last night. Eight hundred dollars will be presented to the Peterborough Relief Committee at once, and $200 will be retained in the lodge's treasury to assist in later relief emergencies.

Close to $4,000

Close to $4,000 has already been subscribed to the Peterborough Relief Fund, The Examiner learned to-day from Frank Adams, City Treasurer. Of this amount $1,730 has already been received in cash from private citizens, who have promised an additional $400 in monthly or weekly gifts. The Rotary Club yesterday made a gift to the fund of $1,000 and the Peterborough Scottish Rite Masonic Lodge decided last night to make a gift to the city relief fund of $300.

STUBBS GIVEN DAY TO SLEEP

Long Hours of Reading From Documents Tires Both Commission and Accused.

FIGHTS "RETRACTIONS."

WINNIPEG, January 24 (C.P.). — "The forces of privilege, visible but largely invisible, are combined to remove me from the bench," because he had followed a course he believed to be his duty, Judge Lewis St. George Stubbs declared to-day before a commission investigating his alleged judicial misconduct.

"The chief participants in the ocmbination," he said, "were Provincial and Dominion Governmen'ts, judicial hierarchy and legal oligarchy" and the best they have been able to do in their "carefully drafted series of complaints was one per cent. of case and 99 per cent. of rubbish."

Never would he retract one word he uttered, the Judge assured the commission. "My Lord, I can say this: If I were told that when I went out of this Court I would face a firing squad and one word of retraction or apology would save me, that word would never be uttered."

Granted Respite

Judge Stubbs again is tired by his long appearance before a commission investigating his alleged judicial misconduct Today he had to appeal again for another respite in which he might "get a little sleep," and was granted an adjournment all day tomorrow.

Long hours of reading from bulky documents has tired not only the witness but also the commission. Twice and even three times the judge has read the same parts of evidence from different sources and finally brought a request from Mr. Commissioner Ford to "avoid unnecessary repetition" and not to read any part of the exhibits more than once except when arguing.

WOOD, GRAVEL BILLED AS FOOD TO GOVERNMENT

Treasurer Frankly Admits Camouflaging Six Cheques Totalling $1,724.

NEW RENT DISCLOSURES.

Relief Investigator Suggests One Grocery Firm's Account of $1,893 Be Not Paid.

STURGEON FALLS, Ont., Jan. 24 (C.P.). — December accounts of Michaud Bros., local grocery firm, will not be paid if the Ontario Government accepts the recommendation of L. Spence, Government relief investigator. The accounts, totalling $1,895, were declared "irregular" by Judge J. M. Hall, Royal Commissioner, in the course of his enquiry into relief disbursements today.

To-day's evidence was featured by the frank admission of W. E. Fortier, town treasurer, he had "camouflaged" bills to the Government for "food" when actually they were payments for hauling wood and gravel.

"There are no counter bills with that order and I am going to recommend to Toronto this account shall not be paid," said Mr. Spence as the enquiry discussed the $1,895 Michaud account.

"In other words, this account is irregular," said Judge Hall.

$1,714 Billed as Food.

Fortier stated five cheques totalling $817 and one cheque for $907 for hauling wood and gravel were billed to the Government as food. When asked why he had done so, he declared, "I had to put it in as something."

"Why not," asked W. H. Williams, Commission counsel, "exactly as it is?"

Fortier hesitated momentarily.

"Be frank," urged Mr. Williams. "I suggest you put it under food to get it camouflaged so it would be paid by the Government?"

"Yes," said witness.

Given Relief Order.

J. A. Paiement, general contractor, who received cheques from the town totalling $1,881 for material and labor supplied the town during 1932 is the same J. A. Paiement who received a relief order for $27.05 worth of shoes and $4.74 worth of stockings, W. L. Fortier, treasurer, testified.

Mr. Fortier produced two accounts from Paiement, one dated April, 1932, no day given, for $1,715, and the other dated March 31, 1932, for

Summer Cottages Are Swept By Fire

HAMILTON, Jan. 24 C.P.).—Damage estimated to-day at nearly $4,000 was caused by fire which last night destroyed one summer cottage, partially destroyed two others and slightly damaged two more.

The fire occurred at Hamilton Beach, where a two-storey vacant summer home owned by C. G. Chappelle was burned to the ground. The fire spread to cottages on either side of the Chappelle dwelling.

George Cunningham and his two small grandchildren were in their home when the fire broke out, and were not aware of their danger until called by neighbors. The two children were asleep, but Cunningham managed to get them out safely before the fire spread to his home.

RELIEF OUTLAYS 1932 INDICATE STIFF INCREASE

Survey Shows Ontario's Expenditures to October 31 Total $26,526,000.

$7,856,000 DIRECT HELP.

Complete Statement Expected Shortly After House Opens January 30.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24. (CP)—Increases in both direct and indirect relief payments during the past year are indicated in a survey by provinces of the schemes in which Dominion, Provincial and Municipal Governments co-operate. Though expenditures for the entire Dominion are not available, a complete statement is expected to be made in the House of Commons some time after Parliament opens on Jan. 30.

Under a three-way split, expenditures generally are equally divided among the Dominion, the Province and the municipality for indirect relief purposes, including highway construction, buildings and other public works undertakings. In other cases—mainly for single destitute men—the Dominion Government has assumed 100 per cent desponsibility for expenditures.

British Columbia

For direct relief in British Columbia from May 1, 1932, to Nov. 30, the expenditure was $3,795,192. For the same purposes, from Aug. 19, 1931, to April 30, 1932 direct expenditure was $2,474,787, while from October 14, 1930, to May 31, 1931, the amount was $831,071. The works programme expenditure in the October-May span was $3,440,764, while from August, 1931, to April, 1932 the works expenditure increased to $5,990,971. Since October, 1930, the total direct and indirect expenditure for British Columbia is more than $16,500,000.

Ontario

Ontario's expenditures for the year ending October 31, 1932, amounted to $26,526,000. This included $6,065,000 to municipalities that approved municipal works; $7,866,000 for direct relief, and $12,606,000 for roads in Northern Ontario and other provincial works.

In Ontario's case, the province will receive from the Dominion government 50 per cent of municipal works and direct relief; 50 per cent in trans-Canada highway expenditure, and 40 per cent in other provincial works. Unemployed sent to work in camps on Northern Ontario highways are paid wages of from $5 to $10 per month, with board and medical attention.

Nova Scotia

In Nova Scotia, since relief was undertaken, the expenditure has been $5,167,673 for indirect relief, and $1,373,796 for direct relief, a total of $6,541,468. The three-way split operates for public works construction such as highways, street approaches and sewers.

For the fiscal year 1931-32 in Prince Edward Island the direct relief expenditure was $37,000, and indirect $130,000, a total of $167,000. The split among dominion, province and municipalities took care of the indirect relief expenditures.

The three governments shared expenditures in New Brunswick, except in one area where the municipality contributed 20 per cent and the province and dominion each 40 per cent. Figures were unavailable, but expenditures were greatest among the lumbering and fishing industries formerly accounting for the bulk of employment.

Manitoba

In Manitoba, relief costs for single men in federal works camps are assumed entirely by the Dominion government, up to 40 cents per day per man for food. The provincial government is responsible for the cost of administration of the camps and medical services. Other expenditures come under the three-share scheme.

Much the same scheme operates in Saskatchewan as in Manitoba. Taxpayers in the cities are given opportunities of working out arrears. Regina expended approximately $1,000,000 for direct relief.

Alberta.

In Alberta, since October, 1930, and including estimates to the end of the fiscal year next March 31, total relief expenditure was $13,571,522. Operating along lines similar to the schemes in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, the Province's share of this sum was $5,434,458: the municipalities', $2,797,381; and the Dominion's, $5,339,683. Most of the indirect expenditure has been on highways.

Famous Mexican Volcano Active

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 24.—A. P.)—The world famed volcano Popocatepetl is showing undesirable signs of activity, a dispatch to the newspaper Excelsior said to-day.

During the last 12 hours torrents of smoke and ashes have been pouring out of the crater and residents of the nearby town of Amecameca are alarmed, the report said.

It was recalled that just 13 years ago, from January 20 to January 25, this turbulent element erupted and caused more than 15 deaths.

Stubbs, a judicial inquiry into whose conduct on the Bench is now in progress here. The petition is addressed to the House of Commons, Ottawa.

Yellowish Snow Startles Town

CHICOUTIMI, Jan. 24 (C.P.)—The good folk of Chicoutimi pinched themselves yesterday as a yellowish gray snow tumbled softly out of the sky. Satisfied after comparing notes that they were not suffering from biliousness or color blindness, local weather experts were at a loss to explain the phenomenon.

The town had an eerie appearance as a wan winter sun shone on rootops and belfries mantled in a sickly grayish yellow covering of what was undoubtedly ordinary snow in fancy dress. About an inch fell.

INDIAN CHARGED WITH ABDUCTION

Young Indian is Said to Have Abducted 14 Year Old Girl.

FOUND ON RESERVE.

LINDSAY, Ont., Jan. 24.—When Nellie Graham, a young girl of 14 years, did not return from school, Jan. 16, her parents became suspicious and alarmed, especially when a young Indian, Bert Johnston, also failed to appear. Johnston had been engaged as a laborer by the Grahams, who operate a farm near Pleasant Point, nine miles from Lindsay.

Several days passed and Officer Joseph Nelson, of the provincial force, was called in and succeeded in tracing Johnston to the Indian reserve on Scugog Island, near Port Perry. The parents were despatched to the reserve Saturday and secured their young daughter. Officer Nelson drove into the reserve Monday and found Johnston hidden in a dwelling, in which three Indian families lived. He was found in the garret, after the Indian women downstairs had stated that he was not around.

Johnston was charged with abduction, but stated that the girl was willing to run away with him and that she loved him. At the reserve he had given up his bed to her, while he slept on the floor. Johnston will be arraigned before Magistrate Jordan Tuesday.

PARAGUAY FORT RESISTS ATTACK

Bolivians Are Sent in Waves Across Swamp Under German General.

WORLD WAR STRATEGY.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Jan 24. — Grey-haired General Hans Kundt, veteran German army officer, called up strategy of world war days to aid him in directing the Bolivian assault upon Paraguay's Fort Nanawa on the Gran Chaco battlefront.

Dispatches from the front said General Kundt sent picked Bolivian troops, whom he has trained for years, in waves across the marshland around the fort. The Paraguayans defended stubbornly, however, and latest casualty reports indicated more than 2,500 on both sides had been killed and wounded in the four days' battle.

Mud made advances doubly difficult, and heavy artillery was apparently unable to function accurately on such a terrain. Both sides claimed success.

General Kundt meanwhile pounded away with characteristic German tenacity. His lines repulsed, he reformed them and sent others over the top into the Paraguayan fire. The reports said the Bolivians sank up to their thighs as they stepped into swamp-holes in shell-torn spots around the fort.

INJURED ESCAPING FIRE

HAMILTON—Mrs. B. Hawkins, who leaped from her flaming home, is in a critical condition in hospital today. Both her legs are paralysed and it is believed a vertebra in her spine may be fractured. An oil-heater exploded in the attic Sunday night and Mrs. Hawkins leaped 50 feet to the ground to escape the fire which followed.

Bandit Suspects

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 24 (C.P.) — An excited man telephoned police the description of a motor car he suspected of carrying robbers. Headquarters relayed the description to all cruising patrol cars. Within three minutes Sergt. Ross Matheson rushed into headquarters. "Take that description off the air," he shouted. "Do you want to get us killed? That's our license number and our car you're describing."

Mr. Augustus Bridle, writing last evening in the Toronto Star, speaks as follows of the recital given at the Heliconian Club in Toronto on Saturday night by four local singers from the studio of Dorothy Allan Park: Mrs. Ross Williamson, Miss Margaret Dickson, Miss Geraldine Collins and Miss Dorothy Sager: "Four times three beautiful songs, multiplied by two, delighted a packed house at the Heliconian Club on Saturday evening. The four songstresses were from the studio of Dorothy Allan Park. A finer selection of lyrics has never been heard here; and the singing was worthy of the songs. All these young ladies show the result of remarkable training, of voices not in themselves remarkable. What they did was to convey to a very conglomerate audience a clear idea of exactly what a lot of great composers meant in such lovely songs. That now and then any of them rather imitated the style of their teacher, is a fault nearly akin to a virtue. Thursa Williamson was delightfully clear and crystalline. Geraldine Collins was more passive, but in a different style quite as alluring. Margaret Dickson was particularly effective in a Bach aria, and Schubert's The Trout. Dorothy Sager kept up the high average with Schubert's Maiden's Lament, and other numbers. No small part of the artistic joy of this recital was due to the skilful piano work of Weldon Kilburn."

Mrs. B. MacLean was in charge with a competent committee of assistants. The Worthy Mistress, Miss Rose Sexsmith, presided and proposed the toast to the King, which was responded to by singing God Save the King. Mrs. Anna Boyd of Belleville, Past Worthy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Ontario, acted as the chief installing officer, assisted by Mr. Boyd, a member of the Grand Executive; Mrs. Mae Rogers of Toronto (Organist); Miss Kendall, Mrs. McPhate, Mrs. G. Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

WITHIN THE PAST few years there has been a growing tendency to serve bread not made by the housewife.

* * * * * * *

There are families who know little of the luxury of home-made bread. Yet bread-making is one of the easiest culinary tasks. It is well, therefore, to supplement bakers' bread with occasional loaves of home-made bread or the latter with occasional loaves of bakers' bread.

* * * * * * *

Bread is of two varieties: Raised bread in which slow working yeast inflates the dough which is "set" for some hours.

* * * * * * *

It is possible, by using a large proportion of yeast to a lesser quantity of flour, to raise a loaf of bread in two and a half or three hours, but it is customary to "set" the bread over night or all day and permit the yeast plant to grow slowly under the right conditions of heat and moisture.

* * * * * * *

If yeast is scalded it will die and not grow, and the bread will be a failure. If the dough freezes, the cold will kill the plant, and the bread will suffer the same fate.

* * * * * * *

Yeast develops in lukewarm moisture. This is why the mixture should be no more than lukewarm when the yeast goes into the dough, and why it should be kept at approximately the same even temperature while it rises.

* * * * * * *

The second variety of bread is made with baking powder; with saleratus when sour milk is used, or when molasses forms a considerable ingredient; or with saleratus and cream of tartar in the proportion of twice as much cream of tartar as saleratus, or soda as this is also called.

* * * * * * *

This latter mixture of soda and cream of tartar is the basic formiua for baking powder.

* * * * * * *

Many, and perhaps it would be more accurate to say, most fancy breads, such as nut bread, are made with baking powder as the raising element.

* * * * * * *

No time for raising is essential for baking powder breads or biscuits. It works rapidly under oven heat, and is not harmfully sensitive to extremes of temperature, as is yeast.

* * * * * * *

Breads, etc., made with baking powder have a different texture from those made with yeast, sometimes being quite cake-like.

WIDOW HANDLES SHERIFF'S JOB

Takes Over Post After Husband is Slain Trying to Arrest Farmer.

"HARD BOILED" DISTRICT.

GARY, Ind., Jan. 24. —(AP)— A 40-year-old housewife who tried to keep her husband out of politics has taken over the office of sheriff of Lake county.

Her district includes the steel and manufacturing centres of Gary, Indiana Harbor, and Hammond — Indiana's melting pot of nationalities—and her job is considered the most difficult sheriff's job in the state.

It was just a week ago that her husband, Sheriff Roy Holley, was killed in line of duty He was struck by bullets as he attempted to arrest Mike Lantare, farmer who barricaded himself in his home after fatally wounding a neighbor and spat defiance at authorities with a shotgun. Lantare killed himself rather than surrender. But for three hours he stood off nearly 100 deputies and police who raked the house with machine gun fire.

Mrs. Millian Holley, the widow and mother of 18-year-old twin daughters, took the oath of office yesterday.

As sheriff, Mrs. Holley faces two problems in addition to the heavy routine of office. Lake county, state figures show, stands near the top in Indiana murder rates. Gary last year was among the first 15 cities in the United States in per capita homicides. Then, too, there's the Cedar Lake region, considered by the sheriff's office to be a hangout for state gangsters.

Conservative Ladies Meet In Paragon

A brief business meeting of the above association was held in the Paragon Hall on Monday afternoon, with the President, Mrs. G. S. Cameron in the chair. There was a very good attendance. The meeting was called mainly for the purpose of nominating the officers for the coming year, to have them in readiness for the coming annual meeting and election of officers, which will be held early in March.

During the afternoon, E. A. Peck, M.P., came in and addressed the ladies, speaking mostly on the progress of the present session of Parliament. J. F. Strickland, K.C., was called out of town and was unable to be present.

Mrs. Joseph Mills gave very interesting accounts, both of her relief work in the city and also on her impressions of the annual Conservative meeting held in Toronto last November.

Operating

CHICAGO—Henry Warrer, 70, an orderly at the county hospital was asleep when a man rushed into his quarters, shook him by the shoulder and exclaimed:

"Get up. We're going to operate."

And without further ado the stranger, Warrer told police, promptly slipped his hand into Warrer's picket, extracted $200 and fled.

Women's Right of Speech Is Upheld By Judge

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Etta Rohr may speak over the telephone to her husband, Joseph, if she wishes, and provided he will listen. Judge Joseph Sabath dissolved an injuction restraining her, ruling that a "woman's right to talk is her prerogative."

The injunction had been obtained by Rohr after the couple had become involved in a separate maintenance action.

"The right of free speech," Mrs. Rohr's attorney argued, "is especially important to this woman who has practiced it 27 years of married life without restraint."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

SHIFTING A DEMAND BID

An opening bid of two of a suit is a "demand bid," or "forcing bid," as previously stated in these articles. Many auction players, familiar with the old idea of "normal trump support," at once assist, whereas they should, when possible, afford partner a choice of make, as illustrated in the hand shown.

Where only a single biddable suit is held, the demand bidder should hold within one trick of game, as Z did, when he made an opening bid of 2-Hearts. Instead of supporting upon his single quick trick and three small trumps, Y had the sense to bid 2-Spades. This suit overcall plainly told Z that Y held one or both of the missing black Aces.

Had Z either rebid his hearts or supported spades at once, probably bidding would have ceased at game, but Z wanted to discover whether his partner held the black Aces. Z bid 2-No Trumps, obliging his partner to support hearts, rebid spades, show another suit, or support no tramps. Once forcing, always forcing, when an opening bid or two of a suit announces game at something, and the response shows a quick trick.

Y's answer of 3-Hearts, rather plainly showed that he held only one of the two missing Aces, or he would have supported the no trumps. Feeling confident that Y held five or six spades, Z ended bidding with 6-Spades. Y discarded two of his hearts on Z's clubs, and ruffed both of his losing diamonds, thus fulfilling his small slam contract. Only four-odd could have been made at hearts, or five-odd at no trumps.

Had A's and Y's cards been interchanged, a small slam could have been made at clubs, losing only a single spade trick.

Had the original holdings of Y and B been reversed, 5-odd could have been made at hearts, losing a single spade trick and one club trick.

When the opening bidder has what he advertises by his two bid, almost invariably there must be a game at the best call for the joint 26-cards of his side.

Few experts "bid to score." Because two-odd at spades will give you game, do not make that opening bid unless you would do so at a love score. How is your partner to know when you expect a slam or when you are bidding to make a small score, if you make the same opening bid in both cases?

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

While I personally don't think that that old and oft-repeated expression, "Nobody loves a fat man," is entirely correct, I'll admit that there's a good bit of meaning in it just the same. For although fat men generally are cheery, genial and amicable, and therefore wholly likeable, it is difficult to picture them as impassioned lovers or daring heroes. It is the tall, strong and handsome specimen of manhood who gets the girlies' admiring glances these days. Whoever heard of a girl choosing as the hero of her dreams a chubby, pot-bellied male whose waistline protuberance prohibited his even tying his own shoelaces?

Of course, a man doesn't have to possess the brawny shoulders and slender waist of a Clark Gable, or the perfect physique of a Johnny Weissmuller, to look the answer to a maiden's prayer. But he certainly can't exactly expect to be the apple of any female's eye—other, perhaps, than his ma's—if he lets himself become fat and flabby, and thick-waisted. It's just as important for a man to keep a wary eye on his figure as it is for a woman. For wads of excess fat are just as detrimental to his appearance and well-being as to hers.

A good many men have the idea that reducing is strictly a woman's game. If a woman sees any fat beginning to accumulate on her body, she does not rest easy until she has trimmed down her figure to the proper slenderness. But if a man notices that he is becoming corpulent, he too often accepts it philosophically, and lets it go at that.

Sometimes, exercise is all that a man needs to ward off flabby fat. And there are so many sports he can indulge in, so many gymnasiums where exercise can be obtained, that no self-respecting male should find it difficult to keep his body firm and youthfully lithe and supple. Of course, if he's already acquired a good bit of excess flesh, he'll need more than just exercise. He'll need a well-planned diet routine, too. But I shall be only too glad to send my effective reducing routine to any man who has enough interest and pride in his appearance to write to me for it.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Henna

Martha: The pure, Egyptian henna made of the leaves of the henna shrub is not injurious to the hair. The chemical henna, however, contains metallic salts and therefore may prove harmful.

Reducing

Peggy: The reducing course outlined in my "New Figure" booklet is indeed guaranteed to take off eight to ten pounds in two weeks. To my knowledge, it is one of the most healthful reducing routines in existence.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Perhaps it is misleading to call it "the common cold." Many people get the impression from the word "common" that it is something ordinary; not mysterious; something about which everybody knows everything. And it is not true that everything is known about colds, except that virtually everyone knows what it is like to have one.

In the first place, nobody knows exactly what causes a cold. There are many theories, ranging from the idea that colds result from an acid condition of the body, to the idea that they are spread by bedbugs. But the most generally accepted theory is that they are caused by a filterable virus; that is, a germ so small it cannot be seen by any microscope now available.

One group of research workers made an extensive study of the bacteria which inhabit the nose and throat, from which they learned that the same bacteria were present in their subjects, whether they had colds or not. They concluded, therefore, that the bacteria were not the chief agents of infection. After several years of experimentation they came to the conclusion that the common cold is caused by a filterable virus.

Another group of research workers made their experiments on apes and a group of girls. (Apes are the only animals which catch human colds.) They also came to the conclusion that colds are caused by a filterable virus.

Still others think colds are started by wet feet, emotional disturbances, or because of lack of vitamins in the body.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in research work, and the cold still remains as mysterious a disease as cancer. Fortunately, it is not dangerous. It causes a great deal of disability and economic loss among workers, but it is not a source of real danger. Graver warnings are issued to the effect that colds which are neglected will lead to serious disease. This is not a fact. For instance, if pneumonia occurs, it was pneumonia from the beginning. Many diseases, such as scarlet fever, tuberculosis and measles, start with what seems to be a cold.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

X. Y. Z.: "A mother who has just given birth to her first baby suffers severe pain because of cracked nipples. Kindly advise treatment."

Answer: The condition is very important because it may prevent regular nursing. The treatment generally advised is that the intervals of nursing should be lengthened four hours and the breasts used alternately. Second, the use of nipple shields. Third, touching the cracks with a five per cent solution of nitrate of silver.

C. O.: "Do you think that red pepper is good for neuritis by taking it in capsules, and is it harmless?"

Answer: I do not think it is any good for neuritis, and I think it is harmless.

CONSOLATION

NEWKIRK, Okla.—When Wilbur Keen of Newkirk went to Ponca City last December, his automobile was stolen. Today, Keen received a postcard from Denver:

VESTRY MEETING AT ST. JOHN'S

RECEIPTS $9,105.02.

Deep appreciation of the progress that is being made in St. John's Parish was expressed by Venerable Archdeacon R. C. Blagrave, D.D., the rector, at the annual vestry meeting over which he presided last evening.

The rector's words of commendation and appreciation followed on the presentation of the annual reports of each of the dozen and more branches of church activity. All without exception were shown to have contributed their full quota of time and effort during the past year with pleasing results.

The annual financial statement, presented by the retiring wardens, showed total expenditures for the year ending December 31, 1932 of $9,586.04 as against receipts of $9,105.02. "In view of the fact that the past year has been a particularly stringent one" the wardens felt, "there is great cause for thankfulness that the parish has come so successfully through the ordeal." They had every hope that the present year would witness a marked improvement in conditions and that the confidence in the church's future which had been so strongly manifested by the congregation in past years would be fully sustained.

New Wardens

Chris. Graham was appointed as rector's warden for the ensuing year by the rector, while R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne was unanimously elected as peoples' warden.

E. S. Martin declined nomination for the latter office. He had been peoples' warden on a previous occasion, he said, in expressing the opinion that Mr. Hicks-Lyne was a highly desirable nominee.

The retiring wardens were F. M. Dela Fosse, who has been rector's warden for the past three years, and W. Roy Thompson peoples' warden for the last four years. In remarking upon the fact that these wardens had decided to retire, the rector paid high tribute to the work they had performed during the past three and four years respectively. "I regret their services as wardens cease to-night" he stated.

Referring to his appointment of Mr. Graham as his warden and the election of Mr. Hicks-Lyne as peoples' warden, Dr. Blagrave believed the choice of the vestry had been a wise one. In passing he expressed sympathy with Mr. Graham and Mr. Thompson in the loss each had suffered recently through bereavement.

The rector also expressed his appreciation of the co-operation he had received from R. N. Stuart, lay reader and also from Dave Melton and Herbert Rush. Regarding the work of Frederic G. Mann, L.Mus., organist and choirmaster, the rector described him as a most zealous and conscientious worker.

The report of the nominating committee was adopted as follows: Sidesmen—Messrs. W. R. L. Blackwell, W. Stevenson, D. J. Lawrie, F. Hills, J. D. Patterson, H. C. Scotheran, B. D. Hall, W. F. Turner G. W. Davis, Bert. C. Graham, R. Ross, A. L. Stedham, R. E. Clarke C. Coleman D. Yarnold, H. A. Lemmings.

Substitutes—C. H. Crowe, A. Hood, J. Patte, T. Conway, J. H. Amys.

Delegates to Synod—Dr. G. S. Cameron, F. D. Kerr, K.C., B. D. Hall, W. Roy Thompson, E. S. Martin, F. M. Dela Fosse. Substitutes—C. Stevenson, H. A. Morrow, W. J. Kent, W. C. Ackerman, E. Sorby, J. E. Patte.

Auditors—E. S. Martin and A. L. Stedham.

Advisory Board—The wardens, J. A. Aylmer, E. S. Martin, W. J. Kent, F. Hills, Dr. G. S. Cameron, S. T Medd, W. C. Ackerman, A. Stevenson, J. J. Howden, W. Sangster, B. D. Hall, F. D. Kerr, K.C., G. Faulkner, H. W. Mcrphet, Dr. A. G. Howson, H. Choate.

Vestry clerk—G. A. Smith.

Nominating committee—The Rector and Wardens and W. J. Kent and J. A. Aylmer.

Representative on Anson House Board—Miss Denne.

At the commencement of the meeting, Dr. Blagrave drew attention of the vestry to the fact that Mrs. Davidson had secured a tablet which was to be placed in St. John's Church in memory of her husband the late Canon Davidson. The unveiling and dedication of the tablet would take place on some future date to be decided upon by Mrs. Davidson.

Mr. Hicks-Lyne reported upon the work of the special committee that had been appointed to obtain plans and specifications for a new organ, in the absence of Mr. Mann who was indisposed. Prices had been obtained on three instruments, it was stated, the highest quotation was $7,700 and the lowest $5,125. The other price was $7,565.

The committee's report had previously been submitted to the Advisory Board at a recent meeting, but was left in abeyance, as it was desired by the Board to get expressions of opinion from the vestry meeting. The Board had not cared to venture upon the purchase of the cheapest of the three instruments, although the organ fund was shown by the financial statement to amount to $4,287.26.

Dr. Cameron moved, seconded by Mr. Blackwell, that the special committee be instructed to make further investigations into the respective merits of the three organs upon which prices had been quoted and to report back to the Advisory Board at an early meeting. The Board to have power to act.

RELIEF BUREAU IS IN NEED OF MORE SUPPLIES

Supplies Received Up to Date Been Satisfactory, But Not Enough.

BEDDING REQUIRED.

Supplies received at the Relief Bureau up to date have been satisfactory, but not plentiful enough to last for any length of time. Two items need reinforcing badly: bedding and underwear. There is a quantity of each, but the demand will soon far exceed the supply on hand, as these two things are constantly required.

Anyone having a surplus of bedding of any sort: sheets, pillow cases, quilts, comforters or blankets, is asked to send them in or telephone 3315 and they will be called for.

Also, overcoats are needed. Some have come in, of good quality and in clean condition, also a number of coats for women. Many more overcoats could be used, however.

The main purpose of the bureau is to gather in as much clothing and household supplies as possible, so that the city's relief funds may not be depleted by expenditures for such things. Citizens would do well to go through attics and closets and chests to find clothing and bedding that may be turned to good account here.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

THERE IS NO DRUG AS POWERFUL AS HOPE.

During the flu epidemic of 1918 I saw a patient fight for his life for a number of days after all hope had been given up by his physician, and the reason that he made a successful recovery was because the physician never once let him suspect that he wouldn't get better. The physician told him he was real sick, that the battle was a hard one, that everything was being done and all that could be done was to 'stand by.'

Dr. Axel Munthe says, "there is no drug as powerful as hope, and the slightest sign of pessimism in the face or words of a doctor may cost his patient his life.

"The ability to bring about a reaction o hope in a patient is one of the greatest talents a physician can possess. The doctor knows the cause of the ailment and the best or regular treatment for it; if he can add to this the personality to inspire hope in the patient, he has Nature on his side, and she sets to work to assist in the cure."

Now that Dr. Walter B. Cannon, Harvard, has shown that the emotions can affect practically every organ and process in the body, there is no question but that the emotion of hope may set in motion certain forces within the body that would cause vital glands and organs to begin again their natural work. Many profound forces are put in motion by the human mind that build or tear down one's vitality.

Dr. L. E. Whetsell, Rushville, Indiana, points out that many a battle against disease has been lost because the family, friends, and physician created a gloomy atmosphere in the patient; and many have passed triumphantly through an illness buoyed up by hope and a cheerful, encouraging physician.

This means then that family, friends, and the physician must be ever cheerful and hopeful when with the patient, because the patient, even though seriously ill, gathers knowledge of his true condition by the manner and actions of those about him.

I believe it would be well for all of us to bear this in mind in our attitude toward those who are sick mentally or physically. It is this very hope placed in the hearts of sufferers that enables ministers, priests, and mental healers to bring about wonderful cures when apparently there was no possible chance for recovery.

Truly, there is no drug as powerful as hope.

Don't Monkey With FLU

No, sir! 'Flu's too serious — too dangerous — for you to take any chances. It usually starts with a cold—and that's the time to put the boots to it with the old reliable — BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE — that proved its worth in the great 'flu epidemic of 1918—and has been living up to its reputation ever since.

Get a bottle to-day—every druggist has it. Take a sip several times a day and the chances are 'flu will never get a toe-hold. If it does, just keep on with BUCKLEY'S. The 'flu —not you—will be groggy in the first round.

But be sure it's BUCKLEY'S. You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear and you can't get BUCKLEY results from an unknown remedy made by some unknown Mr. X. Y. Z. 8

RELEASE THE BRAKES.

It was on a mountain railroad. The long freight train chugged and puffed along for miles and with a final snort made the divide. The engineer sighed with relief. "Thought we couldn't make it," he said. "That was what I thought, too," responded the inexperienced brakeman, "but I had the brakes all set to keep us from sliding back."

Too many concerns are like the brakeman, says an editorial in the Rotarian. They are playing safe at the very moment when they should be delivering the maximum of power directly to the wheels. Today's empty shelves are prophetic of a demand for more goods to-morrow, and according to a recent survey, there's forty billion dollars of latent buying power in the United States alone to pay for them. Here, squeaks in the machinery of finance are being lubricated with new credit; and the quadrennial slowing of the business pulse contingent upon election has passed.

The stage is set for 1933 to develop what every depression in history has created: new and aggressive leadership.

ROTARY'S HANDSOME GIFT.

The handsome donation of $1,000 made by the Rotary Club to the Peterborough Relief Fund, which will be supplemented by the individual donations of the members of the club, will give the local campaign additional impetus; the gift is an endorsation of the merits of the cause that cannot fail to prove a factor in mustering public opinion and public support behind this effort to adequately provide for Peterborough victims of the unemployment crisis.

The Rotary Club has given leadership to a number of worth-while activities, and its warm-hearted co-operation in the present campaign is in line with the praiseworthy efforts of the organization in community enterprises generally.

The donation will be gratifying to the members of the Relief Fund Committee, not only as a substantial contribution toward the objective that is being sought, but also as the placing of the seal of approval of a representative group of Peterborough business and professional men upon the fund itself and the purpose for which it is being raised.

Rotary's example, it is to be hoped, will have a distinctly beneficial effect upon the whole campaign, and will cause other organizations and individuals who are financially able to help this most deserving effort to lose no time in forwarding their donations.

Every dollar subscribed locally is matched by a dollar from each of the two Governments, provincial and federal, so that the Rotary gift means $3,000 toward the mitigation of distress caused by the unusual economic conditions.

CADET CORPS.

Comment in the editorial columns of Ontario newspapers and statements made by members of various boards of education throughout the province indicate that the action of the Toronto board in deciding to abolish cadet corps is not likely to be followed generally.

Opinion in the smaller centres is on the whole favorable to the retention of cadet training, the general view seeming to be that when such training is properly directed the cadet corps provides something that cannot be found in any other system of physical training.

The Toronto decision has, as a matter of fact, been in the nature of a surprise to the rest of Ontario, for cadet work in the Queen City has always been keenly carried on, and the Toronto cadet units have been regarded as among the most efficient in the province.

Other centres are apparently resolved to maintain cadet training; in many places there has never been any discussion of the subject, and school boards have not even contemplated the possibility of abandoning the cadet corps, which they value for the effect it has upon the bearing of the pupils and for the measure of much needed discipline it imparts.

The bogey that such training develops a spirit of militarism has not made any progress with the majority of those entrusted with the administration of educational affairs in Ontario.

A USEFUL HAND BOOK.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics announces the publication of the 1933 edition of the official annual hand book dealing with present conditions and recent progress in the Dominion.

This publication, "Canada 1933," opens with a foreword by the Hon. H. H. Stevens, an introduction of eight pages outlining the world situation as it affects Canada.

Material dealing with topography and climate and constitution and government has been omitted in this edition to make way for a fairly broad treatment of the Imperial Economic Conference, which appears as chapter I.

Detailed treatment of all phases of national endeavor, including population, wealth and production, agriculture forestry, mining, water power, fisheries, fur trade, manufactures, transportation, trade, finance, labor, education, etc., follow.

The book is designed to give a concise but well-rounded picture of the current Canadian situation to those at home and abroad, and to provide a better basis of information for the discussion of Canadian affairs generally and in particular for dealing with the business problems of 1933.

It is profusely illustrated and printed in tone to harmonize with the artistic cover.

The Dominion Statistician, Dominion Bureau of Statistics, at Ottawa, will act upon applications for a copy of this most useful and well prepared hand book, the information in which is the latest available, the figures in many cases extending to the end of 1932.

A SHARP DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

That the politicians are sharply divided as to the merits or otherwise of currency inflation as a cure for Canada's economic ills was clearly illustrated by speeches delivered on Friday night by two prominent Liberals, Mitchell F. Hepburn, the Ontario leader, and W. H. Moore, M.P., former chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board.

Speaking in Aylmer, Mr. Hepburn enthusiastically supported the inflation plan, and instanced Australia and New Zealand as two countries which were enjoying the advantages of inflated currency.

Over in Sarnia, Mr. Moore described inflation as a powder magazine about which it was dangerous to go looking with a match for a heaven on earth. As for Australia, he declared that country had balanced its budget at the expense of a £5,000,000 debt owing to Great Britain, and had borrowed huge sums to establish a seeming prosperity that would last until the crash came.

In short, these two well-known Liberal members were dramatically opposed to each other on this question, and we prefer to look upon it as an honest difference of opinion.

Mr. Hepburn's statement that there will be a complete re-alignment on this issue in Parliament, and that "those who stand for the rule of the money lords and the exploiting classes will be in one camp and those who stand for the rights of the common people will be in the other camp," was manifestly unfair to Mr. Moore and thousands of others who entertain the same views as he does.

It is a bit too much to say that those who believe that no country ever obtained lasting prosperity by juggling with its currency are foes of "the common people."

There are a great many Canadians who feel that they are indeed protecting the rights of the common people when they seek to prevent this country from chasing after a financial will o' the wisp that has lured other nations into disaster.

CHANGING AGRICULTURE.

The half million dollar report on social trends in the United States returned to the President after three years of investigation has caused a great deal of comment over the continent and in no phase more so than in the presentation of the case for agriculture. The problems presented are not those of the United States alone, but similar conditions may be found the world over. For thirty years the agricultural area has remained unchanged in the United States. There has been no increase in the area of farm lands, though in the same period production has gone up fifty per cent. and there has been a sharp decline in the number of persons employed in agriculture.

More and more the farmer is finding difficulty in getting a market for his products. The report shows that the fall in the birthrate, which is steady, is making the question of greater production one of real seriousness. Hence is seen the need of higher export totals.

The growth in production is due to the increasing use of farm machinery and the application of scientific knowledge to the problems of agriculture. The report says:

"Use of the gas engine on farms has reduced the number of horses and mules by ten millions during the last fourteen years, thereby releasing about thirty million acres of plow land and large areas of pasture for raising meat and milk animals and for growing food and fibre crops. Total mechanical power use on farms increased from 0.5 horsepower a worker in 1900 to 3.8 in 1930."

Commenting upon his report the London Advertiser remarks:

"This development is still in progress. An even larger proportion of work on the farms and in industry by machines and a smaller proportion of human labor is to be expected, the report declares. How sharp has been the decline in the number of persons gaining a livelihood from the soil is strikingly shown when it is revealed on the basis of official figures that in 1870 77 per cent. of the gainfully occupied persons in the United States were engaged in transforming the resources of nature into objects of usable form through agriculture, mining and manufacture. By 1930 this proportion had shrunk to only 52 per cent., a large portion of the falling-off being in the reduction of the number of people engaged in agriculture as a means of making a living.

"The study of trends in the agricultural industry is only a part of this comprehensive and highly valuable report, which is certain to arouse widespread discussion, and, let us hope, intelligent action to halt the present policy of drift in regard to problems which are a threat to modern civilization.—Belleville Intelligencer.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Calgary result has shown that the size of the radical vote may be easily over-estimated.

Sturgeon Falls is appealing to the Ontario Government for relief. The northern town seems to have got itself into an unfortunate tangle all round as a result of the unemployment crisis.

The failure of the inter-provincial conference to accomplish definite results in regard to the pressing problems of the day is most disappointing. The element of teamplay seems to have been missing from the deliberations.

Send in your donation to the Relief Fund. This most worthy cause deserves the enthusiastic support of all who are in a position to help.

The people of the Irish Free State said it with ballots to-day—but some of the victims of the election riots, it is to be feared, were unable to exercise their franchise.

Hon. H. C. Nixon says there will be no three-cornered contests in the next Ontario general election. Has Mr. Nixon forgotten that the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation has entered the political field?

The currency question seems to be cutting across party lines. That should create an interesting situation during the coming session of Parliament.

A benefit relief hockey game in Toronto Saturday produced thousands of bundles of clothing for those in need. It was a particularly effective plan of securing much needed supplies.

Japan is increasing her army in China by 50 per cent., which would seem to be her way of thumbing her nose at the League of Nations.

THE BROWSER

The Browser is eaten up with curiosity. Every morning a young woman gets on the same train that carries him swiftly (perhaps too swiftly) to his work. Every morning she's carrying a copy of a magazine (if you must know, it's the Reader's Digest).....Every morning she's there and it's there. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday. But not Saturday for, apparently, she's on a five-day week ....She doesn't read it. She just carries it, along with her purse.... But she must read it sometime or why does she carry it?

Along about the end of the month she changes to the current issue. The Browser knows about that, for one month it's green, the next it's blue, the next it's yellow and so on and on.

The Browser would like to know why that bright-looking young woman always carries the same magazine. Does she press flowers in it? Is that the only one she reads? Why does she read only one? Does she read only one because then she always knows just where she read anything that she does read?

It makes the Browser very unhappy.

The only other time he was so unhappy was when he sat next to a grumpy fellow who kept his hand over the title of the book he was reading and the Browser was never able to discover just what that book was....And that's against the law, positively.

Some day he's going to stop in front of this young woman and say, just as calm as you please, "Mardon me, Padamp, would you mind netting me low—"....Oh, well, why doesn't the Browser mind his own business? (It has been suggested.)

The parenthesis sounds like something out of Mark Twain, but the Browser can't remember just where. ....Bernard DeVoto, who wrote "Mark Twain's America," takes a number of stiff punches in the January Harper's at certain modern "interpretative" biographers. Strachey heads the list. W. E. Woodward is in, too. Gamaliel Bradford is praised. DeVoto criticizes one biographer for saying that gold was mined on the Comstock. Well, it was. Ask Carl Glasscock, who wrote "The Big Bonanza." Not enormously, but sufficiently at any rate.... In that same Harper's Albert J. Nock wonders whether all people are human beings and he thinks not. He thinks graft and inefficiency doubled when women began to vote, but of course the Browser can't agree with that, because the men hadn't left that much graft ungrabbed....Aside from that little point, Albert J. Nock is the Browser's favorite thinker He's a wise man.

Books about D. H. Lawrence flow from the presses....In the spring there'll be "Lawrence and Brett" by the Honorable Dorothy Brett (Lippincott). Lawrence liked Brett but he wrote her very sharp letters.... Look into "The Letters of D. H. Lawrence" (Viking Press) and you'll see how sharp he could be. One of the roughest letters any man ever wrote to another—cold and hard—is the one he wrote to J. M. Murry ....It took the Browser's breath away....Lawrence didn't believe in the theory of evolution. He said he didn't feel it in the solar plexus. And anything he didn't feel there, wasn't true for him....He wrote, "America's awfully foolish and empty." He called John Masefield's poems "pickled herring" and the poet himself "a horrible sentimentalist—the cheap Byron of the day."

And as for changing his manuscripts, he wrote in 1913 to Edward Garnett, I don't mind if Duckworth crosses out 100 shady pages in 'Sons and Lovers.' It's got to sell. I've got to live."....But now he's dead—the necessity of living is past—and he'd probably object to the cutting up and toning down of some of the books he wrote.

John Masefield doesnt smoke and hasn't had a drink for 25 years. When he reached New York he told the reporters that 'poets get their exaltation and excitement from life itself, not from drink." Also this: "Poetry grows out of joyousness. It is the good vintage that comes out of people."

But Masefield admires Jeffers and would he say our poet's iron verse comes out of joyousness?....Rose Wilder Lane's "Let the Hurricane Roar" will be published by Longmoans, Green....No new novel by Pearl Buck this year.

Thorstein Veblen wrote a technocracy book 12 years ago. It was "The Engineers and the Price System" and the Browser was enthusiastic about it.

Next week: All about S. S. Van Dine's "Kennel Murder Case." Astounding analysis of mystery stories by that amazing fellow.

This is the signature of a straightforward man, a man possessed of a spirit of initiative and enterprise. Often his beginnings are impulsively made; but a strong sense of pride keeps him at what he has begun. This same pride acting together with a degree of originality and distinction of taste impells him to do even the ordinary job in a different way. There is discernible a degree of variability and sensitiveness in this handwriting which would indicate the writer to be capable of versatility, with a decided inclination towards artistic expression of some sort. But this inclination is checked and under control so that there are to be observed as well some signs of inhibition. The urge to find complete self expression would drive this man to seek a variety of interests and pursuits; native ability and nervous energy would make him outstanding in the field of any interests or pursuits which he might take up.

MURDER IN EDEN

By Charles Winfield Smith.

CHAPTER 24

Nanette was so paralyzed with fear she could not move. The shadowy form came toward her, moving with panther-like stealth, but as it materialized into Rodolf Holmes she heaved a sigh of relief and:

"You—you frightened me."

"I'm sorry, Nanette."

"I—I didn't know what to think," She still spoke with effort. "I saw your shadow coming toward me——"

"I have been waiting for you," he said meaningly.

She grasped his arm. "What is it?" she demanded throatily.

"You heard about Chivington." It was more of a statement of fact than a question.

"Yes." Her voice sank almost to a whisper. "I heard it on the radio down at Pete Russell's cottage at Malibu. I made him bring me home at once."

"The police have given out a statement that it was an accident."

"What do you think?" she countered.

"I think," he said slowly and with emphasis, "that he was murdered."

"But the girl with him," she protested. "Who was she?"

"I don't know."

"Isn't it possible that she might have been a sweetheart?"

A bitter laugh fell from his lips. "Don't be absurd, Nanette," he chided her. "What would an old man like that be doing with a kid sweetheart?"

"Sometimes," she said fiercely, "old men are the most-foolish, especially when it comes to young girls."

"Chivington," Holmes reminded her, "was as level headed a person as ever lived. Don't think for an instant that he was going to lose his presence of mind over a mere bit of blonde fluffiness——"

"Blonde?"

"Yes, the description of the girl as given out to the newspapers said she was blonde and extremely pretty."

"It takes a pret y girl," she smiled—in the dark he could not see her lip curl in a sneer, "and especially a young and pretty one, to make a fool out of an old man, and blondes seem to be more successful at it than girls of other complexions."

Holmes snorted in disgust. "You talk like a two-year-old. Yes," he added quickly, and you act like one, too."

"What do you mean?" she flung back.

"Can't you see, Nanette, that you're in a hot spot? First of all, you have a quarrel with a man who admires you. Not an hour later that man is found murdered in his own home. You were the last one to see him alive."

"Well, what if I was?" she snapped. "I have a perfect alibi, and," this she added with just a trace of coyness, "I have you to confirm that alibi for me."

"I know you can't see my point of view, but if you will just keep quiet for a minute until I finish I'll show you just where you stand. You were the last person to see Richard Bailey alive. The next thing anyone knows, you have been made a target yourself, but, fortunately, the marksmanship was very bad. That only adds to the precariousness of your position. The wound is such a minor one that you do not even find it necessary to remain in bed."

"Why in the name of all that's good and holy must I remain in bed if I am not hurt very badly?" she demanded.

"Because your actions are going to create suspicion. Be sensible, Nanette. Don't you see that the first you know you are going to be arrested for that murder? That wound in your shoulder was only a superficial one. It is just the type that a person would inflict on himself to throw off suspicion——"

"I do see," she exclaimed heavily. "Oh," in anguish, "why couldn't I see that before?"

"There's just one thing more. Bailey was supposed to be engaged to you——"

"I hated him!"

"That makes no difference. The studio has you engaged to Bailey. You must conduct yourself accordingly. And, remember this," warningly, "if you are not very careful the police are going to dig into your past. You don't want to forget that you murdered——"

She swayed slightly and tried to stop him, but he went on brutally:

"You murdered your husband in New Orleans. To be sure, a jury cleared you, but in your own heart you know you killed him and the police are going to know it, too, if you are not careful. So far as they know, now, you're Nanette LeRoi, not Judy Banning."

"But, Rodolf," her heart sank and she could barely force the words from her lips, "Jere Kane knows. He'll tell——"

"Jere Kane is a gentleman," he cut in harshly. "He will tell nothing unless he pins the murder on you. And if he does—God help you."

Her breath came heavily. She clutched at the actor's arm for support. "Rodolf," huskily, "you—you don't think I did it, do you?"

He was grateful at that moment for th mantle of darkness which was closed about them. He looked pityingly at her. What if he did think her guilty? Could he tell her so? And if he thought she was innocent how was he going to convince her of it?

He knew he had talked brutally to her, but, in his own heart he believed this to be so, she had it coming to her. She deserved every word of censure that he had uttered.

She read his answer in his silence. She drew away from him as if he was a thing unclean.

"You do think I am guilty," she said, and her voice was cold and brittle.

She started to pass him but he caught her and drew her to him. His arms went about her and held her close to him.

"No, Nanette, I don't," he protested. "You know better than that."

She struggled to release herself but he held her in arms that were like steel.

"You know that I love you, love you better than anything in the world," he exclaimed fiercely.

She laughed bitterly, sarcastically. "How can you be so sacrilegious, to speak of love to a woman whom you believe to be guilty of murder? Let me go."

But he refused to heed her demands. "I do love you, Nanette. You know I do. You know I have loved you ever since that—that night—in New Orleans. You know that I would have killed Martin Banning myself if you had not. He——"

She wilted in his arms. Her hand stole up about him and she clung to him as a flower clings to a stone wall for strength.

"And I love you, Rodolf," she murmured. "But——"

He smothered her words with his lips. After a moment:

"Why not give up this farcical fraud you are perpetrating?" he pleaded. "Why not become my wife?"

She put a finger over his lips. "Please don't ask me now?" she said. "Wait until this awful business is ended. Then—if you still want me—ask me then."

Slowly, they walked back to the house. Nanette unlocked the door and switched on a light inside. Then she turned to him. He took her in his arms and pressed a tender kiss to her lips.

"Until tomorrow," he whispered.

Nanette watched him until he disappeared, walking down the street. It never once dawned on her that he was walking instead of driving his sporty racing model car. She thought only of the bliss that would some day be hers as the wife of Rodolf Holmes.

When he was gone she went in o the house. Her mind was in turmoil. Now she realized what he had told her was only too true. She was in a dangerous position. As she closed the door and locked it a voice asked sleepily:

"Is that you, Nanette?"

"Dorotha!" Nanette cried. "Is that you?"

Dorotha, attired in sleeping garments and with a flimsy negligee pulled closely about her, came from her boudoir. A quizzical smile was on her lips.

"Why didn't you come back after me?" the actress demanded.

Dorotha's eyes popped open and her lips parted in surprise. "I don't understand," she stammered.

"You don't understand what?" Nanette exclaimed angrily. "When I let you take the car this afternoon I told you to come back for me tonight."

"But you telephoned and said it wouldn't be necessary," the secretary corrected.

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE COMING OF THE DOUKHOBORS

On this date, in 1899, there landed at Halifax from the ss. Lake Huron the first contingent of Doukhobors, or Russian Quakers, who have since proven such thorns in the development of the Canadian west. Their official name was "The Christian Community of the Universal Brotherhood," giving little indication of the fact that they were to become a grave problem for the people of Canada to solve. They had undoubtedly long been persecuted in Russia; many being exiled to Siberia, and they were brought to Canada in response to a wave of sympathy, based very largely upon the passionate appeals of Count Tolstoi, aided by the enthusiasm of Professor James Maver of Toronto, who crusaded not only in Canada but also in England and the United States on their behalf, with the result that a large international fund was raised. Prince Hilkoff came to Canada and persuaded the government to set aside for the migrants 270,000 acres of land in the Saskatchewan valley. The first contingent, numbering 2,100 strong were rushed west from Halifax in special trains and were dumped on the prairie at Yorktown. Unlike the Barr colonists of a few years later proper preparations had been made and the new comers were able to begin their home-making at once. Before the year had ended the colony had grown to 7,300; at the census of 1931 they had grown to 14,095 divided between Saskatchewan and British Columbia. They may have been an asset; they are certainly a liability—at least some of them, for there are many who are law abiding and who do not indulge in nude parades whenever they lose their tempers, like naughty children. Perhaps if we had to try the experiment again we would not be so enthusiastic as we were in 1900 but they are here and have to be counted among the many problems which Canada has to solve to-day

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(A.P.)—The stock market was irregular in the late trading to-day, with the tobaccos displaying a firm undertone. Losses of major fractions were recorded by Consolidated Gas, North American, Standard of California and Union Pacific, while National Biscuit lost nearly 2. American Can, Case, General Foods, United States' Steel and most of the rails were down slightly. American Telephone was steady. Norfolk and Western was strong, up more than 2. Harvester, Liggett and Myers "B" and American Tobacco were fractionally higher. Transfers approximated 500,000 shares.

WINNIPEG EXCHANGE.

WINNIPEG, January 24 (C.P.)—Wheat prices scored gains of ⅝c in early trading to-day, and as the offerings were extremely light the values had little difficulty in holding steady at top levels. Fair buying at the start for Eastern and Chicago account was chiefly responsible for the advance.

At mid-session grain prices held at levels ⅝c higher, with May at 46¾c, July at 47½c, and October at 48½c.

Ony a small export business was reported worked overnight.

Liverpool wheat opened lower due to the lack of demand from millers, but this had little effect on the local market. Quotations near the close of the English market were ¼d to ½d lower per 100 pounds while Buenos Aires wheat at noon was ⅛c lower per bushel.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Jan. 24 (C.P.)—Toronto Stock Exchange listings maintained a slightly improved tone to-day, but while the price level was better, volume continued at a low mark. The whole list moved within a narrow range.

Food shares were moderately buoyant with small gains showing for Dominion Stores, Loblaw "A," Laura Secord, Fanny Farmer and Consolidated Bakeries, while Canada Bread 1st was off a point and Canadian Canners dropped a similar amount.

Beverage shares were in light demand and fractional recessions were chalked up for Canada Malting and Distillers Seagram. In the steel group the bridge issues were firmer, while Steel of Canada Common showed a small gain against a loss by the preferred issue.

Some selling came into the oil stocks around mid-day, but the losses resulting were largely recovered.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—(CP)— The Standard Mining market was still rolling along under a load of steam at the close today but the pace was a little less hasty. There seemed to be plenty of stock for sale at present prices and until the selling for profit is absorbed quotations are not likely to make much headway on the upside. The turnover was again of record proportions and the big gold stocks are showing no sign yet of weakness.

Of the high-priced gold shares Lake Shore, Hollinger, Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves took the lead today Lake Shore advanced to $34 but closed off a few cents while Hollinger held around $7 for a 15-cent gain. Teck and Hargreaves showed little change and both Dome and McIntyre were down a few cents each.

Noranda was again in the swim with the gold shares and registered a gain of about 40, finishing just under $22. Ventures was a heavy trader but profit-taking gave it a slight set-back while Falconbridge, Nickel and Sherritt were up a few cents each.

C.P.R. EARNINGS.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—(C.P.) — Earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the week ended January 21, were: 1933, $1,922,000; 1932, $2,139,000; decrease $217,000, a statement shows.

CHAIRMAN F. J. SQUIRE RESIGNS FROM HAVELOCK SCHOOL BOARD

Action Follows Flare-up Over Applications for Caretaker's Post.

SECT'Y-TREAS. GETS RAISE.

HAVELOCK, Jan. 24 (Examiner Correspondence). — As a protest against an uncomplimentary remark by a member of the school board, the chairman, Fred. J. Squire, asked the secretary to accept his resignation from the board, and, getting up, left before the business in hand was finished, at a special meeting called to reconsider the salary cuts of the caretaker, and the secretary-treasurer.

The trouble started when it was known that although three applications were made for the position of school caretaker, only two of them had been read at the regular meeting on Wendesday evening last.

The third applicant was William Akins, who it is said, asked a member of the board the day after the inaugural meeting, what the members had thought of his application, for caretaker. Of course the trustee knew nothing whatever of his application since it had not been read at the meeting.

At the special meeting, it is alleged, this member of the board accused the chairman of holding out the application in question, and suggested that he be asked to resign from the board.

His resignation, verbally, was the chairman's answer to this challenge and Mr. Squires immediately withdrew from the meeting.

May Be Nomination

The action of the chairman in tendering his resignation has caused considerable comment in the village, and unless he reconsiders his decision, a nomination will have to be held to fill the vacancy on the board. This is not the first time more than one nomination to fill vacancies on the board have been necessary; but the case is unique, in that it is caused by the resignation of one who has already been installed on the board, as chairman.

Opening the meeting, called as emergency to reconsider salary reductions that were carried at the regular meeting, Mr. Squire as chairman appointed Trustee B. Smith to act on the finance committee for 1933.

Trustee Wannamaker moved, but found no seconder that Trustee Crawford be added. A motion of Trustees Copp and Bullied that Wannamaker be on the finance committee carried.

On motion by Smith and Wannamaker, the property committee will be composed of Robert Crawford, William Bullied and William Copp. Carried.

Trustee Smith made a motion that Mr. Edward Fennell be secretary-treasurer until the June meeting, when salaries shall again be under consideration. The motion fell through for want of a seconder.

Secretary-Treasurer's Salary

Since his appointment a few years ago as secretary-treasurer Mr. Fennel has received a salary of $75 per annum. At the last regular meeting, on motion by Trustees Smith and Copp the secretarys' salary was cut ten per cent. After the motion was declared carried, the chairman, Mr. Squire vacated the chair, and moved that Mr. Fennell as secretary receive ten per cent of $75 for his services as treasurer. This was taking advantage of a flaw in the previous motion, which stated secretary, instead of secretary-treasurer. This was the means taken to restore the salary to the original $75, after Mr. Fennell had said he would not continue as secretary at a reduced salary. Trustee Bert Wannamaker and Robert Crawford in the chair voted for the motion; Copp and Smith only opposing. This was after the other trustee, William Bullied had left for work at the C.P.R. shops.

At the special meeting, a motion by Trustee Bullied, seconded by Crawford, appointed Edward Fennell secretary-treasurer, at a salary of $75 for 1933. The motion of the previous meeting, giving Mr. Fennell $7.50 for his services as acting treasurer, not having been rescinded, his salary now stands at $82.50 yearly.

It was at this point that the question of the caretaker cropped up, and after an exchange of heated words, the chairman resigned, and left the meeting. It was moved by Copp and seconded by Wannamaker, that Trustee Bernard Smith take the chair for the balance of the meeting. Carried.

Moved by Crawford, seconded by Wannamaker, that the caretaker, Mr. Buchanan receive his present salary, and continue as caretaker as heretofore. Carried.

Motion of adjournment was made by Trustees Crawford and Wannamaker.

COURT OF APPEAL REVIEWS EVIDENCE

from beginning to end," Mr. Justice R. R. Fishes stated

Second Case on Record.

W. B. Common, for the Crown, said it was only the second case to be so referred to the Appeal Court under the statute.

Mr. O'Brien said Reid and Thomas were "transients" living in the boathouse, and on the Saturday night in question had been successful in locating some food. Thomas and "Yank" had been planning a robbery, and had asked Reid to get a gun, it was stated. When Reid refused, he declared, Thomas had made a mad rush at him.

Following the killing, Mr. O'Brien said, Reid related he had sent "Yank" for a doctor, but when "Yank" did not return, he had taken fright and "skipped."

He was arrested by Peterborough police a few days later.

Told An Untruth.

"If this man goes to the gallows he goes there because he told an untruth," Mr. Justice Middleton said.

"If he had told the truth I don't think he could have been convicted of murder. A good deal more happened in that boathouse than he ever told. Everything was nice and happy. They were making stew out of steak they had cadged and then something happened, possibly a quarrel with four of them in it. I don't think the true story will ever be told."

LOSES $60,000 ON MOVIE.

NEW YORK.—Katherine Cornell lost more than $60,000 on her production of "Lucrece," but she is glad she lost it.

This French adaptation of Shakespeare's poem was distinctly a box office failure.

"I would produce the play all over again," Miss Cornell said, "even if I knew in advance the New York reception of it.

BUS STRIKE ENDS

GALSWORTHY WEAKER

LONDON, Jan. 24 (A.P.)—The condition of John Galsworthy, British novelist and 1932 winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature, was causing grave concern to-day.

Galsworthy is suffering from anemia and was reported decidedly weaker. He was at his home at Hampstead. A heavy cold contracted early in December, brought on his present condition.

Slip May Be Fatal

Because Admiral Viscount Makoto Saito, premier of Japan, stood up at the wrong moment during Emperor Hirohito's recent New Year's banquet in Tokio, he is reported to have offered his resignation. Although the resignation was not accepted, opposition parties in the diet are said to be ready to overthrow the ministry. The faux pas, therefore, which would be considered merly an inadvertent slip in any other country, may lead to the end of Premier Saito's political career, despite the fact he immediately apologized to the emperor who promptly forgot about it. The emperor had left his speech at home. Nobody knew why there was a stood up to see what was wrong.

Never in the history of the party have we received such enthusiastic support and such vigorous assistance from all sections of the country and from all classes of people. Ireland is once more on the road to her national economic salvation. We are going to keep her on that road."

Final Returns Friday

The counting of ballots begins generally to-morrow. Wickware and Kildare will probably be the first to report the returns. Owing to the necessity of having to gather ballot boxes from the west coast islands, Galway may be unable to begin counting until Friday. Galway, Donegal and the National University, (owing to the postal voters will likely be the last to complete the returns.

There is apparently some confusion in the minds of many electors as to whether or not they should vote all their preferences. (The preferential system of voting is used whereby one voter may mark a candidate first, another second and so on). If he wishes the elector can vote for everybody, marking the ballot paper one, two and three according to the order of his choice.

Experts of the proportional representation system urge that by using all his preferences a voter not only helps to put his favorite in but he confuses the voters for the other side. But the elector frequenty finds it difficult to understand why he should give even a low preference vote to a candidate he does not want to get in.

The Cosgrave organization is urging the electors to vote for all the Cosgrave candidates, then for the Farmers, then for the Independents "and then stop."

ADVERTISING for the MERCHANT of TO-DAY

Conducted by HAROLD S. EDGAR

A series of weekly articles on advertising and merchandising prepared for the merchants of Peterborough district with the co-operation of The Peterborough Examiner.

THE BUYING SIDE OF SELLING

The title for this week's article was scheduled to be "It's Your Job to Sell It," but this title we have changed to the more descriptive title above.

"A Merchant is One Who Buys and Sells for Gain" and this is about as true a picture as it is possible to present of a merchant in any country, in any community and handling any product.

There are two sides to his job—buying and selling—calling for exactly opposite characteristics.

As a buyer, he must not be too enthusiastic about the product, its virtues and good qualities, but must mask enthusiasm lest the salesman on the other side of the desk hold the price higher or secure from him a larger order than the buyer is warranted in giving, for goods purchased must be sold before the transaction is completed.

On the selling side the virtues of hesitancy or lack of enthusiasm must be discarded and aggressiveness and enthusiasm substituted, quality and value emphasized. While slow of speech, and with masked eyes as a buyer, as a salesman he becomes a ready tongued painter of word pictures. This figurative description of the buyer and salesman side of the merchants' daily life is intentionally overdrawn, that my readers may see the two sides to the picture.

No merchant is ever successful unless he can sell what he buys, or buys what he can sell.

Buying is easy, but careful, wise placing of orders is not. Every traveller, every advertisement in your trade journals, every letter from the sales departments of manufacturer or jobber is urging you to buy. But these men do not see the picture on the other side that looms up ahead of you—of customers who have the deciding vote as to their own purchases. Every purchase you make in quantity must be broken up into many individual sales. A case of canned goods goes over the counter in one, two or three unit sales—1 dozen of too paste into 12 sales of one tube each, and this 1 tube must run the gauntlet of customers' preference for many others—6 assorted dresses must suit the whim, figure and purse of six women, before you have your money back and something over—and so on.

It is said that the best preacher in preparing his sermons picks out one individual and preaches directly at that individual, feeling confident that if his message reaches this one man it will make an impression on his hearers.

The buyer, in purchasing goods, should have in his mind's eye his customers to whom they are to be sold. To do this effectively, he must know his people and must study his stock.

Your town, village and district is not just so many families, so much population—be they agriculturalists, mechanics, housewives or school children—but definitely made up of individuals grouped into families, again into villages, town or countryside, and from the standpoint of customers they each have individual preferences.

No man in business should ever feel that his education is finished; his customers will always be a profitable book to study.

The best buyer is one who constitutes himself the purchasing agent of his trade, not consciously, of course so far as his customers are concerned, but who buys with the needs and buying habits of those customers in mind. Such a buyer with a hundred families in mind buys silk hose, for instance, for so many girls and young women in present-day shades—others of quieter shades for the younger matron, with black and silk and wool for those who have other ideas. With hose setting the key will go shoes, oxfords, footwear generally, and other articles of wearing apparel. Hose require garters, boots require rubbers.

Bags of flour sell shortening, yeast, extracts and cooking ingredients. Pickling time—vinegar, spices, jam jars, rubber rings, etc.

If the buyer buys with his customer in his mind, he and his assistants should see in every customer the purchase of the goods he placed in stock for them, and having definitely picked out certain goods as being required by a customer, should definitely aim to sell these goods. What is the use, for instance, of putting in stock four pairs of hose for a certain imaginary woman and then waiting for her to ask you to take them down off your shelves and sell them to her. You know she will buy them "somewhere," and if she buys them "somewhere else" you will be out of luck to that extent.

You may guess wrong as to your average customer's needs for this year or the size of her purse. All right—the season's sales will enable you to check up your judgment, but do this not by just taking stock of the goods themselves, but by going over again in your mind the people for whom you purchased these goods, and who did not buy—or in buying did not buy from you.

Was it your fault in overbuying or in underselling?—lack of enthusiasm—over or under-agressiveness—lack of use of store and window display—or advertising?

In buying always consider what do the goods cost you—not only laid down in your store but placed in the customer's home, with the cash in your till. Only at that time can you figure the actual cost.

Next Week—The Selling Side of Buying

MISS MACPHAIL HERE ON FRIDAY

Legion Hall Has Been Secured for Overflow Meeting if Necessary.

LEADERS ARE DIVIDED

The announcement on Saturday that Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P., representing South East Grey in the Dominion House, had definitely consented to address a public meeting in Peterborough on Friday, January 27, has brought up many questions as to the stand she will taken on several issues being discussed widely throughout Canada by both town and country people.

On the question of placing Canadian exchange at $4.86, rather than leaving it to drift aimlessly, it is known there is quite definite divisions of opinion in Government circles. Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, is believed to clearly favor placing the Canadian dollar on a parity with sterling as an aid to agriculture. This would at once give the Canadian farmer the full $4.86 out of this export rather than the greatly-reduced exchange rate of about $3.50 he now receives. Premier Bennett has so far vigorously opposed it. Hon. H. H. Stevens is understood to favor a parity with sterling, believing that any assistance to the sorely-pressed farming industry would at once increase the demand for manufactured goods, get our idle factories underway and decrease unemployment and the heavy burden for relief work. It would also give the export Canadian manufacturer the same advantages accruing to British firms through depreciated currency. Among opposition members, there is also a division of opinion with Hon. Makenzie King opposed, but with many of his followers and Provincial leaders definitely committed to it as a help to the export of farm products.

This division of opinion shows that it is a question of national importance to the Dominion. As a champion of the needs of farm people in Canada, Miss Macphail should have much to say of special interest to both city and country.

The second speaker, John Collingwood Reade, is a financial economist and will discuss the gold standard, deflation, and their effect on our financial fabric.

These speakers are being brought to Peterborough by the Peterborough Farmers' Club and a committee of local citizens. Reports at hand indicate an exceptionally large attendance both from city and country and outside points. In anticipation of this, the Legion Hall has also been retained, so that all may be accommodated.

PREMIER STANDS

bring the dollar to parity with the pound sterling, he admitted. But no one had come forward yet to explain how this could be done without injuring the hard-won credit of the Dominion — credit which had been established throughout the world through Canada meeting her obligations as required—in gold.

"The fundamental thing to remember is that Canada is geographically part of the North American continent. That must not be forgotten," he maintained. Millions of United States capital was invested in this country, and Canada's bonds, payable in United States funds, must be met on the lender's terms—in gold.

"Unless something unforseen happens," he stated forcibly, "this country cannot—dare not—inflate its currency with $684,000,000 in international obligations before it."

Any country which loaned money to another country had naturally the right to dictate how the loans should be repaid. In the case of the United States, the stipulation was made the loans must be paid in United States funds. This obligation could not be met by inflated currency. It must be made, and was made and would be made in future, in gold.

Injure Our Credit

The inevitable result of inflation tion was injury to the credit and "with the departure of credit goes confidence," he declared. "We have to pay or be defaulters. That is the issue. How can you go out and deliberately inflate the dollar of this country, knowing as you do it will make it worth between 50 and 60 cents or possibly less. What is the effect abroad? Our great neighbors have four and a half billions of investment in this country because they have confidence in us and our institutions. There is no country whose name stands higher than that of the Dominion. Why? Because we have met our obligations in the terms of the contract, suffer though we may in the doing of it," he decared.

He spoke optimistically of Canada's future. Last year, he said, the country's gold mines had assisted materially in creating new wealth with which Canada paid her debts and carried on her trade. True it was the Dominion's exports for a time had declined, and her balance of trade became unfavorable. But through the sacrifices of her people, Canada had come back strongly and now stood in fifth position with regard to world export trade.

Railroad Problem.

The railway problem was a grave one—"one of the greatest and darkest clouds hanging over this country." But it had resulted only from the looking ahead of the pioneers. The billions invested in Canadian canals and waterways had all been built to maintain Canadian trade and promote it.

Canada had also created a tremendous financial system, which while sometimes open to criticism, had on the whole performed well and called forth the admiration of other countries.

True it was bankers sometimes refused loans, but "the reckless banker is no friend of his own or of the community, and our banking system in every part of the globe is regarded as sound."

Referring to the amount of money in circulation, Mr. Bennett declared in 1920 there was $593,000,000 of paper money issued by the Government and banks. Last year the Dominion issued only $159,000,000, while the banks issued only $133,000,000. But this was not because of lack of currency, he emphasized, but because of the general contraction of trade.

Seldom has the Prime Minister appeared to better advantage. For 45 minutes he held his audience spell-bound as he outlined without hesitation Canada's financial position and the steps the Government was taking to cope with the difficulties. And in the final moments of his address, the audience cheered madly as Mr. Bennett, quietly and forcefully, concluded with:

"My business in life is to preserve the integrity of Canada in this, her greatest crisis."

Prime Minister Bennett will be in Hamilton to-day, where he will address the MacDonald Club.

DR. FREDERICK GIVES ADDRESS

Round-world Traveller Speaks Campbellford Rotary Club Luncheon.

SOUNDS AND SMELLS.

CAMPBELLFORD, January 24 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—The smells and sounds, pleasant and unpleasant, told by one who has travelled the world round, proved a very interesting theme for the weekly address of the Campbellford Rotary Club at their luncheon yesterday, when Dr. E. V. Frederick gave a travel talk out of the ordinary.

People travel for many reasons, he said, one of which is pleasure; and one of the pleasures of travel was that they can smell strange smells and hear strange sounds, and they can see strange sights, some new and charming, the vast majority commonplace and uninteresting It was only the pleasant one retains in the memory, however.

Of the thrilling smells that come back to many are some near at home, such as the smell of a pine log camp fire, while watching a deer or frying a freshly-caught trout.

But some of the most delicious of all smells, the speaker said, are the orange groves of California just at dusk when the dew is falling; the gardens of cloves at Zanzibar at noon; the bazaars of the sellers of incense and perfume in Cairo and Bagdad.

Of the sounds he had heard, Dr. Frederick said, the greatest came from the Russian Army. At sunset every evening twenty thousand men, apparently all trained singers, bunk up on the hillside to chant their evening prayers in the beautiful minor of the Russian Church, and then would sing their National Anthem also in a minor key.

"They seem to have the highest tenors and the deepest basso-orofundos I have ever heard. As the force of voices fro mthese 20,000 men swelled over the hills, it almost made one weep."

Buddhist Temple Gong.

"Next I recall in beauty the boom of the Buddhist temple gong in Nara, Japan, a huge bell struck with a wooden beam; the din of the hammers in the bazaars of the coppersmiths in Cairo and Bagdad was like a boiler factory; and in India they have a coppersmith bird, it seems, in almost every tree.

"Another weird sound that is hard to forget is the wailing of the coyotes in the desert, as they prow about half starved looking for food, dead or alive. It is not easy forgotten. It reminds you of the old Roman belief in lost unburied souls roaming the earth seeking repose."

The speaker also described portions of India, China, and Japan concentrating, however, on such sights as are to be seen in America, such as the Grand Canyon.

Dr. H. B. Longmore moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, which wa seonveyed to him by President Elie Brownelle.

LARGEST PIPE LINE IN WORLD IS KEY TO NEAR EAST PROGRESS

will then be supplied along subterranean pipes to tankers in the harbor.

Sands Are Handicap

Hundreds of motor-trucks are scurrying up and down between Haifa and Irak hinterland with supplies for the pipe-line, most of the cars utilized here are equipped with wheels larger than the usual to help them navigate the soft desert sands and the rocky desert plateaux. Thousands of Arabs are employed on the vast scheme which will transform the Near East from a backward agricultural country into an industrial region of the first importance. For here lies one of the keys of empire and the Irak oil fields will in future be the sine qua non of the maintenance of British sea-power. Even if the Anglo-Persian oil dispute is settled, the main oil supply of the British Mediterranean fleet will be at Haifa.

Work of Three Nations

Sixty million dollars are to be spent in the next three years on the construction of the pipe-line. It is a tri-national undertaking. The staff of engineers and skilled mechanics who are to install the complicated machinery are Britons, Americans and Frenchmen. Contracts for supplies are held by firms of the three countries. The start of the big job has produced a situation resembling boom conditions in Haifa. There is no trace of depression or slump here and the big enterprise naturally reflects itself in the whole life of Palestine and the Lebanon Republic.

There can be no question that Haifa will be one of the most important ports in the whole Mediterranean basin in a few years' time, rivalling even majestic Alexandria. It will be the gateway to Irak, the Djebel Druse country, Palestine and the Arabic hinterland, which is fast awakening under the stimulus of Zionist immigration in Palestine. Conditions look so favorable for the next five or six years that the Palestine government has this year announced the granting of immigration certificates to 4,500 Jews, while 1,000 middle-class Jewish families, who possess a certain amount of wealth are coming over from the United States this year. What the 5,500 certificates mean in the dismal ghettoes of Eastern Europe is unbelievable. A few of the two million Jews of Poland who are slowly starving to death will be saved and brought over by the Zionists to the land which has their deathless devotion.

Transport by Cable

Further inland in Mesopotamia two so-called Blondin ferries, thick cables stretched between two towers are being strung across the Tigris and Euphrates rivers to facilitate the transport of materials and supplies. The rocky river beds of these ancient rivers, which were once supposed to form the boundary lines of the Garden of Eden, are to be blasted at great expense to hew out tunnels in which to lay the oil-lines.

The distance of the pipe-line through British mandated and allied territory, Irak, Transjordania, Palestine will be about 470 miles. The air force will be charged in the future with keeping watch over this line of communication, even as it now surveys activity in the Sinaian desert and in the districts bordering on the domains of King Ibn Saoud of the Hedjahs.

There are to be 13 to 15 pumping stations of which three will be on the double line between Kirkuk and Haditha, six will be installed on the British section of the line to Haifa.

At one point in the Jordan valley the line drops to 850 feet below sea-level. At another on the mountainous plateau of Transjordania it will rise 3,000 feet above sea-level. The necessity for pumping stations to maintain the pressure of the oil climbing through the pipes to that altitude is, of course, paramount.

According to the terms of the contract, the Irak Petroleum Co. must complete the whole job by 1935. It pays the Irak government $500,000 a year "dead rent." This applies solely during the years when the pipe-line is not in operation. After that there is a tax of four shillings per ton of oil to be paid to Irak.

Railway to Connect

Surveyors are busy at the present moment mapping out the future course of the Bagdad-Haifa Railway Line. This line, which will link the almost legendary city of Haroun-al Raschid with the western world, is to run side by side with the oil-line. It will open up a vast, virgin hinterland, which has been virtually inaccessible for centuries.

All these things are in their infancy, but there is no question about the determination of the various governments concerned, to carry the projects to reality. For that reason alone, it must be obvious that Haifa will become an important harbor, the hub of the middle east. Moreover, as operations extracting potash from the Dead Sea, with its deposits valued at forty billion dollars, begin, Haifa is again to benefit. From the Dead Sea to Haifa will come another railway. It will run straight north from the Dead Sea, skirting the hills of Nazareth on the south and terminating just below Mount Carmel where Elijah was fed by the ravens in his cave. Plans for this railway are under consideration. An alternative scheme is to run a system of aerial trucks over the Judean hills for the conveyance of the crude potash and other chemical products to the Mediterranean sea-board.

The only people to worry over the industrialization of Palestine are the sentimentalists, who bemoan the disappearance of another picturesque corner in the world. However, the seething activity in the ancient Holy Land means bread and prosperity to millions, and that means a good deal more.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, Jan. 24. — Though trading was generally slow on the local butter market yesterday, there was some movement of supplies at prices slightly easier than previously quoted. Brokers offered No. 1 fresh-made solids at 20¾c and No. 2 at 20½c, with regraded Ontario or Western solids at 21c. Brokers did not find any great activity, but sold some supplies at the prices stated. Quotations to retailers were about steady at 24c to 25c for No. 1 creamery prints and 23c to 24c for No. 2.

Cream.

Prices on churning cream were steady to higher at 21c to 22c for special, 20c to 21c for No. 1 and 17c to 18c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points.

Cheese.

Cheese was quite firm on the local market, brokers moving new makes at 10c for large, 10¼c for twins and 10½c for triplets. To retailers, prices were steady with the recent advance on new make at 11½c for large, 11¾c for twins, 12c for triplets and 14c for stiltons.

Eggs.

Receipts of fresh eggs continued heavy, but a fair movement held prices steady with last week's closing level. Country shippers were offered 18c for extras, 15c to 16c for firsts and 14c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned, and fresh supplies were quoted to retailers at 27c for extras in cartons, 25c for extras loose, 23c for firsts loose and 20c for seconds loose. Brokers offered extras at 21c, firsts at 19c and seconds at 18c, graded and in free cases.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—Fresh eggs dropped one to two cents a dozen on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday.

Carlots or less of fresh graded eggs continued last week's declines. Extras were down one to two cents at 23 to 24 cents, while firsts and pullets lost a cent at 21 cents a dozen. To retailers eggs in cartons declined from one to four cents a dozen. Receipts totalled 1,696 cases.

Butter eased a quarter of a cent to 20¾c to 21 cents a pound for carlots or less of No. 1 grass make. Receipts were 466 boxes.

Potatoes were down five cents. New Brunswick Green Mountains per 80-pound bag at 85 cents and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains per 80-pound bag at 85 cents and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains per 90-pound bag at 95 cents.

A better tone was experienced by cheese prices, current receipts of Ontario white gaining a quarter of a cent at 9 cents. Current Ontario colored was unchanged at 10 cents, as was early Ontario make at 10½ to 11¼ cents a pound. Receipts were only 18 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Grain values went obstinately up-grade yesterday, despite transient late setbacks that accompanied a brief increase of speculative selling of wheat.

Highest prices of the day for wheat were the rule at the finish, with traders giving chief attention to a big decrease of the United States wheat visible supply and to extremely bullish reports about crop prospects in domestic winter wheat territory south-west and west. Indications pointed to heavy damage by dust storms, and there was no moisture relief for areas affected by prolonged drought.

Closing Prices Firm.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, ¼-¾ above Saturday's wind-up, corn ⅛-¾ advanced, oats unchanged to 1-8 higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, January 24. — Encouraging developments on the Continent and an improved demand for Canadian wheat at Liverpool gave an upward trend to grain values here yesterday. Gains were chalked up at the opening bell, and held throughout the session.

The market closed firm, with gains of ½c to ¾c above Saturday's closing figures. May halted at 46½c, July at 46¾c to 46⅞c, and October at 47⅞c.

Export interest was almost negligible. There was no activity noticeable on the part of seaboard or export houses. World statistics had a bearish touch. Total shipments of 16,261,000 bushels were about in line with those of a week ago but the North American share declined from 7,000,000 bushels to less than 5,250,000 bushels.

The cash wheat and coarse grains markets were a dead issue. Prices held steady in the face of a slow demand.

Catarrhal Deafness Or Head Noises

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, you should know that these distressing symptoms may frequently be overcome by this simple home treatment.

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add ¼ pint hot water and a little sugar. One tablespoonful four times a day should quickly and completely relieve distressing head noises and deafness due to catarrh, loss of smell and taste, and dropping mucous. If nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are catarrhal, there must be many whose hearing Parmint could help.

ISSUING OF RELIEF ORDERS.

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—I would like a small space in your paper just to say a few words about this new system of getting our groceries from every Tom, Dick or Harry in town.

Under the relief organization, and not charity, as it is called, you are compelled to go just where they send you and have got to like it. I would like to know who is on relief, we unemployed or the grocery stores? Under this idea of the Relief Board, it seems the grocery stores need relief, too; at least some of them do from this standpoint of view anyhow.

When the investigator was here it was understood that we get our vouchers made out to any store we liked, but along comes the Relief Board and says you will get them made out to where we say, and not where you like, and yet it is supposed to be run under the Government system.

I was up there to get my voucher and they sent me to a different store. I told them that articles are pretty dear at that store, and they told me to fetch back my bill and show it to them, if they were charging me too much. I would like to know what good that is going to do me after I have lost 10 to 15 per cent. on my voucher. I have been dealing at ——— for six years and have always gotten good satisfaction for my money, and I do not see why I cannot deal there now during this depression. They are just as good now as in the days when I paid my own way and had the cash to do so.

Well, I will not take up too much of valuable paper, but would like to have a few more words before I will close. That is about the words charity and relief. The Government calls it relief and the city calls it charity. We all know the city did have a charity fund, but that should not be considered under the Government plan. Here is how I make that out: We are sent down to the wood-yard to put in six days' work for our vouchers, which, I think, is working for our living, the same as any factory or laborer is doing, for all they are doing is making a living. That is the reason I do not think charity should be mentioned either at meetings or even printed on the vouchers we receive.

Well, I will close for now, hoping the City Council and Relief Board will consider what I have said. I remain,

Yours truly,
AN HONEST WORKMAN.

OPPOSES CADET TRAINING

To The Editor Examiner:

We rightly expect our educationalists to lead us in discarding the obsolete, the effete, and the senile, and lead our youth from hoary misconception to an intelligent conception of life and co-operation with our fellows in social, political, national, and international intercourse.

It is gratifying to note that Toronto teachers have taken this course in regard to Cadet training. It is almost amusing to see a leading Toronto paper lamenting the passing of this system with its cheap imitation of military egotism and flashy display that is more in keeping with the ideals of the feudal period when war was the sport of kings and nobles.

It is idle to claim that cadet training has no tendency toward militarism, and equally futile to assert that it is essential to physical training, as an intelligent course of physical training will include much more and in better form than that of cadet training with its harmful suggestions of the brutal ideals of militarism.

The League of Nations has definitely proven that war so far as civilized nations is concerned is a commercial project of munition makers actuated by the lust for profit obtained by the wholesale destruction of human life, and this depression is the commercial prize we are paying, while the disabled life, the cemetery, the hospital, and the asylum tell the rest of the story.

As a father I most emphatically protest and object to the training of my boys in a worse than useless physical activity and mental suggestion that is inseparably connected with legalized wholesale murder.

I am very glad that the teachers of Toronto recommended the abolition of this crude method of training, that even if devoid of evil is better suited to the mentality of the kindergarten than the fifth form.

Two letters that have recently appeared in The Examiner from the older boys of the Collegiate clearly point out the ludicrous claims for this fossilized system and its absurdities in operation.

No doubt but there will be quite a hoodoo from some who consider themselves leaders of thought, but every step forward has to meet this form of opposition, and it is most likely to come from those who have no boys in the making.

As a parent with an intelligent interest in my boys physical, intellectual and moral development, I sincerely hope that the Board of Education will discard this farcial system and provide a physical training course for our boys and girls in keeping with a progressive age.

Yours,
A FATHER.

What Shall We Do About It?

By G. A. BRETHEN

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir.—In a recent article in The Examiner it was pointed out "that due to the difference in exchange, our overseas market upon which we had spent years of effort and untold millions to develop and maintain, was being lost to our competitors overnight."

Two recent despatches explain how it works out.

"CAPE TOWN, S. Africa, Jan. 11—Huge crowds gathered at all General Smuts' stops en route here shouting demands for a coalition of all parties. Spokesmen told eagerly of rapid rises in prices of wool, fruits and other exports since the Union abandoned the gold standard two weeks ago."

"THORNBURY, Ont., Jan. 4. — The Beaver Valley Alfalfa Meal Company, Thornbury, grinding 5,000 tons of alfalfa meal annually has been forced to close its plant due to South Africa going off the gold standard last week. 'Other parts of the British Empire which have taken steps to regulate their currency,' said F. W. Parkinson, manager of the Alfalfa Meal Mills, 'are getting the business in the Motherland while we with our muscle-bound system, are forced to close our mills and throw heads of families out of work because we cannot compete.' "In this community alone,' stated George H. Mitchell, ex-President of the Ontario Fruit Growers' Association, 'farmers had suffered a loss of $150,000 this Fall in exchange on alfalfa meal and apples exported'."

At the recent Empire Conference at Ottawa it was suggested that we have an Empire currency as an added facility for Empire trade. The refusal to accept this proposal by Canada has largely nullified the good effects of the agreement as far as we are concerned. When the Conference opened in July, hogs were selling here at $4.50 a cwt, and delegates freely predicted that Great Britain could handle 280,000,000 pounds of Canada's hog products annually. To-day, with a supply far in excess of domestic requirements and the Dominion Livestock branch reporting bacon as selling higher in Britain than at this time a year ago, we find live hogs selling in Canada very much lower than a year ago, around $3 per cwt and practically no bacon exported. Why? "Other countries which have taken steps to regulate their currency are getting the business. OUR BUSINESS, in the Motherland," said F. W. Parkinson, while we in Canada hug our hoary, obsolete monetary standards to our breasts and let Denmark, New Zealand, Australia, Argentine and S. Africa walk off with the bacon'."

We are informed that most private members of the House of Commons and at least one-half the members of the Federal Cabinet favor taking steps immediately to change our currency so as to make our export business on a profitable business basis possible. We believe these men would appreciate and welcome an expression from their electors as an aid to them in securing Government action.

Realizing as we all do that any general improvement in present conditions must first come through a return of purchasing power to the farmer, we would call upon all farm organizations and individual citizens to organize a movement that will give every elector an opportunity through his local member to petition the Federal Government to take steps straightway, to so alter our standards of currency that we may be able to trade more freely with the Mother Country and our sister Empire States.

The situation is desperate. The huge increase in local unpaid municipal taxes is but an index of what is taking place just as truly in the accumulation of other debts the farmers and others are being forced to assume. Government reports from Ottawa show that month by month the prices of our agricultural products are going lower and lower, until to-day the price of many commodities has reached an all-time low. Will we, the primary producers, continue to stoically accept this policy of drifting that is fast making us individually and nationally bankrupt or will we demand, and at once, such Government action as will at least give us a fighting chance with our competitors?

Burwash Prisoner's Death To Be Probed

Further it is charged no treatment was ordered in the hospital for Smith, and the orderlies were told to do as they pleased.

SWINE DISPLAY AT MILLBROOK

Many Farmers Visit Government's Demonstration Cars Saturday.

SALES REPORTED

MILLBROOK, Jan. 23—The large number of cars parked in the yard and nearby vicinity of the C.N.R. station on Saturday afternoon gave evidence of the active interest taken by the farmers of this section in the Swine Demonstration Cars sent out by the provincial Department of Agriculture with a sales' department for brood sows and pure-bred boars, and including also lectures on various features of hog grading, raising, marketing, etc.

The program carried out at Peterborough in the forenoon was repeated in detail during the afternoon stop here, Professor R. W. Wade being in charge as general superintendent, the Market Carcasses and Export Trade being dealt with by S. E. Todd, of the Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers; grades and grading being looked after by Gordon LeFevre, of the Dominion Live Stock Branch; while Dr. Lionel Stevenson, Provincial Zoologist, who has written a government bulletin on "Parasites Injurious to Swine", covered that topic thoroughly in his lecture at 4 p.m.

Illustrations backed home the lecture materia, and it was the listeners' own fault if they had not learned something definite regarding the poor commercial prospects for wormy pigs; the various types of parasites that are a real handicap to swine raising; and the control and prevention of these common pests. "Bulletin Number 340 is the one farmers should ask for if they wish to cover the subject completely, and take practical measures to insure profit from this section of farm live stock industry."

The cars where the live stock was for sale were visited by a large number of interested patrons, a number of sales being effected, the officials in charge being H. J. Watt, of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, and R. H. Graham, of the Ontario Live Stock Branch. E. A. Summers, Agricultural Representative for Durham, was on hand to assist in making the visit locally a marked success.

The itenerary of the cars covers the province from Carleton Place on the east to St. Thomas on the west, the next stop after the stay-over at Millbrook for the week-end, being Napanee on Tuesday, and Sydenham and Belleville for Wednesday's demonstration and lectures.

ROTARY SETS A FINE EXAMPLE

The Rotary Club's splendid contribution of $1,000 to Peterborough's Relief Fund is deeply appreciated as a timely and substantial help to the present campaign.

As the citizens had always assisted them in their work, the Rotarians felt that part of the money in their treasury could not be put to any better use than by making this large subscription to the Relief Fund.

In a sense Rotary transferred from one branch of public service to another their generous contribution, a material gesture that will not soon be forgotten, and which does not take into account the personal subscriptions by members.

This gift of $1,000 starts the second week of the campaign auspiciously, and it is sincerely hoped that a long stride to the objective may be accomplished before Saturday.

Do you realize, as one of those who can afford to give something to the present fund, that there are 800 families in this city who would have very little (if any) food, clothing, fuel and shelter during the present winter were it not for the relief that is distributed through the agency of the city treasury, the government and relief organizations?

Think of it, almost 3,000 men, women and children to be cared for!

Peterborough so far has done excellent work in its effort to provide for its needy citizens, and this task has cost us less than in any other community of similar size

To those who are financially able to help this cause the present appeal is urgently made to do all you possibly can in contributing to the Relief Fund. And it should be remembered that for every dollar collected in this campaign by the city, the government contributes two.

The Rotary Club's gift of $1,000 therefore will amount to $3,000 to be spent in Peterborough, and will relieve the city treasury and the taxpayers to that extent.

Peterborough's Relief Fund objective is $20,000 to be subscribed locally. Societies, service clubs, lodges, in fact any groups of citizens, apart from individuals who realizing the need and being in a position to help, can make a real contribution to the community in meeting the most serious social problem Peterborough has had to face in the memory of the present generation.

BLACK KNIGHTS PETITION HENRY TO REFUSE CATHOLIC REQUEST

Resolution is Carried Unanimously at Meeting of Weir Preceptory.

WANTS NO REPEAL.

In a resolution that was recorded at a recent meeting, Weir Royal Black Preceptory No. 261 petitioned the Prime Minister and the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, asking that the Government refuse to grant any further concessions to the Separate Schools, and to "repeal the Acts of the Legislature passed since Confederation, and by which many privileges have been given and much Protestant money has been diverted to the support of these Roman Catholic Schools."

The resolution, which was carried unanimously at a meeting of the Preceptory held on Thursday last, was worded as follows:

"Whereas, Separate Schools are in fact private religious schools intended for the teaching of Roman Catholic religion and doctrines; and

"Whereas, none but Roman Catholic children may legally attend these schools; and

"Whereas, they now receive Government grants on the same basis as Public Schools, and are allowed to collect taxes from their supporters (a privilege which is denied to the other denominational schools; and

"Whereas, the Roman Catholic shareholders of all chartered companies and all public utilities have the right to direct that the taxes on their stock be paid to the Separate Schools; and

"Whereas, Roman Catholic citizens have the right to choose whether they will support the Separate Schools or the Public Schools; and

"Whereas, in the exercise of that right, they may support the Separate School one year, and the Public School the next year. It is imperative that the Public School trustees must provide accommodation and equipment for all the children both non-Roman Catholic and Roman Catholic.

"Therefore, be it resolved, that Weir Royal Black Preceptory 261, in session assembled, petition the Prime Minister and the Legislature of the Province of Ontario, to refuse to grant any further concessions to the Separate Schools (such as a division of the taxes of Corporatons or other Public Utilities); "And to repeal the Acts of the Legislature passed since Confederation, by which many special privileges have been given, and much Protestant money has been diverted to the support of these Roman Catholic Schools."

WOOD, GRAVEL BILLED AS FOOD

$165, whoch Fortier identified as having been paid.

"And this Paiement is the one who got the order for boots and shoes?" asked Mr. Williams.

"There is just one in town," Fortier replied.

Mr. Williams produced a relief voucher in Paiement's name, dated September 9, 1932, for 11 pair of shoes, $27.65, and 10 pairs of stockings, $4.75, which Fortier identified as a relief order given Paiement.

Rent Collections.

Asked if he knew of any cases where landlords collected rent from the town without the tenants knowing, Fortier replied in the affirmative. Asked to give an instance, he opened the rent book at the record of the A. A. Aubin Estate, and pointed to his own name, W. L. Fortier.

"Do you mean to say the town paid your rent to the landlord without your knowledge?" asked Mr. Williams.

"I do, that was before I was appointed clerk-treasurer," witness replied. "I was a little behind in my rent."

PROTEST POLICE ACTION AGAINST BATHING TRUNKS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 24. — (AP)—A petition which its sponsors said represented the wishes of 500 persons from 85 cities in 22 states has been laid before the Miami Beach City commission asking that police rescind their recent order that persons wearing only bathing trunks would be arrested if they appeared on the beach.

"We respectfully submit that the regulation forbidding the use of trunks alone on the beaches is contrary to the best opinions of physicians and health authorities, and we request that such action be rescinded," the petition said.

Robert T. Teaney, chief of police, said his department had confined arrests to persons appearing on the streets in trunks or bathing suits rolled down from the shoulders, but that bathers on the beach had been warned against appearing in such attire.

ORILLIA CONTRACTOR CONTINUES PLANS TO BUILD MISS CANADA 1

Edward E. Webb Affirms Challenge for Harmsworth Trophy is No Joke.

BOAT COST $50,000.

ORILLIA, Jan. 24 (C.P.)—Whatever may be the plans of Edward E. Webb, local contractor who last Autumn announced his intention of forming a Canadian syndicate to finance construction of a motorboat to wrest the Harmsworth Trophy, emblematic of the world's speedboat championship, from Gar Wood of Detroit, Webb has succeeded in enshrouding his scheme in mystery.

Although he has previously affirmed his challenge was no joke, and that he already had in his possession plans for a Miss Canada I, which he proposed entering in 1934, Webb at present refuses to discuss the enterprise, but denies he has abandoned the project.

Bert Hawker of Gravenhurst, whom Webb named as his choice to pilot the entry, could throw little light upon the affair.

Hawker, who designed both the Estelle IV and the Estelle V for Betty Carstairs of England, and drove the latter boat in an unsuccessuf attempt upon Gar Wood's laurels in 1931, stated he thought Webb's project had melted away, since he had heard nothing of it for some time.

"If they build the boat, however, and if they want me to drive it for them, I shall be glad to do so," Hawker said. It was not true, he added, that he had been asked to drive a boat for Webb.

No Rule to Bar Him

Hawker stated there was no rule of the Yachtsmen's Association of America which would bar him from piloting a Canadian boat because of his English birth. "According to law," he said, "there are no Canadians, only British subjects, and an Englishman is a British subject."

According to W. D. Edenburn of Detroit, chairman of the race committee of the Yachtsmen's Association of America, under whose auspices the Harmsworth Trophy race is conducted, all challenges must come from some recognized yacht club in the centre where the challenge originates. So far as could be learned, no such yacht club exists in Orillia or vicinity.

Members of boat-building firms said the cost of such a boat would be "not less than $200,000.". The estimate of Mr. Edenburn had placed the cost of any boat with enough power to be a serious contender, at $350,000.

INCREASE SHOWN IN ALL GIVINGS AT ALL SAINTS'

Annual Vestry Meeting Was Held in Parish Hall Last Evening.

REPORTS ARE HEARD.

The annual vestry meeting of All Saint's church was held in the Parish Hall on Monday evening with a splendid attendance of parishoners The rector, presided and Mr. S. T. Harris, the vestry clerk read the minutes of last year's meetings which were approved.

The financial statements of the church wardens were elaborately set out, giving in detail the accounts for rebuilding the Parish Hall and the financing in connection with it. The grateful thanks of the vestry were expressed to the Woman's Guild for their financial backing of this venture.

The general accounts of the parish are in a satisfactory state and the missionary giving again shows an increase over the previous year. This was commented on in a letter from the Synod House congratuating the rector and parish on their missionary spirit.

The reports of the Sunday School were given by Mrs. J. Adams, secretary and Miss Cairns, treasurer and showed the church school to be in a healthy state.

Each of the organizations of the parish made a report—all of which will be published in the Parish magazine now on the press. The substantial balances give promise for a very successful year to follow. Mr. G. H. Cutmore was elected People's Warden for the ensuing year, the rector will appoint his warden and make the announcement on Sunday. Lay delegates to the Synod are, Messrs. Cutmore, Richardson, Spicer, Buller, Edgar, Price.

The parish representatives to the various boards in the city were reappointed. The rector made two suggestions which were adopted. The lay deegates are to act as a committee on behalf of the "Restoration Fund" for replacing the lost endowments in Western Canada. After a meeting to gather full information they will report back to the congregation at an early date.

The suggestion was endorsed that the men who signed the bond in connection with the parish hall mortgage be a committee to advise the church wardens on matters of finance and the general business of the church.

Votes of thanks were tendered to the rector, the retiring churchwardens, the auditors and the vestry clerk.

At the close of the meeting a general feeling of optimism sent the members home with high hopes for continued success in the parish and its activities.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to return my heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the host of generous friends who stood by me with such a marvellous fund of sympathy, in connection with the death of my beloved wife and helpmate. Seldom have any in need of sympathy and the most devoted friendship, received so full a measure of the best fruits of the human heart. From first to last it was one unceasing round of kindness and attention from dear friends from all over this county and province, and the gloom of death was conquered by the warm radiance of the love bestowed upon my dear one, who has gone to her reward above. May the bread that they so lavishly and generously cast upon the waters, return to them after many days, and He who "tempers the wind to the shorn lamb," protect them from all harm and shield them from the sorrow, sickness and death incident to humanity; and when they come, as come they must to one and all, may they too be sustained and comforted by friends as noble, as generous and as devoted. More I could not ask for them, friendship could not give.

A WILD GEESE RUMOR

Two flocks of geese were noticed flying northward at Port Hope yesterday, according to The Daily Guide. A similar rumor was heard here but seemed so unseasonable as to be incredible. The general opinion will be to doubt the truth of this story until some definite observation is reported. There is one species of wild ducks that have wintered from time to time below Hastings and at Fenelon Falls, but the suggestion that the Spring flight of ducks has begun will have to wait for further proof.

"Gossip ana Such"

WHETHER OR NOT IT WILL be a prosperous baseball rests on the knees of those gods who enthrone themselves on bleacher boards and munch peanuts with divine dignity. However, one can forsee this: The major leagues are headed for a pair of the most interesting races in recent diamond history.

• • •

THAT BRAND-NEW OUTfield of the Philadelphia Athletics, the progress of the Washington Senators under a "kid" manager, the attempt of the new Chicago White Sox to muscle into the first division—will make the American League race an interesting one even if the New York Yankees gallop away with the flag, as some predict.

• • •

THE STRUGGLE FOR SUpremacy between the Pittsburg Pirates and Chicago Cubs, the challenger of the Philadelphia Nationals for their place in the pennant sun, the attempt of the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals to stage comebacks and the fate of the revamped Cincinnati Reds should add even greater interest to doings in National League.

• • •

THE MOAN THAT THERE is a growing shortage in talent among the minors hardly is justified in view of the large number of fine prospects which will make their bow this season.

• • •

ONE OF THE MOST ADVERtised is Lou Finney, recruit outfielder, who will try to fill Al Simmons' shoes in the Athletic outfield. He is said to be so fast that he sometimes overruns fly balls. His speed on the bases has been compared to that of Ty Cobb when the Georgian first broke in with Detroit. Frank Higgins, a third baseman, is another new man with the A's. His clouting, it is predicted, will make the league sit up and take notice.

• • •

SCHOOLBOY ROWE, A PITching whiz and Pete Fox, leading Texas league hitter, will be presented by Detroit. Harley Boss, first baseman and William Knickerbocker, second sacker, are Cleveland debutantes. Catcher Cliff Bolton is expected to make the grade with Washington.

• • •

MARVIN DUKE, A LEFT-handed moundsman is one of the new Yankees. The Bostons will try two college aces, Gordon McNaughton and Eddie Gallagher.

EVAR SWANSON, AN AMerican Association sensation, is among the Chicago players. The St. Louis club has picked up several promising players from the Milwaukee farm.

• • •

THE NEW YORK GIANTS have a youngster named Bernie Jones with a hot rep as a hitter and base stealer and who is expected to give Hughie Critz a real battle for the second base job.

• • •

THERE IS A NEW SECOND baseman with the St. Louis Cardinals, who isn't exactly young or new. That's right—Rogers Hornsby. The struggle between the Rajah and Frankie Frisch for the second base toja of the Red Birds should prove one of the highlights of the early season.

• • •

CHICAGO CUB FANS WILL get a good look at Berly Richmond, said to be a real southern blue blood. He is also rated a pretty fair southpaw. If Richmond makes good, the National league will have a society hurler to match the Athletics George Earnshaw, one of the social register boys.

• • •

UP TO DATE COL. RUPpert, owner of the New York Yankees, continued to refuse to be quoted on the salary controversy with Babe Ruth. Whether the latter's counter proposal in which he offered to accept a 15 per cent reduction was agreeable, the Colonel would not say.

McCELLAND BEATS DINTY MOORE TO SINK WINNER FOR NATIONALS

Sea Fleas Have Slender Chance of Getting Into Senior "A" Play-offs.

EMPIRES ELIMINATED.

(By the Canadian Press).

Toronto Nationals to-date have counted only two goals against Port Colborne Sailors in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior "A" series, but one of them, scored last night, meant two points. The other goal also produced a point as it came in a game which ended in a 1-1 tie.

After the teams had loafed through more than 75 minutes of featureless hockey last night, Harvey McClelland finally beat Dinty Moore in the Sailors' net to give Nationals a 1-0 decision.

The game had entered the second overtime period when McClelland took a pass from Cliff Chisholm to break the deadlock. Walter Horne and Bobby Reid, Port Colborne players, watched this play from the penalty bench.

The win retained for Nationals their slender chances of getting into the play-offs and broke Port Colborne's three-game winning streak.

In the senior 'B' series, Kitchener were eliminated, when they lost to Hamilton Patricias by a 2-1 score at Hamilton, while Queen's University continued their winning ways by downing Gananoque 3-1.

LEWIS RETAINS NEW YORK TITLE

7,000 Spectators See the Strangler Effectively Dispose of Jim Browning.

LONDOS ALSO WINS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (C.P.). — Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, large waisted Californian, to-day retains New York State Athletic Commission recognition as world's heavyweight wrestling champion.

Before some 7,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden last night the Strangler effectively disposed of Jim Browning, the slippery Bostonian, with a body slam and headlock after 34 minutes 53 seconds of keen grappling.

Browning forced the action all the way through the match, which was billed as for the "title." Several times the Boston matman had Lewis in distress.

The bout ended unexpectedly. Browning attempted a looping body scissors but missed, and Lewis promptly slammed his dazed form to the mat and applied his deadly headlock to finish the contest.

While Lewis was disposing of Browning, his arch-rival for the local portion of the crown, Jim Londos, pudgy Greek, was performing at the Broadway Arena, Brooklyn. Londos easily defeated Dr. Ralph Wilson, Philadelphia, in 26 minutes 30 seconds with an aeroplane spin and body slam in the headline match.

GROVE SQUAD BEATS RANGERS IN EXHIBITION

Clever Combination Enables Students to Take 5-1 Victory at Lakefield.

FALCONS WIN 2-1

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 24 (Examiner Correspondence). — The largest crowd for several years attended the double-header hockey match held on Friday evening in the Lakefield Rink. The first game was an exhibition fixture between the Warsaw Rangers and The Grove and the result was 5-1 for the Students, who showed good form and a combination which the Warsaw squad could not successfully combat.

J. Smith refereed the game, which was fast and clean; the penalties were few and fill for minor offences.

The first period was fairly fast, with both teams making unavailing efforts to connect with the goal till after eight minutes' play Fletcher landed a count past the viligant Darling. That began and ended the scoring in the first period.

Play Becomes Faster

The second period was perhaps a little faster with more determined attack on the part of Warsaw and a tightening of The Grove.

Combination

After three minutes Gunn found a way past Darling and scored, and eight minutes later he scored again on a pass from Wright, who had made a solo rush from The Grove defence almost to the Darling citadel. Bowen and Bell of the Rangers were each given a short rest in the penalty box for tripping.

Macrae scored after eight minutes' hard play in the third period and again after six minutes and one minute before the final gong sounded Alex Bowen slammed in one past Burgess for the solitary counter for Warsaw. Clements drew the only penalty. The line-up was as follows:—

Warsaw.—A. Darling, goal; G. Bowen and J. Morgan, defence; R. Darling, centre; Bell and A. Bowen, wings; C. Payne, Lonsborough, I. Payne, Clements.

The Grove.—Ames, goal; Wright, Wood, defence; Macrae, centre; Gunn and Stuart, wings; Dench, Fletcher, Hepburn, Burgess.

FALCONS COP 2-1 WIN

The second game was a District League game and held the interest of the big crowd to the very end. It was between the Curve Lake Falconers and the Smith Greyhounds. The score was 2-1 for the Falcons, who had the edge of the play all through. Both teams have had little chance of practice and while the combination was weak, the individual effort was strong. B. Blewett handled the bell; Harry Gill was probably the strong man of the Greyhound sextette, while George McCue and Clayton Fitzgerald were the best of the Falcons. Both goalies were very effective.

In the first period, George McCue scored after five minutes of play; the Greyhounds had two penalties, H. Gill and E. Bickell. The second period saw no score and a penalty for each.

The third was a battle royal with Fitzgerald scoring after there minutes for the Falcons and in the dying moments of the game, Harry Gill, on a pass from Ed. Bickell put one over. The third was heaviest in penalties, Rome and Harry Gill started a miniature boxing bout which ended speedily in the penalty box. Greyhounds had two other men off for a rest and Curve Lake one. Harry Gill is captain of the Greyhounds and A. R. Kingdon coach. The line-up was as follows:

Curve Lake Falcons.—C. McCue, goal; S. Taylor and Fitzgerald, defence; G. McCue, centre; B. Rome and F. Whetung, wings; N. Taylor, A. Johnson, E. Coppway, C. Knott, and P. Knott, subs.

Gill's Greyhounds.—A. Graham, goal; E. Gill and G. Kidd, defence; Ed. Bickell, centre; H. Gill and N. Bickell, wings; A. Roseborough, L. Charlton, ... Coones, subs.

CANUCKS TRADED FOR TWO REDMEN

Leo Murray and Harrington Will Make Their Debut With Canadiens To-night.

TORONTO, January 24 (C.P.).—Newsy Lalonde had two less Frenchmen on his Canadien squad to-day and without them he hoped to make an immediate jump out of the cellar of the National Hockey League's Canadian Division.

Yesterday Newsy slipped down to Providence, and there exchanged Armand Mondou and Leo Quadresult for a pair of Rhode Island Reds, Leo Murray, a centre, and Hugo Harrington, left winger.

The Canadian-American League stars make their debut with the Flying Frenchmen to-night as Canadiens face the Bruins at Boston in a fixture highly important to both teams.

The Habitants can slip into the fourth place ahead of Ottawa if they win from Boston, and if the Senators keep up their losing streak when they meet Toronto Maple Leafs at the Capital.

Montreal Maroons, whose comeback has landed them on the heels of the second-place New York Americans, may slide into second position with a win over the Chicago Black Hawks. The Amerks flattering after a long winning streak, hook up with Rangers at New York.

TWEED TRIUMPHS OVER COBOURG SIX

Quinn, Rashotte and Geraldi Play Noble Game in Homesters' 8-7 Win.

TWEED, Jan. 24.—Tweed hockey team held Cobourg intermediates to an 8-7 score here last night in an exhibition game, which was witnessed by a fair crowd. The visitors opened strongly, and counted four goals in the first period, but the locals settled away, and gave them a battle for the remainder of the fixture. Tweed had the better of the play in the second half, and banged home five goals, while Cobourg was held to two counters. Jerry Quinn, Gross, Rashotte and Alex. Geraldi all turned in fine efforts for the home team, while Archie Campbell, "Toots" Ethier, Max Geraldi and G. Ibey played best for the winners.

Tweed—Goal, Curry; defence, Gross and G. Geraldi; centre, Quinn; wings, Terry and A. Geraldi; subs, Rashotte, Maguire and S. F. Geraldi.

Cobourg—Goal, McGoubrey; defence, G. Ethier and F. Ethier; centre, A. Campbell; wings, Max Geraldi and Ibey; subs, Gibson, Freeman and Thompson.

Leads Both Divisions With 27 Points, Including Eighteen Goals.

BILL COOK IS SECOND.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24. — When Montreal Maroons administered to New York Rangers the only shutout the Patrickmen have received on Madison Square Garden ice in almost two years, the point-making leadership of the National Hockey League passed to one of the Montreal squad.

Laurence Northcott, left-winger, acquired two points in the game last night when Maroons beat Rangers, 5-0, and thus broke the tie that existed between himself and "Bill" Cook, veteran Ranger right-wing. Northcott now leads the entire league both in points and goals scored, 27 points, of which 18 were acquired by goals. Cook has 25 points, second in the whole league and first in the United States division. His brother, "Bun" Cook, is second in actual goals, with 16.

Canadiens' improvement was reflected in the fact that Howie Morenz and Johnny Gagnon hold third and fourth places in the International Division, behind Northcott and Paul Haynes, of Maroons, who is second, with 9 goals and 15 assists, 24 points. "Cooney" Weiland, Ottawa; Jimmy Ward and "Hooley" Smith, Maroons, share a triple tie for fifth.

In the United States Division, the Cooks and Boucher, front line of Rangers, continue to run one-two-three. Nels Stewart of Boston has forged up to fourth place, tied with 20 points with Paul Thompson of Chicago.

Red Horner of Toronto continues to lead the penalty servers, with 83 minutes served. "Ching" Johnson of Rangers is again high man in the United States Division, with 72 minutes.

MADOC GAINS 6-1 WIN OVER DELORO

Superb Work of Wallbridge in Winners' Net is Feature of Game.

MADOC, Jan. 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—Madoc Seniors are again in the lead for the group honors by defeating Deloro on Madoc ice on a long score of 6-1.

The ice was rather soft at first but showed firm and hard after the first period of play. The game was fast and exciting at times as Deloro rallied time and again in a determined attempt on Madoc's goal and only the superb work of Wallbridge, Madoc's goalie, saved many a well-directed shot from scoring for the visitors.

During the first period, Deloro made the first count right from the face-off. Madoc followed by a rush which ended in a counter by Watson, and a second one by Nickle. The second period resulted in long rushes and excellent combination by the local boys and three more goals were counted. Murray in Deloro's goal was kept busy and made several good saves, but was outguessed by the Madoc lads.

During the play one of Deloro's players was incapacitated in a scramble and later Watson of Madoc received a cut near the eye, but was able to resume play in the third period.

In the third period the play was all over the ice, but Deloro failed to score again, while Madoc made the final goal. Score 6-1 for Madoc.

Goals.—Watson 3, Meraw 1, Rupert 1, Nickle 1.

Line-ups:

Deloro.—Goal, Murray; defense, Dorie and Brown; centre, McCroden; wings, O'Neal and Stewart; subs., G. O'Neal, C. Phillips, C. Clements.

Madoc.—Goal, Wallbridge; defense, Rupert and Blue; centre, Meraw; wings, Henderson and Watson; alternates, Akey, Nickle, Alexander.

Penalties were few and for minor faults. Madoc 2, Deloro 4.

Pacific Coast Loop Lowers Game Prices

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24 (C.P.). —Dipping back 14 years into "the good old days," directors of the Pacific Coast League have voted to return 25 cent and 40 cent baseball as a means of combatting present times and conditions.

The representatives of the eight-club class AA circuit decided upon a minimum admission price of 25 cents for bleacher seats and 40 cents for the grandstand.

As a concession to those opposed to reducing the ticket cost, it also was decided to make the prices optional with the various clubs, so long as the minimum or over figures were maintained.

Babe Ruth Has Signed Six Contracts With N.Y. Yankees Called For $277,000

"Babe" Ruth is a holdout, which isn't news. It would be news if he wasn't, for his baseball career has been a succession of not altogether unpleasant salary disputes. To-day we find him holding out for $65,000. Back in 1917 he held out for $5,000—and he got it.

In 1915, his first complete season with the Red Sox, Ruth was paid $3,500 by Joe Lannin. The following year Ruth accepted a similar salary. But when the late Harry Frazee purchased the Boston team in 1917, Ruth declared himself. "I get $5,000 or I go back to cigar rolling—or something," he shouted.

Frazee permitted Ruth to shout for a discreet period, and then signed the Bam at $5,000. The next year Ruth was a holdout again. He wanted $10,000, and got $7,000. In 1919 the Babe once more was a hold-out. He demanded $14,000, and finally compromised for $10,000, getting a three-year contract.

Ed. Barrow, then manager of the Red Sox, had discerned Ruth's tremendous potentialities as a hitter, and had advised Frazee to tie the young man up for three years. So, while Ruth went away jubilant over his apparent triumph over Harry, Frazee was laughing himself sick over a fine stroke of business.

However, Ruth did not suffer. When he was sold to the Yankees in 1920, Col. Ruppert tore up the old agreement and signed Ruth to a new contract, calling for $20,000.

Since joining the Yankees, Ruth has signed six contracts—for $20,000, then $30,000, $52,000, $70,000, $80,000, and finally $75,000.

M.C.C. CRICKETERS STAND BEHIND TEAM

"Would Cancel Series With Greatest Reluctance," Replies Secretary.

LONDON, Jan. 24. (C. P. Cable) Continuance of the touring English cricket team's programme in Australia to-day rests with the Australian Board of Control.

Replying to the Antipodean organization's protest charging unsportsmanlike play on the part of certain bowlers on the English team the Marlebone Cricket Club, governing body of cricket in England, declared it had the fullest confidence in the team and the managers. In a cable signed by Secretary W. Findlay, the M.C.C. stated that if "you consider it desirable to cancel the remainder of the programme, we would consent, but only with the greatest reluctance."

The Australian protest was the outcome of the adoption of the "leg theory" by England's fast bowlers, particularly Harold Larwood, which resulted in two players being hit by high bounding balls in recent test match play. In their protest the Australian board declared the practice was unsportsmanlike and "unless it stopped immediately it is likely to unset the friendly relations existing between the Australian and English cricketers."

In his reply Mr. Findlay said that the M.C.C. was convinced that neither players nor managers would do anything to infringe either the laws of cricket or the spirit of the game. "If the Australian board wish to propose a new law or rule" the cable continued, "it shall have our careful consideration in due course. We hope the situation now is not so serious as your cable seemed to indicate."

F. J. McARTHUR TO PRESENT RESOLUTION TO GOVERNMENT

Several Veteran Hunters Voice Opinions at Warkworth Mass Meeting.

COMMITTEE FORMED.

HASTINGS, Jan. 24.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Warkworth Town Hall was filled to capacity on Monday night for the deer hunters' meeting, called for the purpose of discussing the banning of dogs Hunters were there from as far west as Cobourg and from every club within a radius of fifty miles of Warkworth, all very much in favor of the use of dogs and anxious to hear F. J. McArthur, M.P.P., give his ideas on the question. Les Wilson, of Cobourg, was appointed chairman and Dr. F. Drewry of Cobourg secretary.

In calling the meeting to order the chairman gave the idea of the meeting to get the expressions of the hunters of Northumberland county.

Jim McArthur of Campbellford, was the first speaker called on and his remarks were very brief, stating that hunting without dogs meant nothing to him or his club. Last fall he spent two weeks north of Marmora and they had no luck.

The only man of the speakers who was of the opinion that there was not much difference between still hunting and with dogs was Mr. Dunham of Seymour.

Stray Arguments.

William Wellman of the Crooked Lake Hunt, a hunter of over thirty years standing, put forth some very strong arguments on the use of dogs. In 1932, out of a club of 14 members, only six would go back without dogs and they got three small deer. There is so much bush in the north country it is impossible to hunt without dogs. There were far more deer wounded than what were got. In the speaker's opinion, if the government went back to the old system their revenue would increase 50 p.c.; those who want to still hunt let them. The Game and Protective Associations and the hunters themselves are to blame for the present law. Out of membership of over 2,000 members there are only 2½ p.c. who ever hunt deer, yet they put the resolutions to the government. A lot of the other members would not know a deer from a jack rabbit.

Impossible Without Dogs.

Thomas Varcoe of Campbellford, the oldest hunter present, has been going to the north country for forty-nine years and never had a poor a hunt as last fall. The section of the country where he hunts has grown up so much with small growth that it is impossible to get deer without dogs. There are in his opinion just as many deer, but you can't see them.

Dr. Hancock of Colborne, looked on deer hunting as a sporting proposition without dogs. Without dogs it was like sneaking up and shooting a cow in a barn yard. This remark drew a big hand from the crowd.

D. Armstrong, another hunter of 30 years' standing from Hastings, had no luck last year without dogs. The deer were wounded but not found.

Mr. Smoker, speaking for the Warkworth Hunt Club, with a membership of fourteen members, said they did not go last fall on account of dogs.

Frank Griffin, of Colborne, a hunter of many years' experience, thought hunting without dogs too tame to bother with.

Mr. Fisher, of Cobourg, gave his ideas of the effect the dogs had on their camp around the Pickeral River. There is no fun in the hunt without dogs. For every deer that is got without dogs there are three wounded. Deer were just as plentiful last year as 10 years ago, but they could not be got. If a deer is wounded a dog will get it; last fall nobody got them.

C. Sherwin, one of the hunters responsible for the mass meeting, said he had missed only one hunt in 19 years, but was through for good if the ban stayed on dogs.

Mr. Davern, of Cobourg, was pleased to know that the hunters observed the law so well. 75 per cent. of the deer shot last fall were females. What would the result be?

Not Hunt Without Dogs.

H. Revoy, of Trent River, a hunter of over forty years, but not the past fall, knew of fifty men like himself who would not hunt without the dog.

Ex-Reeve George VanVolkenburg, of Seymour, was of the opinion that the Government would preserve the deer better by the use of dogs than without, as the wounded deer would all be got.

John Leonard, of Warkworth, speaking for his club of twelve members, stated that they did not hunt last year on account of dogs.

Mr. Sutton, of Colborne, gave a very interesting address. Being a member of the Paisley Hunt Club for thirteen years, he would rather hear the dogs in the bush than shoot a deer. Twelve years ago he saw thirty-four deer, and last year twenty-five, so they are not scarce.

John Nesbitt, of Campbellford, was another delegate from a club who were disgusted with their hunt the past fall.

Give Up Favorite Sport.

Mr. Trinnear, of Brighton, cannot do much walking, and is a veteran hunter, but without dogs he would have to give up his favorite sport.

S. Cox, of Colborne, a hunter of the French River district, blamed the wolves for the slaughter of deer and not dogs. Most of the men who favor still hunting shot their deer ahead of some other hunter's dog.

Mr. Loyd, of Campbellford, gave a new version, that in a very short time there would be no deer if the dogs did not come back. The bucks are getting away and females shot. This, along with the number that are wounded and never got, will soon wipe off the deer. He hoped that what the M.P.P. heard would make an impression as they wanted dogs and no promises.

Fred Smith of Campbellford would be unable to hunt without dogs as he would get lost.

Mr. Jones of Castleton wished to draw the member's attention to the fact that the government advertised the banning of dogs to preserve the deer and then shortly after that deer were plentiful.

Mr. Ruttan of Trent River gave his experience hunting with a dog that saved his life, being caught in the bush in a storm the dog took him back to camp. Last year was the first he had missed in 33 years.

John Harper of Frankford, speaking for a party of ten, said they got two deer last Fall, and would not go back.

Dr. Drewry then made a brief summary of the meeting, stating that their strongest point to put to the Government would be the decrease in revenue, the number of does and fawns shot and the number of deer wounded and never got.

The following were a committee appointed to draft out a resolution for Mr. McArthur, M.P.P.; P. Sarginson of Campbellford, C. Sherwin, Warkworth; Dr. Hancock, Colborne; Lloyd Seymour; G. VanVolkenburg, Trent River; Wm. Wellman, Hastings, and Frank Griffiths, Colborne.

While the resolution was being drafted, M. McArthur addressed the hunters; in opening his address he was delighted with the very large crowd and was surprised as he expected about fifty. When in an election campaign, the speaker thought it would be a good idea to advertise it in connection with hunting and there would be a crowd. It was his utmost desire to be of assistance to the hunters in getting back the dogs, as he was a dog fanatic himself. A very strong point in favor of the hunters would be for them to show the Government where the revenue was decreasing, as they are always after revenue to balance the budget. During the sessions he had fought the dog question very strenuously against the Hon. Mr. McCrea and thought it was blocked until the latter brought it in as a Government measure and he had to support it. In his opinion that when the committee which was appointed reported their findings back to Government that a change might be made.

THEATRES

AT THE CAPITOL

"MADAM BUTTERFLY."

Sylvia Sidney has the title role in this talkie, that follows out very faithfully the story told in Puccini's immortal masterpiece. She does some splendid acting and has good support in an excellent cast that includes Cary Grant as Lieutenant Pinkerton, and Charlie Ruggles as his friend.

The little sloe-eyed star can do an Oriental imitation to perfection. Her slant eyes, her smooth, round cheeks and her pretty ways chime in beautifully with her role of the dainty geisha, and the Japanese tea garden setting is just right for a very ornamental picture.

It has the logical sad ending of the play and Pinkerton goes off with the blonde American while little Butterfly languishes in Japan.

The comedy is a good one and there is a fine jazz music bit in "Smash Your Baggage."

BASKETBALL — OTHER SPORTS

(By C. J. P.)

If we can't talk hockey, doggone it we'll lightly skip a few months and land plumb into the baseball season. We wont be stymied behind the black ball—said eight-ball being iceless weather when there should be hockey. The O.B.A.A. bulletin of a few days ago has sort of turned thoughts toward the diamond game, with re-organization of course first in the list. The O.B.A.A. annual meeting will take place this year April 1st in Hamilton.

* * * * * *

And here's something along this subject in the Belleville paper recently: "We know no reason why the Central Ontario Baseball League should not be represented on the O.B.A.A. Executive. The C.O.B.L. moguls would be well advised to recommend the name of Max Swanston, president of the league, to be placed on the ballot at this year's conclave." Max is representing this loop at the annual session this year, and we agree with our contemporary in Belleville.

* * * * * *

There were seventy-five leagues in the Ontario body last year with around 9,500 players, being the largest number since the founding of the O.B.A.A. back in '18. It was quite a successful year all around, despite poorer gates owing to the depression. They will look forward to an even better year in 1933, and Peterborough will in all probability make quite a splash in this pond as in other years. We had two teams in the finals last year, don't forget.

* * * * * *

Smart baseball managers aren't waiting till it's time to doff the red flannels to get their fences mended or rebuilt, but are beginning to make plans right now for the summer. It means work, but we imagine it's a labor of love for your seasoned ball manager; and classy teams aren't rounded up by waving a wand some warm evening in May. And that's enough baseball for the present.

* * * * * *

Add "world's meanest men": At a City Hockey League game in a nearby town, they passed a hat for a silver collection To make a sad story short, both collection and hat up and disappeared. They're not worrying about the collection, which couldn't have been much to worry about these times, but the indignant ex-owner of the chapeau is burned to a crisp Oh, well, mister, some guys actually prefer to go hatless during the winter, if that's any consolation.

* * * * * *

The final gals' hockey league meeting will be held Friday at 7.30 down at Duffus', when officers will be elected, last entries made, schedule drawn up, etc. Maple Leafs and Keene are in now, and a third team is expected in Friday. Any other bunch of damsels who'd like to get into organized hockey—that's if the ice doesn't run out on us the rest of the winter—should say their piece at this session.

* * * * * *

Last night's sharp dip in temperature put a fine surface on the ice at Brock Street, so that Bowmanville-Petes' intermediate game will be run off at 8.30 to-night, and don't come late if you want a decent seat. Every effort is being made to have both the local juniors and intermediates complete their schedules by the end of this week, so as to have their group play-offs completed next week Fans, if you want to be in at the death, and see some real hockey games, don't muff any of the contests at the Brock from now on.

* * * * * *

The George Merrett Benefit Night will be held up there one week from to-morrow, that is February 1st, and will consist of another of those hectic City League tilts between P.C.I. and Rotary at 7.15, followed at 8.30 by the Petes vs. E.P.I. All-Stars. Lacrosse on skates is out. One thousand tickets will go on sale to-morrow at two bits, and anyone wishing to reserve a chair may do so by taking a ticket and a dime up to the Brock in exchange for a reservation. Everybody that goes inside that door up there that night has to pay his or her way, nobody being excluded. More dope about it later. Meantime, officials of the Hockey Club and E.P.I., who are doing the planning, are trying to get a couple of famous pro players here to act as referees that night.

* * * * * *

That E.P.I. doube-header here on Wednesday night is on, if the weather's right, Westclox meeting Lakefield at 7.30, and Norwood tangling with Carters at nine. They should both be dandy battles. The schedule fixture in Lakefield last night was slushed out. Alex Kempt had some plans of his own down in Norwood for to-morrow eve, having Lindsay Vics meet his Combines, following an exhibition City League game between Rotary and Norwood, but it will hardly be held if his Combines are slated to appear that night in Peterborough.

* * * * * *

Ods and Ends: The Mail says it would not be surprising if the Lindsay, Peterborough, and Bobcaygeon curling rinks played off their group games in Toronto, owing to lack of ice.....Church Hockey League games last night were postponed.....All scheduled games this eve will likely be held.....O.A.B.A. cage players try out tonight at the Y.M.C.A.....Percy Bond and R. M. Glover from here took in the George VanHorne of Kingston funeral..... He was well known as a star O.H.A. defenceman two decades ago, often playing here.....Grab yourselves a treat, folks, and see that intermediate tussle at the Brock tonight.

Queen's Juniors Win Group Championship

KINGSTON, Jan. 24.— Queen's juniors won the local O.H.A. group here last night when they scored their third straight victory over Kingston Frontenacs at Harty Arena, by 3-1. One game remains to be played in the group, but it has no bearing on the standing.

Kingston held a lead from the first few minutes of the game, but Queen's scored two goals in the second period and another in the last period to take the game and group honors.

Kingston worked hard for the game, but were held out by a sturdy Queen's defense and the stellar work of James in goal.

Queen's—Goal, James; defense, Smith, Gibson; centre, Wing; wings, Brydon, Bain; subs., Pettit, Christie, Lewis, McQuaig.

Referees—Watts and Dougall.

To-Night's Line-Ups

FAST ICE FOR HOCKEY BATTLE

Wnners of To-night's Bowmanville-Petes Game Will Be Likely Group Champions.

LOCALS IN GOOD SHAPE.

Fast ice has been promised at the Brock to-night for the Bowmanville-Peterborough intermediate O.H.A. fixture, postponed from last night. It will start at 8.30 sharp, and start anew the feud existing between these husky, well-matched outfits. They went to a 3-3 ninety-minute tie last week in Bowmanville, and the winner to-night is the likely group champions. Last year, this same bunch of canny Bowmanville veterans put the Petes out of the running right here in Peterborough, but the locals are stronger this year and figure cleaning up this section. It should be a great old ice battle.

Either Miller or Gillespie will start in goal, with Weir, Howe and LeBarr on defence. Ellis, Dallin and Dundas are again on the first-string line of forwards, with Jarvis, Hatton and Creighton alternating. Manager Eddie Wright has a well-drilled, speedy and hard-fighting bunch of pucksters representing this city this season and they will be mighty hard to stop. If they win to-night, the Blue and White should cop this district handily. A loss will give them a setback, though they will still be in the fight as they have won two and tied once in three starts.

Young Martyn is going great this winter in goal for the Bowmanville boys, while they have a powerful and experienced defence in Cameron, Hooper and Densem. Jackman, Charten and Prindle rounds out a tricky first forward line who like the heavy going; with the Piper brothers and Jamieson, all well known to hockey fans of Central Ontario, proving no weaker as alternates. This is no soft spot for any man's team, and a huge crowd of fans will likely be on hand to see the outcome.

Audy Carries On When Peden Hurt

CLEVELAND, Jan. 24 (C.P.). — Game little Jules Audy of Montreal, determinedly refused to-day, despite his temporary lack of a partner, to yield ground to the 10 two-man combinations running against him in Cleveland's first six-day bicycle race. The American pair, McNamara and Hill, led the parade at 4 a.m. For four hours, while William (Torchy) Peden, his red-haired partner from Victoria, B.C., recovered his composure, after a bad spill that sent him from the track with a gashed forehead, badly cut thigh and skinned elbow and shoulder, Audy rode alone—and rode so well he added points to the Canadian combination's total.

Physicians for a time expressed doubt Peden would be able to continue and race officials started looking for a new partner for Audy, but at 3.45 a.m., the giant red-head mounted his bike and gave the aching legs of Audy a much needed rest.

Scores Propaganda

It was Congressman Celler of New York who vigorously opposed the U. S. "Buy America" propaganda which is now sweeping that country. He pointed out that Canada is one of the United States' best customers and that trade should be encouraged between the two countries rather than hindered by a wave of nationalism. But Celler is fighting a losing battle and the propaganda waxes hotter with a $15,000,000 fund back of it.

OWNER OF CAFE SUES ORILLIA

Claims $500 For Alleged Damages Done During Visit of Sanitary Inspector.

TOWN IN QUANDRY.

ORILLIA, Jan. 24.—(C.P.)— The extent to which the town may be held liable for the conduct of a civic employee while engaged in his duties was a question confronting the town council to-day. It was revealed that Wilfred Hebert, restauranteur, has through his solicitor, Boulton S. Marshall, served written notice that he will sue the town for damages which, he claims, were done to his place of business by William Childerhose, municipal sanitary inspector, when Childerhose, in his official capacity, made an alleged inspection of Hebert's lunch room.

In a letter claiming $500 damage, Marshall alleged Mr. Childerhose entered Mr. Hebert's place of business without informing him who he was and among other things broke two stools, knocked a door down, turned the stove over and set fire to the premises and damaged foodstuffs to the extent of the above amount.

After these damages were occasioned, Mr. Childerhose informed Mr. Hebert of his identity. He then told Mr .Hebert that he had entrede the premises to discover whether or not proper sanitary arrangements had been installed in his place of business."

Members of the town council said the question would be left with the Police Committee.

GOODNIGHT STORIES

By Max Trell

I put a grain of sand
In the middle of my hand,
I gave it a blow,
And away it did go.
—Shadow Song.

The Shadow children had been to many strange places but they had not expected to go to the desert with their masters and mistresses. To tell you the truth, the shadows didn't think that they could get to a desert as easily as they did. I must tell you all about it.

You see, the shadows were in California with their masters and mistresses (who were simply children like yourself), and the other day they set out in an automobile, very early in the morning. The shadows didn't know where they were going. They simply squeezed themselves in as best they could next to their masters and mistresess and hoped that they wouldn't be pushed out of the automobile while it was moving.

Well, they went farther and farther. Every now and then the shadows would turn to one of the children and ask: "Where are we going to, please?" But the children never bothered to answer them. Maybe the children didn't know themselves. Maybe.

Knarf Makes a Mistake

The shadows noticed that the ground was getting more and more dry. The hills were brown. There was no grass upon them. Then the ground became like sand, and finally it actually was sand.

"Hooray!" Knarf cried.

The other shadows gazed at him

"There must be an ocean somewhere near," said Knarf

in surprise. "What are you shouting hooray for?" they wanted to know.

"Because we're going to go swimming."

"Swimming!"

"Yes—aren't we at the sea shore?" Knarf asked. They all burst out laughing. They told Knarf that just because he saw sand that didn't mean that they were at the sea shore.

"If we were at the sea shore, we'd see the sea, wouldn't we?" Hanld said. Knarf answered "Sure we would."

"Well, where is the sea?"

"It must be around the corner." Just as Knarf finished speaking, father, who was driving the car, stopped to say to the children: "This is the desert. It is the driest thing in the world. It never rains, and there is no water."

The shadows couldn't help smiling over at Knarf. "It never rains There is no water," they repeated softly, so that no one but Knarf should hear them. But he shook his head. "If there is so much sand, there must be an ocean somewhere near," he insisted. So he got out of the automobile and started looking for the ocean.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, January 25

The planetary influences bearing rule on the affairs of this day, both by lunar and mutual aspect, point to much activity and a lively development of impending plans and projects. There may be promotion, preferment and more substantial recognition for those in the employment of others and heart co-operation may be looked for from those in places of power and prestige. There are auguries of a stabilizing of long-crystallized fortunes, but be on guard against subtlety and be not too eager to fly into new situations impetuously.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of an excellent year for advancement, honors preferment and the assistance of those in high and important places. New as well as old projects will be accelerated, culminating in a substantial increase of the fortunes and an enhanced popularity, prestige and importance. Shun impetuosity and be wary of duplicity but push for high goals. A child born on this day should be versatile, industrious, ambitious and should attain to high position in life through its talents and responsibility.

BRITAIN WILL SUBMIT COUNTERCLAIM TO U. S. FOR REPUDIATED DEBTS

In Irish Muddle

Here is shown General Mulcahy, former minister of local government in the Cosgrave administration, who, it is declared in Ireland, gave an interview which has caused a sensation.

TORONTO CHEESE.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New, large 11½c; twins 11¾c; triplets 12c; old, large 17¾c; twins, 18c; triplets 18¼c; medium, large 15¼c; twins 15½c triplets 15¾c.

Money Borrowed Before and After Civil War Now Totals $500,000,000.

WAS NEVER REPAID

Very Little Indebtedness Incurred During Civil War.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—England who under protest earmarked ninety million dollars' worth of gold in her depleted treasury, is preparing a counter-claim.

When Mr. Roosevelt comes into power Britain may offer a receipt for $500,000,000 as a set-off to what she owes us. When she presents her case no American with a sense of fairness will be able to stop a blush on both cheeks.

England claims her citizens hold certificates of indebtedness from a number of American states. With compound interest this indebtedness amounts to the stupendous sum of $500,000,000.

We say we know all about it. During the civil war the southern states borrowed in England and, of course, when the south was licked it was good enough for the British if they lost every cent of what they bet on the wrong horse. This has been our general opinion.

Shaveless Default.

But the truth is that very little of our indebtedness to England was incurred during the civil war. A number of southern states and a few northern states borrowed money before and after the civil war. They used this money, acquired as individual state loans, to develop railroads and to build schools and then shamelessly defaulted while still enjoying the benefits of the enterprises built on borrowed money.

This sounds harsh, but we should face the facts.

Before the civil war Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Maryland, Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida was then a territory. Later Pennsylvania, Maryland and Illinois made restitution. The remaining states mentioned, with the exception of two—Mississippi and Florida — who completely repudiated, scaled down their indebtedness without a conference with the creditors and wiped out a principle of $33,000,000.

England is now getting ready to test the legality of such a procedure.

The international court at The Hague, to which we have subscribed, has laid down basic laws whereby a central government is held responsible for the obligations of its parts.

Whether this $500,000,000 claim will stand in a court of law or not, many Britons are confident that, as a debt of honor on our part, England will make a good case against us.

When the States repudiated, Sidney Smith, a famous English economist of that time, who held Pennsylvania bonds, was so angry that he petitioned congress in these words:

"The fraud is committed in profound peace . . . after the wise investment of the borrowed money in roads and canals, of which the repudiators are every day reaping the advantage. It is an act of bad faith which has no parallel and no excuse. . . . Sad it is to see you . . . as a nation with whom no contract can be made because none will be kept. . . ."

Our states were poor in those days. Money was needed for developments. Britons had money. The American fiscal agents in London were preparing the field for loans to the states. "Baring's" was the house to issue bonds. The British bankers made investigations. At the back of their heads the Baring's executives had a fear that money lent to individual states might not be collected. They wrote to Daniel Webster and sounded him regarding the advisability of floating American state bonds in London.

Webster's Answer

Daniel Webster answered:

"The states cannot rid themselves of their obligations otherwise than by the honest payment of their debts....They possess all adequate powers of providing for the case by taxes and internal means of revenue. They cannot get round the duty nor evade its force. Any failure to fulfil its obligations would be an open violation of public faith to be followed by the penalty of dishonor and disgrace; a penalty it may be presumed, which no state of the American Union would be likely to incur."

Webster's assurance was satisfactory. A British caravan of gold arrived in America. It was met with public rejoicings and escorted by torchlight parades, just like our loans to Europe were received a few years ago. And just like Europe, we turned around and repudiated our debt.

The governor of Mississippi did not mince words, like our European debtors are trying to do to-day, by asking the creditors to talk it over. When a number of representative lenders put the matter up to him he said:

"I have deemed it my duty to advise the bondholders that this state will never pay the five millions of the state bonds paid to the Mississippi Union Bank.

The governor of Mississippi was at least as frank as the Soviet rulers, who stated that they would not pay the debts incurred by the Tsar's government.

When the state of Mississippi resolved not to pay, fearing that some day some "jelly-spined" sentimental executive might entertain the lenders' claims, she even amended her constitution, incorporating a repudiation justification into her basic laws, which read:

"Nor shall the state assume, redeem, secure, or pay any indebtedness claimed to be due by the state of Mississippi to any person, association, or corporation whatsoever, claiming the same as owners, holders or assignee of any bond or bonds known as the Union Bank bonds or the Planters Bank bonds."

Forgot the Law

The state of Mississippi, in her zeal to repudiate her indebtedness, forgot that the amendment to the state constitution was a flagrant violation of the constitution of the United States, for Article 1, Section 10 (1) forbids the passage by any state of laws impairing obligations or contracts.

There is no question that Europe ought to pay and should be ashamed of trying to wiggle out of paying but it isn't for Senator Harrison, and representative Collier of Mississippi to mouth such sermons.

It has been repeatedly asked why European subjects, if they had such claims on our states did not bring action against the defaulting states in American courts.

The eleventh amendment of our constitution denies redress in our courts to foreign bond holders against individual states.

Brigadier-General E. L. Spears, a noted political contributor, suggests in the London Morning Telegraph, that the British Government should immediately get hold of all the bonds defaulted by the American states and present them to the United States during the coming conference.

For years our government has maintained the principle that the federal government is not responsible for the behaviour of individual states.

In 1930, during the conference for codification of international law at The Hague, at which the United States was represented, it was recognized that any government is responsible for all its parts. We could not hesitate to subscribe to the principle for it jeopardized the very policy to which we had been resorting when dealing with the South American republics.

"But they hired the money, didn't they?" Americans say when referring to the American debt.

Jefferson's Letter.

Yes, the European nations hired our money. They used it. And some of it is still lying in cold gold in their mints. They ought to pay it. At least they ought to be made to pay what they can. But we should not lose our temper and along with it our manners, by shouting out loud recriminations and calling European nations names, for one of these days some one may dig down into history and produce Jefferson's letter to the British Minister at Washington in 1792. He played the same tune that Europe is playing for us to-day.

Jefferson was then secretary of state. Later he became president. This is what he told England's representative, because England had complained that America had declared a "moratorium":

"To the necessities of some delay in the payments may be added the British commercial regulations lessening our means of payment (by) excluding valuable branches of (our produce) from their home market by prohibitive duties.

"If these means are taken away by the creditor himself, he ought not in conscience to complain of a mere retardation of his debt, which is the effect of his own act."

The recent European plea for a little more time is so strangely similar to that of Jefferson's in 1792, in defence of an American moratorium, that it may be possible the Europeans are politely reminding us of the old episode.

A Thousand Yous

WHEN you pick up your newspaper and glance over the advertising you quite unconsciously multiply yourself a thousand times.

In half or three-quarters of an hour you can, figuratively speaking, visit every progressive store in town. You virtually poke your head into every department of every department store. You run into the florist's, the confectioner's, the oculist's, the leading groceries, banks, theatres, all the various places that supply the things that make this the twentieth century and life worth the living. Here is a greater choice in clothing, food, furniture, books, pictures, musical instruments, travel, entertainment, opportunities for investment, the service of public utility corporations than any monarch of old could command.

It would easily take a thousand yous, travelling hard all day, to find out for yourself what the advertisements tell you in a few minutes morning or evening.

Advertisements deserve your attention. They deserve your confidence. Without advertising, the prices you would have to pay for many of the necessities you now buy for small change would make a dollar look like a snowball on the kitchen range.

LAKEFIELD FIRE DEPARTMENT ANSWERED 26 CALLS IN YEAR

Fire Chief A. H. Clark Presents Annual Report to Municipal Council.

$10,470 FIRE LOSS

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 24.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The Fire Chief, A. H. Clark, presented the following report to the Municipal Council as an official tally of the work of his department for the year just past.

Gentlemen,—I herewith beg to submit for your perusal the annual report of the fire department for 1932.

Alarms—General 8, telephone 17, false 1. Total 26.

In response to alarms truck No. 1, 26; trucks No. 2, 10. Water hose laid 8,050 feet; Chemical hose laid, 1,050 feet. Ladders raised 465 feet. Chemicals used 198 gallons. Water pumps used, 17. Kilsoot used 6 packages. Total estimated fire loss $10,470.00.

You will notice that the fire loss for the year is the heaviest I have yet recorded, but I would like to point out that 80 (eighty) per cent of the total loss for the whole village was caused by the Dawson fire of December 11th; otherwise our loss would be low.

The number of alarms and fires show an increase over that of the preceding year and I would ask you to note that the department has experienced a very busy and trying year. Several dangerous fires requiring attention under very adverse weather conditions.

While these hectic and hard times are with us, we must be constantly on the alert, as many citizens are using soft and green wood for fuel and in severe weather such conditions are reflected in the number of alarms received by the department. During the year 300 feet of fire hose and several small appliances were added to the equipment.

Fire prevention has been constantly kept before the people through the press, clergy and school staffs and has assisted materially in keeping the fire waste within reasonable bounds.

The alarm system and response to alarms has functioned in first class order, through the efficiency of the Bell Telephone staff, who handle practically every call for the department's services.

Practices and lectures have been held whenever conditions warranted, and firemen are proficient in handling all tools and equipment, as well as receiving instruction in First Aid, while a regularly constituted pumping class is under the direction of Captain Scriver.

Some minor injuries have been sustained by firemen in line of duty, and under my orders received attention from the medical officer.

With the Council's permission I attended the annual convention of the Dominion Fire Chiefs, held at Halifax, N.S., in July, where many problems of fire control were discussed. I had the privilege of taking part in several of these discussions, served as chairman of one committee and as a member of another, while I also had the honor of preparing and delivering an address of my own on Fire Control, which was well received. I also was appointed chairman of the Exhibit committee for the 1933 convention, which will be held in the City of Peterborough next August.

In reviewing the year's operations I wish again to draw your attention to the condition of the approach to the Fire Hall and ask that this matter receive proper attention, also the heating arrangements of the apparatus room and the hose tower. These conditions require a remedy and I would ask you to take steps in that direction.

I would welcome inspection of the fire hall, apparatus, equipment and books of the department at any time by your honorable body or any interested citizens, as I am sure that co-operation with the citizens in our problems materially assist the work of the department.

I would respectfully ask that you give the chairman of the Property committee authority to purchase at the present time; fire hose, one collar nozzle, one First Aid kit; one Chief's rubber coat.

In conclusion I wish to thank the council, press, clergy, school staffs, merchants, societies, citizens and Chief of Police Webster for their co-operation during the year.

To the members of the Brigade for the loyalty and obedience to my orders, I sincerely wish to extend my thanks and appreciation.

Yours very truly,

A. H. Clark, Fire Chief.

RADIO NOTES

By

R. H. CHILDERHOSE

A radio built to operate on 25-cycle power lines will work satisfactorily and quite safely on 60-cycle power, such as we have locally, but a 60-cycle radio will not operate safely on 25-cycle power. Some radios are termed "universal," and are marked 25-60 cycle; others have a change-over switch built into them, that must be set in the proper position for the different cycles. Anyone moving a radio to another city should note these differences before connecting it to the house current.

Ed.—Mr. Childerhose will be glad to answer any questions asked by radio fans. If you have any trouble just drop a note to Mr. Childerhose in care of The Examiner.

Rev. William Allan To Give Programme

On Wednesday, January 25, at 9.30 p.m. the Rev. William Allan with the assistance of Wishar, Campbell over Station CFRB will give "A Radio Appreciation of Burns—the Lyric Poet of Scottish Life." Mr. Campbell will sing some of the choicest Burns' songs. The program which lasts half an hour is expected to be a real "gem."

Weddings

WANNAMAKER—GRAHAM.

LAKEFIELD, Jan. 24.— Wesley United church, sixteenth concession Smith, was packed to capacity on Wednesday afternoon when at 3.30, Hilda Isabel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Graham, of Smith, was united in marriage to Harry Clifton, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wannamaker, Lakefield. Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., of Lakefield United church, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dainty frock of egg shell satin with lace trimming and wore a veil with bandeaux of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of calla lilies. She wore a necklace and ear-rings, the gift of the groom. The only attendant was little Jean Millar of Lakefield, the flower girl, a petite figure in peach georgette with a veil and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and narcissus.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen, decorated with lilies and with a large white bridal bell. The pews for the invited guests were roped with pink and white.

Mrs. J. A. Northey played the wedding march and during the signing of the register Mrs. H. A. Shearer sang sweetly "Because."

The witnesses were Miss Orathea Northey and Mr. A. E. M. Joblin. Messrs. George Wannamaker and Victor Graham were the ushers.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held under the bridal arch, when all present had an opportunity to extend to the bride and groom their heartiest felicitations. The bridal party and invited guests, numbering about thirty-five, motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served with four young girls, friends of the bride, Misses Orathea Northey, Fern Harrison, Fern Graham and Mildred Northey, assisting. The dining room and table were decorated with pink and white and over the bride's table were pink and white carnations, with the beautifully decorated wedding cake as a centre piece.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., and the groom made a graceful reply.

Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker left for their home on Caroline street, Lakefield, the bride travelling in a brown crepe gown in a tasteful blending of two shades, small brown satin hat, with gloves, purse and shoes to match and a fur trimmed coat.

Among the pre-nuptial events was a shower held the Thursday before the marriage in the Wesley Orange Hall, in which the community showed their good wishes to a popular young lady in a very tangible way by a miscellaneous shower of beautiful gifts.

The decorating of the church was done by the choir of Wesley church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker are very popular in the community and literally the entire community joins in wishing them a great deal of happiness and a long wedded life.

How to Treat Those Miserable Colds So Prevalent Here Now

With Flu Reported In Many Sections Colds Are Doubly Dangerous Now and Should Be Checked Promptly.

As yet, the present outbreak of flu has not reached alarming proportions. However, everyone is urged to take extra precautions against its spread—especially to be careful in treating colds just now. Colds pull down body resistance and pave the way for flu and all its serious complications.

Start at the "First Sign."

At the first sign of "catching cold" — that unmistakable stuffy, sneezy feeling — snuff some Vicks VapoRub up the nose several times a day. This will often check a cold at the start. It is a wise plan, if possible, to avoid exposure to those with colds, or to conditions usually followed by colds.

Vigorous Treatment Urged.

If a cold has developed, don't neglect it. At bed-time, rub the chest and throat vigorously with Vicks VapoRub. Spread on thick and cover with warm flannel. If the head is clogged with mucus or there is much coughing, melt a spoonful of Vicks in boiling water and inhale the steaming vapors. If possible, stay at home until the cold is broken. Complete rest—preferably in bed—helps to maintain body resistance and to throw off the cold more quickly.

MISS SARAH SUTTON

MILLBROOK, Jan. 24. The death of Miss Sarah Sutton in her eighty eighth year occurred on Thursday, Jan. 19, removed a citizen who had been for many years a confirmed invalid, her residence being with her brother, Mr. Moses Sutton, and Mrs. Sutton, since their giving up the farm and removing to Millbrook to make their home.

Deceased was a member of a pioneer family, her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Sutton, clearing the land on which their farm homestead was established on the Eighth Line, Cavan, her mother's maiden name being Anne Dundass, and the family consisting of nine children, five daughters and four sons.

The increasingly serious ill health from which Miss Sutton suffered made it impossible for many years past for her to take any part in church or community life, the immediate surviving relatives including two sisters, Mrs. A. B. Smith (Anne) of Brandon, Manitoba; and Mrs. Humphries (Hannah), whose home is in the States; and one brother, Moses of Millbrook, with whom deceased had made her home. Two sisters, Margaret and Susan, and three brothers, Edward, Joseph, and David were previously deceased.

A private funeral was held from Mr. Suttons' home, Anne street, on Saturday at 3.30 p.m., the services being conducted by Rev. W. W. MRS. MARY JOHNSTON

COBOURG, Jan. 24. (Special to Examiner). — The death of Mrs. Mary Ludgate Johnston at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Gill, 45 Forest Avenue, Hamilton, in her 93rd year, removed a former well-known lady of Cobourg and Baltimore. She was born at Baltimore, being a member of the Ludgate family, prominent in that district. Mrs. Johnston resided for many years in Cobourg, but of late spent the summer months with her daughter, Mrs. McKenzie, wife of Rev. D. A. McKenzie, Burnbrae, and the winter with another daughter, Mrs. Gill in Hamilton. She was a staunch Presbyterian in religion.

The funeral was held at Hamilton.

MRS. WILLIAM MULLEN

MILLBROOK, Jan. 24. — The death of Mrs. William Mullen, in her eighty-second year, which took place following an extended period of ill health, on Wednesday, January 18, removes one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of the community, her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Pethick, having been pioneer settlers on Zion Line, Cavan township.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Malloney Eliza Pethick, was the eldest of a family of nine children, and was born at Geneva, in the state of Illinois, a short distance west of Chicago, her parents removing to Canada while she was still a baby, and after a short residence in Smith township, coming to Cavan, the land on which their farm homestead was established being wrested from the virgin forest.

On the side of both her parents, Mrs. Mullen was of pioneer stock, her mother, whose maiden name was Anne Brock, belonging to a family that was also among the earliest settlers on the Zion Line, the Brock homestead being not far from where the Pethick farm was located.

Over forty years ago deceased was united in marriage to William Mullen, the young couple taking up housekeeping on the Zion Line, Mr. William Husk purchasing the farm when Mr. and Mrs. Mullen decided, several years ago, to remove to Millbrook to reside. Mrs. Mullen was a life-long member of the former Methodist and later of the United, Church, a devoted Christian, a good neighbor, an active worker in the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary and the Ladies' Aid Society as long as health permitted, and regularly to be found within her place of worship each Sunday until gradually increasing illness, within the past few months, compelled the giving up of the habit.

Besides her husband, the immediate surviving relatives include an only daughter, Mrs. B. R. Raper (Flossie) of Toronto, three grandchildren, Leon, Dorothy, and Maxwell Roper; two sisters, Mrs. George Brown (Elizabeth), of Millbrook and Mrs. Henry Hubbeard (Ida) of Zion; also two brothers, Brock Pethick of Newtonville and Martyn, of Millbrook. A brother, James, a sister, Mrs. John McCullough (Addie), and a brother and sister who passed away in infancy, were previously deceased. There are a number of nieces and nephews.

A private funeral was held from the family residence, King street east, on Saturday, at 2 p.m., her pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., having charge of the service and the pall-bearers being six nephews, Norman McCullough of Port Hope, Stanley Watt of Newtonville, R. J. McKnight, Wesley Brown, and Harold Hubbeard, of Millbrook. Interment was at Gardiner's cemetery.

Among relatives from outside points who attended the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Raper and family and Mrs. Edgar Osborne, of Toronto; Brock Pethick, John McCullough, and Mr. and Mrs. George McCullough, of Newtonville; Miss Etta Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brock, Misses Alberta and Myrtle Brock, of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, and son, Walter, of South Monaghan, and Mrs. F. Brownscombe of Uxbridge.

MRS. PETER DUKAN.

MARMORA, Jan. 24.—(Examiner Correspondence.)— The death occurred at Deloro on Sunday, Jan. 22nd of Mrs. Peter Dukan.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Tatna Worbey, was twenty-eight years of age and was born in Opchien, Minsk, Russia. She came to this country in September, 1927 and before her marriage resided with her sister, Mrs. James Dostanko of Marmora township. Her death was sudden, as she was only taken ill on Friday. She is survived by her husband and a one year old daughter, Naida. Two children predeceased her. Besides her sister, Mrs. James Dostanko, she is also survived by two sisters and a brother, who are resident in Russia. She was a member of the Roman Catholic church.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, Requiem Mass at the Sacred Heart church at 9 a.m. being followed by interment in the R. C. cemetery.
